INCREASING SALES OF GAS TO CONSUMERS

ESTABLISHING PUBLIC CONFIDENCE IN THE COMPANIES.

GAS ASSOCIATION MEETING

The Western Gas Association session, devoted to the discussion of technical and financial questions of interest to the 20 artificial gas men who are attending the annual meeting at the Claypool Hotel, will close this evening.

The morning session to-day was largely devoted to reading reports of different committees. President Barrett delivered the president's annual address. The most interesting feature of the morning session were two papers—one on "Naphthalene," a purely technical one by Dr. W. E. Birchmore, of Brooklyn, and the other by Bill W. Perkins, of South Bend, Ind.

Mr. Perkins discussed methods of increasing the sales of gas to existing consumers. Mr. Perkins, however, advised that the increase be gained through advertising to the consumers' needs.

The annual election, last evening, Vice-President H. H. Shelton, of Philadelphia, was adopted as president, and Second Vice-President O. O. Thwing, of St. Louis, was adopted as first vice-president. Paul Drey, of Detroit, was elected second vice-president, and James W. Dunbar, of New Albany, for the term to expire next year.

The following officers were elected: President, H. H. Shelton, Philadelphia; Vice-President, O. O. Thwing, St. Louis; Secretary, W. E. Steinwell, of Cleveland, was continued in the management of the Wrinkle Department, a small publication which deals with technical details of interest to the gas man.

The new board of directors is composed of: President A. H. Barrett, Louisville; William McDonald, Albany, N. Y.; Thos. E. Miller, New York; Second Vice-President, Cleveland; K. M. Mitchell, St. Joseph, Mo.; and John D. McIlhenny, Philadelphia.

Municipal Ownership. A. E. Boardman, of Brevard, N. C., gave a gas man's view of municipal ownership at the session this afternoon. He reviewed the growth of sentiment toward municipal ownership and said that profits should be used first to pay for public service and then for reducing the price to consumers.

He said that municipalities have the power to enforce regulations affecting the purity and efficiency of their supplies, but he asked, in what city, owning its lighting and water plants, is a public utility not being regulated by the public interest, and in what city, he asked, is a public utility not being regulated by the public interest?

Where these utilities are owned by private corporations, he explained, in the case that the slightest deviation from contract requirements is promptly reported, the public interest is not being protected.

He said that the contention is difficult to dispute because the accounts of municipalities owning public utilities are generally so involved that they could be unraveled only by means of work on the part of an expert accountant.

"No matter how alluring reports from municipalities may be, the speaker explained, the absolute cost to the community is greater than in well-managed private plants."

Editor W. E. Steinwell, of the Wrinkle Department, explained, at this afternoon's session, the new devices that had been invented to help the gas man. The device is made out of three eighth-inch pipe that is perforated.

IS RESURFACING REPAIR WORK OR IMPROVEMENT?

PROPERTY OWNERS BRING SUIT TO SETTLE IT.

Twenty-three owners of property abutting on Massachusetts avenue, between Delaware and New York and North and East streets, were the plaintiffs in a suit for a restraining order and injunction, filed before Judge Carter, in room 3 of the Superior Court, this afternoon.

The suit asks for an order restraining the city of Indianapolis, the Board of Public Works and the Marion County Construction Company, from making out an assessment roll, compelling or attempting to compel the plaintiff property owners to pay for the resurfacing of Massachusetts avenue, from New York and Delaware streets to the city limits.

The point at issue is whether the resurfacing of a street in the manner that Massachusetts avenue has been treated is to be considered as repair work or as an improvement.

It is considered an improvement, the abutting property owners will be forced to pay for it by assessment. If it is classed as repair work, the city will have to pay for it.

The plaintiffs say that at the time of the letting of the contract they protested to the Board of Works against having the work done if they were to be subjected to an assessment to pay for it, and that the construction company knew of their protest when it bid.

The case is one of great importance to the city because of the fact that should the court consider the work as repair and grant the injunction compelling the city to pay, it will mean that the proposed resurfacing of Virginia avenue, and the streets of the city will have to be abandoned, for the reason that the city has no money to pay for it.

Within the last few weeks the Board of Works had adopted resolutions asking for bids on the resurfacing of Virginia avenue, and if the suit filed to-day is successful, a similar suit will undoubtedly be filed by Virginia-avenue property owners.

CHRISTIANITY IN YOUR HANDS ABOUT CORRUPTION

Testified He Did Not Mean Things He Said About Board of Works.

HEARD OTHERS ALSO JOKE

Charles Martindale Told of Many Rumors He Heard Concerning Officials.

John E. Christian, witness before the council investigating committee last night, testified that if he ever said that nothing could be got from the Board of Works without paying for it it was said by way of a joke.

He had heard others, among them J. B. Hill, say that he would have to pay if he got a desired contract for a lighting franchise for the square surrounded by Alabama, Delaware, Pratt and Six Third streets, but he testified that he thought they were joking. He testified that he heard probably fifty make such "joking" remarks. He denied that he ever said anything, either directly or indirectly, or was ever asked to say anything.

When Charles Martindale was on the stand and the attorneys for Edwin Logsdon, of the Board of Works, were trying for information about how he came to take the affidavits of contractors or ex-contractors that led to the charges against Logsdon which brought about the investigation, Martindale testified that an affidavit was dictated by Dennis Murphy but was never executed.

This unexecuted affidavit charged Edwin D. Logsdon with saying that a campaign fund was needed, and with asking that one cent a foot of the money to be received from the city for putting sidewalks and curbs in East Morris street, from Wright street to McKersie, be contributed by the contractor.

Murphy's Charge. Murphy's unexecuted affidavit said he was a partner of T. E. Kane in 1922 and that Logsdon told him to bid low enough and the inspector would take care of him.

The committee was informed by the attorneys for Logsdon that the matter contained had gone into by the grand jury. The unexecuted affidavit was made a part of the record of the investigating committee.

There was a great deal of wrangling by the attorneys. Everybody was more or less excited or noisy, Chairman Wynne.

Wynne was interested. Chairman Wynne is superintendent of the Indianapolis Light and Power Company, and he at once called for names of persons that might testify who Martindale spoke of the alleged paper character.

Martindale said he had also heard of overtures alleged to have been made for the Merchants Heat and Light Company, which also received its franchise under the Bookwater administration. The charges, if true in connection with the two companies, would be bribery and attempted bribery, Martindale said.

He told the committee that the organizers of the company ought to be able to furnish the committee the information which he had heard had come to them. At this point Councilman Shea protested against hearsay evidence. The scope of the investigation seemed to be broadening.

Mr. Martindale last night was W. J. Williams, reporter on the Indianapolis Journal. He testified that he went to the office of the Board of Works the afternoon of the day the board's record shows the sprinkling bids were rejected and that Mr. McGraw, chairman of the board, told him the contract would be awarded next morning. Williams said he told him if action was not taken at morning the opposition papers would get the news.

When Williams went out on the street he observed by the court house clock that it was half-past four. That was just a few minutes before the board met. He said that he saw McGraw and Harry Franklin, clerk in the board's office, and that McGraw told him the bids would be taken care of in the morning.

The Record. Martindale testified that he went to the office of the board to inquire what had happened. He said that he was told that the matter would be taken up in the morning. The record of the board shows that the bids were rejected and that McGraw told him the contract would be awarded next morning.

of the committee, said he was tired of hearsay matter. He said he was drawing from witness Charles Martindale, and said that the investigation be more closely confined to actual testimony, in justice to all parties concerned.

Martindale had told the committee that he did not care to go into hearsay.

The air was full of charges, he said. He said he could no more identify the men making them than he could identify a swarm of flies. The Logsdon attorneys apparently desired to get everything from his office copies and they made little objection to attorney Noel's questions.

Finally the committee asked him for names of persons who, he had heard, knew of charges. He said he did not want to be blacklisted as a character for he had no personal original knowledge of corruption.

The committee insisted, and he, after saying he declined to be put in the position of making the charges, gave the names of Councilman Wahl, Harry Waters, Floyd A. Woods, Charles N. Elliott, T. A. Jones and Charles A. Bookwater as persons he had heard knew of the charges that the Marion County Hot Water Heating company was organized by the late interest in the Indianapolis Light and Power Company.

KEACH WANTS GOOD COUNCIL CANDIDATES

THINKS ABLE BUSINESS MEN SHOULD BE DRAFTED.

NO REMEDY FOR BAD COUNCIL

While Chairman Keach of the Democratic city committee, is pledged not to oppose the cause of any candidate for the nomination for mayor, it is understood that he feels free to take a hand in the naming of candidates for Council, and will at the proper time have something to say. His associates on the committee already know that he proposes to insist that great care be exercised in selecting candidates for councilmen-at-large and for ward councilmen. His idea is that business men ought to be drafted.

To some of his lieutenants he has said that it would be folly for the party to nominate an acceptable candidate for mayor and neglect to name good men for the Council.

How He Views It. He feels that an unsatisfactory mayor might be prevailed on to appoint strong men, but there would be no remedy for a bad council.

Within the last few days Keach and his lieutenants have talked over the councilman situation, and have agreed that there must be an effort to draft that class of men whose services will be of value to the city. They are encouraged to do this because they think it will be possible to find good men who will consent to serve the city.

To definite about picking men for the Council will be taken until after the Republicans have named their candidates for ward councilmen.

Forkner for Governor. John L. Forkner, mayor of Anderson, is the latest name suggested in connection with the Democratic nomination for Governor. The Anderson Bulletin has decided that he is the most available Democrat now in sight.

BOOTLEG SYSTEM IN VOGUE. Soldiers in National Home Supplied with Intoxicants.

(Special to The Indianapolis News.) MARION, Ind., May 21.—The authorities are making an investigation of reports of the alleged sale of intoxicating liquors within one mile of the National Soldiers Home. While all saloons within the limit prescribed by law have been closed, it is alleged the "bootleg" system, and other methods, have been adopted. No old soldier, it is said, will be forced to walk one mile to get a drink. Arrests may follow.

The business of disposing of intoxicants to the veterans and others in the vicinity of the home is said to have grown to such an extent that it has become a "moonshine business" in the mountains of Tennessee.

An interesting feature relative to the closing of saloons about the home entrance is the fact that a canteen crusade has been inaugurated among the veterans. It is said the demand for a canteen with home enclosure will be before the board of managers of the veterans who are for temperance, have in circulation a petition against the canteens. It is their hope to outweigh their bibulous comrades when the matter is presented to the home authorities.

TIME TABLE OF SHORTEST COURTSHIP IN WORLD.

Table with 2 columns: Item, Time. Includes 'He looks on her for the first time', 'He asks her to marry him', etc.

NEW YORK, May 21.—Summit (N. J.) has learned that it has the proud honor of being the scene of the shortest successful courtship in the world.

While they were seated in the dining-room partaking of a luncheon, a middle-aged man passed through the hall. He was James A. Bennett, a wealthy bachelor of Basking Ridge, and a friend of the proprietor.

His eyes met Miss Wood's and his heart was no longer his own. Mr. Bennett went to Mrs. Earl, the wife of the proprietor, and begged for an introduction to the young woman he saw in the dining-room.

Cupid Gets Busy. The situation was explained to Miss Wood, and after she had been assured that Mr. Bennett was a gentleman she consented to meet him, but in the presence of her friends and Mrs. Earl.

LAD PREDICTED DEATH OF SELF AND MOTHER. And His Words Proved True, Though the Mother Laughed—Buried Together.

ATLANTA, Ga., May 21.—"Mother, you and I are going to die," said Charlie Brantley, age ten, to Mrs. Mattie Brantley, his mother, at the Pryor street.

Why Men Don't Go to Church. The Rev. Eric M. Farrar, St. John vi-carage, Hoxton, son of the late Dean of Canterbury, says the London Express, has collected the reasons given to him by many workmen for non-attendance at church:

1. Because of their love of home, Sunday being the only day when many of them see their children awake.

2. Because they often have no Sunday stock, cuffs and shirts, but are in the fashion of Sunday clothes a device of the devil.

3. Because there is so little welcome extended to the stranger entering church.

4. Because sermons so seldom touch on the subjects men are most interested in.

5. Because Sunday is the only day for recreation and social intercourse.

6. Because they are teased if they go by their comrades.

7. Because they have to stay at home to mind house and children if the wife goes.

8. Because they love the things temporal more than the things eternal.

AN IMPORTANT SOCIAL EVENT

GREENCASTLE, Ind., May 21.—One of the events of the year at DePauw University occurred last night when Senator Charles W. Fairbanks was initiated in Alpha Chapter, of the Phi Beta Kappa, at the most impressive fraternal meeting ever held at DePauw University.

Speech by the Senator.

In accepting the token, Senator Fairbanks said: "We are doing much in Indiana to promote higher education. Our colleges and universities are taking good rank. They are not only fostering high ideals, but they are more and more fitting young men and women for the work of the future."

By W. A. Fraser

In John Porter's horse racing had no debasing effect. If a man could race squarely—run to win every time—he had better quit the game, Porter had always insisted. He raced honestly and openly, without cant and without hypocrisy; just as a financier might have traded in stocks in Wall street; or a farmer might plant his crops and trust to the future and fair weather to yield him a harvest in return.

Copyright, 1902

back of a good horse he's plotting to do. Unless a jockey has the instincts of a philosopher, he's generally, he's a certain to turn out a blackguard sooner or later, and throw down his owner. He'll have the instincts of a blackguard sooner or later, and throw down his owner.

"What is it, father?" "The mare's actin' as if she's afraid of the horse." "That's a lie, Ned. You're afraid of the horse."

"I don't like it," he muttered to Allis. "They've had four breaks, and the mare's been laid out three times." "The chestnut's the best horse I ever saw at a sale," Ned said. "I'm thinking he'll leave the race right off."

"My God," he exclaimed in the next breath. He had started the girl with the mare, and she was in the lead. "A bell had clanged noisily, there was a commotion, and Ned was shouting, 'The horse is off!'"

"Lauzanne is off with a flying lead of three lengths, and the mare is left absolutely in the lurch. Ned was shouting, 'The horse is off!'"

"What does it mean?" "It means, girl, he said slowly, "that all the trouble and pain I have taken over Lucretia since she was foaled, two years ago, and the old mare, Maud of Rome, died, was for raising the little filly on a bottle and watching over her until she was old enough to be sold by brutal savages of stable boys, whose one idea of a horse is that he must be clubbed into submission at the care of his trainer, and the money spent for his keep and entries goes for nothing but his rack, Jockey McKay is the rascal I fear he is."

"You think some one has got at him, Dad?" "He nodded again. "I wish I'd been a boy, so that I could have ridden Lucretia. For you to—"

"I almost wish you had, little woman; you'd have ridden her, wouldn't you? There never was a crooked one of our blood."

"I don't see why a jockey or anybody else should be dishonest—I'm sure it must take too valuable time to cover up crooked ways."

"Yes, you'd have made a great jockey, if he watched the horses lining up for the start. Men think if a boy is featherweight, and looks as if he's a Downy loafer, he's sure to be a success in the saddle. That's what beats me, a boy of that size wouldn't be trusted to carry a letter with ten dollars in it, and on the other hand, a jockey is trusted to carry ten times as much."

"I was looking through his glasses and saw that his race was a long one. He was up. If Lauzanne wins it will be Westley's riding, the Hanover cut, the Lausanne, and the quarter. He'll beat him out, for the Hanovers are all game."

"Come on you, Lauzanne!" Even the crowd started shouting and cheering. "Come on you, Lauzanne!"

"Like trees of a forest, swayed by strong compelling winds, the people rocked in the excitement, tipped and craned eager necks, as they watched the magnificent struggle that was drawing to a climax in the stretch, inch by inch the horse of Hanover was creeping on Lauzanne. How loosely the chestnut galloped—slinging like a d-cougan man in the hour of his distress. He pressed to his neck, flat over his wither by the intense form of his rider, and knew a part of the racing mechanism, unimpeded, the horse of Hanover was galloping forward with his head and legs; but the arms, ever at the shoulders of the great Jockey thrust his arms forward, always forward, as if he were the very hunch of the Hanover, carrying the horse of Hanover, and at the same time, the compact bay son of Hanover; galloping, galloping with a stout heart and eager, reaching head; every sinew, and muscle, and nerve, in

WHIPPED A MULE.

Led to a Strike Which Involves Three Mines. LINTON, Ind., May 21.—The trouble which has closed three mines, and which involves the employment of several hundred men, besides trying up a large investment of capital, is getting to be a very serious proposition, as neither side is disposed to yield. Henry Durrough, driver, was accused of brutally beating a mule, and was given his time. He made no protest, and was paid off. Four days later his fellow miners took the matter up and demanded that it be referred to the arbitration board. Neither side is now disposed to yield, and the strike, which began on the 18th inst., continues.

MANY PERSONS WERE INJURED IN THE COLLISION.

FT. WAYNE, Ind., May 21.—While an electric car was speeding around a curve on a route to Robinson Park, the brush prevented sight of an approaching work train, the crew of which was speeding to a siding, and there was a collision. There were sixteen passengers on the electric car. The motorman jumped to safety. Miss Emma Shefferly and Miss Rose Klotz, both of the electric car, were pitched forward against the work car, and were severely bruised, besides suffering from nervous prostration. Michael Long, of Bluffton, was also cut and bruised, besides which his ankle was dislocated. J. Charles Phillips, motorman of the work car, had both legs broken and his thigh crushed, and Oliver Hinkle, a workman, was badly cut about the head and legs.

One Man Killed at Plymouth.

PLYMOUTH, Ind., May 21.—A work train on the Pennsylvania Central line broke in two last evening on the grade, and the front car, containing a fire ward with great speed, were not seen by the section men in time for all to escape. Edward Volker, of Upper Sandusky, O., was struck and instantly killed, and Dan O'Connell, of Plymouth, was killed and broken and was otherwise hurt. Partner along the cars collided with a caboose on the track, and the engine demolished, and barely missing a school girl who was crossing the track.

Saloon Keeper Indicted for Murder.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., May 21.—An indictment for murder has been returned against Angel Roughan, an Italian saloon keeper at Ehrmanndale, growing out of the murder of James Kearns, a miner, whom the saloon keeper caused to have shot in self-defense during a brawl in his place.

BOYS WITH MATCHES.

Five Barns Consumed and a Village Badly Frightened. MILROY, Ind., May 21.—Boys playing in Asbury Ricey's barn started a blaze which destroyed this stable and barns belonging to Samuel Booley, William Witter, Mrs. Sallie Tate and Ora Ricey. Burning shingles were scattered in every direction by the wind, and altogether thirty houses and stables were set ablaze, only to be extinguished by the alert citizens, and the fire department, and without fire-fighting apparatus in quelling a very ugly situation.

Aerie of Eagles at Vincennes.

VINCENNES, Ind., May 21.—W. F. Edwards, of Anderson, State organizer, installed an aerie of the Fraternal Order of Eagles last night and aeries were present on the streets and a banquet at Harmony Hall were part of the program. John Shayne was in charge, and the installation of candidates was conducted by the Brazil team. A large bald eagle, in captivity, was taken to Vincennes by Mr. Watson, of the Union Railway Hotel, was carried in the parade.

THE WEAK SPOT

The back is the weak spot. The many aches and pains of the back are the early symptoms of kidney ills. Backache comes in many forms—quick twinges, sharp shooting pains, slow, exhaustive aches. Plasters and liniments may relieve the "bad back" for a time, but if you would rid yourself of backache trouble, you must reach the cause—the kidneys. Keep the kidneys working properly, keep them in a healthy condition and the back will be free from aches.

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

cure all kidney ills, from common backache to dangerous diabetes. Cure urinary disorders, retention of the urine, excessive urinary discharges and every complaint of the bladder. Doan's Kidney Pills are endorsed by people you know. Here is proof—

INDIANAPOLIS PROOF

Mr. O. M. Hallsbeck, conducting a nursery establishment on Central avenue, on the grounds adjoining the Business Men's Driving Club, says: "To anyone troubled in any way with pain through the loins or kidneys or a weakness of the kidneys, I can with pleasure recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. I got a box at Henry J. Hader's drug store, and found them very beneficial. I was troubled more or less all my life with a weakness of the kidneys and severe pains through the loins. Doan's Kidney Pills were very prompt and effectual in their action, and I know of nothing better, and I will gladly endorse their claims at all times."

HAS BEEN FIFTY YEARS RAILROAD SERVICE

HENRY M. BRONSON, VETERAN AGENT OF BIG FOUR.

LIFE OF GOOD, HARD WORK

Just fifty years ago to-day, Henry M. Bronson, assistant general passenger agent of the Big Four, accepted his first railroad position with the old Mad River & Lake Erie, which is now the Sandusky division of the Big Four.

Mr. Bronson has an interesting collection of railroad passes, having preserved all that have been issued to him since 1853. Many of them bear the signatures of men whose names have come to be almost household words.

Golden anniversaries seem to run in the Bronson family. Mr. Bronson's father celebrated his fiftieth anniversary as a minister of the gospel, and his father and mother celebrated their golden wedding anniversary.

REBOLD BY DEWITT'S INTO NEW CLAYPOOL HOTEL

FORMER MANAGER OF THE OLD BATES HOUSE.

HE ADMIRES NEW HOSTELRY

A tall, straight, smooth-shaven man of ruddy complexion stood in the center of the rotunda of the Claypool Hotel to-day and admired the beauty of the place. It was Louis Rebold, who was for fifteen years landlord of the Bates House, that was torn down to make way for the splendid new hotel. It was the first time he had been in Indianapolis since he went away six years ago, after retiring from the management of the Bates.

"Would you like to come back and take charge of it?" asked a friend.

"Oh, no; I'm too old," said he. "This magnificent building needs a younger man. What do I think of it as an entertainer? I can't say, because I have not been through it yet. I expect to look it over this afternoon. It is certainly magnificent; just what Indianapolis deserves."

Mr. Rebold did not come here for the purpose of looking over the new hotel during the opening week.

"I did not know it was open until I reached the city," he said. "I came to visit my mother's grave at Crown Hill."

Has Traveled Much.

During the six years that have intervened since Mr. Rebold retired from the old Bates House he has traveled almost continually.

"Yes, I have seen about all that is to be seen in this world," said he. "As you will recall, I married in Cairo, Egypt, and my wife died there. It would not interest any one to speak of all the places I have been. One of the most interesting journeys I made was through Siberia. Last fall I went to South America and later took a cruise through the West Indies. I came here direct from Mexico, where I have been for six months. From here I came to Dayton, O., my old home, for a visit. Plans for the future? I have none."

Among the employees of the Claypool are several men who were there the fifteen years Mr. Rebold was landlord. As soon as they heard of his presence in the house they left their work to see him.

ACTION WAS UNUSUAL.

Board of Charities to Inquire Into Dismissal of Employee.

As a result of a long conference with Governor Durrbin, the municipal hospital board of State Charities will go to the Southern Hospital for the Insane, at Evansville, and inquire into the dismissal of an employee by the board of trustees. Members of the committee think that the trustees did not move along with due haste in the case of the dismissal of the employee, although it was contended that the trustees were clearing the way for the new superintendent to make up his hospital forces.

After the conference with the Governor, the committee refused to make known what had been done, further than that a contradiction of facts had been found, and that an investigation would be made. The impression is that, if not all, of the employees will retain their positions.

CANDY COMPANY COMING.

Property at Meridian and Georgia Streets Leased.

The National Candy Company, paid up capital of $50,000, present headquarters in St. Louis, has leased the property owned by Peter Lieber, United States consul at Dueseldorf, Germany, at the southeast corner of Meridian and Georgia streets, and will remove to this city.

All their main offices will be in the building they have leased here, and the basement will be used for manufacturing candies, which will give employment to a considerable number of persons.

The company has bought the business of Albert Krull, the National Candy Company, the Dueseldorf company, which has been a successful concern. The National Candy Company was brought to locate here through the efforts of A. Metzger Agency.

Signs Chi Chapter Revived.

Indiana's alumni members of the Sigma Chi Fraternity have reorganized the old Iota Alumni Chapter, which held its first meeting in 1882. The members have gradually drifted apart and the charter was lost. The reorganization was effected at a luncheon at the Commercial Club restaurant yesterday afternoon. Officers were elected as follows: President, W. E. Hackedorf; vice-president, Merrill Moore; secretary, Romney Wilson; treasurer, Walter Calvert. The chapter will meet the third Wednesday in every month.

Bill Posters Elected Officers.

The Indiana Bill Posters and Distributors' Association has elected the following officers: President, E. M. Oswald; Anderson; vice-president, F. K. Wise; Crawford; treasurer, Edward Harter; Wabash; secretary, W. H. Harrison; Indiana; A. Henry.

The executive committee is made up of R. C. Campbell, Valparaiso; H. A. Harshey, Broad Ripple; and E. L. Croft, Ellettsburg. Mr. Harrison and Mr. Campbell will be delegates to the national convention.

Incorporated Companies.

The Towle Realty Company, of Mishawaka, capital stock, $20,000; directors, F. L. Irwin, Charles Weidner and Joseph E. Talbot.

The Columbus Mining Company; capital stock, $10,000; directors, John P. Solen, Robert E. Everett and W. H. Everard.

The Larson "Pine" Light Sanitarium; capital stock, $25,000; directors, Dr. J. H. Forrest, B. F. Burk, J. W. Wilson and G. A. Henry.

Typographical Election.

At the annual election of Typographical Union, No. 1, yesterday the slate was victorious and all of the administrative officers were re-elected as follows: President, Edgar A. Perkins; vice-president, Joseph P. Turk; recording secretary, W. W. Davy; correspondence secretary, C. E. McKee; delegates to I. T. U. convention at Washington in August, C. F. Betts and Joseph Marshall.

Mrs. Reichwein Burned.

Mrs. Reichwein, the widow of the late Philip Reichwein, living at Ohio and Noble streets, was painfully burned about the face and hands by an explosion of natural gas yesterday afternoon. She was in the act of lighting the gas in a range, and an accumulation of gas caused the explosion.

Dr. Swain Likes His New Place.

John W. Swain, secretary of the State University, was here to-day on his way home from a visit to President Joseph Swain, of Swarthmore College, in Pennsylvania. Dr. Swain, he says, is greatly pleased with his new surroundings.

Harry C. Adams Chosen President.

The Vicksburg Monument Commission has organized by electing Harry C. Adams, of Indianapolis, president, and C. M. Hardy, of Pendleton, secretary and treasurer.
