WAR BROUGHT HOME.

WASHINGTON, February 7.—Secretary Baker issued the following statement: "The sinking of the Tuscania brings us face to face with the losses of war in its most relentless form. It is a fresh challenge to the civilized world by an adversary who has refined, but made more deadly the stealth of the savage in warfare. We must win this war and we will win this war. Losses like this unite the country in sympathy with the families of those who have suffered loss; they also unite us to make more determined our purpose to press on. "As rapidly as details come in, they will be given to the public, in order to relieve anxiety where possible, and notice will be sent as promptly as possible to those whose sons and brothers have been added to the nation's heroic dead."

SHIP SUNK IN TWO HOURS

LONDONDERRY, Ireland, February 7.—The submarine which torpedoed the Tuscania was attacked by a destroyer. An American officer gave an intimation that the submarine was destroyed. This officer was one of the last to leave the Tuscania. He gave the Associated Press a vivid account of the disaster. The second torpedo fired by the submarine missed its mark, he said. A destroyer which was near the sinking liner dashed off toward the submarine, using a bomb dropping device. The claim is made that the submarine was "done in" by the bombs thus exploded.

supposedly heavily conveyed, fell in with the submarine, but it was regarded as probable that the ship stumbled on the submarine, rather than that the disaster was the first shot in the much advertised German offensive against the line of American troops and supplies.

SOME MEN JUMP OVERBOARD

LONDON, February 7.—Thomas Smith, of Glasgow, a boatswain's mate on the Tuscania, said the transport was proceeding to an English port under cover. "At 5:45 o'clock on Tuesday evening," he continued, "I was in No. 1 room talking with a fellow-boatswain when I heard a terrific explosion and felt the vessel heeling over. I said to my mate: 'They've got her now.' "We commenced lowering boats on the starboard side. The soldiers were lined on deck waiting for the boats. Unfortunately, many jumped overboard. "I found the boat at No. 9 station, to which I proceeded, had been blown to pieces. I then helped to get boats 9-a, 9-b and 9-c away with full complements and the second officer got boats 1 to 7 safely away. "After seeing these launched I proceeded to the other deck, where I launched a raft. I picked up fourteen soldiers and two of the ship's company who were swimming about. We had no oars and had to paddle along with our hands. We were picked up at 9 o'clock in the evening and landed Wednesday morning."

Testimony, which the Government introduced Wednesday afternoon in the United States district court at the trial of Joseph E. Bell and thirty-two other defendants, accused of poll frauds in the 1914 campaign in Indianapolis, will be found on Page 4.

LONDON, February 7.—At one point there are 550 survivors of the torpedoed transport Tuscania, eight of whom are in a hospital. At another point there are 1,350 survivors, 80 of them in hospitals.

British convoys near to the torpedoed ship closed in quickly and did heroic work. The position of the Tuscania off the north coast of Ireland also was such that numbers of British patrol ships and other vessels rushed to her side, and in that way the losses were minimized.

German Works Bombed.

Entente aviators are busy dropping bombs on German military establishments and in downing enemy airplanes. One of two American flyers in a French bombing squadron brought down an enemy machine and American gunners drove off twenty German airplanes that attempted to cross the American lines.

Uncontrolled Power Given.

From the White House.

The admiralty announced late this afternoon that ten more survivors had reached a Scottish port. Survivors report that two torpedoes were fired. The first passed just astern of the vessel. The second struck near No. 1 boiler.

Women volunteer nurses at Larne attended to slightly injured men. Wards were improvised in hotels. Thirty seriously injured men were dispatched to local hospitals, where they are receiving careful treatment. The resources of Larne were taxed to the utmost to make the survivors as comfortable as possible and to send supplies to the places where they landed.

State for Hindenburg.

AMSTERDAM, February 7.—The municipality of Posen has decided to present Field Marshal von Hindenburg with an estate and to confer the freedom of the city on General von Ludendorff, the Berlin Kreuz Zeitung states. The Polish members of the city council unanimously opposed the proposal.

MAJORITY FROM WISCONSIN

DETROIT, February 7.—Although reports from Washington list the 107th engineers' train, which sailed on the Tuscania, as a Michigan organization, advice from Adjutant-General Bersey, in Lansing, state that it is largely a Wisconsin unit. The old 21st, 33d and 32d Michigan regiments are in camp in Jersey City, according to latest information. It is apparent, therefore, that comparatively few Michigan troops could have been on board the Tuscania.

The behavior of the greater part of the soldiers and members of the crew was splendid. A few of them became excited, hindering the lowering of the boats. In some cases the entire crews were thrown out while the boats were being lowered. Other boats were let down hurriedly on men who were swimming around the liner. Many casualties were caused in this way.

Three Die of Exposure.

Three men from the Tuscania died of exposure in the open boats. Women volunteer nurses at Larne attended to slightly injured men. Wards were improvised in hotels. Thirty seriously injured men were dispatched to local hospitals, where they are receiving careful treatment. The resources of Larne were taxed to the utmost to make the survivors as comfortable as possible and to send supplies to the places where they landed.

Norwegians Lose Twelve Ships.

WASHINGTON, February 7.—That the total loss resulting from the torpedoing of the British transport Tuscania off the Irish coast has been reduced to 101, the majority of whom are members of the British crew, was the encouraging news contained in late unofficial bulletins from London today. The deaths among the 2,179 American officers and men aboard would thereby be very few. These figures contained in a report from the Associated Press correspondent in Ireland were confirmed at the American embassy in London.

ALL ABOARD INSURED.

WASHINGTON, February 7.—All American soldiers lost on the torpedoed transport Tuscania were protected by government insurance, Secretary McAdoo announced today. How many of the men on the transport had applied for the insurance is not yet known. However, those who have not applied for insurance are protected by the automatic provision of the war risk law, which aggregates to each man about $4,000, or $20 a month for 240 months. Those who have applied for insurance will be covered by the amount named in their applications.

ORDER ON THE TUSCANIA

LONDONDERRY, Ireland, February 7.—Proof of the order which prevailed on the Tuscania is given by the landing of two typhoid and two pneumonia cases without effect.

Secrecy in Future.

The public had not been permitted to know that the 32d national guard was moving to France. In this connection it may be said that other divisions of the government will, of course, be moved without any mention of the fact being made. In the future, as in the past, the government will, of course, decline to give any publicity to the movement of either national guard divisions or national army divisions.

Official figures given out here before the receipt of the later dispatches from London gave the number of American survivors as 2,011, or a loss of 188 lives, with a total loss of 210. It was believed, however, that reports from the missing would reduce the official casualty list and the later bulletin from London confirmed this belief.

NEW YORK, February 7.—The Cunard liner Auramias, 13,400 tons, was torpedoed by a German submarine within the last forty-eight hours while bound for the United States. It was learned from officials of the Cunard line today, although badly damaged by the explosion, the ship was not sunk, and is believed to be making her way back to port with the assistance of government vessels, it was said. The ship carried but little cargo.

SOME OF THE SURVIVORS OF THE TUSCANIA REACH PORT ELLEN

WASHINGTON, February 7.—Among the survivors of the Tuscania arriving at Port Ellen, Islay, Scotland, were: Second Lieutenant Frank L. Baker, engineer; following belonged to Company E, 8th Battalion, 20th engineers: First Lieutenant Schweissinger, Sergeant Harry Kelly, Corporal Howard E. Block, Corporal William A. Chappin, Privates Alva Bowman, William A. Hieking, Charles H. Ineck, Harry A. Keeler, Lloyd Ledbetter, Herbert James T. Moss, Walter Maczarski, David Fox, Edward B. Peterson, J. W. Reed, L. M. Roberts, Lee F. Terzia, Ralph Uphus, A. Van den Driessche, Colman White, John S. Williams, Edward L. Anderson, Tom A. Ashby, Frank S. Ross, James Baze, Alexander M. Bush. From the 107th supply train: Private H. Kleist, 15th aero squadron; Privates John B. Fleming and Edward F. Kilgaming.

ON BOARD THE TUSCANIA

WASHINGTON, February 7.—The war department announces that its records show the following were on board the Tuscania: Headquarters detachment and Companies D, E and F of the 20th engineers. One-hundred-and-seventh engineer train. One-hundred-and-seventh military police. One hundred aero squadron. One-hundred-and-fifty-eighth aero squadron. Two-hundred-and-thirteenth aero squadron. Replacement detachments Nos. 1 and 2 of the Thirty-second division. Fifty-one casual officers. The Thirty-second division is composed of national guard troops from Michigan and Wisconsin. The official table of organization of the Thirty-second division shows that the One-hundred-and-seventh engineer train is composed of the first battalion of Michigan engineers and the first battalion of Wisconsin engineers. The organization is distinct from the One-hundred-and-seventh engineer regiment. The One-hundred-and-seventh military police was made up from the Fourth and Sixth Wisconsin infantry, and the One-hundred-and-seventh supply train from the Fourth, Fifth and Sixth Wisconsin infantry. The troops aboard the Tuscania were mainly former Michigan and Wisconsin national guardsmen now attached to the Thirty-second division, trained at Camp MacArthur, Texas. Several aero squadrons and several companies of the Twentieth engineers, a forestry regiment, were aboard. The One-hundred-and-seventh engineers, a forestry regiment, and the aero squadrons probably were recruited from various parts and the place they trained was not mentioned by the war department.

Such reports as were at hand today gave no details of how the transport, following are the approximate number saved: United States military officers, 76; men, 1,935. Crew, officers, 16; men, 125. Passengers, 3. Not specified, 237. Total saved, 2,187. The foregoing are approximate figures, but as correct as can be given at present.

Official reports from British sources state that a total of 2,387 persons were on board the transport. An official communication given in London early this afternoon said: "The Anchor liner Tuscania, Captain J. L. Henderson, was torpedoed on the night of the 5th of February off the Irish coast while carrying United States troops."

It has a wicked looking muzzle, which is pointed toward the skies, and its big, long, gray trail gives it the appearance of a pictured monster. But the 128th's howitzer is a home-made one. The four other artillery regiments in camp, the 4th, 15th, 28th and 38th regulars, the 15th and 128th are all three-inch regiments, and therefore they have plenty of regular cannons. There is a goodly supply of three-inch material in this country, but there are no six-inch howitzers, so far as the Indianapolis officers know, in the whole United States, and necessity again became the mother of invention. While the other gunners were drilling around their guns the 128th was

CAMP SHELBY CAUSES END OF BARBERS' STRIKE

FORGER WEARING UNIFORM WORKS CANTEENS.

BIG HOWITZER IS MADE

HATTIESBURG, Miss., February 7.—The barbers' strike at Hattiesburg is settled. The citizens, the barbers and the journeymen barbers held a conference. The boss barbers refused to increase the price of shaves to 20 cents by charging an additional 5 cents for neck shave. A hint came from Camp Shelby that if an attempt to raise the price on soldiers would be met with an order keeping the soldiers out of Hattiesburg shops and the result was that the striking barbers returned to work. But they gained one thing, the price of olive oil shampoos has been increased from 80 cents to 75 cents, but not many people indulge in an olive oil shampoo. First class private Philip C. Caldwell and private Robert L. Froy, both of Indiana, and both connected with the quartermaster's department, have been promoted to corporals.

Forger at Work.

A forger wearing the uniform of a first lieutenant of infantry has victimized each of his twenty-six canteens and exchanges in Camp Shelby with bogus checks ranging from $10 to $25. His plan was to run hurriedly into the canteen, present the check to the officer in charge with the request that it be cashed, dividing the name of some organization in the name of the forger, and the check was cashed. The name signed to the checks was "Woolly."

"Like the stories of the death of Mark Twain some years ago," said Captain Riley. "The report of my being in France is very much exaggerated. I am not in France, but I am very willing and exceedingly anxious to go there." An investigation made by the intelligence department at Camp Shelby reveals that there are in the different organizations thirty naturalized Germans and eight unaturalized Germans and Austrians serving as soldiers. It is understood that the unaturalized will be discharged from the service and compelled to register as alien enemies. Byron S. Legg, of Windfall, has been appointed an education director on the staff of the Y. M. C. A. at Shelby. Home-Made Cannon. First Class Private Ralph W. Harness, Company B, 134th infantry, and Private Henry L. Kupferer, Company M, 133d infantry, have been transferred to the camp quartermaster's department. The only six-inch howitzer in captivity—that's what Camp Shelby artillerymen think—reposes majestically on the gun park of the 128th field artillery, Indianapolis' second contribution to the government's regiments of "heavies." It has a wicked looking muzzle, which is pointed toward the skies, and its big, long, gray trail gives it the appearance of a pictured monster. But the 128th's howitzer is a home-made one. The four other artillery regiments in camp, the 4th, 15th, 28th and 38th regulars, the 15th and 128th are all three-inch regiments, and therefore they have plenty of regular cannons. There is a goodly supply of three-inch material in this country, but there are no six-inch howitzers, so far as the Indianapolis officers know, in the whole United States, and necessity again became the mother of invention. While the other gunners were drilling around their guns the 128th was hot footing around some very peculiar looking wooden cannon constructed from wagon wheels and lonesome pines. It was a month ago that Colonel Robert L. Moorhead, of the 128th, dug out his material hand book, which showed a diagram of a six-inch howitzer, and got to figuring. For about $50 he estimated that a regular steel howitzer could be constructed in Hattiesburg machine shops that would duplicate one of the mysterious originals. Mechanics Get to Work. Two expert mechanics, Louis Bauer and William Layson, of headquarters company, the former an Indianapolis garage owner, were sent to Hattiesburg and told to get to work. It took a month to build the gun, for Hattiesburg has little to offer in the way of machinery to work with and the place cost but $25 more than Colonel Moorhead figured it would, but it is completed at last with a real steel liner carriage. The gun is an exact replica of the army howitzers, despite its makeshift construction, and it is the wonder of regular army artillery officers who have looked to the 128th to view it. However, as the gun was hand-made it also is hand drawn, for when the word came from Washington a few days ago that the 128th had been mobilized, and that its guns and limbers would be drawn by giant caterpillar tread tractors, instead of horses, all was taken away, leaving the howitzer stranded on the gun park. As the gun weighs almost as much as a thrashing machine it takes a platoon to maneuver it around, but platoons are plentiful, and the men of the 128th are anxious to do any sort of work just so they learn something about howitzers. It is probable that the regiment will have the gun across.

DR. PEYTON PLANNING TO RESTORE REFORMATORY
FIRE LOSS NOW ESTIMATED AT ABOUT $500,000.
TRUSTEES HOLD A MEETING

(Special to The Indianapolis News) — Dr. D. C. Peyton, superintendent of the Indiana reformatory, which is one-half in ruins, estimates the loss practically at $500,000. Already he is planning for restoration, though hardly able to be out of a sick bed. Yesterday afternoon he conferred with J. H. Weathers, of New Albany; Alvin P. Gentry, of Washington, and J. L. Dalry, of Indianapolis, members of the board of trustees on what requires to be done at once to take care of the inmates situation. At a meeting to be held next Monday the situation will be more fully canvassed as to the future, and Superintendent Peyton will lay before the board his ideas on reconstruction. A few days later it is planned to meet with Governor James P. Goodrich at Indianapolis and on what he says will depend the next steps. D. J. Terhune, the other member of the board of trustees, is in California.

Care of the Inmates.
The immediate situation is well in hand. Fires were still smoldering in various places last night, with streams of water playing on them all night. One hot place represented the remains of three carloads of flour in the store-room C barracks practically escaped. The flour was so distributed that it will depend the next steps. D. J. Terhune, the other member of the board of trustees, is in California.

Temporary Buildings Planned.
Superintendent Peyton plans to build soon as possible temporary wooden additions to the new school building which is on the north side of the institution and have there will be temporary kitchen and dining room which will permit the resumption of work at the reformatory. Work also will be resumed in the trade school building No. 2, where the tin shops, broom shop, machine shop and other departments are situated. The company which disposes of the product of the fiber chair plant, one of the larger industries at the institution where chairs are made of paper, will be looking, as everything at the reformatory was the property of the state, for the Indiana Hollowware Company, however, lost several thousands of dollars worth of property in the store-room adjoining the foundry, the loss being covered by insurance. This company disposes of the surplus product of the foundry.

Carload of Flour Saved.
The administration building would cost over $100,000 to rebuild. It is esti-

DR. WILBUR IS SPEAKER.
President of Leland Stanford Urges Food Conservation.

(Special to The Indianapolis News) — The Whitley county war conference held in this city attracted many persons, overflow meetings being necessary to accommodate the afternoon crowds. A mass meeting was held in the evening, with R. E. Proctor, of Elkhart, and Dr. R. L. Wilbur, president of Leland Stanford university, as speakers. "America must send food in enormous quantities to feed our soldiers and our allies," Dr. Wilbur said. "We must feed Switzerland and Finland who depend solely on us for food. If we do not conserve enough food to supply our allies, and we will send none across to Europe. The United States today is racing with destiny, the result of which we can not at this time know. It is certain that within the next six months we shall know what will be the decision of the present war. The question is, will we be too late in sending food and men to aid the allies? The answer can not be given now. We must make all haste and await the outcome. Every bite of pork and wheat bread that we eat is helping the Kaiser's U-boat warfare, the speaker said."

"Pape's Diapiesin" makes sick, sour, gassy stomachs feel fine.
Do some foods you eat hit back-taste good, but work badly; ferment into acids and cause a sick, sour, gassy stomach? Now, Mr. or Mrs. Dyspeptic, jot this down: Pape's Diapiesin helps neutralize the excessive acids in the stomach so your food won't sour and upset you. There never was anything so safely quick, so certainly effective. No difference how badly your stomach is upset you usually get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleases you most is that it helps to regulate your stomach so you can eat your favorite foods without fear.
Most remedies give you relief sometimes—they are slow, but not sure. "Pape's Diapiesin" is positive in neutralizing the acidity, so the misery won't come back very quickly. You feel different as soon as "Pape's Diapiesin" comes in contact with the stomach—distress just vanishes—your stomach gets sweet, no gases, no belching, no eructations of undigested food, your head clears and you feel fine.
Go now, make the best investment you ever made, by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapiesin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder due to acid fermentation.—Advertisement.

REPEATERS' WORK

Robert A. Walters, the Confessed Leader of Gang, Is a Witness in Conspiracy Case.

ALLEGED REMARK OF GIBSON

Said to Have Pointed to Bell and to Have Declared "That's the Man Who'll Take Care of Me."

After spending all election day in 1914 touring Indianapolis and voting in any precinct that it was possible to "get by," a crowd of repeaters marched on the Democratic headquarters for Marion county, where their leader obtained their "pay off," according to confessions made by repeaters Wednesday afternoon at the poll fraud conspiracy trial in the United States district court of Joseph E. Bell, former mayor, and thirty-three other men.

Other witnesses corroborated the repeater testimony by testifying of their presence in various parts of the city. Several of the men on trial were named as aiding the repeaters.

Bell was pointed out by James (Bud) Gibson, a man who "witnessed" the "pay off" from going to prison for voting, according to the testimony of J. E. Bell, auditor of Marion county.

"Gibson told me the purpose of these trips was to give money to the voters," he testified, "and when the money came out nothing was said, but I was so conspicuous that I told Gibson and the other men that I was not going to take any more of it."

"About that time Mayor Bell drove up and Gibson pointed to him, saying, 'That's the man who will take care of me.'"

A Change of Method. "There was a change in the method of handling the voters, a slip of paper being used."

Mr. Feiler said he saw Herman F. Adam, the Democratic Third ward committeeman, make several trips to an alley with Gibson, who told him the purpose of passing money. During the course of the trial, Feiler testified that Bell distributed money to all ward committeemen and the agreement was that the money was part of a slush fund raised by saloon keepers at Bell's direction.

"All day," he testified, "I saw Mr. Feiler and Gibson, and I saw them go to the polls and going to the second floor saw Adam give Gibson a roll of money. Later, in the evening, I saw Gibson give colored voters a few dollars."

"I don't know what was going on," he testified, "but I saw Mr. Feiler and Gibson, and I saw them go to the polls and going to the second floor saw Adam give Gibson a roll of money. Later, in the evening, I saw Gibson give colored voters a few dollars."

Each trip that Bell made to the precinct was marked by conversations between him and Gibson, and it was Feiler's contention that it was witness's opinion Bell made two and possibly three trips to the precinct, said Mr. Feiler.

In his capacity as county auditor, Mr. Feiler was justifying the course of the public records in connection with the 1914 election and election.

Slack asked the witness whether he recalled an arrest that afternoon, and Mr. Feiler said an arrest was made about the time Mayor Bell was in the witness said he spoke to Bell and Michael A. Ryan, and he saw Bell cross matters were "up to the police."

Mr. Ryan, who is the defense counsel, He asked him whether he had testified in the trial that he had seen Ryan, and the witness replied that he was under the impression that Ryan was in a room started to tell him when Ryan stopped him. He said he had not testified to that effect.

As to Taylor Butler. Mr. Ryan asked him about a man named Taylor Butler, who was at the polls when Mr. Ryan was there.

"Was Butler among them all that day?" Mr. Feiler asked Mr. Ryan, and he replied that he was not sure.

"Did Gibson run and tell you every time he did anything wrong?" Mr. Ryan then inquired.

"Yes, he was in front of the voting place," the witness replied.

"Did you see him with any one?" "He was with Bud Gibson, I saw Bell walk down the street with Gibson with an arm around Gibson's shoulder."

On cross-examination by Michael A. Ryan, he said in defense, the latter asked Dr. Doyle when Ryan arrived there, he saw Ryan and Bell together, Mr. Bell left the machine and went up to the voting place, and you remained near the machine, including the position of director of foreign languages, is hereby emphatically approved, and it is further ordered, that the position of director of the German language in the grade schools, therefore be discontinued.

But about where you would operate?" "He said to spend the morning on the south side," the witness answered.

Walters testified that the next precinct was "Andy Donlan's precinct." The machine was stopped in an alley near the voting place, he said, and Walters and Costello went to the polls. He said Costello got the necessary names, and Walters sent three men over to the man seen there about the names was named Donlan, he said.

Not the One Referred To. Andy Donlan, one of the defendants, was asked to stand up for identification, and Walters said that was not the Donlan he had reference to.

Walters said two witnesses were made by the repeaters to the Maryland Dalton precinct, where a man named Dalton was to be seen. He testified he found two men, named Noone and Costello, and he saw them go to the poll book. The witness added that he went up to Noone and Carroll, told them he was a repeater, and that there was anything doing. He said two or three names were selected, and the men seen there went to vote, one was challenged.

The defendants, Michael J. Noone and Robert A. Walters, were asked to stand for identification. Walters testified that he was with Costello and Walters sent three men over to the man seen there about the names was named Donlan, he said.

Directions On Repeaters. Walters testified that he found Dennis J. Bush at Eighteenth and Monticelli streets, at Bush's directions, and was instructed to take the repeaters to the Eighth precinct of the Third ward, and "out east" of the city.

Returning during the afternoon, Walters testified that he saw Bush, and he was with Walters and the repeaters stopped at the South Delaware street, where he saw a "grin," where he said he met two men, named Noone and Carroll, one of whom was Highpockets Pettit.

"Was the saloon open?" asked L. Ert Slack, for the prosecution. "Yes," was the reply.

Walters said he and the repeaters went to the Sixth and Washington streets, where he testified as to scenes in the Eighth precinct of the Third ward at the registration and election in 1914.

Returning from the Dunn-Kenworthy precinct, Walters said the repeaters went to the Sixth and Washington streets, where he testified as to scenes in the Eighth precinct of the Third ward at the registration and election in 1914.

Proceeding to the Eighth precinct of the Third ward, where the repeaters left the machine, Walters said, he and Costello went to the polls, and after talking to Gibson, he and Costello "put in a few votes."

Then to the East Side. "The repeaters then went to an east side poll in Marlowe avenue, where they had a narrow alley, and the Democratic precinct committeeman, explained his purpose and was told voters there were well known to each other, and that they were to go to the polls, and Walters said he saw some men "copy the license plates."

Divided $100 Among Them. "I split the $100 among the repeaters," said Walters.

Bush, when a witness, told a similar story of the paying of the repeaters, and he also said that he got Walters and Costello to go to the polls, and he testified, said repeaters could be used in the election.

Michael A. Ryan, Eph Imman and Thomas A. Pope, who were on the cross-examination, Walter said he did not mention Dunn or Kenworthy in the trial, because he was not asked about them, and he was not asked about the number of several years ago in which he pleaded guilty to robbery and burglary.

Grant Brown, 133 Marlowe avenue, who was on the cross-examination, said he observed of observing automobiles near the Marlowe avenue voting place. That he had seen a car with a license plate that he testified was in the vicinity. He found two automobiles a short way from the voting place, and he took the numbers of the machines, which were full of men. One of the cars was a Buick, and the other was a Ford, and the other was a Buick.

Saw Two Automobiles. Edgar Toner, a Big Four employe, said he assisted Brown in getting the numbers. Paul Strieback, a grocer, also saw two automobiles, and one of the men in the automobiles said: "I guess the Eight precinct is the best place to go to, and we had better get away from here."

Dolph Staub, who drove an automobile load of repeaters, said of the trips taken to the polling places, Staub said that previously to election morning he had been to the registration and election place, and he saw Walters at the city hall, and they asked him to drive a machine on election morning, and he did so.

Walters testified that he saw Walters at the city hall, and they asked him to drive a machine on election morning, and he did so.

SAS DEFINITE POLICY IS SET FOR ALIENS

MARY ANTIN TO SPEAK AT THE JEWISH TEMPLE.

STUDENT OF IMMIGRATION

The "dismal need" of a definite federal interior policy to take care of the alien within the borders of the United States, is the engaging idea in the mind of Mary Antin, writer and student of immigration problems, who came to Indianapolis today to speak this evening at the Jewish temple on "The Gap in Our National Defense."

First Box to Camp Shelby. Miss Tarquina Voss, who with Miss Anna B. Anderson, has been busy collecting knitted articles for the men at Camp Shelby, announced that the first box of these articles was shipped to the camp today and that the response to her call for contributions from Indianapolis women has been so generous.

Patents for Indiana Inventors. WASHINGTON, February 7.—Patents have been granted the following Indiana inventors: John W. Dickens, Ft. Wayne, Ind., for a new kind of automobile tire.

Women Interested. The Americanization problem is interesting many women throughout the country, Miss Antin said, but the women have no standard by which to work, and are at sea as to how best to tackle the problem.

CAMPAIGN IS ON FOR KHAKI TESTAMENTS

INDIANAPOLIS TO SUPPLY 20,000 SOLDIERS.

GOAL IS FIXED AT $5,000

Khaki Testaments enough to supply at least 20,000 United States soldiers and sailors will be given by Indianapolis persons, if a campaign started yesterday by the American Bible Society proves successful. The executive committee appointed by the Bible society met at the Chamber of Commerce and fixed $5,000 as the sum to be raised in this city toward buying Testaments to be sent to the fighting men.

The Rev. Albertus Perry, pastor of Park Ridge Methodist church of Chicago, is executive secretary for the campaign and members of the executive committee are as follows: Governor James P. Goodrich, Albert J. Beveridge, George N. Burnie, the Rev. J. D. Garrison, A. B. Corbridge, Charles W. Fairbanks, A. H. Godard, the Rev. M. L. Haines, J. H. Holliday, J. E. Martin, the Rev. J. H. Peaslee, the Rev. F. E. Taylor and J. F. Wild.

Order for Million. Mr. Perry explained that when the Y. M. C. A. called for 1,000,000 New Testaments to be supplied immediately to men in military service, the American Bible Society undertook the publishing and distribution of these books, for which it has already incurred obligations to the extent of $600,000. Bibles, he said, are already on their way to the trenches. The Bible society undertook this responsibility in the firm belief that the gift would be blessed later among patriotic American citizens.

Reports of Missing Persons

Mrs. Leona Seals, of Memphis, Tenn., has asked the police to assist her in the search for her husband, John Seals, who disappeared from his home in Champlain, Ill., in April, 1917. She said in the letter to the police that she heard he had come to Indianapolis.

Mrs. B. F. Osborn, of Kokomo, Ind., has written to the police, asking them to try to find her husband, who left home some time last November and has not been seen or heard from. She said in the letter that he told her when he left that he was going to visit relatives in Illinois. She learned later that he came to Indianapolis.

George Moose disappeared from his home in Cincinnati, O., several months ago and is believed to have come to Indianapolis, according to a letter received by the police from Moose's cousin, Herbert Ashbury, of Cincinnati. Ashbury said in the letter that Moose's mother is ill and wishes to hear from him.

America must divide!

Our associates in the war are actually bread hungry, and must be supplied with wheat from this country. We can't feed our soldiers in France unless we make a much greater saving here. Mere economy in the use of wheat is not enough. The hour has come for sacrifice. We must divide.

Don't be satisfied with two wheatless days a week, also have one wheatless meal every day.

FOR WAR SERVICE TRAINING

Vocational Conference to Be Held at the Claypool.

Through a special communication to the chairman of county councils of defense, the state council today directed attention to the Indiana state vocational education and war service conference, to be held at the Claypool hotel tomorrow evening and Saturday.

Educational, industrial, commercial and labor forces of Indiana will hear at this conference the national call for immediate co-operation in carrying out an emergency war service training program.

Every county council in the state is expected to have representation at the conference and "help in the formation of plans, which will enable Indiana to continue doing her full share of the national war service work," says the state council's letter.

INDIANAPOLIS SCHOOL NOTES

Miss Ruth Allredde has charge of the Smilge campaign started at Shortridge high school today. Miss Allredde is selling the books in the biology laboratories at Shortridge, under the direction of the state organization.

Arthur Shee, '18, will be editor-in-chief of the Wednesday edition of the Echo at Shortridge high school during the spring semester. He has been on the staff for two years and during that time has covered every branch of the Shortridge Echo. Mr. Shee's first edition, '18, whom he succeeded, has been editor for three semesters.

Members of the Shortridge high school senate have been writing letters to the senators whose names have been in the school organization. In all cases the letters have been answered. The senators themselves, and many of the letters have been printed in the Shortridge Echo. The senate will meet in Room 27 at 2:30 p. m.

On Tuesday, February 13, the members of the Story Teller's Club of Shortridge high school, who have been in the organization prior to this semester, will entertain the new members by giving a party in their honor. The program committee includes Barbara Brown, Carroll Ripe, Malcolm Neer, Malcolm Hoen, Catherine Lennox and Dorothy McCullough.

A second class in contemporary war history to meet the first period will be formed next week at Shortridge high school. Pupils in order to be candidates for the course should enroll at the Shortridge office in Room 62. The original class, which meets the fifth period, has proved so popular that it has been decided to drop another. No papers will be permitted to drop a paper, course already begun to take the special work.

Why German Workingmen Cry "Peace and Freedom!"

We in American must not exaggerate, of course, the reports of strikes, peace-parades, and even peace-riots that are filtering through the stone-wall censorship established by the beneficent Kaisers of Mitteleuropa over their happy peoples, but when audiences in Germany drown out "Deutschland uber Alles" by roaring the "Marseillaise," with its wild call "to arms" against "tyrants" who "lash and goad us," outsiders can hardly be blamed for suspecting that something is stirring.

When in Frankfurt in January the Fatherland party tried to hold a meeting to elucidate their plan to extend the Fatherland over all neighboring territory (at the expense of the lives of the fathers and brothers of the people in the audience), the said audience burst into shouts of "Peace and Freedom!" started the "Marseillaise," and, according to the Vorwarts, poured through the streets "like an avalanche," while the populace at the windows greeted them with waving handkerchiefs and shouts of encouragement, which led to the smashing of the windows of the local annexationist newspapers.

ULTIMATE OBJECTIVES FIRST AIM OF ALLIES

KING GEORGE SAYS U. S. LENDS STRENGTH.

PARLIAMENT IS PROROGUED

LONDON, February 7.—Parliament has been prorogued and will reassemble on February 12. In the hour of common sense the speech from the throne was read by the speaker. In it the king emphasized that the first aim and endeavor of the allies was the successful prosecution of the war. The entry of the United States, he said, lent additional strength to the allied cause and inspired fresh confidence in ultimate victory. The king said in part:

Text of King's Speech. "My Lords and Gentlemen—Since I last addressed you great events have happened. Within a few weeks of that occasion the United States of America decided to take the stand by the side of this country and our allies in defense of the principles of liberty and justice. Their entry into the war followed by that of other neutral states, has united practically the whole civilized world against unscrupulous aggression, has lent additional strength to our arms and has inspired fresh confidence in the ultimate triumph of our cause.

"The other hand, Russia, distracted by internal dissension, has been unable to persevere in the struggle until the fruits of great sacrifices could be reaped, and for the present has ceased to bear her part in the allied task.

Ambition Still Exists.

"The negotiations opened by her with the enemy have, however, served but to prove that the ambition which provoked this unhappy war has yet unabated. These tragic events have added to the burdens of the other allies, but have not impaired the determination with which one and all continue to pursue the common aim, amid the opposition of changing conditions, the determination of the democracies of the world to secure a just and enduring peace standing on the basis of justice.

"In all the theaters of the war my naval and military forces have displayed throughout the course of the campaign, high constancy and fixed determination, which has won for them the admiration of my people.

"In France the enemy has been repeatedly and successfully thrown back, and I await with assurance the further progress of the conflict.

"In Palestine and Mesopotamia the most recent and famous victories of the orient have wrested from the Turks, while in Africa the enemy has lost the last remnant of his colonial possessions. In all these fields the forces of my dominions and of the allied empires have borne their full share in the toil and in the glory of the day.

Called to War Cabinet.

"During the year representatives of my dominions and of the Indian empire were summoned for the first time to sessions of an imperial war cabinet. Their deliberations have been of the utmost value both in the prosecution of the war and in the promotion of peace.

"After thanking the house of commons for the liberality of its provisions for the heavy expenses of the war and announcing his approval of the representation of the people bill, the king expressed the hope that this bill would obtain for a much larger number of his subjects an effective voice in the government of the country.

"It will," he continued, "enable the nation, the characteristic of the war, to continue in the no less arduous work of reconstruction and the promotion of peace. The settlement of this difficult question by agreement leads me still to hope that in spite of all the vicissitudes of the war a solution may be possible in regard to the government of Ireland, upon which a constructive policy of the representatives of my Irish people are now deliberating.

"The successful prosecution of the war is still our paramount aim and endeavor. I have watched with interest and with heart the unvarying enthusiasm with which all sections of my people have responded to every demand made upon them for this purpose and as they face the final tests which may yet be required to carry out our common mission, I pray that Almighty God may vouchsafe to us His blessing."

A Hohenzollern Telegram

AMSTERDAM, February 7.—Emperor William in reply to a congratulatory message from the Belgian medical congress, sent this telegram: "The rebuilding of the people's strength is almost the one greatest task. It can only be fulfilled by the co-operation of science and legislation and with the assistance of the participation of all discerning people."

GUN EXPLODES: THREE DEAD

Captain and Two Privates Killed on Range at Ft. Sill.

LAWTON, Okla., February 7.—Capt. Phineas P. Christie, whose home is said to be in Philadelphia, and Privates Glenn S. Valenti and Joseph W. Harvill, both of the 9th field artillery, were killed instantly when a French 75 mm. gun exploded on a range at Ft. Sill yesterday. Another private was injured seriously. The gun was being used in target practice. The body of the private who was killed was sent to Philadelphia for burial.

Private Oliver Smith and Carl Anderson, Battery D, 9th field artillery, were injured so severely the attending physician said they could never recover. The six-inch gun was loaded with a heavy shell and then three shells in a brass case were placed behind the shell, as propelling charge. It is believed the charge exploded prematurely, being the cause of the disaster.

SHIP CONTROL BOARD.

Allies Accept Plan for Direction of Atlantic Shipping Operations.

WASHINGTON, February 7.—Acceptance by the allies of the plan to turn over the direction of all trans-Atlantic tonnage to a ship control committee, recently created, has been announced by Chairman Hurley, of the shipping board, with the assurance that this promises a more efficient direction of Atlantic shipping operations.

The committee, comprising P. A. S. Franklin, H. H. Burton and Sir Conroy Guthrie, was named at a conference of government department heads, which was held at the State department on Feb. 6. Sir Conroy was selected to represent on an advisory committee the allies' acceptance of a plan of allocating tonnage. Word has just been received that the allied governments are heartily in favor of the proposal.

A small boy had been given a penny with a hole in it. Finding it too small for a coin, he had taken it to a shop and bought something with this penny. "It was quite willing," entering boldly, he said.

One More Chance To Get This Big Aluminum Cereal Cooker for One Dollar. A Million Homes Supplied. We have supplied over a million users of Quaker Oats with an ideal way to cook them. The purpose is to have Quaker Oats cooked rightly. Quaker Oats—flaked from queen grains only—has a wealth of flavor. Right cooking keeps that flavor intact. It makes the oat dish doubly delightful—makes it easy to digest. So we had this Cooker made to our order—an ideal double cooker. It is extra large, so little or much can be cooked in it. It is extra heavy, made to last a lifetime. This is the Cooker—made of pure aluminum—which we offer this week for one dollar, under the conditions below. If you are serving Quaker Oats, or if you will, we want you to have this Cooker.

$1 Brings It This Week. Buy from your grocer five packages of Quaker Oats, or of Quaker Best Corn Meal, or five packages of the two combined. Send us your grocer's sales slip for the purchase and send $1 with it. We will then send this cooker to you, all charges prepaid. This offer is good for one week only, and it applies to this vicinity alone. Address, The Quaker Oats Company, 1703 Railway Exchange, Chicago.

The Two Chief War-Time Foods. Quaker Oats. Quaker Best Corn Meal. At 1/8 the Cost of Meat. The Best 60% of the Corn. Quaker Oats, measured by food units, is twice as nutritious as round steak. It supplies nutrition at a cost of five cents per 1000 calories. Meats, on the average, cost eight times as much for the same food value. Eggs cost ten times as much. You can serve six dishes of Quaker Oats for the cost of a single egg. The oat stands supreme among grain foods, in nutrition and in flavor. It far exceeds wheat in food units. It is the energy food and the food for growth. It supplies every needed element in just the right proportion. It should be your basic food. Quaker Oats is flaked from queen grains only—just the big, rich, fatty oats. We get but ten pounds from a bushel. So in this brand you get a wondrous flavor without any extra price. All oat foods are doubly delightful if made with Quaker Oats.

Old Glory, I Did My Best. The photographs, so as not to obscure the features, if the applicant is able to write. GEORGE V. COFFIN, Chief of Police. Men coming in from their tours of state council of defense work report patriotism in some towns at a low ebb. Think of it! Patriotism in the United States at a low ebb! When I was almost beside myself the other day I was suddenly came to me. Will you please place them in your paper, with the hope that they will reach a responsive chord in some woman's breast, thereby loosening a pair of idle hands. Many of them are "floating on the job." If others are "floating on the job," it may be months, it may be years. But we do know that some day husbands, sons, brothers and sweethearts will again march in Meridian street and swing into the Circle, as they did one day in August. The Stars and Stripes wave a greeting to the noble shade which stands to the memory of your loved ones and mine. Will we have to bury our heads in shame or can we say, "Old Glory, I followed you every step with my prayers. I conserved food for you men going to the front with a strong, I made warm garments that were made in my own hands. I made dresses to bind up their wounds that they might be made well, and so to return to native land and loved ones. Old Glory, I did my best." INDIANAPOLIS WAR MOTHER. Maybe Expense is Meant. (Boston Transcript) Sign on Tremont street: "Our eyes are like Caesar's wife." Was the lady fresh?

GUARANTY TO ROADS IS 5.32 PER CENT. RETURN

SENATE COMMITTEE REPORT ON RAIL BILL. OWNERS BEAR WAR TAXES.

WASHINGTON, February 7.—Chairman Smith, of the senate interstate commerce committee, in reporting favorably to the senate today, the additional railroad bill, estimates that under the measure's provision the government will guarantee annually to the railroads of the country $45,000,000, which will represent a return of 5.32 per cent. This, he says, "reflects neither poverty nor riches," but the committee believes a majority of the railroads will accept "these terms as a just and fair measure of the contribution which they should make to the national defense."

An agreement on the bill was reached by the committee last Saturday, but minority reports are to be submitted by Senators Cummins and La Follette. Administration leaders plan to call the bill up for consideration, next Monday.

"Your committee is of the opinion that while the time for war emergency legislation and not the time to settle the many controversial and vexed questions concerning our future transportation policy," Chairman Smith says in preface to his report. He then takes up the compensation section and says:

Treatment of Taxes.
"About seventy-five great operating railroads do over 90 per cent. of the railroad business. The committee believes that most of these great railroad carriers will accept the terms of a just and fair measure of their constitutional rights. Section 1 further provides that ordinary taxes, national and state, as now, be paid out of operating revenues, but war taxes accruing under the act of October 3, 1917, are to be paid by the companies out of their own funds, or raised against the standard railroad securities as to bear their own just portion."

Section 1 also requires that each agreement shall contain adequate and appropriate provision for the maintenance and depreciation of the property and the creation of reserves so that the properties may, at the end of the federal control, be returned to the owners in a condition substantially equivalent to their condition when taken over by the government.

Justice of the Return.
"There has, of course, been much discussion as to the fairness and justice of the proposed amount of the standard return. It is plainly in the public interest, and indeed a war emergency, that the rights of owners must be tested by present conditions, not by some theory of capitalization never made operative under federal or state law or generally followed by the courts. It is the duty of the committee to report on the matter, and in this case of controversy over compensation, the bill permits an appeal to the court which the committee recommends. The report says, that improvements made by the government while the carriers are under government control should go to the railroads when they are returned to the security holders. This should be arranged by the agreement between the carriers and the government."

As to Future Control.
Discussing the provision inserted by the committee providing for the termination of government control, eighteen months after the peace proclamation has been issued, the report says:
"It is possible that certain conditions may arise from federal control which would require an adjustment before the property is returned to their owners, and a reasonable period should intervene in which the conditions may be met and adjusted. It may be that the nation will be unwilling to return to the conditions obtaining before the assumption of federal control. Legislation may be enacted radically changing the relation of the government to the railroads from that now existing in the interstate commerce act as amended. Your committee has suggested a period of eighteen months, and they believe it will be found adequate for the purpose."

"There is also a provision to the effect that the President may, prior to July 1 next, relinquish such transportation systems as he may deem not useful or desirable, and may thereafter enter into an agreement, relating all or any part of any system of transportation."

"The section also contains a general provision that the President may relinquish all railroads at any time when he shall deem such action needful or desirable."

Burial Begun of Thirty-five Bodies in Vault Since Jan. 12

(Special to The Indianapolis News)

KOKOMO, Ind., February 7.—With the arrival of mild weather yesterday, Marion Becker and Simon Eads, secretary of Crown Point cemetery, in this city, began the work of burying thirty-five bodies that had been in the receiving vault and chapel since the blizzard of January 12. Following the blizzard the vault was covered with such deep snow that it was impossible to find the vault. When the receiving vault was uncovered, it was found that there was an unmarked grave in the vault. When an unmarked grave was found, a guard being kept at night. JASCHA HEIFETZ.

At Age of Five, When He Made His First Appearance at Vienna.

The news of the triumph of Jascha Heifetz, the young Russian violinist, has spread over the entire country. The Ona T. Tabot Fine Arts Association will present him in recital Thursday evening, February 14, at the Murat theater, in a program which includes some of the greatest compositions in violin literature. The journey took two months. Handel, Wieniawski, Schubert, Mozart, Chopin, Auer, Beethoven-Ayer and Sarasate. The difficulty which Jascha Heifetz and his family encountered in getting to this country is most interesting. The journey took two months, and they traveled more than 10,000 miles. The sale of seats for this concert is now being held at the Ona T. Tabot office in the Hume-Mansur building.

We have a few more of these cabinets due us from the factory on a contract made before the glass, enamel, wood, varnish, etc., used in the making of this cabinet advanced 30 to 50%. This cabinet is sold elsewhere in the city and in almost every state in the Union.

The usual retail price is $35.00 to $37.50.

Our Price $25.50

This price will hold good to everybody and every day until the last cabinet coming to us under this contract is sold.

Any article is of a special interest at this time if it saves time, labor, food or money. This sale and cabinet save all four of them.

The special metal bread box, covered and ventilated, saves bread.

The Automatic sugar jar and other glass containers, for coffee, spices, etc., save waste.

The matchless convenience of this wonderful cabinet saves the time and labor of the housewife, and the purchasing power and economical selling plan of "Indiana's Most Remarkable Enterprise" saves you at least $10 in money on the purchase price of this splendid kitchen cabinet. Golden oak finish, white enamel inside, art glass doors.

Call and see the biggest bargain you ever saw in a kitchen cabinet. You will be surprised at the high quality and pleased with the large number of conveniences. If not convenient to call, order by mail and return if not satisfied. Those who miss this sale will have to pay much more or be satisfied with an article decidedly inferior to this high grade cabinet.

DEPOT BRIGADE IS TO TAKE DRAFTED MEN

ARRANGEMENTS ARE MADE AT CAMP TAYLOR.

MANY CENSORSHIP ORDERS

(From a Staff Correspondent)

CAMP ZACHARY TAYLOR, LOUISVILLE, February 7.—Indication that the drafted men coming to this camp in the last increment of the first draft quota will be temporarily placed in the 19th depot brigade came today, when it was announced that all clothing drawn by various units for men in the next increment should be turned over to the supply officer of that brigade.

It had previously been announced that the wooden chutes through which men were guided into groups for various organizations had been torn up, and that a different system would be employed in the future. The depot brigade was recently relieved of its division of its strength among infantry and artillery regiments. Ordinarily a depot unit represents reserve strength and its membership is constantly fluctuating. It is understood that the men of the quota in the depot barracks as practically all organizations had been torn up, and that a different system would be employed in the future. LIBRARY FOR BUSINESS MEN READY FOR OPENING ON SATURDAY. RUSH CITES ADVANTAGES

Charles E. Rush, city librarian, announced today that the business branch library on the main floor of the old library building at Meridian and Ohio streets will be formally opened Saturday to the business men and general public. The large room in which the business library is situated is to the left of the main entrance of the building.

The success of this special library branch and its worth to the citizens of Indianapolis will be measured largely by the response from the individuals who wish the information which may be obtained at the library. As soon as the business men of the city realize what assistance can be obtained there on questions of their own business, one of the leading libraries of its kind in the country.

Library at Newark.

The pioneer business library of the United States in John Cotton Dana, of Newark, N. J., under whom the business branch library at Newark, N. J., was established a number of years ago. Mr. Dana has established a business library at Newark, N. J., which gives free service to the business men of the city.

The library will be open from 8:30 to 6 every day, excepting Sunday.

Special Features.

Two special features of the service given by the business library are the telephone service and the delivery station service. A business man may wish some information quickly as to some announced proposition for arrangements for the meeting were about complete.

Instance Cited.

"A woman wishing to go to Texas to engage in farming wanted to know what the laws were there. She wrote to the department of agriculture at Washington, but she did not obtain satisfactory replies. Finally she went to the business library and obtained exactly what she had been looking for."

Books Available.

The books now available at the business branch include encyclopedias, reference works on advertising, accounts, commerce, business administration, city, town and telephone directories, trade directories containing names of leading commercial and manufacturing corporations throughout the world.

Examples of Questions.

What is the postage rate on parcels sent to China? What is the number of young mechanics in the United States who are unmarried and to whom I can best sell motorcycles? I want to put in a franchise system in my business and need descriptive material of various kinds.

Before Utility Commission.

The Chicago, Lake Shore & South Bend Railway Company has filed a petition with the public service commission in which it has asked for authority to increase its passenger fare rates by 10 per cent.

PLANS TO CELEBRATE LINCOLN'S BIRTHDAY

INDEPENDENT TURNVEREIN WILL HAVE PATRIOTIC MEETING

WILL HAVE SERVICE FLAG

Special Features.

Lincoln's birthday will be celebrated at the Independent Turnverein on a big patriotic meeting for members, their families and friends. George Seidensticker, president of the Turnverein, announced today that arrangements for the meeting were about complete.

As in his argument before the public service commission and the Marion circuit court, Mr. Winter held that a city is not a party to a franchise contract.

Mr. Winter denied the theory of the contract that a city or a public utility company can have a property right in a public franchise, because the franchise is not a contract, it is a mere license.

Position of City.

As in his argument before the public service commission and the Marion circuit court, Mr. Winter held that a city is not a party to a franchise contract.

Abolishes Republican Government.

"The bill would abolish a republican form of government," said Republican Leader Gallinger, declaring that if seriously pressed, senate Republicans would probably introduce a resolution.

Telephone Case.

The Winfield telephone case, he said, was one in which the company had surrendered its franchise and no doubt the supreme court, in deciding that case, had taken the surrender into account.

As to Permits.

A little later Judge Myers asked about the indefinite permits provided for by the public utility commission law. The Indianapolis Traction and Terminal Company had not surrendered its franchise. Mr. Winter said that an indefinite permit was taken to a municipality without the right to a franchise.

Supreme Court Decision.

Mr. Winter said the supreme court of the United States had decided that under the federal constitution a company's franchise rights could not be impaired without its consent.

Winter Opens Argument.

Ferdinand Winter of the Indianapolis Traction and Terminal Company, opposed the arguments by the public service commission and the Marion circuit court, both of which held that the commission was without jurisdiction to change the rates of street car fares.

Lightning Strikes Twice in the Same Place —It Happens So Occasionally Last Week We Held a Sale of Luggage Samples at Very Low Prices

Before the first day's selling ended several attractive styles had been completely closed out. For a day or two following customers continued to call for these special bags and suit cases, having been recommended to do so by customers who had been fortunate in securing theirs on the first day.

So late comers were promised that if we could duplicate original offerings we would do so and publicly announce the fact. This is that announcement.

We were able to secure a number of the most attractive pieces, short descriptions of which we append today. This sale of luggage will be found in the regular department and on two of the large booths.

Come yourself—tell your friends about it—the values are extraordinary.

At $8.45, hand-sewed cowhide and goatskin bags, in 16 and 18-inch sizes.

At $2.88, women's over-night suit cases, in 12x22-inch size, with inside tray and shirred pockets.

At $12.95, very fine, hand bags for women, standard 16-inch size, daintily finished.

At $10.00, extra fine cowhide suit cases, in plain black with colored linings.

At $2.58, women's black suit cases, in 24 and 26-inch sizes, with tray.

At $5.00, smart traveling bags, real leather, in 16 and 18-inch sizes.

At $6.95, one lot of women's smart patent leather collapsible kit bags.

At $10.45, hand-sewed cowhide suit cases, black or brown, 24 and 26-inch sizes.

At $10.00, 18-inch traveling bags of cowhide and other durable leathers.

At $16.50, men's 18-inch fitted traveling bags of durable pigskin.

At $5.95, portfolios for business or professional men. Black or brown.

Smart Spring SUITS for Juniors

The Petite Shop is showing many most attractive suits, designed especially for juniors and small women, among them the following becoming models:

At $22.50 is a charming suit for the younger girl. It is made in a broken check with a straight belted box coat with patch pockets. The skirt is plain gored with pockets and shoulder straps, sizes 14 and 16.

At $25.00 is a misses' suit of men's wear serge in navy or Belgian blue. The short box coat is belted and has an attractive sailor collar. It is button trimmed and has patch pockets, sizes 14 to 16.

At $39.50, a beautiful 3-piece French serge suit in navy blue has pipings of rose. The high yoke coat has a large collar and smart panel pockets. The skirt and gumpie are equally attractive. Sizes 14 to 18.

At $45.00, a handsome suit of unusual distinction. The coat is braided and fits snugly. It has a long roll collar and a full ruffle skirt. The collar overlay is of dotted rajah silk. The skirt is stylishly straight, sizes 14 to 18.

New Fiber Silk Sweaters $5.95 to $13.95

A beautiful sweater at $5.95 is of purple, gold, Copenhagen or rose, with white collar, cuffs and sash. It is a most becoming model.

There are many other new styles in purple, rose, peach, Copenhagen, green, salmon and black and white. They are unusually pretty and are priced from $5.95 to $13.95.

Ashes Collection Rules

Rules governing the collection of ashes by the Indianapolis Hauling Company were given out today by the board of public works, that the public may know under what conditions ashes will be taken up. The rules were adopted by the hauling company. They follow:

1. Garbage, grass and yard sweepings are not collected, therefore do not mix with ashes.
2. Ashes must be kept in separate receptacles of such size as can easily be handled by two men, and to hold not less than one bushel nor more than two and one-half bushels. Barrels larger than potato barrels are not permissible.
3. Receptacles must be covered with water-tight cover.
4. Receptacles must be kept at the property line in the place most convenient for the collector.

5. On days for collection please see that your back gates are unlocked.

Sixty teams, including twenty-one city teams, are now at work hauling ashes. The cost of the city teams is being charged to the hauling company.

The board calls attention to the fact that the hauling company is required to collect ashes once each week.

SOCIAL SIDE OF CHURCHES

ABE MARTIN.

Ever notice how a lady killer fades after he gets married? The fellow that used to boast of his mother's cooking now has a married son that brags on the way some Busy Bee fixes things.

Little Stories of Daily Life

Matchless.

The treasurer of a certain Indianapolis concern desired to smoke while at the office Monday morning. Feeling in his pocket he discovered he had no matches. He went to some of the other employees of the office, who also were without the much wanted match. He sent the office boy to the drug store for a box. He returned in a few minutes with word that drug stores could sell only drugs on Monday. Suddenly remembering that he could surely get one in the cafeteria downstairs, where he was told by one of the maids that the matches were in a locked closet and one of the cooks who had just left had the keys. One of the maids suggested that he light his cigar on one of the gas burners that had not been turned off. Seizing the opportunity as his last chance he returned to his office, where he spent so much time talking about it that the cigar went out.

He Must Have Run Then.

Dr. J. P. Naylor, head of the physics department of DePauw university, was walking down a slippery sidewalk and hitting a particularly icy place, fell down.

H. M. Gorrell, Dr. Naylor's assistant, was following him. "You are somewhat of an architect aren't you, Doctor?" asked Gorrell.

"How's that?" asked the professor.

"You are making fine prints."

LOTSHAW GETS DIVORCE.

Wife Tells Court She Does Not Care to Live With Ball Player.

Andrew Lotshaw, a baseball player, known as Windy to Indianapolis fans, received a divorce from his wife Emma in circuit court Wednesday.

Mrs. Lotshaw, when asked by Judge Louis B. Ewbank whether she wished to have her husband get the divorce, replied that she did, as she did not care to live with him.

The Lotshaws were married in 1897 and have two children. They separated last fall. Lotshaw previously had dismissed a divorce suit against his wife when, he said, she had agreed to stop "ragging" him. Lotshaw said he intended to report for duty to the Indianapolis ball club in two weeks. The costs were assessed against him.
