THE LIMEKILN CLUB.

Gardner Laments Fact That the World Has No Use For Him.

MISSES THE OLD THINGS.

New Names and New Ways Do Not Appeal to the Noted President—He Recalls Changes That Have Taken Place in His Time.

[Copyright, 1907, by P. C. Eastment.]
"My frens," said Brother Gardner, president of the Limekiln club, at its last meeting, "I's been doin' a heap o' thinkin' fur de last few days, and I's about come to de conclusion dat de world ain't got no furder use fur me and odder old folks. We am outer date. We can't keep up wid de pursession. We can't catch on."
"It makes me lonely when I look around me and miss all de old fashioned things, and some nights I look up at de moon and de stars and wonder

"DE ODDER DAY I TOOK A WANDER."

If dey have changed too. If dey haven't it's bekause a trust hasn't got hold of 'em."
"In de old fashioned days, when we built a church buildin'—dey called it a meetin' house den—we had to raise and scrape and den a leetle at a time. Ebery dollar was honest money. Ebery dollar was honestly earned. If we got 'nuff together to build a $500 buildin' we felt almost ashamed of de extravagance. If we could pay our preacher $200 a year he was almost a pleasure to take it."
"Up my way dey am jist now buildin' what may be called a palace of de Lawd. De lot cost $20,000, de buildin' am to cost $40,000, de organ am to cost $5,000, de steam heat and cushions and odder fixins will cost as much more, and dey am gwine to pay de minister de same salary annually. Dar will be a choir of paid singers and dar will be dozens of carriages roll up to de door on Sundays."

When the Church is Built.
"When dat palace am finally completed and opened, when de organ peals out, when de choir stands up to sing, when de minister stands up to preach, what's he gwine to preach de same things dat our preachers preach about in de long ago."
"He will ask men to be honest."
"He will ask men to love deir feller men."
"He will ask men to forgive deir enemies and praise de Lawd."
"He will ask men and women to help in de betterment of de world and to se libly yore on airth dat when dey come to de dey will go higher."

"Dat's all he kin do. Can't add an odder word to it. And if he asked those things in a $500 meetin' house would de consciences of men respond jist as quick as in dat palace?"
"But he won't ask it. It would be old fashioned to do so. It wouldn't be to date. It might hurt de feelin's of some of de congregashun who have come dar to show off deir clothes and hear de choir sing. He'll take a text and he'll talk, and when he gits fer talkin' meeting will be ober and no body de better nor wuss off."
"In de old fashioned day any mar who libbed widin five miles of you was a naybur and a human bein'. In dis modern age de man libbin' on de odder side of de wall dies and is buried, and you don't know his name nor care to."
"Fifty years ago dar was a feelin' of sympathy fur a man in misfortune fur a widdler in black, fur an orphan cryin' in its loneliness. Dat feelin' was too old fashioned, and it has been done away wid. We can't miss our stree kyar to speak to a man who has been run ober and had his bones broke, and we figger dat widders and orphans will be taken care of at de porehouse."

"In dose odd days dar was some politics around, but men didn't look upon it as they do de politics of today. It didn't smirch men. It didn't make liars and thieves and rascals of 'em. Men didn't sell their votes, and office holders didn't rob de people. It was decided dat de old way wasn't progressive 'nuff fur de American people and so de present one was invented. De result am dat dere am not ober five men in high places today in all dis land dat de people thoroughly trust."

"In my time, when I considered my self in de swim, if I aimed $2 I put away at least 50 cents agin sickness or old age. Dat's what we preached to each odder—economy and saving. Dat looked like good policy, but I have libbed to see how foolish it was compared to de up to date idea. De com-

THE GOOD EFFECTS

Of the Moore Law Shown by Statistics on the Saloon Business.

TOTAL NUMBER OF SALOONS

Shows a Notable Falling Off as a Direct Result of the Workings of This Beneficent Legislation.

Something Concerning Activity of the Dominating Liquor Forces of the Democratic Party.

[Special Correspondence.]

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 23.—The good effects of the Moore law which was adopted during the legislature of 1905, are shown in a bulletin compiled by Mary Stubbs, state statistician, on the saloon business in Indiana.
More than two-thirds of the townships of the state have no saloon, according to Miss Stubbs, and the Anti-Saloon League, only 296 have saloons, according to the figures, and 720 have none. The total number of saloons granted license during 1906 was 5,253, as opposed to 5,277 in 1905, showing a decrease of twenty-four. Three entire counties were "dry" in 1906, according to Miss Stubbs—Brown, Lagrange and Pike.

While there was a decrease in the number of saloon licenses issued in 1906, the revenue derived from such licenses increased. This was due to the increase in the cost of a city license. Each saloon pays a regular state license of $100, and a city license in addition. In some cities licenses were placed at a higher figure in 1906. The amount derived from the liquor licenses, city and state, in 1906 was $1,415,986.50, as compared with $1,269,718 in 1905.

Wonderful Showing.

These figures show the really wonderful strides made during the past eight years towards the restriction of the liquor trade in Indiana. The Democratic members of the legislature and their party leaders have been almost unanimously opposed to the enactment of any laws looking to reasonable regulation of the liquor business.

It is a well known fact that their party is controlled by liquor men, but in spite of them great progress has been made in enforcing the laws against the saloons.

Liquor Forces Active.

The activity of the dominating liquor forces of the Democratic party became so marked that a secret conference of a number of good Democratic leaders was held here this week for the purpose of devising some plan to place the party on a respectable standing.

They reckoned without their hosts, however, if they expected to keep their meeting quiet as the Sherlock Holmes henchmen of the present controlling factors found them out. Promises were made again by the Democratic bosses that the party will henceforth stand for law and order, but already it is apparent that it was all a bluff on their part to continue their hold on the party machinery.

Some Gang Rules.

It is evident now even to the novices in politics that there is no ground for belief that the Democratic machine will turn on its financial backers—the brewers and the liquor dealers.

They are even now making their plans to nominate and elect district chairmen and a chairman of the state committee. They have a prospective candidate for state chairman who was one of the ringleaders of the brewer's lobby that defeated the high license bill during the recent session of the legislature.

It is conceded by the Democratic leaders, who know about conditions that exist, that this liquor candidate will be elected chairman if he says the word.

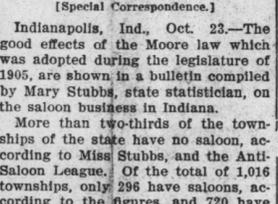

Under the existing conditions nothing can be expected from the Democrats in enforcing the liquor laws all through the state.

MARY CHURCH TERRELL

Much interest centers in the coming appearance, in this city, of Mrs. Mary Church Terrell, conceded to be the most talented woman from an educational standpoint of the Negro race.

In addition to a collegiate course taken at Oberlin College after which she afterward studied at Hiedelberg thus completing courses in the leading Universities of Europe or of the world Mrs. Terrell adds to her ability to handle the most important questions before the American people in the most interesting manner, an easy and graceful appearance which produces a most pleasing effect as a speaker. She will be heard at Jones Tabernacle Monday evening, October 28, at which time an audience that will test the seating capacity of the church will hear her and thereby holds up Indianapolis reputation for appreciating the best in any line of endeavor. Tickets may be secured from Mrs. Lillian Thomas Fox.

MRS. MARY CHURCH TERRELL

There is no pronounced change in size this season. The largest card used is that shared by husband and wife. Next in size comes the card used by the matron, third the card for single women and fourth in size, that used by men.

Pure white polished, but unglazed bristol board, with plain, unbeveled edges, is preferred. The type may be in the block text, most severely plain in French script or in old English. No family crests or decorations of any sort are used and the full name runs directly the center of the card with the house address, "23 West Branch street," in the lower right-hand corner. A woman can have her day's home engraved in the lower left-hand corner and a man may have there the name of his favorite club. If he lives at a club, however, he has the name engraved where his home address would come, in the lower right-hand corner.

The name of the city is not given. Presumably if a traveling acquaintance desires to remember you, she will either write the name your home town on the card or in her address book. Married women have their husbands' name in full on their cards thus: "Mrs. James Newton Grey," not "Mrs. Anna B. Grey." The name is engraved in full. Initials are bad form.

A widow may use her husband's Christian name, "Mrs. James Newton Grey," or resume part of her maiden name, thus: "Mrs. Anna Barton Grey."

A divorced woman drops her former husband's surname or retains it, according to the terms of the annulment of their marriage. For instance, the card "Mrs. Jon Trent Barton," after divorce, may be either "Mrs. Jane Merton Barton," if she decides to retain his surname, or she can resume her maiden name, thus: "Mrs. Jane Merton," but she may not use "Miss" on her card.

Mr. Braboy enjoys the distinction of being the only dealer in Pianos and Musical Instruments in the State. He has a lucrative trade and a well equipped business place.

ELDER N. H. PIUS

Prominent Pastor Accepts Call to Ohio.

Will Preach Farewell Sermon at the Metropolitan Church Sunday

Elder N. H. Pius, pastor of the Metropolitan Baptist church who tendered his resignation in August on account of differences that arose between the members of the church on the question of the pastor's salary has accepted a call to the Second Baptist Church at Springfield, O., with a membership of 400 and will preach his farewell sermon Sunday Oct. 27. The public is cordially invited to attend these services.

The wife of a doctor or minister does not take her husband's title. The wife of Dr. James Hudson Brown has "Mrs. James Hudson Brown" engraved on her card. The form for a doctor to observe is a card engraved, "James Henry Brown, M. D.," with residence in the right-hand corner. This is for social purposes. He has another card with office address and hours for professional purposes. A minister's card runs: "Rev. Ernest Samuel Dodge Baxter." If the name is very long, the title may be shortened to "Rev."

Cafe Waiters Ball

The Grand Ball to be given by the Cafe Waiters of the city at Tomlinson Hall Thursday eve, Nov. 7, is the talk of the town. The cafe waiters who represent the most popular class of our citizens are sparing no efforts to make this affair a social success, and to make it an annual event. The various committees are viewing with each other and it goes with the saying that perfect order and magnificent splendor will be the final outcome.

As a test of the esteem held by the Cafe Waiters, a large number of boxes have already been reserved by the white patrons of the various downtown Cafes, who will encourage the movement by their presence. No extra charge will be made for boxes and the one price of admission 50 cents will entitle you to any seat, but ticket holders will be allowed to reserve seats upon request. The cafe boys have given the refreshment privilege to the St. Phillips Mission for the benefit of the church. Music will be furnished by Bert Mitchell's orchestra. The reception committee consists of Robert Evans, James Clark, John Butcher, Irving Bell, Frank Price, Henry Fleming and Harvey Jones.

Land Values Increased.

In connection with the trouble in the Democratic ranks it is interesting to note the prosperity under Republican rule.

The report shows that the valuation of farm property increased greatly within the four years considered. In 1900 the average value an acre was $113.49, while in 1904 it was $135.23. Interesting figures are given on the value of farm land and improvements in the various counties of the state. Among the counties having the greatest wealth in farm land and improvements in 1904 are the following:

Allen, $19,272,670; Benton, $15,767,120; Clinton, $14,113,920; Delaware, $12,285,720; Elkhart, $15,055,310; Grant, $12,775,570; Hamilton, $13,106,750; Hendricks, $12,445,370; Henry, $12,290,170; Kosciusko, $12,987,840; Laporte, $13,701,220; Madison, $14,876,440; Marion, $22,251,840; Montgomery, $15,557,520; Randolph, $12,298,500; Rush, $14,137,930; St. Joseph, $15,294,300; Shelby, $14,486,060; Tippecanoe, $16,023,930; Wayne, $12,232,190; White, $13,878,840.

Lesson IV.—Fourth Quarter, For Oct. 27, 1907.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Josh. xiv, 6-15. Memory Verses, 7, 8—Golden Text, Matt. xxv, 23—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

[Copyright, 1907, by American Press Association.] The intervening chapters between our last lesson and this tell us how the Lord fought for Israel until Joshua took the whole land, according to all that the Lord said unto Moses (x, 14, 42; xi, 23). It had not been continuous victory, for sin and unbelief had been at work bringing dishonor upon God and disgrace and defeat upon themselves.

The covetous disobedience of Achan brought judgment upon himself and trouble upon all Israel. Joshua's league with the lying Gibeonites without consulting the captain who appeared to him by Jericho was a sad mistake, but while Joshua and the people walked with God in trustful obedience there was always victory for Israel, the Lord on one occasion casting down great boulders from heaven upon the enemy and miraculously making one day to be nearly two in length (x, 11-14). With all their victories there remained very much land yet to be possessed (xiii, 1), and that is true of all believers with reference to the precious promises of God. The Levites, who were chosen from all the tribes of Israel to be specially set apart to God instead of the firstborn (Num. iii, 11-15; viii, 14), should have no inheritance in the land but the Lord God Himself (xiii, 14, 33) makes us think of and desire to say from the heart, "The Lord is my portion, saith my soul; therefore will I hope in Him" (Lam. iii, 24). The Levites, who waited specially upon God, were well cared for. They had cities to dwell in and suburbs for their cattle; they lived upon the tithes of the others and gave to the Lord a tithe out of their tithes (xv, 3, 4; Num. xviii, 20-26). All true believers are a holy and royal priesthood, kings and priests (I Pet. ii, 5, 9; Rev. i, 6; v, 10), and we ought to be quite sure that if we make His service our delight He'll make our wants His care (Matt. vi, 33; Rom. viii, 32).

Joshua seems to have continued his headquarters at Gilead (ix, 6; x, 6), and now his old friend Caleb comes to him on special business. For forty-five years he had treasured in his heart a word that the Lord had said to Moses concerning him (Num. xiv, 30). He had eaten it, lived on it, fully appropriated it, and doubtless many a time when others were dying all about him he perhaps was not feeling quite as well as usual and the adversary whispered, "Your turn next; you will soon be gone like the rest;" he had encouraged himself in the Lord and reminded Him of His promise and been strengthened. The infallible word of the Living God is always a sure resting place regardless of all feelings or circumstances. See Paul in the storm at sea, when all hope that they should be saved was taken away, standing forth and declaring with all boldness, "There shall be no loss of any man's life among you, but of the ship; * * * there shall not an hair fall from the head of any of you" (Acts xxvii, 20-25, 34). "I believe God that it shall be even as it was told me." Of Mary of Nazareth it is written, "Blessed is she that believed, for there shall be a performance of those things which were told her from the Lord" (Luke i, 45). Our Lord said to Thomas, "Blessed are they that have not seen and yet have believed" (John xx, 21).

Note the names given to Moses in verses 6, 7, "The man of God, * * * the servant of the Lord;" God's man, God's possession, specially for God's own use; Jehovah's servant, serving Him only, saying, like Paul, "Whose I am and whom I serve." Every believer may and should be God's possession for His service. Caleb kindly refreshes Joshua also as he says, "The thing that the Lord said concerning me and thee" (verse 6). Think of our Lord saying to Simon Peter concerning the taxes, "Thee take and give unto them for me and thee" (Matt. xvii, 27). It seems to me that we have in our lesson the significance of "wholly following the Lord" (verses 8, 9, 14). What is it but having a heart to believe God and to do just as He says regardless of what others may say or do, a readiness to stand with God even if you die for it, for Caleb and Joshua were in danger of being stoned to death for their steadfastness. Caleb was an illustration of Isa. xl, 31, "They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength," etc. Hear him say, "The Lord hath kept me alive, as He said, these forty and five years; * * * I am as strong this day as I was in the day that Moses sent me" (verses 10, 11). Kept waiting forty-five years for the unbelief and rebellion of others, he has been sustained in body and soul by the word of God, for the Lord was his life and health and hope. Now he asks for the mountain where the giants were, saying so grandly, "If so be the Lord will be with me, then I shall be able to drive them out, as the Lord said" (verse 12). He recognized that the Lord was his strength, and that whatever was to be done He must do it, but he was gladly willing to be used by Him.

So Joshua gave him Hebron, which became his inheritance, and he drove thence the three sons of Anak (xv, 13, 14). Hebron signifies fellowship, communion, and if we would live as Hebron we must be able to say, "Truly our fellowship is with the Father and with His Son Jesus Christ" (I John i, 3).
