known in its denomination as the "Church of Schools" because several of the colleges and training schools that are now located in that city started in this church. Out of the influence of this church and pastor has gone in race leadership such men as Mordecai Johnson, president of Howard university, John H. Davis, pres., of West Va. State; H. E. Watson of Pine Bluff training school, and the late W. M. Brawley, noted historian and author, thus making its power felt throughout the world.

When asked by this reporter, to what did he attribute this evident breakdown of those barriers he paused for a moment of reflection and said, softly, but positively, "God."

By the way of conversation, Rev. Carter gave this insight into his outstanding success, in a story that took place in London, England at one of the conventions of the World's Baptist Alliance.

Rev. L. C. Franklin Miller, editor-publisher of the official Who's Who of the A. M. E. church, is spending several days in the city interviewing A. M. E. church ministers. The author makes his headquarters at Boston, Mass. Dr. Miller is an entrant to the Bishop's council of the A. M. E. church at Philadelphia.

OBITUARY

was born in this city and educated in the public schools. She attended Butler College until the time of her marriage to Albert W. Ford, November 7, 1900. Since her marriage she has resided in Chicago, the mother of four children, all deceased.

She was baptized in Corinthian Baptist church and on leaving the city united with Olivet Baptist church, Chicago, and was active in church, fraternal and civic affairs. She was a charter member and Past Matron of Orphan chapter, 127, Order of Eastern Star; A. P. Grand Officer of Eureka Grand Chapter Illinois; a Past Most Ancient Matron of Napoleon Court, No. 42, Heroines of Jericho, A.M.C. Court No. 21, Daughters of Isis and a member of Chicago Assembly, No. 4, Order of Golden Circle, and Past Most Noble Governor of Eliza R. Carter Household of Ruth.

In spite of her many fraternal activities, she let nothing interfere with her duties as a wife and mother. She departed this life May 16, 1939, after an illness of only a few days. Her passing was a great shock to her family and friends. She leaves to mourn her loss Major A. W. Ford, husband; Irene B. Ecter, mother; Rev. F. S. Ecter, stepfather; Harry A. Radcliffe, nephew; Virginia F. Lewis, cousin, and other relatives and a host of friends.

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Jordan, 73, who died Friday, June 2, after an illness of several months, were held Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock at the Ware and Beckwith mortuary. Elder J. H. Lawrence, pastor of the Seventh Day Adventists church, officiated.

Mrs. Jordan was born in Princeton and had resided here more than thirty years. Burial was in New Crown cemetery. There were no immediate survivors.

Miss Emma Powell, 54, 1720 Cornell avenue, was walking last Sunday by 1714 Cornell avenue and was hit by a dog owned by Miss Emma Eastland. She was treated by a private physician at the expense of Miss Eastland. Miss Eastland was arrested for harboring a vicious dog and no dog license. The dog has been sent to the country to be penned up for ten days.

band, composed of employees of the National Baptist Publishing Board of Nashville, which is under the leadership of Jerry Lindsey. Leaving the station, the parade marched north in Illinois to Indiana, northwest in Indiana to West street, north in West to 12th street to Mt. Paran Baptist church, city headquarters of the congress.

During the entire parade the marchers were accorded enthusiastic ovations from the crowds gathered on the sidewalks to welcome them. At the church a mass of spectators had gathered to demonstrate further the graciousness that had been planned for the visitors, so large was the crowd that it was necessary for the parade ceremonies to be halted temporarily while the crowd was moved.

Morning Session Rev. H. A. Boyd, after a brief in formal introduction, presided over the various officers and leaders of the congress, also giving in his inimitable way a welcome to the visitors and members of the congress.

Dr. G. L. Prince of Galveston, Tex., was introduced by Rev. G. B. Taylor who was serving as presiding officer. Dr. Prince brought a greeting to the congress and exhorted the members to "keep sacred" the faith entrusted in their hands, the faith of advancing the cause of Christ and His kingdom. He spoke of the coming National Convention, and asked that they flood the city of Los Angeles with forces of the kingdom greater than the city had ever experienced before.

The huge auditorium of Crispus Attucks high school at 2 p.m. Monday Adams will march, this parade, which will be augmented with several other musical aggregations from the state, and locally.

Evening Session The evening session got under way with an overflow crowd present in the auditorium, with Rev. J. D. Johnson presiding, fully five hundred members of the Congress Chorus were present on the platform when the meeting was called to order. They started the services with a high spirit as they lifted their voices in the spirituals that were a boon to their illustrious fathers. Floyd McMurray, Superintendent of Public Instructions speaking on behalf of the governor and the state of Indiana, welcomed the Congress to, as he said, "The state that claims a heritage of Christianity, given them by those who invaded this state as a wilderness, and made it one of the best in the union. We welcome you because you represent the kind of people we want to come to our city and our state, and we give to you the courtesies which we place at the disposal of all who find our state inviting."

composed of employees of that factory, gave two very beautiful numbers, their forty voices spoke in melodious tones of the promise of keeping faith with the traditions that gave us place in the world's affairs.

Dr. Boyd introduced to the audience Harry R. Rice, president of the Supreme Liberty Life Insurance company of Chicago, who made what might have been the principal address of the evening. "The Negro," said Mr. Rice, "must come to his own rescue, in making business safe for those who are leaving our schools today, employment has become an issue with all people and the Negro must realize he has other minority groups, that he must provide some of the employment that he hopes his children will get."

He cited statistics to prove that the Negroes spend $90,000,000 yearly with white insurance companies that do not give any Negro employment in any form, and spend $15,000,000 with ten Negro insurance companies that employ 3,000 Negroes to run the business.

More music was offered by the DeLuxe Four quartet, and the Metropolitan Octet, of the Metropolitan Baptist church. Other religious, fraternal, and business representatives who welcomed the Congress were, Revs. J. I. Saunders and S. S. Reed for the state Baptists, I. Albert Moore, for the state and city Methodists; Messrs. E. Louis Moore, for the professional groups, L. B. Johnson for the business groups; Russell Lane on behalf of Education. There were voluminous responses from the officials of the congress to these welcomes.

Special emphasis was placed on the forthcoming appearance of the renowned Rev. Glenn T. Settle, who will be the guest speaker Sunday afternoon at a mammoth demonstration at Tomlinson hall following a spectacular street parade from the High school to the downtown building. It is expected that 10,000 will take part in this event.

The parade will mobilize at Crispus Attucks high school at 2 p.m. Monday Adams will march, this parade, which will be augmented with several other musical aggregations from the state, and locally.

Rev. Henderson on Air Waves Again Rev. R. C. Henderson, pastor of Bethel A.M.E., represented the Church Federation for the third time when he appeared on Radio Station WIRE here recently. He has been elected permanent trustee of Wilberforce university, the president, D. Ormond Walker, revealed.

Mrs. Mary Jordan Rites Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Jordan, 73, who died Friday, June 2, after an illness of several months, were held Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock at the Ware and Beckwith mortuary. Elder J. H. Lawrence, pastor of the Seventh Day Adventists church, officiated.

Interracial Group Will Study Attacks Athletic Problems

At the last meeting of the interracial committee of the Church Federation plans were made for 1940 with the view of making for better race relations in Indianapolis. One question discussed was that of better ways and means for bringing a better racial understanding between the young whites and the young Negro.

Upon this question, Rev. Robert E. Skelton, the pastor of Barnes church, suggested that the best way to develop racial appreciation would be in the field of athletics in the city of Indianapolis. He pointed out that the boys at Attucks must play colored teams from out of the state thus entailing a great expense upon the athletic treasurer of Attucks, and often they must play the boys at Plainfield boys school an institution which is not on a par with Attucks and that they are disgraced from engaging in competition with the other city high schools.

Rev. Skelton stated that Captain Watson of Michigan, and Captain Woodruff of Pennsylvania were fine examples of what competition on the track and in other lines of athletics have done to develop a finer spirit of racial appreciation. Upon his statement a move was made and prevailed for the appointment of a committee of three to wait upon Dr. Morgan of the School Board to present this matter as one of the big race questions which interested the interracial committee. On this committee Dwight Ritter, chairman of the interracial committee, Rev. Linn Tripp, social service director of the church federation and Rev. Skelton were appointed.

Rev. Skelton stated that he had received the personal endorsement of James A. Abern 12th District Commander of the American Legion on the movement which he had started and that the matter would be presented to the 12th District of the American Legion in their next regular session in an effort to secure a change in these conditions as a part of the American Legion Americanization program. It is to be hoped that other organizations will join the interracial committee bringing a change which will give to the boys of Attucks a better opportunity than they have heretofore enjoyed. Rev. Skelton said, and predicts that if this condition is eradicated it will not be long before Attucks will be admitted to the State basketball tournament should they be one of the successful teams to win their regional.

Police called late Monday night to the Senate avenue side of Methodist hospital found Mrs. Viola Crawford, 33, 445 Rankin street, who said she was at the home of Mrs. Jeannora Edmonds, 437 West Fourteenth street, at which place she had bought a bottle of beer. She told officers Jones and Posey that Mrs. Edmonds later slapped her face. Police seized eight-and-a-half gallons of alcohol and a bottle of beer and arrested Mrs. Edmonds for violation of the 1935 beverage act and assault and battery.

SHE WHO GETS SLAPPED GETS A WARRANT

Mrs. Crawford, who swore out the warrant, was shot several weeks ago by her common law husband, the charge striking her in the back and right side. She was treated at City hospital and released several days later. It was not learned whether her assailant was ever captured.

GAS USE GROWS, FIGURES SHOW

According to figures released by the officials of the Citizens Gas and Coke Utility gas consumption continued to increase over a year ago in April 1939 as it has each month this year.

The brightest spot is the industrial gas consumption that hit a total of 75,300,000 cubic feet, in April 1939, a 35 per cent increase over the same period last year.

Household gas consumption was 26,700,000 cubic feet an increase of 161 per cent over April 1938, due to the jump in number of Indianapolis homes heated with gas from 332 in 1938 to 734 in 1939.

Commercial gas sales amounted to 30,400,000 cubic feet in April 1939 as against a consumption of 28,200,000 cubic feet in April a year ago.

Domestic consumption reached a total of 200 million cubic feet an increase of 2 million cubic feet over April 1938.

The number of gas meters continued to climb to a new all time high of 86,311 meters in service in April 1939.

Police met Rev. Robert E. Skelton, at 2519 Northwestern avenue. He reported that someone entered Barnes M. E. church, 510 West Twenty-sixth street, of which he is pastor, and broke open a small tank in the basement. The thieves obtained only $3.00 in cash.

Dr. Womack Urges New Approach To Life, Philosophy

MEMPHIS, Tenn., (Special to Indianapolis Recorder)—Dr. Arthur W. Womack, formerly of Indianapolis, Ind., now of Memphis, Tenn., delivered one of the best, if not the best Commencement sermon at Booker T. Washington high school to 318 graduates last week that old Memphians claim they have heard in a long time. More than 2,000 citizens attended. The school is the oldest in the city and had an enrollment of almost 2,500 students this year.

His subject was, "Have Some Definite Aim and Drive To It," growing out of the book of Daniel 1st Chapter 8th verse.

The minister stated that "Any man or woman, especially boy and girl, who has no definite aim in view is a liability to his community, state and nation," and compared them to a "horse without a bridle, ship without a compass, kite without a tail and an auto running down hill without a chauffeur and steering wheel."

Daniel and his three companions said he had a definite aim in view and drove to it, and that aim was "not to defile themselves with the portion of the king's meat, nor with the wine which he drank." The minister showed how Daniel and his companions were flattered, by taking their names received when circumcised according to Jewish Law, and replaced with heathen names, respecting idol gods and "Bel" in particular, but they did not stoop to flattery.

He urged the class, as some would go to colleges, while others would strike the highway of life, not to be flattered into infidelity, atheism and agnosticism, but to keep their mother's and father's God in view.

He stated that where they would go after Commencement would be to them what wicked Babylon was to Daniel. The world is waiting to flatter them into eating the king's meat and drinking the king's wine, and to replace their good name with that of evil and contempt. He emphasized holding on to your parents' God as an aim.

Remember, said the orator, as the Rabbis and fathers depended upon Daniel and his companions not to defile themselves with the king's meat, and the wine which he drank, your parents, teachers and Christ are depending upon you.

He discussed the making of the New World and the part youth should play, but that they cannot without some definite aim, and daily driving to it.

The minister brought his sermon to a close by "urging a new philosophy of life, as regards our morals, business enterprises, race con-

Last Civil War Veteran Here

Taps have been sounded for the boys in blue who knew the carnage of bloody civil combat with William Bowser, 97, of 7306 Heenan street, La Motte . . . but this Civil War stalwart looks forward to many more years of quiet activity here.

He was born at Rye Neck, Md., on January 23rd, 1842.

Bowser enlisted at Easton, Md., and was assigned to the 39th U. S. Colored Troop, serving in Company A, under Captain Samuel Wilson. He fought at Petersburg, Va., and in South Carolina. His term of service covered two years. He was mustered out of service in 1865.

The school closed one of its most successful years in its history with Mrs. Julia Goodman delivering the final address.

Prof. Blair T. Hunt, A. M., Ph. D. has served this institution with great credit to himself and race the past seven years.

Q. Had the couple been having any trouble, to your knowledge?
A. They had always gotten along well.
Q. Had you heard any commotion down there before Mrs. Pierson ran out?

NYA EXHIBIT, OPEN HOUSE SET FOR JUNE 15

The National Youth Administration's home making project, 237 North Pennsylvania street, will hold open house on Thursday, June 15, from nine until five, according to an announcement made today by Robert S. Richey, state NYA director.

Following a precedent established last year, young women employed on the project will demonstrate typical project activities throughout the day. Wearing smocks they made themselves, the young women will engage in the following activities: cutting by pattern, assembling garments, inspecting garments, hand finishing, machine stitching, pressing, individual designs for garment finishing.

In addition to the duties performed in fashioning garments for distribution to county and state institutions, project employees are given related training which is designed to fit them for private employment. They are given lessons in improving personal appearance, in developing personality, in improving speech and manners, and in the techniques of applying for a job. They also are taught household management proper methods of cleaning, and the preparation and serving of meals.

There are eighty girls employed on the project, of whom forty are colored. According to Mrs. Maybelle King, supervisor of the project, many civic leaders and persons thought to be interested in the activities of the project will be invited to visit it on Thursday. Any one interested is requested to attend.

Miss Mary King, 19, 430 North West street was found at 547 West North street. She had fallen unconscious. When the ambulance arrived she was conscious and was treated by the ambulance doctor and advised to come to the clinic.

Colorful Reception Marks Twenty-first Anniversary

MR. and MRS. VIRGIL CUNING

One of the most brilliant affairs this season, was the twenty-first wedding anniversary celebration of the Virgil Cuninghams in their newly redecorated and refurbished home, 538 West 10th street, Friday evening.

Guests entering graciously received by Miss Florine Thompson, who acted as hostess. Miss Thompson was gownned beautifully in a semi-formal cocktail creation of rose organza with a corsage of violets, and Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham, who was lovely in a gown of pink angel skin lace, fashioned on empire lines having a slight train, and wore a corsage of Dorothy Perkins' roses. Others in the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hanley; Mrs. Hanley, a sister of the bride, was regal in printed Rittenslar crepe, and wore American beauty roses; Mr. and Mrs. Baird Whiteside; Mrs. Whiteside, a niece, wore white chiffon, styled on Grecian lines, and wore a corsage of gardenias; Mrs. Irma Black, also a niece, wore an apple green chiffon, fashioned on bouffant lines and wore a corsage of yellow sweet heart roses.

The color scheme was carried out in pink and green; with pink roses, snapdragons and palms in profusion throughout the home extending to the porch.

Tommy Parker's orchestra furnished the music, playing such numbers as "Oh Promise Me," "I Love You Truly," and other bridal airs. The dining room was transformed into a miniature bar. The table appointments were, an ecru Irish lace cloth, with the wedding cake centering on either side of which were antique crystal holders with pink tapers. The menu further carried out the color scheme. Gifts were on display in the guest room. Greetings were received from Boston, New York City, Chicago, Dayton, Cincinnati, Nashville and Cleveland. Guests included: Messrs. and Mesdames, Edwin Harris, Henry McCall, Garnett Scaggs, Wilson Taylor, Joseph Courtney, Harvey Sears, Stanton Booker, George Watkins, Clarence Settles, Earnest Ryan, Virgil Jones and Clyde Wells Mesdames Elizabeth Reed, Jessie Fisher, Anna Barrett, Artie German, Laverna Stapleton, Mayme Young, Susie Owens, Bertha Crump; Messrs. Claybourne C. Shelby and James Ganaway.

Celebrate Birthday, Wedding Anniversaries

REV. W. W. WINES

Rev. Wines will celebrate his 70th birthday anniversary, Saturday, June 10, which also will mark his and Mrs. Wines' sixth wedding anniversary. April marked his thirty-first year as pastor of New Baptist church. Rev. Wines, has invested a life of service in the youth of both races. Born and reared in Richmond, Va., he graduated from the school of Theology, at Richmond Theological seminary. "Some men live in great structures, they erect and some live in great books they have written, but Rev. Wines will live in the minds of men and women." Taken from a brief sketch of his life written by his wife.

MRS. W. W. WINES

Girl Reserves Honor Mrs. Brooks

MRS. LUCY BROOKS

The Girl Reserve department of the Phyllis Wheatley branch of the Y.W.C.A. takes this opportunity, to render honor to Mrs. Lucy M. Brooks, who has served the Girl Reserves for ten years in the capacity of teacher, club sponsor, city-wide chairman, and representative on the Committee of management. Mrs. Brooks began her Girl Reserve work over ten years ago when she sponsored a Girl Reserve club from School 42. Her interest in girls, her belief in them, her willingness to share their every joy or sorrow, her untiring efforts in their behalf, her interest in their welfare, individually and collectively, and her desire to see them happy and seeking the finer love, respect, and admiration on things of life, has led to a great part of those thousands of girls who have come in contact with her. Thus Girl Reserve work and Mrs. Brooks have become so linked together that one can hardly think of Girl Reserves without thinking of Mrs. Lucy M. Brooks. In Girl Reserve work, as in any worthwhile enterprise, there is no excellence without labor and sacrifice, and most willingly has Mrs. Brooks, in her quiet, unassuming, her time, effort, and money that Junior Girl reserves of Phyllis Wheatley branch might have life more abundantly. So well did the National body see these qualities in Mrs. Brooks, that she was appointed to attend the National Leaders conference in Iowa this summer.

Society to Greet Jimmie Lunceford; Believes Jazz Becoming Tame

Jimmie Lunceford and his school of Jazzocracy will be presented by the Indianapolis Negro Press club, at the Hoosier Benefit prom and swing festival, Thursday evening, June 22, at 9:30 o'clock.

Jimmie was christened Jas. Melvin and was born in Fulton, Miss. He is the son of James and Ida Lunceford, both musically inclined. To his friends he is known as "Piggie", and insists that it be spelled with an "ie" instead of a "y". Mr. Lunceford holds a B.A. degree from Fisk university, with post-graduate work at the City college, New York, and was a four letter man in athletics at Fisk. He is a member of the Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity.

Football is his favorite sport and his most thrilling experience was losing his way in a Colorado blizzard and almost freezing to death. Jimmie does not smoke, and has no special aversions. His favorite author is Joseph Conrad; likes Fred Waring's and the Casa Loma orchestras. Lunceford speaks Spanish and eats chow mein at midnight; believes that jazz is becoming more tame, that American composers seldom offer real works of merit and that the public is swayed by "big name" attractions, rather than by an appreciation of music itself.

ALLEN CHAPEL "Father, where shall I work today?"

And my love flowed warm and free; Then He pointed me out a tiny spot.

And said, "Tend that for me." I answered quickly, "oh, no, not that!"

Why, no one would ever see. No matter how well my work was done.

Not that little place for me! And the word He spoke, it was not stern.

He answered me tenderly, "Ah, little one, search that heart of thine.

Art thou working for them or me? Nazareth was a little place, And so was Galilee."

"Finding my place of Christian Service" is the topic for Sunday, June 11. Thomas Taylor, leader. Come out and bring a friend. Chas. Wallace, reporter.

RED PEPPER Look dear readers and you shall read About love affairs that are strange indeed. About Cupid with his magic darts, Puncturing all the youngsters hearts.

The first you know I'm very sure, 'Tis none other than Cameron McCure. Who's now in love with a beautiful girl.

The best he says that is in the world. Evelyn and Doris are rivals again Over the affections of a gentleman. And now I'll start a lot of troubles When I mention all the doubles.

First I'll mention Remus Wright Who kindled a flame now its burning bright! And Lee Paskett a Beech Grove lad Has found a girl and now he's glad.

ReJane Mills our love-mad queen Is a one man woman now it seems Jeannette Davis is a jitterbug now Can she swing and how?

We wonder if absence makes the heart grow fonder And if it's really true What makes Ervenia Miller seem so sad?

And act so awful blue? I guess I'll close for today And come again next week. To write up all your news for you And gossip too I'll seek.

Install Mural by Hale Woodruff in Talladega College Library

ATLANTA, Ga., June 9. (Special)—A large mural painting by Hale Woodruff recently has been installed and dedicated in the new Savery Library at Talladega college. The mural was taken from the famous "Amistad" slave incident of 100 years ago. Authentic from the historical viewpoint, yet dramatically and boldly treated, the mural shows the mutiny of a group of slaves on the "Amistad", and the final granting of their freedom and return to Africa. This incident attracted international attention and later led to the formation of the Amistad Association, which founded Talladega college and other schools for Negroes throughout the South after the Civil War.

Mr. Woodruff, well-known modern painter, devoted nearly a year to the execution of this work which covers over 250 square feet of wall space and includes 75 figures, most of which are lifelike. Exhaustive research in the New Haven Historical Society and the Yale Library supplied the artist with the likenesses of the characters and settings for the mural. Every detail is authentic and historically accurate.

The commission to paint the mural was granted on the occasion of the celebration of the centenary of the Amistad incident at Talladega. It now adorns the entrance wall of the colleges library.

Hale Woodruff, who teaches drawing and painting in the Atlanta university system, has studied under the best instructors in this country, Europe, and Mexico. He has exhibited widely in the major museums and galleries throughout the United States. One of his paintings was selected to be exhibited at the World's Fair Contemporary Arts Exhibition in New York City.

WHEATLEY CEN. GIVES PARTY AT MUNCIE

MUNCIE, Ind., June 2. — The beautiful new assembly room of the Phyllis Wheatley branch, lent itself admirably to one of the most beautiful and dignified parties in its history. The Business and Industrial Girls club had their first spring formal Thursday night. The assembly room was decorated with spring flowers, tables were placed at angles around the room with vases of flowers.

The club colors are yellow and ochre. The orchestra was seated on a stage with curtains of Malberry English cloth.

During the evening special numbers were given by Ida Mae Lee, Bobby Wright, Betty Powell and Joselyn Levi.

Members of the club are: Misses Alice Gross, Vivian Goodall, Mary Bradshaw, Octavia Hardimon, Margaret Ellis, Frances Ford, Ellen Leavell, Mary E. Bell, Gladys Griffin, Irene Thompson, Viola Thompson, Dorothy Walton, Nellie White-side, and Merial Walker; Mesdames Herbert Goings, Fred Parnell, Wm. Fowlkes.

TEA HONORS MRS. S. B. LESTER FOR SERVICE

MUNCIE, Indiana—June 2nd.—At the conclusion of the Committee of Management, monthly meeting, a tea was held in the library of the Phyllis Wheatley, honoring Mrs. S. B. Lester, former member and chairman of Public affairs committee.

Mrs. Lester now a resident of Anderson, was presented a silver sandwich plate in appreciation of her work.

Guests were: Mesdames Ernest Haywood, W. Z. Thomas, Della Jones, J. A. Burden, McClenon Friedman, M. C. Ashby, John Holt, Clifford Whiteside, Miss Mary Blake, Mrs. Sol Thompson, Miss Irene Thompson and Mrs. Nettie Riffe.

COLORED MEN INVOLVED IN $5,000,000 PLOT ON BROWNING ESTATE.

NEW YORK, June 9. (ANP)—Clarence Brisby and H. S. Boulvin, both colored men, have been involved in the plot to seize control of the $5,000,000 estate of Edward W. (Daddy) Browning.

Brisby, butler for the late Daddy Browning, is missing and so are some dictaphone recordings, according to the district attorney's office. Brisby is scheduled for arrest as a material witness when found.

Boulvin, a member of a colored detective agency, was brought into the case when he was detailed to get Brisby's story of the signing of a codicil to the supposed will left by Browning. In securing the story, Boulvin is said to have used the now missing dictaphone records.

When Boulvin filed a claim for remuneration for his work, a request was sent out for the records. It was then it was learned they were missing.

skirted Marcelus Hammond, 29-year old "fire-enter" was about to extinguish a blazing torch in his opened mouth, flames from the torch ignited the flimsy costume and spread with such violence that Hammond was burned to death.

Rushed to a hospital, physicians said almost his entire body was seared by the flames, causing first and second degree burns. Hospital authorities were attempting to contact Hammond's mother, thought to live in San Antonio, Tex.

GARLAND ANDERSON, FAMED AUTHOR, DIES IN NEW YORK CITY

NEW YORK, June 9. (ANP)—Garland Anderson, former waiter who leaped to fame several years ago when he wrote "Appearances," a book based on his experiences in serving socialite members of the "400" aristocracy, passed away here last Thursday shortly after returning to America from England.

With the author at the time of his death was his attractive wife (white), famous in her own right as an English novelist, who rushed her ailing spouse to a hospital for emergency treatment, Anderson's ailment, was aggravated on the sailing because of acute male de mer, and he was reportedly bedded almost the entire voyage. A recent novel by Mrs. Anderson which evoked a wave of discussion was titled "Nigger Lover." Anderson also penned other stage and screen successes. At week-end funeral services had not been arranged.

SHOW AT LINCOLN FILM PREMIERE.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 9. (ANP)—Marian Anderson, who sang four numbers before a distinguished audience of Illinois citizens featured at the Memorial day world premiere of "Young Mr. Lincoln," new 20th Century Fox Film, was easily the star of the show despite the presence of a large group of Hollywood celebrities.

Miss Anderson appeared in ceremonies at the Fox-Lincoln theatre before the first public showing of the film and received a rousing reception both before and after her program. Lowell Thomas was master of ceremonies and other guests included Alice Brady, Arleen Whalen, Binnie Barnes, Oscar Romero and Eddie Collins.

Boulevard place. He was told to bring change for $10.00. When he arrived he was met by a man sitting on the front porch. He was about 30 years old, 5 ft. 10 inches, weighing approximately 135 pounds, wearing a white shirt and a white rag over the upper part of his face. The man told Ray that his mother was ill and that he would have to come around to the rear of the house. The man followed the boy to the rear and grabbed him by the throat. Ray broke away and ran, nothing was lost. A Miss Thompson lives at this address, but there are no men here.

"Be Loyal to Truth"

Morris Tells Scribner Grads at New Albany

NEW ALBANY, Ind., June 9. (By Kathryn Webb). — The fifty-third annual commencement of Scribner high school was held in the Junior High School Auditorium, Thursday night, June 1, with Dr. Charles S. Morris of Tennessee A. and I. State college, eloquently addressing the graduating class on the subject "Nobility Brings Obligations."

Dr. Morris spoke from two viewpoints on his subject, first: "Being what I am, there are certain things I must not do." He informed the graduates first that they could not afford to be frivolous, because they were living in a serious world today, and that they were entering, at this point, a world of difficulty and trouble. There is a difference he indicated, between living serious and sour. He mentioned that most men dedicated to a great cause had also the contagion of a smile, and that happiness was the evidence of hope and cheer. An organ he said, "is placed in every throat."

In this jitterbug-craze age, he encouraged students to be serious, not the seriousness of the Puritans who denounced music, cheerfulness, etc., but the seriousness which would enable them to go serve their fellowman, and help the world to become a fit place in which to live. In advice, he suggested "Take an unpopular cause and champion it."

Second: They could not afford to be haughty, because real superiority does not assert itself from house-tops but finds itself in simple service. "He who is great, must become servant of all."

"The educational objective," he said, "is not to look down with condescension but to reach down with hands of love to those less fortunate and bring them up to a higher level." A point worth while was, "Never to be ashamed of those who toiled to give you an opportunity."

Third: They could not afford to be prejudiced. As young people they should go forth with open minds and not try to make the world safe for democracy with hatred in their own hearts toward someone or some thing.

Fourth: They could not afford to be unjust. Many, he stated, felt that the world owed them a living. If that were true then necessarily he declared they should feel that they owed the world a life. "Some young people," he said, "go through school instead of allowing school to go through them. It is the purpose of school to form—not reform,—to bring out the best talents and qualities."

Fifth: They cannot afford to be ungrateful, because the taxpayers, and other citizens contribute to education.

The second part of Dr. Morris' address was here introduced: Being what I am there are certain things I must be:

First: Loyal to self: There are times, he warned when as young people, the graduate would be misunderstood by others, but they should learn to find tranquility within themselves and not give way to despair but be determined to make their contribution to their fellowmen.

Second: Be loyal to their fellowmen—without respect to race. Five thousand colored babies are born each morning and grow up to be American citizens. One of the most noteworthy of the highlights in the address was that these young men and women were encouraged to go forth into life thinking of themselves as American citizens demanding and expecting the same rights as they deserved and making contributions to the world as American citizens.

Third: Be loyal to truth—which is fixed inexorably and eternally. Small ideas build small towns. It is no disgrace to live in a small town but it is one to permit the town to remain small. Big ideas build metropolitan centers.

Dr. Morris urged the class to have high ideals. "Animals," he stated, "look down," but man should look up, for here he finds his true and noble self.

Fourth: Be loyal to the quest for knowledge. The world is a whispering gallery for those who have ears to hear. One can learn from everywhere and every one, from the ignorant as well as the intelligent, from babes, nature and men.

Class Roll: Goldie Augusta Love, president; Mildred Ann Mucker, vice president; Charlotte Louise

King, secretary; Constance Virginia Taylor, treasurer; Wills Greene Belle, Frances Camille Black, Elynor Louise Buchanan, Dorothy Mae Isaac, Hazel Kirk Langley, August Warren Maxey, LaVerne Evangelyn McPheeters, William Russell Mitchem.

Class Motto: "It Shall Be Done." Class Colors: Emerald Green and Golden Yellow.

Class Flower: Yellow Rose. Program:

Orchestra, "The Victor" (King); Invocation, Rev. H. A. King, Second Baptist church; choir and audience, "Lift Every Voice and Sing" (Johnson); Chorus, "And He Never Said a Mumbalin Word," (James); address, "Nobility Brings Obligations," Dr. Charles S. Morris, Tennessee A. and I State college, Nashville, Tenn.; chorus, "The Kerry Dance" (Molloy); presentation of diplomas, Charles B. McLinn, superintendent of schools; class song, Class of 1939; chorus "Annie Laurie" (Scotch-Johnstone); benediction, Rev. P. D. Taylor, Zion A. M. E. church; orchestra, "The Joy Riders," (King).

AROUND THE CORNER Of Cincinnati

by ERVIN DAVIS

Social News:—Two thousand five hundred people attended the second festival of Negro music in Eden park, Sunday June 4th. It was a beautiful affair. The chorus was made up of 300 mixed voices from fifty-three Cincinnati clubs, glee clubs, and choruses. They sang modern and traditional music. It is by the public recreation commission and was under the direction of Dr. Clarence C. White who was sent here by the National Recreation Association to train the chorus. It was broadcast thru WKRC over a nationwide hook-up. The first half of the program was devoted to works of modern composers; the latter half entirely to traditional spirituals. Clinton Gibbs was the accompanist.

Walter Combs, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Combs, No. 1 Washington Terrace, is the proud father of a son, born May 24.

Mr. and Mrs. Noroo Evans of 71 Washington Terrace are the proud parents of a son born several weeks ago.

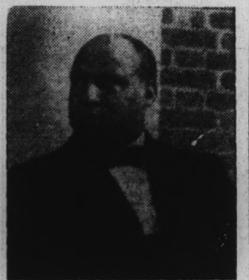

Mrs. Martha Delaney, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Schaefer and Mr. Ervin Davis, attended the Elks dance in Richmond, Ind. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert McNear are the proud parents of another daughter; they live in the Laurel Homes. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Rainey of the sterling hotel underwent an operation for appendicitis May 29. The son, known to all as "Baby J."

Mr. Armstrong, rather known as Louie, paid a visit to "Baby J" at the hospital while playing at the Greystone last week. The visit seemed to inspire "Baby J". Louie Armstrong also sent him a western union telegram before leaving town Sunday night. Let us all wish him a speedy recovery.

THOUGHT: A MOST CHALLENGING FRONTIER

Adventuresome young persons who regret the rapid dwindling of frontiers can rest assured that there remain one which will exist for many years, one which has all the thrill, romance, tragedy and challenge that pioneer days held for early Americans—that frontier is THOUGHT.

In the magic realm of thought there lies the answer to all our perplexing problems and many fields will flower and grow fruitful when cultivated and fertilized by mental effort. Answers to our economic ills, aid for our social problems and foundation for our general welfare can be found in our own heads.

Leaving the world much better because we have lived, making the burden a little easier for those who follow, can draw no greater nobler support from us than our thoughts allow us give. Smashing into the barriers which veil the secrets of the world from the indifferent, those who cultivate their powers of thought to the utmost not only are arming themselves as well as possible for the terrific struggle of modern existence, but they are making themselves eligible for contribution to society.

Since the speed of modern travel has reduced distance and shrunk the size of the world to a very compact and neighborly basis, our frontiers no longer present the great challenge of former days. Rather than employ the tools of yesterday in conquering a world turned different by new and powerful forces, we must increasingly devote our mental faculties to our problems of living harmoniously with our fellow citizens and our national neighbors. The resort to arms today is the foolish and impermanent remedy for settlement of our differences, for adjustment of our mutual problems, for realization of the high goal which is the destiny of humankind.

A PROGRESSIVE STEP

One of the most progressive steps ever taken by the local Booker T. Washington Trade association, of which Carlton W. Gaines is president, was the opening of their office headquarters Monday, May 22 in Room 209 of the Wargreen building, in this city.

The office is thoroughly equipped with Mrs. R. Louise Henderson, supervisor, and Miss Commer Parker as office manager. Negro business in Detroit has long felt the need for a central headquarters which would serve as a clearing house for receiving and releasing information, statistics, and other factual data essential to our business development, in much the same manner that the Detroit Chamber of Commerce serve the general business interests of our city.

We congratulate the Trade association and its officials upon this splendid innovation and feel confident that the business and professional men and women of our group will give the new office headquarters and management of the Association their loyal support.

ON TRACK AND FIELD

JOHN L. WOODRUFF

John L. Woodruff of the University of Pittsburgh accomplished the impossible—well, if not the impossible, surely the incredible. For three successive years he won both the 440- and 880-yard races at the Eastern Intercollegiate. Only once before in the history of these games has this remarkable feat been accomplished, and that was a long time ago, before John Woodruff was born, when it was the common belief that a Negro did not possess stamina, courage, and the will to win in the same degree as other racial groups.

Against the most severe competition which the college world can produce, Woodruff lived up to the promise of his early years—the years that saw him, a mere lad, fight off the desperate challenge of the world's great half-mileers to win the 880-yard Olympic championship at Berlin. Since then he has carried the colors of his alma mater to victory after victory until the athletic world has conceded beyond question that he is one of the great American runners of all time.

Modest in demeanor, quiet spoken, and of few words, Woodruff is our ideal of the college athlete which youth should emulate. "Opportunity" congratulates John L. Woodruff, peerless athlete and gentleman in all that this much abused word implies.

—Opportunity.

ONE RAINBOW ISN'T A STORM AND ONE NURSE ISN'T JUSTICE

To Editor: The Indianapolis Recorder Dear Sir:

Last week the Recorder carried an article to the effect that one person had been appointed as Nurse in the City hospital. Of course, we are glad of the start. But in a most peculiar manner the powers that control the appointments at the City hospital must have. They must realize as we do that the need is not for one colored nurse at the City hospital, but for twenty, and whom do they think they are fooling when they say that the reason why only one was appointed, that colored nurses who are qualified are hard to find?

Only last week, the Nurse Training School of the Meharry Medical College graduated twenty. Freedmen's Hospital in Washington graduated about thirty, and many other hospitals throughout the nation have girls who are being graduated as qualified nurses. All these are not only willing but anxious to receive appointments wherever the opportunity presents itself.

Let us not be deceived; the entrenched prejudiced control at the City hospital dies hard; and unless we continue to hammer away it will revive and instead of the whole loaf, to which we are entitled, we

TEN THOUSAND relatives and friends crowded spacious Cadie Tabernacle June 2 to see 225 graduates of Crispus Attucks high school receive their diplomas, and other awards, and as President John W. Davis of West Virginia state college truly said, in no other country in the world could such a number of Negroes be assembled for such an occasion.

OTHER THAN the graduates themselves the most inspiring number on the program was the school's chorus, choir and orchestra under the direction of Mr. Merrifield. Remarkable indeed how well this group had been trained and how well they rendered their numbers. Mark an A for Norman L. Merrifield. This does not mean we have no flowers for Principal Lane and the entire faculty, who as Mr. Davis also said, made the most of many child problems that should have been solved at home.

MR. DAVIS in saying that Marian Anderson's success in overcoming undemocratic obstacles and singing to the largest audience ever to greet a singer, contributed to the preservation of democracy, added that we ought to thank God that such a woman as Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt lives. Mr. Davis sighted other contributors to the life of democracy, and asked that the poor whites, poor blacks, rich whites and blacks work together in this era in which world events have made our future so uncertain; the distinguished president, like many other speakers, advised the graduates and his hearers to spend more with their own business and professional men, not all, but more, this is sound advice, and it is talking root among the younger group. My son ran the chance of being late for the exercise trying to patronize Negro taxicabs. Mr. Harris is proud to tell what youngsters have done for him in his business.

WE MUST spend more with ourselves especially in those businesses where whites do not employ any of our group.

The speaker's example was plain. We spend 68 million dollars annually with insurance companies that do not employ one single Negro. 11 million with Negro companies that employ over 7 thousand Negroes.

YES WE must spend more with ourselves, but we must also make it more attractive for us to spend money with ourselves. We must show to our trade that we appreciate it, by courteous service, by putting some of our profits in new decorations and furnishing our places, by seeing service and articles sold are of standard or better quality, and by leaving outside our places of business any degree of highbrowness rue, by plentiful patronage, many have obtained.

DEWITT S. MORGAN, superintendent of Indianapolis Schools, in awarding the graduates' diplomas said: despite all the flurry and changing conditions, there are those that never change, that it has and always will be, that if one wanted to make good he must be honest, dependable and capable. With this, there is no disagreement. He also advised the graduates always to pay their debts; the writer adds both private and public debts or monetary, better still don't make any debts.

MONKEY BUSINESS, if there be some one, some event or some spot you wish to honor that may be a good reason. The other night a group made a trip by street car to a section of the city unfamiliar to them, they sat close to the motorman in order to be able to hear him call the street of their destination. The motorman was so long in calling the street they wanted, one of the party asked him, he informed them that the street they wanted was four blocks back. "We didn't hear you call 'Dog Street'" they exclaimed. "No," replied the motorman, "but I called 'Cat Street,' because that is the name of this end of 'Dog Street.'" To have been informative as well as correct the motorman at that one corner would have had to say, "Cat Street here and running west, Dog Street here and running east."

Remaining parts of streets for no logical reasons is just plain Monkey Business.

BOOKS

ATTUCKS--DUNBAR

Within the past two years there has been an influx of non-fiction books which are very interesting and enlightening. A great number of our patrons read only fiction because they have the antiquated notion that non-fiction books are long, uninteresting, and difficult to read. The more recent non-fiction writer presents a style of writing that is just as interesting as does the writer of fiction. Perhaps we should pause and define some terms. Fiction is a feigned or invented story of the imagination, while non-fiction is a true story or the realistic presentation of some incident, article, place, or person.

So if you have not been interested in non-fiction we suggest that you become acquainted with some of the most recent additions to the library collection. We recommend most highly the following books:

Children of the New Day — By Katherine Glover. A useful book that will help modern parents approach the problems of child guidance today in a more intelligent and effective manner. It gives the American child's life, the growth and development of the child, the influences of the home and community, the new trends of education and the problems of the handicapped child. One may conclude that the book will prove rich in information and value.

TO KEEP YOU OUT OF TROUBLE THE CRIMINAL ACT as a rule is what the common law punishes... overt acts, and not intentions or beliefs, however wicked they may be; but, however, there are exceptions to this rule that the law punishes only positive acts.

The Story of the Bible — By Walter Bowie. A thoroughly readable book about the story of the Bible retold from Genesis to Revelation in the light of present knowledge for both the young and the mature. The Old Testament and the New Testament are both written in an interesting style and both subjects are completely exhausted by the author.

The Story of the Gems — By Herbert P. Whitlock. An authoritative book on precious, semi-precious, and ornamental stones. The author relates where they are located, how they are identified, and the methods by which they are cut. A description is given of the ancient and modern uses of gems, their rarity, their color variations, and many curious facts about them.

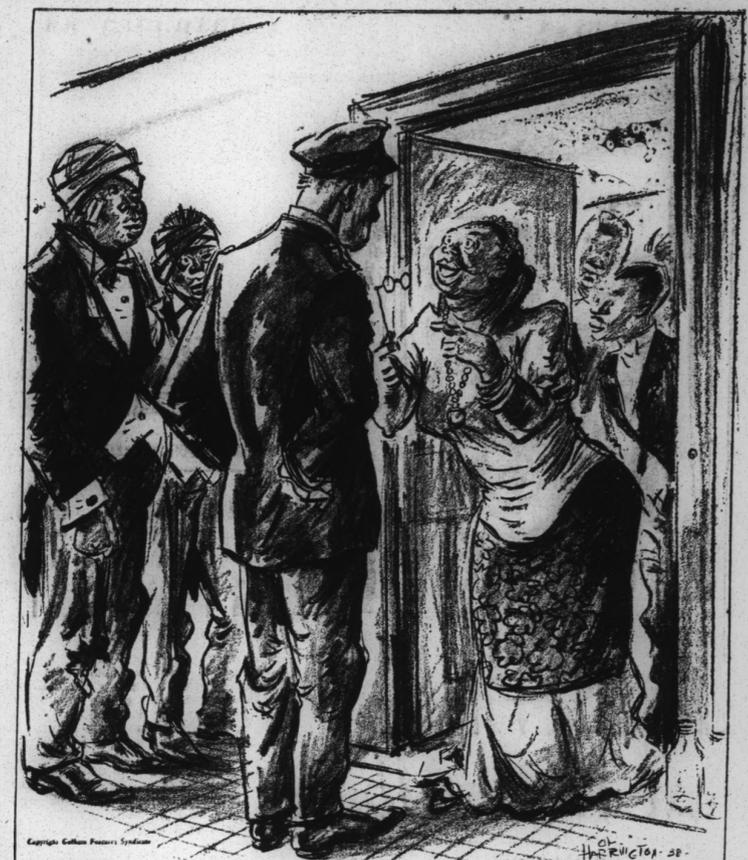

In the Shadow of Liberty — By Cora. A story of Ellis Island with its twenty-five million migratory souls to America in search of liberty and opportunity. A unique and absorbing story of all different types of people, strangers from wondrous lands, world famous people, anarchists, smugglers, stowaways, and criminals, all waiting to be admitted into the United States. The author presents in a fascinating style the national policy of naturalization and citizenship for these people.

Something of Myself — By Rudyard Kipling. Rudyard Kipling at the age of seventy years wrote his autobiography, but made no announcement of it until his death. He tells of his boyhood days in London, of a young man in India, beginning to set down the results of that observation; of the life that followed when he became famous as an author. His autobiography is acclaimed as truly a great piece of literature. Visit your Branch Library today.

CORRECTING ACID STOMACH The only way to find out whether stomach acidity is hyperchlorhydria, that is, excessive secretion of the normal acid of the gastric juice, or fermentative acidity, that is, production of lactic and butyric acids in the undigested or partly digested starches and sugars which undergo fermentation when food remains too long in the stomach, as it does when the normal hydrochloric acid secretion is deficient, is by a chemical test of the gastric juice or contents taken with stomach tube an hour after a simple test meal. If the acidity is hyperchlorhydria, whatever it may indicate, these rules should be obeyed by the sufferer: 1. Avoid all acids such as vinegar, pickles, sour foods. 2. Avoid all raw fruit except banana—more about banana presently. 3. Take no soups or meat extractives such as gravies, consommé or bouillon. 4. For you all spices or condiments are bad medicine—this includes too much salt in or on food, pepper, mustard, hot sauces, catsup. 5. No sweets, no honey, no lasses, no candy, and reduce your sugar allowance to one-half the amount you have been taking—in or on any food or drink. 6. No corn, no nuts, no entire grains, no bran. 7. No alcohol in any form. 8. No tobacco. Never eat hurriedly, but take time to chew your food well and do not wash down morsels with drink. In the healthy individual an important part of digestion of all carbohydrate food (sugars and starches) goes on in the mouth, the action of the enzyme ptyalin in the saliva. This continues after the food is swallowed. If the food is gulped down without mastication, the stomach and the pancreas have an additional functional burden to carry. If the stomach is low in acid the undigested starches and sugars undergo fermentation with the formation of gas. Persons with hyperacidity should regularly take five or six small meals daily, not three large meals. Calcium Carbonate Good Antacid Preferable to sodium bicarbonate (soda, saleratus) or magnesia (milk of magnesia) to neutralize excessive acidity in the stomach and relieve such symptoms as heartburn, water-brash or "gas," is prepared chalk, otherwise known as calcium carbonate. It may be obtained in five grain or ten-grain tablets. Ten grains, best taken crushed to powder, will relieve acidity for hours. Take ten grains three or four times a day or whenever acidity causes distress. Soda reacts with acid in the stomach to produce considerable carbon dioxide, a gas. The by-product of this reaction is rather purgative. Magnesia is still more so. Chalk is not purgative—it is commonly used as a mild remedy against diarrhea associated with acidity. Moreover calcium carbonate disturbs the acid-base balance of the blood and tissues less than soda or magnesia does. Questions And Answers Sodium Citrate Is Right When I sent to the drug store for one ounce of citrate of soda, to make up the Fobol Proof Cough Medicine, they sent me sodium citrate. I suppose it is the same thing, but I want to be sure. (Mrs. T. P.) Answer—Yes, sodium citrate is the right name for citrate of soda, just as sodium bicarbonate is the right name for bi-carbonate of soda. Sodium citrate was formerly used in the modification of milk for infants, so it is a pretty safe medicine. Injection Treatment Following a suggestion in one of your good articles I had the injection treatment for piles. Allow me to report that this is a wonderful method—it was practically painless, and I have had no further trouble in that way. (W. B. H.) Answer—Fully 95 per cent of all cases of piles are now treated by the ambulant injection method. Only a few old timers still operate. Be Good, I'll be here again next week.

PICKENS SAYS:

"ALIEN AND SEDITION LAWS" (By William Pickens for ANP) The National Emergency conference, 156 Fifth avenue, New York City, has sent out a summary of bills pending in the present congress to lesson the liberty of foreigners and unaturalized inhabitants of the United States, and as the Emergency conference said: "Bills Which Endanger American Liberties." We are all in the same boat here, and we cannot endanger a single one, without endangering all. Believe it or not, but the liberty and humanity of the Negro, the foreigner, the Jew, the high and the low, the rich and the poor—the liberty of all is bound up inseparably together here. There are two things very interesting to me, about these 35 bills: First, their nature: to limit the alien's rights to speak, to move about, to do business, to engage in certain professions; some would prohibit any more immigration—for five years, for ten years; some would prevent the alien from disagreeing with THEM in politics. What a set of bills for the land of the free! They remind me of the old "alien and sedition laws," which we read about with aversion in our early American history. Another thing that interests me is the proportion of these suppression of human liberties for the first 250 years of its history, and for most of the time since. If we ever get fascism in these states, it will come chiefly from the South. Listen: there are 35 of these bills, some differing slightly,—but 25 out of 35 come from the South. That is, the South puts forward two and a half times as many anti-alien bills as does all the rest of the country. And there are relatively few aliens in the South,—and the South is only about one fourth of the total country, and much less than a fourth of its actual population and its economic importance. Let us say: one fourth of the country is two and a half times as fascist as the other three fourths,—which means in further comparison that the average of the South is ten times as fascist as the average of the rest of the nation. It is even worse than that: for Starves, off Alabama, introduces not only the bill which we have counted in this competition, but also five other bills which we have not counted, because they are all from the same man and mean the same thing; and Reynolds, of North Carolina, introduces one other, in addition to the one counted in that awful proportion. So that there are really six additional bills, from the South,—making 31 in all from that section, against 10 from the rest of the country. That is, one fourth of the country, three fourths of the suppress-

THE UTOPIA (By William Henry Huff) When we heed the truth unfurled That all mankind are brothers None will try to scale the world Upon the bones of others; Strife will die and war will cease And there will be no trouble, Man will have eternal peace And happiness will double.

NEW YORK VERSUS BOSTON New York is so full of cops, Corners, green light, red for stop Buses, taxis, trolley cars Pushcarts, subways, movie stars.

And its everlasting chain Of people going home again Boston, on the other hand, Takes a very different stand.

How the people ever know Where they are or where they go, Queer, assorted odds and ends Are called streets by Boston friends.

May be charming and unique But I think I shall seek New York's system plan Of streets that know where they began. —WILLIS STIGGER.

SHOW GIRL'S PRAYER

Now I lay me down to sleep And pray that columnists will keep My name in headlines quite steep.

Laugh, Oh colored man, laugh Laugh at those who think God differs Over the merits of His children.

Laugh, Oh colored man, laugh At those who would exclude you From God's beautiful world.

Laugh, Oh colored man, laugh At those who vainly think God does not conceive all men alike.

Fifteen actors stood on the burning deck Rehearsing for a part in "The Wreck."

One, tired and worn and sad, said "Oh heck!" Fourteen actors left their place Rather than act with one so awful base. —E. P.

MY SECRET

(Roberta Virginia McPherson) I've tried to keep my love hidden, dear But it seems all in vain; No one could ever understand the heartaches. The tears I've shed, and the pain, 'Tis torture to watch you daily Knowing you belong to someone else; Wishing with every fiber of my being— Wishing I could have you for myself.

I've suffered, I've dreamed and cried dear, Trying to hide my love from you; 'Twould be unwise to let it be known, dear, No, 'twould never do, It would hurt your vanity, injure your pride, To know that poor little me Would dare be so bold to dream, dear, Of love that was never meant to be.

But I have to tell it to someone For its tearing my soul apart; It tortures me daily, haunts me at night; Putting aches in this poor sad heart.

So I told it to the moon, always knowing That he'll understand the pain. Its soft rays have tried to comfort me, Over and over again, Although you know nothing about it, Try to pretend you do, While I go on dreaming forever; Admiring, worshipping, yes, loving you.

REV. FRANK CLARENCE LOWRY (874 Union Station, Chicago, Illinois) Pastor, Calvin Township Community Chapel, Cassopolis, Mich. 1. If nice talk could get people to heaven, Hell would forever be empty. 2. More smiles would make miles so much shorter. 3. Don't desert your church and mankind and then expect hand-outs of dessert along the way. 4. As strange as it may seem, justice has arms just like yours and can strike harder than you ever hit. 5. You can at least keep up and be as steady as a cow who is pretty regular with her milk even though she does give whey. 6. You may not be listed in America's "Who's Who" but you can be known as among God's chosen few. 7. We don't all see alike because we don't all look alike. But we can agree—see? 8. Would you give a dime for a man who seldom uses good sense? 9. Pencils will write lies, but your hand has to direct the lead, and the heart give the start. 10. Don't be silly; you can't fool away God's time and expect Hell to be chilly. 11. Stand right where you are, there is gold under your feet, if you are not too quick to faint and see only defeat. 12. Sit-down Strikes are nothing new. Unconverted men since Adam have sat down on God and enjoyed His property at Heaven's expense. 13. Submarine "Squalus" was perfect, but someone forgot. Will you forget and sink your soul? ST. MARKS—1803 Shelby st.—Elder T. R. Murrif, S. Warner Baxter in "Frisco Kid" at Walker; "Stagecoach" Is Featured Pix at Park Tues.

O. Henry's Outlaw Loves, Fights Again

Amigos! Senoritas! The gayest, most gallant gun-fighter of them all is back!

Warner Baxter again dons the sombrero and silver-mounted guns of his most famous character in the 20th Century-Fox production, "The Return of the Cisco Kid."

O. Henry's lovable outlaw, who inspired the greatest legends of the colorful West, meets his most thrilling adventures—and his most beautiful señoritas—as he rides back over the border in his most exciting and most romantic film.

But while a hundred posess hunt the bullet-proof bandit whom no jail can hold, and a thousand señoritas sigh for him, Cisco yearns for the one girl he can't have.

Dashing Cesar Romero presents a picture that is a far cry from his usual suave characterizations, as Lopez, the Cisco Kid's faithful but bloodthirsty whensman, will be Henry Hull, who lately scored as the irascible newspaper editor in "Jesse James."

And on the same bill the Walker presents a screwy comedy, murder-mystery "There's That Woman Again" in which Mr. and Mrs. Bill Reardon, the slap-happy sleuths of "There's Always a Woman," continue their madcap adventures.

Coming to Walker Sunday

"Only one army to catch the Cisco Kid? Amigos, it is to laugh!" He's back, the gayest, most gallant gun-fighter of them all — WARNER BAXTER as O.

The comedy sequel introduces a new "Mrs. Reardon" in the lovely Virginia Bruce with Douglas appearing again as the wife-troubled super-detective.

John Wayne Stars In Western Drama

With Claire Trevor and John Wayne playing the top roles, Walter Wanger's new frontier drama "Stagecoach," which will have its premiere showing at the Park theatre on Tuesday unfolds a gripping story of pioneer courage—of the brilliant heritage that has descended to young Americans from men who fought and hewed a nation out of a wilderness.

Louise Platt, George Bancroft, John Carradine, Andy Devine, Thomas Mitchell, Tim Holt, Donald Meek, and Berton Churchill, featured in support of the stars, portray the strange group of passengers thrown together with the coach as it proceeds from Tonto, Arizona, to Lordsburg, New Mexico.

While the pounding hoofs carry them closer and closer to shleking war cries and blood-hungry tomahawks, these incongruous individuals are absorbed with the purposes and hates that have propelled them into the hazardous journey.

Jimmie's trumpet section is his pride, and your joy. It can blast brassily, do a wa-wa sob, or stab the stratosphere with needle-sharp high notes that you'd swear came from a clarinet.

TO REPLACE HIM When Rex Ingram left "Sing Out the News," his stage play in New York, to play Jim, the runaway slave, with Mickey Rooney in "The Adventures of HUCKLEBERRY FINN," it took two men to replace him.

The Negro actor, who played "De Lawd" in "Green Pastures," was anxious to appear in Mark Twain's sequel to "Tom Sawyer." He arranged to have an understudy play his part. But he both sang and appeared as a dramatic actor and another who could do both could not be located.

The Law and Order League of Tonto, Arizona, does not approve of Claire Trevor and asks her to leave town in a tense scene from Walter Wanger's "Stagecoach," which starts a run at the Park Theatre on Tuesday thru United Artists release.

NEW YORK, June 1.—The National Swing Club of America will sponsor its first annual jam-session and dance this week at the New York Hippodrome, featuring a band composed of orchestra leaders noted for their outstanding ability in the whirl of swing, plus their mastery of one or more instruments.

For the occasion, Duke Ellington has been selected along with Paul Whiteman to lead what Whiteman considered in a magazine article several months ago, an All-American aggregation. Casting the big name leaders who are also outstanding instrumentalists, as the men in the band, the outfit is expected to be, if not the best ever heard, the most unique. Among the best known All-American men to take part in the session are Chick Webb, Count Basie, Jimmie and Tommy Dorsey, Benny Carter, Harry James, Woody Herman, and several others. Capturing the highest honor of the entire affair, Ella Fitzgerald has been selected to act as vocalist for the orchestra, advancing her, and rightfully so, as the top singer of popular songs in the country today.

Most of the leaders mentioned are to take part in the session without their bands and each of them will receive a trophy for their part in the advancement of popular music, now being called swing. Jimmie Lunceford has been selected as the leader who has added the most originality or is the most creative composer, an honor which is to be shared by his entire band.

Others scheduled to appear include Louis Armstrong, Chu Berry, Cab Calloway, Jack Teagarden, Roy Eldridge, Teddy Wilson, Jo'n Kirby, Cossy Co's, Charlie Barnett and others.

BILL ROBINSON CELEBRATES HIS 61st BIRTHDAY

NEW YORK, June 1.—(ANP)—Bill Robinson, accredited "Mayor of Harlem" and the world's most noted tap dancer, celebrated his 61st birthday last week with a full calendar of festivities which ended early in the morning at his Mingo club.

He started the day out right by tap dancing 20 blocks from Central Park West and 61st street to the Broadhurst theatre on West 44th street, where he is appearing in the Hot Mikado, making the journey in 30 minutes. He was accompanied by a police escort.

Other celebrations besides the one at the Cotton club where he appeared in a revue, took place during the night. He appeared also in his annual benefit showing at the Lighthouse Association for the Blind then sped back to the Broadhurst theatre where a party was held until 3 a. m. He wound up early bright at the Mingo club, where his many Harlem friends had gathered to help him celebrate.

On the Air

(By Saliye Bell for ANP)

Quite a bit of "old business" stares me in the face today, so I'll try to make short work of introductions, etc. I didn't get to hear Marian Anderson on Memorial Day, but I read several accounts of the program, and of course all were most complimentary to Miss Anderson. How else could they be?

If you listen to the "Deep River Boys," you'll be interested in this little cut note: the boys' names are Charles Ford, accompanist and arranger; Vernon Gardner, Harry Douglas, George Lawson, and Edward Ware. Their determination to finance their tuition at Hampton Institute with occasional vaudeville appearances wound them up as Columbia Broadcasting system favorites. After their first few variety efforts, they were signed by CBS over whose network for the past 18 months they have been heard regularly. Needless to say, they never got back to school. Tsch! Tsch!

A resume' and evaluation of the third all-Southern Negro Youth congress, held in Birmingham, Ala., was given over Station WRDZ, Richmond, Va., last Thursday and students of Virginia Union university who represented their school at the three-day Birmingham conference which featured discussions, outstanding speakers and other major activities.

I'm coming to the end of this much sooner than I expected. I see now that the other "unfinished business" I referred to include a complete copy of Jesse O. Thomas' speech on the Urban League's "Negro News and Views" program a few Sunday's ago, and also the complete text of a speech by the Rt. Rev. William J. Walls when he was guest speaker over Chicago's Station WGN last week. So much for old business, and now for the new.

Are there any Orson Welles fans in your class? If not, I absolutely give up hope for all of you. In my opinion Mr. Welles has the best educational program on the air, from the standpoint of being both absorbingly interesting and informative. It's called the "Campbell Playhouse," sponsored by the makers of Campbell soups, and is heard Fridays at 8 p. m. E. D. S. T. Once a month he dramatizes the best book of the month, and other Fridays he does interesting plays and books of all ages and styles. Last Friday, he did an original skit titled "Cavalcade of America," which gave a very interesting account of the Negroes of America. I've written to the Columbia Broadcasting System for a copy of the script, which concerns the Negro constituents, and I'll probably have it by the time I next write for you. Meanwhile, be sure to tune in on the "Campbell Playhouse" next Friday.

IN RE TH SWING CATS: The 20th Century Gabriel of swing, Erskine Hawkins and his orchestra, played the Sunset Terrace in Indianapolis last Tuesday, and will be heard at the Cleveland hotel on June 17, another dance in Cleveland on the 18th, Paducah, Ky., June 20, and Evansville, Ind., June 21. Don Redman and his orchestra played two dates at the Hi Ho Casino, Brooklyn last Friday and Saturday. . . . Everyone in Chicago is looking forward to hearing Duke Ellington when he comes here for an engagement at the Grand Terrace, from which Father Hines is now giving forth and holding sway. Count Basie, who is heard almost every nite except Monday on the same network and just before Earl Hines, is also doing his bit to make the jitterbug glittery. That's all for now, folks, but I'll be with you next week, same time same paper (I hope). Meanwhile, don't put off another day sending in your contribution to appear in this column. Do it today? How about it?

Coroner's Jury Absolves 2 Brothers When Sheriff 'Forgets'

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., June 9.—Despite the fact that in testifying before a coroner's jury here April 29, he positively identified two white brothers as the men who lynched Lee Snell, forty-three-year-old taxi driver, near the local airport, Constable James Durden recanted his previous testimony which enabled the men to be set free by a coroner's jury May 27.

The men, Everett and Earl Blackwelder were charged with lynching Snell, after the latter had run down his younger brother with his car on the main street of Daytona Beach. The boy died shortly thereafter.

At a coroner's hearing April 29, Constable Durden termed the actions of the Blackwelder brothers "cold blooded murder." He further said: "I know these Blackwelder boys as well as I know anyone."

According to Durden's story at the earlier hearing, which was continued in order to allow 'sentimento cool," he was on his way to the county jail at Deland, Fla., with his taxi driver prisoner, when his car was halted by a barricade across the highway. The Blackwelder brothers ran to the side of the machine and Everett struck at Snell with a shotgun. Durden said he dragged his prisoner with him, got out of the car in an effort to calm the two white men. "When we got out the Negro broke away and ran," he said. "Earl shot at him with a rifle and missed. Then Everett shot him in the leg with the shotgun and Snell fell. Earl went over to the wounded taxi driver," he added, and "fired two or three times into his back."

It was at the second hearing in the case that Constable Durden recanted his former testimony and told the twelve-man jury that he was now unable to identify the Blackwelder brothers positively. They were set free.

While there is only one theatre in Harlem where the "Cream of the Crop" with regards to Negro performers can be seen in their full glory (Apollo); the hamlet is overrun with eating places, and after theatre night clubs.

All of this brings us down to mention an "eatery" that stands out like a sore thumb and should be on the "must visit list" of out of towners during the next two years of World's Fair fanfare. So, here we go with our first spiel on suitable places we've contacted for visitors and friends on such a mission:—

Louise Beavers and Reginald Fenderson were booked to open at the Apollo in New York last Thursday in conjunction with their latest vehicle "Reform School," starring Louise and placing Regie in his biggest role.

Bud Harris who has just finished a big week at the head of his ever popular vaudeville troupe at the Orpheum theatre is to have an audition with Million Dollar for a future engagement. He had a featured role in "Moon Over Harlem," according to word from the Metropolis. It was made in entirety in New York and vicinity. George Randol finished his first picture of the new Randol company last Thursday in five days from starting time. It is called "Midnight Shadows," starring Frances Redd with Eddie Brandon opposite, John Criner interpreted a featured role, as did a number of other well known players.

Following "One Dark Night" comes a new drama tentively called "White Silent Walls," starring Ralph Cooper in the finest, most sympathetic role he has ever played. Preparing also are several in which the "Harlem Tuff Kids" will be featured, they having sprung into fame over night when "Reform School" was premiered. Singin' Sam-Will Feature Classics

Three American classics will be heard this week when "Refreshment Time with Singin' Sam" goes on the air. Sam will sing "Juanita" on Monday, "The Bells of St. Mary's" on Thursday, and will conclude his program on Friday with the well beloved "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia." The complete list of new and old favorites he has selected for his program this week are:

Monday, June 12.—"Georgia Rockin' Chair," "All's Well," "Take Me Out to the Ball Game," and "Juanita."

Tuesday, June 13.—"Circus Day in Dixie," "I've Got the Prairie in My Heart," "If the Man in the Moon Were a Cooon," and "Some Day."

Wednesday, June 14.—"I Don't Know Your Name, But You're Beautiful," "I Get Along Without You Very Well," "Rainbow," and "I Love a Little Cottage."

Thursday, June 15.—"One Little Raindrop," "Down Linger Longer Lane," "Smarty," and "The Bells of St. Mary's."

Friday, June 16.—"How You Gonna Keep 'Em Down on the Farm?," "The Funny Old Hills," "Honey Moon," and "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia."

The Coca-Cola Bottling Company sponsors "Refreshment Time with Singin' Sam," heard daily, Mondays through Fridays, over Station WIRE at 11:00 A. M. o'clock.

HOLLYWOOD, June 8. — With the head of the Ol'Kolyum decorated with a tintype likeness of "Yours Truly," we are set to go places immediately if not sooner. So just as I warned you, don't miss an issue of this saga of smiles and tears, achieved ambitions and broken dreams, for there will be a lot going on in Cinema City during the next six months. Besides there will be a lot of folks who know traveling through here to and from the World's fair at "Frisco, and as they "can't escape from me," I'll be telling you all about them, what they are doing, and how is their "conduct. I took so many visitors on tours through the studios last September during the American Legion convention, that I began to think the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce should pay me a pension or at least a bonus for advertising its greatest attraction. To come to Los Angeles without seeing Hollywood, would be positively tragic, in the minds of all tourists.

A sudden boom has struck in pictures that have need for colored players and starting with last Monday there were calls to Charles Butler of Central Casting bureau for sepians for a half dozen studio. Forty-five were selected on interview at MGM, for a new film tentatively titled "Blackmail." An equal number for "Gone With the Wind" at Selznick-International; 17 at Columbia as gallery spectators in a congress sequence; and smaller groups at a number of other major and independent studios.

At Million Dollar studio, unit supervisor Arthur Brooks returned from the desert out beyond Yuma, Arizona, where he has been selecting "location" spots during the past 10 days for "The Dark Night." This is to be a comedy drama with Hattie McDaniels expected to star with Mantan Moreland opposite, and a number of new contract players besides a few old favorites. It will be the general Hattie's first picture for Million Dollar, and in fact the first all-colored cast picture she has ever made, so it is sure to double her following of colored fans. It is a proven fact that a colored stars draws much more adoration in outstanding parts in pictures of the type Million Dollar has been producing than in the usually subversive characters they of a necessity have to accept in major pictures. Louise Beavers' popularity is twice as great as it was following "Imitation of Life," "Rainbow on the River," and others of that order.

Following "One Dark Night" comes a new drama tentively called "White Silent Walls," starring Ralph Cooper in the finest, most sympathetic role he has ever played. Preparing also are several in which the "Harlem Tuff Kids" will be featured, they having sprung into fame over night when "Reform School" was premiered. Homestead Grays, Kingan Reliables to Play Fast Clubs Under Lights at Stadium

GRAYS, WORLD CHAMPIONS, WILL PLAY ELITE GIANTS

The Homestead Grays and the Baltimore Elite Giants will clash under the lights at Perry stadium Monday night at 8 pm.

The Grays, reputed to be one of the fastest teams in the East, have in the past made an impressive record in the National League and ball fans here await announcement of coming tilts.

Galento Clowns as Training Starts For Louis Fight

ASBURY PARK, N. J. — Tony Galento finally got around to begin his alleged training routine here Saturday in a ring just fifty paces from the old training camp of the former world's heavyweight champion, Max Baer, and 200 curious fans braved an Atlantic fog to watch the Orange pugilist launch preparations for his June 28 title fight with Joe Louis.

Official announcements were made this week from the offices of the Twentieth Century Sporting club (Mike Jacobs), that the fight will be held in the Yankee Stadium in New York City on the night of June 28th. This announcement was not at all surprising in that every one figured Jacobs will attempt to catch the World Fair crowd despite the fact that he had more lucrative offers from Philadelphia and Jersey City for the fight.

LEAGUE BALL

There were no takers, however, and the two-ton barkeeper who has predicted he will knock out Louis had to be satisfied with trading punches with Tom Schenck, 212-pound Passaic seaman, and 190-pound Phil Johnson, Bayonne Negro.

The managers of the Industrial League's Baseball Teams met last Monday night at the Senate Avenue where a discussion was held regarding league regulations, and eligibility of players. The matter of additional team members was discussed, along with that of changing the time for playing. The next meeting will be held this Friday night from 7 to 8 pm, at the Senate Avenue Y.M.C.A.

PITT ACE IS "GREATEST RUNNER"

PITTSBURGH, June 8th. — Although he holds no official world's record, John Youie Woodruff, long-legged Negro at Pitt, is undoubtedly "the greatest runner that ever lived," in the opinion of his coach Carl Olson.

wearing the colors of Manhattan college. That was the only time Bork beat Woodruff, who said: "Howie gave me some of my stiffest competition."

Under the direction of Joseph Lerew, high school coach, Woodruff ran the mile in 4 minutes, 26 seconds to establish a record in the highly-competitive Western Pennsylvania Interscholastic league. He also starred in the half-mile events in his sophomore days.

The following year, matriculated at Pitt where he ran first on the cross-country team and then switched at the suggestion of his present coach, Olson, to the frosh track squad.

Traveling to Berlin, the 20-year-old collegian electrified the athletic world by copping the 880 meters — the first time this event had been won by an American in almost a quarter-century.

In his sophomore year at Pitt, Long John really reached the crest of his career. During this year he set an intercollegiate record in the 880 meters, and broke Pitt's records in the quarter, half-mile and mile events. Today he still is the holder of Pitt records in three events.

In his final year at high school, the unorthodox striding sepiast ran in the Junior AAT meet. In the 880 meters he finished behind Howie Bork, then to have track officials declare the whole thing null and void because the track was allegedly five yards short.

It was this same year Woodruff traveled to Dallas, and spun the 880 in the incredible time of 1:47.8 only

ANDERSON TO HAVE BASEBALL PROGRAM W. P. A.

ANDERSON, Ind., June 9. (Sp.) Under W.P.A. Recreational leadership, the Negro Welfare Association is undertaking the most extensive baseball program in its history this summer when seven teams of boys under eighteen years of age will be organized into scheduled play.

Eugene Frank Brown will be leader of the following boys: Roosevelt Lynch, Raymond Wilson, Theodore Wright, Harvey Brown, Albert Hillyard, Freddie Weatherly and Russell Davis.

'LEARN TO SWIM' WEEK EXTENDED

The Learn To Swim—Swim Better Campaign which started May 29, has been extended till June 17, due to the overwhelming demand of youngsters who throng the department each day to get free swimming instructions in addition to hints on the prevention of water casualties and accidents.

The classes will begin at 9 a.m., beginning Monday, June 12, and will last each day till 12:30. The Boys Department will open each day at 8:30 a.m., and remain open till 1 p.m.

Swimming classes, after June 17, will be conducted as a part of the Summer Vacation school, which opens Monday, June 19. Boys may enroll now.

MEAT-PACKERS TO BE PUSHED TO COP AFFAIR OVER EASTERNERS

Kingan's Reliables will meet the Bacharach Giants at Perry Stadium Tuesday night, June 13th. The visitors now in their 26th season of consecutive competition since first organizing under Mayor Bacharach of Atlantic City, New Jersey, are once again prepared for a successful campaign to justify their rank as one of the outstanding attractions in Negro baseball.

Despite offers for three seasons for a Western trip, the Bacharach Giants management did not consider such adventure until this season. On June 20th the Meat-packers will meet the Cuban All-Stars in a twilight affair and on the 29th of June the Brooklyn Royal Giants will clash with the locals under the lights.

Woodruff Breaks Last Year Record

COMPTON, Cal., June 10 (ANP) — Long John Woodruff of Pitt set a new Compton relay record in the 400 meters Friday night of 46.8 seconds, wiping out the mark of 47 flat made by W. Miller last year. Miller, now a student at Southern California, then attended Compton junior college.

Refuses Record; Friend's Remains

KALAMAZOO, Mich., June 10 (ANP) Because he would not set a new Buckeye conference high jump record, Roscoe Washington was honored Friday by being named co-captain of the Western State Teachers college track team.

Last spring Becker of Ohio Wesleyan, a friend, set the record at 6 feet 1 7/8 inches. Shortly after graduation he was killed. Washington, a consistent 6 foot 4 inch jumper, won the conference title at Miami university a week ago Saturday but refused to attempt to break the record, preferring to keep his friend's name on the books.

Nova May Delay Louis Title Fight, Try Bob Pastor First

Young Victor Over Baer Carries Few Facial Marks — Maxie a Mess, Won't Commit Himself on Retirement

NEW YORK City, June 9. — Lou Nova reported to the Hippodrome recently with only a black eye and a cauliflower as a visible reminder of his 11th round kayo win over Maxie Baer at the Yankee Stadium Thursday night.

After a confab with Ray Carlen, Lou's manager, Mike Jacobs announced that plans for a Nova-Louis September bout would be held up until after Joe's June 23 engagement with Galento. The bout will probably be stalled for quite a while as Carlen isn't particularly anxious to throw in Lou with the champ just yet, preferring to wait until June. He is known to be receptive to a bout with Bob Pastor, who recently stepped up in the ranks with a surprise win over Roscoe Toles.

only one who said that "Baer quit." Nobody took that as anything else but pretty y cheap sour grapes.

Reminiscing, the big laugh of the evening came when Tony Galento was introduced along with Joe Louis. Two-Ton chased Joe all over the ring just to shake hands. Tony appeared to want Joe to forget all those nasty things and let bygones be bygones.

Everybody commended Baer, who might have been great but realized his potentialities too late, for his courageous fight. He had Nova on the verge of a kayo in the 6th and 7th, but when the youngster came back strong, Baer was spent and it was just a matter of time. But Max definitely put the finishing on those unjust jibes of "quitter" which followed his loss to Joe Louis four years ago when he angrily refused Reg. Frank Fullam's offer to call it off at the end of the tenth.

But in the 11th, when Nova swarmed all over the near helpless Baer, Fullam did the only proper thing in stopping it. Nova is in a funny spot, everybody agreed. Number one challenger by plenty, it would be silly to throw him in with Louis. He is wide open for a right and sharp-shooter Joe would tag him after having him on the verge of a kayo, while Baer fell short.

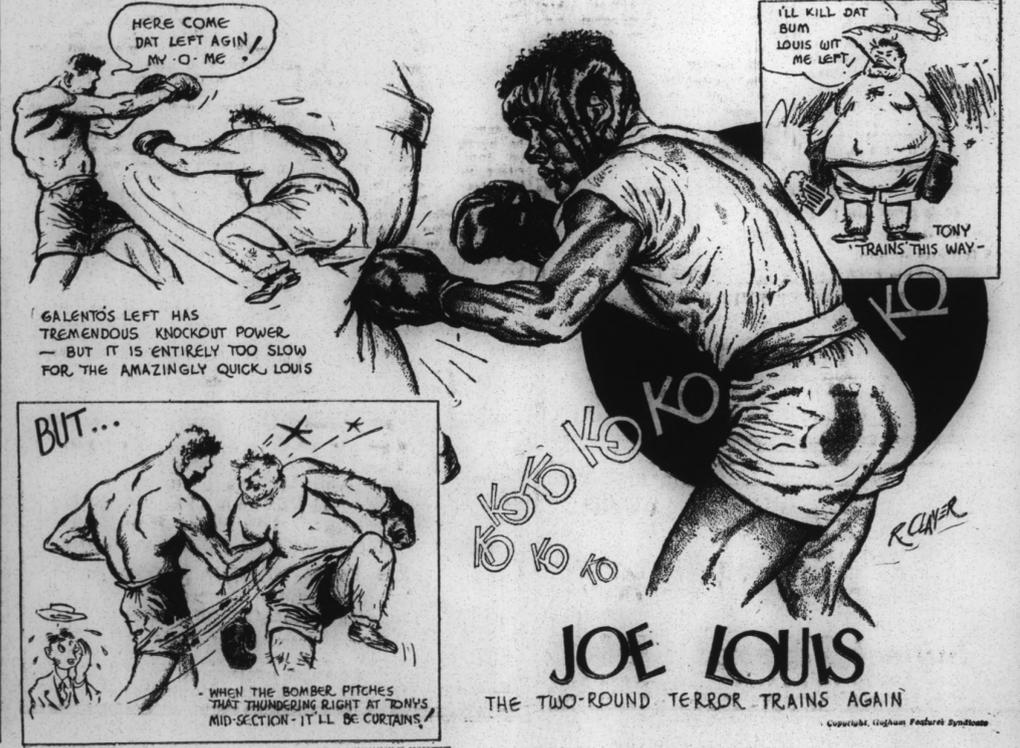

The general feeling is that Lou's best bet is a bout with Pastor. Bicycle Bob wouldn't get by a boxer like Lou as he does against pure sluggers. And Lou can hit, as shown by the variety of hard socks with which he peppered Baer. "Gentleman" Gene Of the 16,638 customers who saw the fight, Gene Tunney was the

In case someone missed the reading last week here is how you may obtain your Recorder free for the rest of the year. Just get five of your friends to take the Recorder for the rest of the year & yours is free as a gift from your reporter. Don't forget. I have already received five names. Get busy. Also there will be a prize for the best customers given to me. So hurry. Well this is your column for this week. Oh, yes, I know its dry as dust but won't you please excuse your reporter this week. I knew you would, that was very sweet of you. But be sure and be listening in next week. Look for your commencement exercises elsewhere in the paper. Oh, by the way did you see the baccalaureate services written up last week. Well go find your Recorder and read it. An Interview For You— Well your reporter interviewed the graduates and everyone of them has a good intention to be something worthwhile. So instead of pulling let's push them up what do you say? O. K. I'll see how many push and how many pull.

A M E Explains Race Membership Discrimination

East Is West

JOYCE VENERABLE

Happy Days Are Here Again!! Many a soul felt happy when the doors of those dear beloved school houses were closed for the summer.

Not mentioning any names, but two well-known Eastside fellows were so overjoyed by the thought of it, that they began celebrating this event on May 30 (exactly one week before it took place).

The shortest one, (who has often been seen in brown drooping breeches) drank some kind of "liquor" which made him very very "tick." As a matter of fact, it made the poor fellow "so tick" that unfortunately, he "passed out."

Seeing his best friend stretched out looking peaceful and quiet like, the taller fellow (who is now in another town) said "Hold tight son I'm coming along with you." So he drank some of this same "liquor," and soon joined his buddy. When the boys awoke, they had a "terrible headache"—I wonder why?

Tuesday, May 30, the Douglas Casino's two Relay teams swept into Kokomo, Indiana's Aragon Skating Rink and easily added a couple more blue ribbons to their collection.

This Aragon Rink is a very "ducky" little place—the color scheme is black and orange, but, their boys team didn't even have a chance with the Douglas Casino's. Perhaps this was due, however, to lack of practice.

Brother Glen Cutrell, (man No. 5) practically drove the spectators wild with his reckless, fancy wild fast skating—and of course Wallace Collins, James Rowley, Willam Helms and James Wilson completed their four laps in little or no time.

Before the race was well under way, the Kokomo Girls team completely "gave up."

Miss Frances Gist, Mary Robertson, Margaret Hubbard, Mrs. Emma Long and Theima Bates were evidently, "too much for them."

Eberitt Wade, coach and manager of these Relay teams, was very well pleased with their victories.

If you see Jennie Gurnell walking the streets with a long baffled look on her face, it will be due to the fact that her romance with Mr. Harold S., calls for "deep concentration."

Well Jeepsters, here's the very news you've been waiting for. That Eastside group of cute little Misses known as the Pleasure Buddies, plan to sponsor a Moonlight Picnic sometime in July.

It is their intention to charter a bus and "breeze" about ten miles out into the country.

There's a oodles of fun in store, so you'd better start saving all extra nickles and dimes.

When you hear Marietta Ward say, "He's almost wonderful," you can bet your bottom boots she'll be referring to that soked Kokomo no kat, whom she met while in the town's Chicken Shack, last week. Marietta became so infatuated with this guy that it took four persons to pull her outside the building.

To the Dwellers on Edgemont and Vermont streets!! The Spider prepares to strike there Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock. He's gunning after M. L. Moore on account of a little incident that happened May 30.

He will be driving a black '36, four door Dodge. A Stoooge

The Bat reports that: There's a certain gang of dames with "United we stand, divided we fall," as their motto, at large.

They promise anybody, anywhere at anytime, who wishes to become "froggish," that they will gladly "frog" along with him.

Beware! Just let that five roll on!!! That question that (P. P.) asked last week concerning (M. O.) must have had a bit of grudge behind it—Take a look at this:

Whoever the skunk was that said he chased (M. O.) with a concealed weapon was surely trying to have a sense of humor, however, if you're asking me, what he really needs is more sense and less humor.

If he thinks for one minute that putting rumors out on people is unmy, then he's 99 and 44 one hundredths per cent crazy. Number 39013

Edwina Bohannon regrets that her friend (R. M.) will be leaving this summer. Who knows? Perhaps she likes this dude more than she lets on, because he hasn't even come yet, and she misses him already.

Prince Albert Crombaugh has found himself a Princess (Miss Vera Fields) He has decided to keep her forever and a day, therefore you boys had better "lay off" if you don't want to get your ears boxed.

Martha Miller is said to be scouting around with a boy named Franklin from Frankfort, Indiana. Is it true?

Ruth Coles isn't the least bit worried over the competition that she is receiving from a certain party.

Irene Potts, Walker McCormick told me go tell you "hello."

Once upon a time, Duke Amos Moran met Dutchess, Dorothy Mahone. They met, mated, married, and lived happily ever after.

We were glad to hear that Robert White, the E. S. C. member (who was quite ill) is better. Keep it up Bob and you'll be well in no time!

TREAT WOMAN FOR SLASHED HAND. Ruth Utley, 31, 754 Utica street, came to the City hospital with a lacerated left hand which required two stitches to close.

She said that Robert Wilson, of the same address cut her in the 800 block on Indiana avenue. Officers arrested both Robert and Ruth Utley on the charge of vagrancy.

A NEGRO ARCHITECT

On May 25th, Harold L. Ickes, Secretary of the Interior, in his capacity as Patron Ex-Officio of Howard University, delivered the dedicatory Address and presented the Founders Library to the Trustees of this National Institution for the higher and professional education of the Negro race. The Founders Library was built out of P. W. A. funds, under the direction of Secretary Ickes at a cost of $1,106,000. This Library, dedicated to the memory of General O. O. Howard and the other founders of Howard University, is said to take rank among the best libraries of America in appointments and facilities, as regards both utility and beauty.

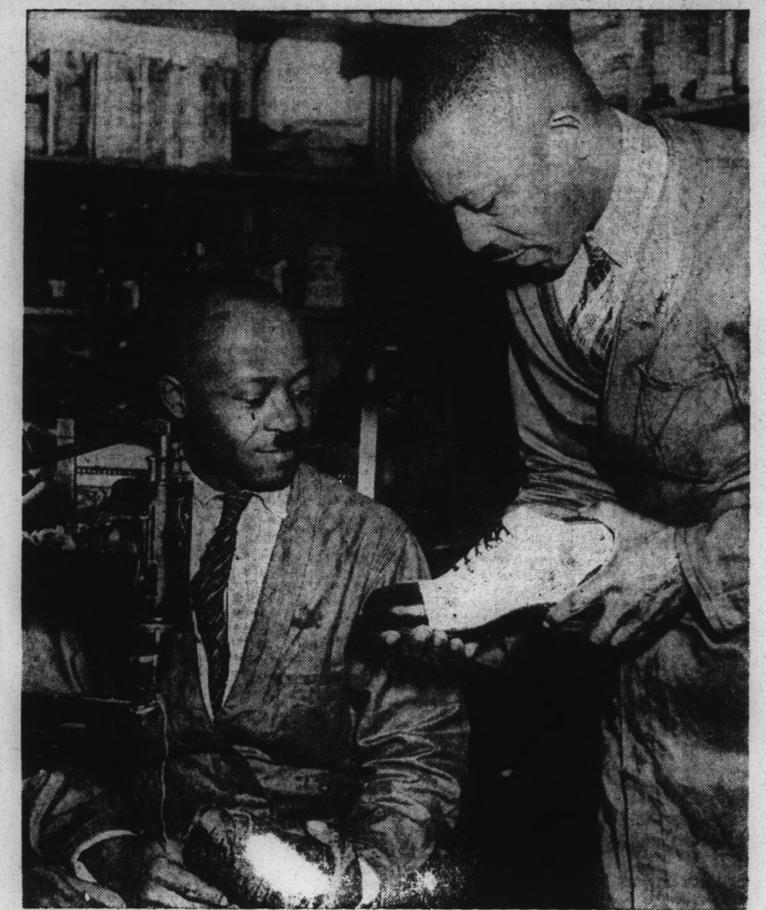

This Building will house the "National Negro Library and Museum," containing collections of books, documents, manuscripts, prints and other forms of material by or about Negroes. This collection will constitute its distinctive feature and will give the Howard University Building a unique place among American Libraries. In his dedicatory Address Secretary Ickes, with evident satisfaction stressed the fact that this Building, which conforms in every detail to the canons of Library technique inside, and out, was planned and constructed by a Negro Architect.

The Negro is noted for his artistic feeling and the exuberance, his untutored passion and unregimented emotion. He is highly gifted with a sense of rhythm both of sound action. The mere beating of time sets his feet a-flying and his body swaying and swinging. But he has never, until quite recently evinced much aptitude for plastic or creative art. The untutored Negro mechanic under the slave regime could construct an imposing building by blind imitation and rule of thumb, without ability to read the blueprint or understand mechanical or artistic principles. He possessed the knack without the knowledge.

The higher education of the Negro has developed sundry individuals with a zest for literature, poetry, music, and oratory. In an appreciative and understanding sense, Secretary Ickes, our P. W. A. Administrator, has employed several Negro Architects who must measure up to the standards of the department or fall by their own weight. Albert I. Cassell, a product of the Cornell University Department of Architecture, was selected by the Trustees of Howard University and approved by the Department of the Interior as Architect, planner and builder of the "Twenty Year Plan" of expansion at an estimated cost of $10,000,000, under the joint auspices of the Federal and several educational foundations Government, the Board of Trustees for the higher education of the Negro, Mr. Cassell was entrusted with the supervision of the enlargement, landscaping, and beautification of the Campus, and the location planning and construction of the Buildings. There have already been erected twelve Buildings at a cost of five million dollars, which involve all forms and phases of scholastic architecture, including Stadium, Gymnasium, Dining Hall, Dormitories, Power Plant, Rectory and Lecture Hall, Science Buildings with technical equipment, climaxing in the Founders Library. All of this work was accomplished under the general supervision of the Architectural experts of the Government and have met with the entire approval of the Federal authorities as attested when each Building was completed and turned over to the Trustees of the University by the Interior Department.

A few Negroes stand out conspicuously in the several fields of knowledge as earnest of what the race may hope to accomplish when it comes to mature intellectual stature. The accomplishments of Dr. E. E. Just, head of the Department of Biology of Howard University, and former vice-president of the American Biological Society, are recognized and extolled throughout the biological world. Dr. George W. Carver of Tuskegee Institute has made valuable contribution in the field of economic chemistry and botany. James Weldon Johnson, the late lamented Negro poet, and scholar, typifies the best results of the higher education of the Negro in the field of literary culture. In like manner Albert I. Cassell, the Architect of Howard University, exemplifies the highest expression of

STATE ORGANIZATION BUILT UPON COUNTY REPRESENTATION; EACH UNIT RATES ELIGIBILITY

CHICAGO, June 9. (ANP)—In interest in the failure of the American Medical Association during its session in St. Louis recently to pass a resolution which would have admitted Negro doctors all over the country into the AMA was heightened this week as representatives of the National Medical Association made the position of that organization clear. The American Medical Association voted down the resolution which would have placed membership upon a basis which disregarded race, creed and color.

In a statement after the vote, AMA officials explained that their organization was built upon the county basis of representation, and that each county had the privilege of determining those eligible for membership. In the north, the AMA spokesman pointed out there were several hundred Negro members who belonged to local county medical societies, and thus became eligible for membership in AMA.

The crux of the fight which Negro physicians have been making for recognition by the AMA lies in the fact that all over the country, and especially in the South, Negro doctors are cut off from service in government, state and tax supported hospitals and institutions, because one of the requirements for service in those institutions is that a physician must be a member in good standing in his local county medical society. This requirement has given the care of the thousands of indigent Negro patients in the South over to the white Southern doctor. He has gained experience at their expense, and developed acquaintance which led to patients as well. Negro physicians have been unable to care for patients of their own race in these tax supported hospitals.

The National Medical Association has endeavored to correct this condition. There are many signs that Southern medical groups are becoming more liberal, but the process has not developed to the point where Southern medical societies are willing to permit Negro doctors.

Bound up in the question is the Wagner bill now before the U. S. senate which provides some millions of dollars for the care of public health diseases among the indigent. Millions of dollars will be spent in the South, and many positions created for physicians. The requirement that a doctor belong to the county medical society before securing one of these jobs is universal, and effectively eliminates the Negro physician.

Governmental agencies advocating passage of the bill, including the United States Public Health Service, have sought the support of Negro physicians. The latter realizing that the USPHS has never given Negro doctors an opportunity to serve in the South, hiding behind the time-worn claim that the states have jurisdiction, have been chary of endorsing the governmental bill. They have preferred to play along with the AMA hoping to get a liberalization of its rules. If the AMA had let down the bars to colored doctors, they

CHICAGOAN, FORMER SLAVE, DIES AT 108

CHICAGO, June 9 (ANP)—Mrs. Diana Davenport, 108 years old, a former slave who reportedly has a son still living who was a grown man when Abraham Lincoln was elected president, passed away here on Wednesday night at a Southside nursing home where she had lived for nearly a year.

Affirmation was given the centenarian's age by Mary Flourney, who conducts the nursing home, and by another friend, Rose Reese, with whom Mrs. Davenport lived until she was stricken with paralysis some time ago.

Beatin' the Gun

(By Al Moses for ANP) THEY'LL NOT DISGRACE YANKEE STADIUM.

Years of experience have proven that when the N. Y. Yankee Baseball Club turned the Ruppert-built stadium over to the forces who promote Negro baseball throughout the country, the result is the same high brand of major league baseball fans have been accustomed to, the full season, AND WHY SHOULDN'T THIS CONDITION OBTAIN?? We rise to ask?? Isn't it a fact indisputable, that Negro ball players (of equal or superior ability), are mere just another BUNCH OF OVERGROWN AMERICAN LADS, APPEARING ON A DIAMOND, AND INDULGING IN THE NATIONAL PASTIME. . . . THE ONLY GAME THEY REALLY EVER LEARNED LIKE THEIR MORE FORTUNATE WHITE BROTHERS DID?? So-o-o-o why the heck all the hullabaloo about . . . "Are they play heads up ball," are they as smart as top players are supposed to be (always) a question of personal opinion and as debatable as the government debt; and a thousand and one silly questions that can only be answered in one way, Let the "shootin' Thomas" and we do not censure his sovereign right to doubt as much as he chooses, GO OUT TO THE BALL PARK (white and black), AND GIVE THESE BOYS THE SAME HONEST SUPPORT THEY RENDER THE home teams, meaning, the Giants, Dodgers, and the Yankees.

Then and then only, will silly and unjustifiable prejudice that has kept our ballplayers from playing where they choose (white or Negro teams) be well upon the road of being solved to our complete satisfaction. The ELITE GIANTS, who clash with the crack (Alex Pompey) Cuban Stars, and the Philly Stars and the Black Yankees, are teams who in our estimation would challenge the right of the Browns, the higher education of the Negro in the domain of the applied sciences involving both utility and beauty.
