JACK JOHNSON CAR CRASH VICTIM

KKK Terror Revealed in Ga.

SAY WAR VET, CAB DRIVER KKK VICTIMS

ATLANTA, Ga., June — (NNPA)—The Ku Klux Klan is being investigated for possible connection with the murder of a cab driver last August and the flogging of a 21-year-old Navy veteran in February, it was learned last Friday.

The Georgia Bureau of Investigation launched the investigation of the murder on information provided by secret agents of the State who have managed to infiltrate the inner circle of the hooded order.

The body of the driver, Porter Flournoy Turner, was found in front of a doctor's suburban home. He had been stabbed the case never has been solved.

The GBI was said to have suspected the Klan of the killing after agents worked themselves into the Kavalier Klub, described by Assistant Attorney General Dan Duke as the Klan's strong arm squad.

Duke also investigated charges that Klansmen flogged the veteran employed as a hotel bellhop.

Duke, assigned to "investigate and eradicate" the organization in Georgia, said the Navy Veteran, Hugh Johnson, told him he was given fifty-two lashes at a gun's point at a desolate spot near here on the night of February 13.

He said they asked him where he was walking in an Atlanta suburb when a car pulled alongside him. One of four men in the machine pointed a gun at him and ordered him to get inside.

Duke said the youth told him he worked and then told him they were "going to beat hell out of him."

The bellhop said two other cars joined the first and they drove to a deserted spot near the Municipal Airport here.

He said they forced him down on his hands and knees and lashed him with a two-tailed whip. He said nine men took part in the flogging.

SAFETY BOARD APPOINTS 88 NEW POLICEMEN

The Board of Public Safety of the City of Indianapolis named 88 policemen late last week. This is the largest number ever appointed at one time. The appointments will become effective June 16, bringing the department up to full strength of 600 for the first time in five years.

Police Chief Jesse McMurry said that approximately 20 "duration" policemen and policewomen will be discharged. The discharge of policemen has been viewed as a backward step of the city administration, a casual inquiry of women's clubs, civic and church groups revealed last week.

Leaders of these groups distinctly portrayed that policewomen have been a constructive factor in combatting juvenile delinquency. They charge that policewomen have served in stopping or decreasing the patronage by underage people of places selling alcoholic drinks. And need of policewomen in the department permanently is pointed out through other conditions.

New appointees among others include Albert Booth, Anthony Watkins, James De Jernette, James Rogers, Albert Pinnell, Garland Jones, William Lee and John Bailey. "Duration" men not reappointed were Hardesty Buckner, Oscar Donahue, Otis Wigginton, Jesse Frances and Patrick Burnett.

Louis Ludlow III With Pneumonia In Naval Hospital

Representative Louis Ludlow, beloved elder statesman and Democratic nominee for reelection to Congress from Marion County, is seriously ill in the U. S. Naval Hospital at Bethesda, Md., it was learned this week. He is suffering from virus pneumonia.

Representative Ludlow was admitted to the hospital June 7, after an absence from the House of Representatives for about three weeks. Known as the "neighborly Congressman" because of his prompt attention to requests from folks back home, Ludlow reported, attempted to continue at his work during his illness. He was with difficulty covered by his physician, it was said.

A member of the liberal group in Congress which has the support of labor, Representative Ludlow is noted for his opposition to steps leading to war. He recently denounced the forthcoming atomic bomb tests in the Pacific as a danger to world peace, and vigorously urged they be called off.

'Columbia Case'

State of Tenn. Avoids 'Jury Rights' Maxim

COLUMBIA, Tenn., (ANP)—Judge Joe M. Ingram, presiding over the trial of the 31 Columbia defendants, told Leon Ransom last week that inquiry into local jimcrow practices must end some time.

"We'll know our stopping point," Ransom, NAACP counsel, replied. He had just concluded questioning the 186th witness, 62-year-old Clarence Bell, who testified, as had his predecessors, that no qualified Negroes served on a jury here in 50 years.

Asked when the end of the questioning would come, Ransom told the court:

"That will be when we have called the last Negro over 21 years old in the county."

Ransom told the judge that the hearing, which has been deadlocked for two weeks, could continue with dispatch if the state would stipulate the fact that no Negroes have served on juries here prior to a police mob assault on the Mink Slide section of Columbia on Feb. 25.

Dist. Atty. Paul E. Bumpus declined to make the stipulation and declared: "The only thing we can do is to stay as long as they do."

"Now," said Judge Ingram, "if we continue for days hearing testimony of persons of color we must then expect the state to call many white people who have not been asked to testify. That will be when we have called the last Negro over 21 years old in the county."

Geller's Tavern with Extended Record In Police Dept. Reports, Loses License

By Opal L. Tandy One of the two agencies that control the red, green and amber lights as far as the liquor business is concerned may have gone to opposite angles from its announced policy of "fair play" Monday, but the other one hurriedly rectified the visible flaw by adhering to the blueprint of facts.

The state Alcoholic Beverage Commission voted a general of a new license for the Danny's Dreamland Cafe, Tuesday as Mrs. Ida M. Geller, co-owner of the prominent avenue night-spot, made a tearful plea in Maurice Rudd, secretary of the commission, for a chance to give "Negroes a decent place to enjoy themselves in." The Marion County Liquor Board had deadlocked in a tie vote Monday and the case was automatically sent to the state. One of the alleged "social sores," the Dreamland Cafe has no record of court convictions but a multiplicity of accusations ranging from vagrancy to murder has caused it to become morally bankrupt, and its object of stamp criticism under the glaring light of beer-plant publicity. The Dreamland still has a few weeks to run. The license issued to Max Geller will expire at 12 o'clock midnight July 8th.

Danny's Dreamland was being stamped on the police reports as early as 1936 when Paul (Chink) Davis was fatally stabbed there and died a week away on Indiana avenue. The man who killed him was tracked by an aid from the prosecutor's office and reporters from The Indianapolis Recorder. He drew a life sentence in the Indiana State Prison.

A year or two later Max Geller, in whose name the license is, shot and wounded a patron in his tavern during an argument. He was dismissed in Municipal Court allegedly as the result of self-defense. The plaintiff was said to have drawn a knife on Geller. During recent years since the Alcoholic Beverage Commission has been collecting records on taverns

JIMCROW CARS CONTINUED ON D. C. TRAINS

WASHINGTON, D. C. (NNPA)—Trains leaving Washington for points in the South were continuing to carry Jimcrow cars, requiring colored passengers traveling from points in the North to ride in separate cars on leaving the Washington Terminal southbound.

Meantime, counsel for the Afro-American Newspapers in the suit brought by William J. Scott, Ralph Matthews and the Rev. William H. Jernagin, involving the application of Virginia's Jimcrow law to interstate passengers, said the case is now pending in the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia.

The trio were traveling from Philadelphia to Greensboro, North Carolina, and refused to move to the Jimcrow car between Washington and Alexandria, Virginia. They again refused to move into the Jimcrow car at Charlottesville, and when they did so again at Lynchburg, a police officer ordered them off the train.

They sued the Southern Railway in the District of Columbia Supreme Court. A jury returned a verdict in favor of the railroad and the plaintiffs appealed. The case has been argued, and a decision is expected soon from the Court of Appeals.

C. F. Alexander, assistant manager of the Atlantic Coast Line, last Friday said he expects his company to take some action soon on the question of interstate travel of colored people over that line.

As soon as the decision of the Supreme Court was announced in the Virginia Jimcrow interstate suit, the general counsel of the Atlantic Coast Line at the headquarters in Wilmington, North Carolina, telegraphed for a copy of the court's opinion. Officials of the company are now studying the decision, he said.

MUTUAL TRUST WORLD PEACE KEY, SELASSIE

ADDIS ABABA, ETHIOPIA, (ANP)—The key to world peace is mutual trust.

That is the anti-war formula given here last week by Emperor Haile Selassie, who has unceasingly foreseen world events including the recent great global war. He made his prediction in 1936 when his country was overrun by Fascist Italian troops by charging Mussolini has "inevitably" meted out that world infamy the world.

Wo 11 leaders, ignoring his warning, appeared the Italian aggressor. Hitler then went on his rampage, marched into Austria then seized the Sudetenland, Munich and World War II followed.

Conclusion of the war has not meant a triumph of justice, the Ethiopian emperor asserted. Only by a country of large and small nations can justice become real. "Equality is the only road to peace of conscience and freedom from fear," he remarked.

He said settling of world problems by power politics creates "strain and suspicion" which either results in immediate armed hostilities or a worried state of mind which "inevitably leads to war." Another war can be averted only "through mutual trust, mutual faith and an equal voice for everyone in world affairs," he warned.

Emperor Selassie favors a powerful United Nations army, ready for immediate action to put down aggression, but doubts that such an armed force would be decisive in preventing future wars. He sees misunderstanding among nations as almost inevitable.

FLASH! CHICAGO, June 13—Jack Johnson's funeral services were scheduled to be held at Pilgrim Baptist Church here Friday morning. The ex-heavyweight king's body arrived in Chicago Wednesday night from Raleigh, N. C., near the scene of his fatal automobile accident.

RALEIGH, N. C. — Jack Johnson, born John Arthur Johnson and known to his friends as Lil' Artha', one of the world's greatest heavyweight boxing champions died at St. Agnes hospital here Monday, June 10, following a motor accident near Franklinton earlier in the afternoon.

The large automobile driven by Johnson, who had a reputation of driving fast cars for forty years, went off the road and crashed into a telephone pole, about 20 miles north of this city on U. S. Highway No. 1.

According to Fred L. Scott, business associate and traveling companion of Johnson, as they approached the town of Franklinton, Johnson appeared to lose control of the car on a curve. The two men were thrown out of the car, which was demolished. Johnson died at 6:10 p. m. suffering from internal injuries and shock according to Dr. W. D. Allison. Scott was treated for minor injuries.

Johnson had recently concluded a personal appearance tour of Texas and was on his way to New York. His widow, Mrs. Irene Johnson of Chicago, was notified of his death. Johnson was 68; he was born in Galveston, Texas, March 1, 1878. His fighting career began in 1899. He won the world's heavyweight title from Tommy Burns at Sydney, Australia, Dec. 25, 1908 and lost it to Jess Willard at Havana, Cuba, April 16, 1915.

The onetime Galveston stevedore lived a colorful fast life and he had traveled in Europe, South America and other far-flung parts of the world. The highlights of his fighting career were perhaps the fight with Tommy Burns in Australia, the fight with Jess Willard at Reno, Nevada, July 4, 1910 and the "mystery fight" with Jesse Willard at Havana, Cuba, April 16, 1915.

Johnson was the first and only Negro heavyweight champion until the time of Joe Louis Barrow. His name and deeds were the talk of the sporting world in the decade following his fight with Tommy Burns. In 1911 he opened a cafe in Chicago, then one of the greatest centers of sports of the land. On his scene he added to his renown as a man of action, sometimes involving his hobby of driving fast motor cars beyond the speed limit.

Here he was arrested and charged with violation of the Mann Act, convicted and sentenced to one year and a day in federal prison. He jumped bail and went into Canada and later to Europe. While in Paris it is reported that he said, "I would rather be a lamp post on State street (Chicago) than a favor of Paris."

Later he went to Spain, following this he came back to Cuba to fight Jess Willard. Returning to Europe he visited other lands and came back to the U. S. and surrendered to a U. S. marshal at San Diego, Cal., July 20, 1926. He served a sentence at Leavenworth, Kas., and was released July 9, 1921. He entered the ring again, at past his prime, he attracted great attention with his fighting. He quit the ring in the late 1920's.

 OPEN MEETING
 HERE JUNE 17

Indianapolis 4-H program, believed to be the largest urban 4-H organization in the nation, is scheduled to open June 17 in seventy city elementary schools with more than 2,400 pupils participating.

The local program, in its sixth year, has already enrolled 2,392 4-H Clubbers, nearly 900 more than participated in the club activities last year. In general charge of the program is Miss Louise Braxton, Assistant Director of Fine and Practical Arts in Charge of Home Economics for the Indianapolis Public Schools, and Miss Janice Berlin, Marion County Home Demonstration Agent for Purdue University. Miss Braxton will supervise a staff of twelve, all regular home economics teachers in the city schools.

Ribbons and prizes are awarded by Purdue through Miss Berlin to winners in the various exhibit classes. In the Foods division, baking has been dropped this year due to flour and sugar shortages, but girls may exhibit preserved fruit and vegetables or arrangements of garden vegetables or flowers. In the Sewing division, they may display quilt blocks, chair pads, towels, lunch cloths, or stuffed toys. In the Handicraft division, pupils may enter workboxes, lamp mats, coat-lapel gadgets, or crocheted or knitted articles.

At DePaul, Watts will major in journalism, radio broadcasting and continue his work in science and mathematics. He is the first Negro youth to be awarded a Junior Achievement Scholarship.

BAPTISTS OF
 AT CHICAGO

CHICAGO. (ANP)—Meetings of the National Baptist Convention Executive board and Sunday School congress were held here last week at the Morning Star and Ebenezer Baptist churches on Chicago's southside.

The executive board, presided over by the Rev. G. L. Prince, N.C. president, drafted a fund raising program to be reported on at the annual convention in Houston next September. The goal for state delegations is set at $100,000.

Among those attending the board meeting, at which the Rev. Ira M. Hendon was host pastor, were: Mrs. M. A. B. Fuller, president of the senior women, Austin, Tex.; Mrs. H. L. E. Williams, director of the Junior women, Alexandria, La.; and Mrs. Ira Clark, president of the Baptist Brotherhood union, Houston.

The Rev. J. H. L. Smith, pastor of the Junior women, Chicago, and president of the state convention of Illinois, was host pastor to the Sunday School congress. The busy schedule of the 42-year-old congress included a mammoth street parade last Wednesday.

Secy. Boyd, wearing the celebrated "Congress Cap," headed the parade.

has made no such statement, "directly or indirectly, by innuendo or otherwise," and that he was "at pains" to understand how such a "garbled report" could have been circulated.

"I am a servant of the order, and it is up to the order when I shall quit," he said. "As long as the Elks desire my services, I am perfectly willing to make any sacrifice necessary to carry out their mandate."

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. White, 1115 E. 19th st., are proud parents of a baby girl, Delores, born June 5 in City hospital. Mother and daughter are doing well.

 CONFERENCE SPONSORED BY 'Y'

CARLETON L. LEE

Carleton L. Lee of the Chicago University Theological Seminary will be the speaker for the inter-collegiate Summer Conference to be held at the Senate Avenue YMCA June 21, 22, and 23.

Plans for the conference have been made by the local Intercollegiate Club, which is sponsored by the YMCA Educational department. The "Y" announces that the inter-collegiate Conference is another step in its expanding program of leadership training.

Mr. Lee has had wide experience in leadership among young people's groups. He holds degrees from Tulane College and the University of Chicago where he is a candidate for the doctor's degree in applied religious philosophy.

He has served as a director of religious life at Dorchester Academy, pastor of the First Congregational church, Lincoln Academy, Kings Mountain, N. C.; Associate Secretary of the Southern Area, National Council YMCA; Acting Dean of Turner Theological Seminary and director of Campbell Friendship House, Gary, Ind. Mr. Lee has contributed to several periodicals, including The Missionary Herald and the Boys' Work Herald.

The conference theme is "The Facts of Today Determine the Future of Tomorrow." Mr. Lee will deliver three addresses on the theme followed by a discussion period. Highlights of the conference will be a panel discussion on the sub-theme, "Facing the Facts." The panel will be composed of Walter Frisbie, CIO leader; Dr. Harry DeVries, professor of History, Indiana Central College; Dr. Russell A. Lane, principal of Attucks High school and Mr. Lee.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June—(NNPA)—J. Finley Wilson, grand exalted ruler of the Improved Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks of the World, last Friday denied reports that he would resign his fraternal office if he should be elected to the New York State Senate.

According to widely published reports, he made the statement at the Virginia State convention of Elks, recently held in Danville, Virginia. He also was quoted as saying he would resign the fraternal office if elected to the New York State Senate, even if he should be reelected for another term as grand exalted ruler at the annual Elks' convention to be held in Buffalo, New York, in August.

Mr. Wilson branded the report as "absolute by false." He said he

FEPC Coordinator Makes First Racial Bias Probe In Gary

GARY — Wilbur J. Hardaway, coordinator of the Indiana FEPC said this week he is investigating the first complaint of race discrimination filed with the state agency by a Gary resident.

The complaint, filed by Joseph L. Pittman, charges the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation's sheet and tin mills with practicing discrimination on the grounds of race.

Pittman has worked in the mills' normalizing department for 20 years. He charges that white workers have been promoted "over his head" to better-paying jobs, in spite of his greater seniority and superior skill.

Hospital Inmates Laud Radio Service By Rev. J. B. Carter

REV. J. B. CARTER of 25th Street Baptist Church was this week in possession of a letter "more precious than gold" — a letter which testifies eloquently to the good his Sunday night radio program has done for those who are suffering life's adversities.

The letter, signed by 15 patients at City Hospital, was addressed to Radio Station WISH, and the station turned it over to Rev. Carter. The touching document, bringing to mind the wearisome and pain-racked life of a hospital, reads:

"We, the patients of Ward F3 at the City Hospital, wish to thank you and all concerned for that grand program, 'The 25th Street Baptist Church'."

"The program helps our morale, it makes us look forward to a better day, and it also makes us feel not like shut-ins, but as if we were out there helping in the service."

"Tell them to please keep that good work going."

Signers of the letter included Henry Pierce, Spurgeon T. Smith, Charley Reed, Robert Daniels, Albert Davis, Rev. Earl E. Brown, Elsie Thompson, Sam Williams Jr., Grace Fields, Samuel Seymore, Terry Wilson, Harry O. Hickman and Leroy Gregory.

The program is heard at 11:30 p. m. Sunday evenings over Station WISH.

You DON'T NEED A MIRROR!

No, you don't have to look in a mirror to learn of the itching, smarting soreness of the acne, pimples, or b u m s (blackheads) of external origin. They torment you and drive you frantic fingers to rubbing and scratching, increasing the danger of secondary infection.

Your fingers won't help, won't soothe the soreness, ease the itch and smart and burn—but Black and White Ointment will. It gives you prompt relief from discomforts of such skin irritations and it contains special antiseptic medication that aids healing. For over 25 years millions have found it brings similar relief from trade eczema, factory dermatitis, simple ringworm and externally caused salt rheum—tetter.

You can try Black and White Ointment without risk since your dealer will refund the retail price of the first package if you are not satisfied. Use only as directed. Black and White Ointment is sold everywhere in 10c, 25c, and 50c sizes. For cleansing such skin conditions, use mild Black and White Skin Soap. Sold in 10c and 25c sizes.

FREAK EGG SHOWN BY EASTSIDE WOMAN

Rather odd in the "world of eggs" was an egg shown in the offices of The Recorder recently by Mrs. Carrie Johnson, 2817 Baltimore avenue. The eggshell is slightly irregular in shape and the color was the light tan of eggs on the small end, and speckled on the other end with a white band in the middle nearly a quarter of an inch wide.

The egg was laid by a black Minaco hen about two years old. Mrs. Johnson has obtained other odd eggs from her small flock of very productive poultry.

A DOCTOR'S PRESCRIPTION FOR THE SCALP

Your hair roots are in your scalp. The condition of your hair does often depend heavily on the natural health of your scalp. Years ago, Doctor Carnot invented a medicated tar formula called Carbonol, which is mixed with Sulphur, Resorcin and Balsam of Peru. Carbonol is such a strong, powerful antiseptic and does such fine work in helping an itchy, bumpy and externally irritated scalp, that many doctors regard it highly and prescribe scalp needs a double-strength tar formula, you can start using Carbonol, which is a doctor's genuine scalp formula, as soon as you get it from your Drug Store. Use it for 7 days, and if you are not satisfied, your dollar back. You get Carbonol with full directions. Use the finest medicated tar scalp formula your money can buy. Your hair and scalp deserve fine care. You can get a jar of Carbonol at All Hooker and Haas' and All Other Leading Drug Stores in Indianapolis for one dollar. Phyllis Wheatley YWCA Begins Summer Activities

The beginning of summer brings about a closing of programs in the YWCA and some serious evaluation of work done in the year past. Girl Reserve advisors of Phyllis Wheatley held their last meeting for the year May 27. Their program was opened by devotions led by Mrs. Horstense Dixon.

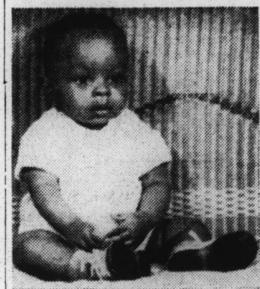

Program highlights were reviewed by Mrs. Mary Alexander and Mrs. Mary Hawkins. During the past school year, Girl Reserves have participated in a "Share the Food Day" and a city-wide Girl Reserve "Baby Food for Russia" project. Their annual recognition service was held at Roberts Park Methodist church and the attendance at Spring conference exceeded that of several years. These junior members of the YWCA held their last affair on Saturday, June 1, which was designated as Fun day. Over 200 girls were in attendance to witness the clever program and to examine a special pre-summer school crafts exhibit which was set in the lobby. The summer months emphasize activities for the junior member girls ranging in age from nine to eighteen. One of the two major program features is the summer school program which begins on June 24 and will run through July 26. Objectives for the five-week period as given by the staff at a recent meeting point to serious concentration on creative recreation for young girls. Classes will include dramatics, music, swimming, organized games, and various crafts. Mrs. Myrtle D. O'Shields is director of the summer school. Parents are urged to register their girls before the 24th of June, if possible. The Health Education department will present a dance recital at the YWCA on June 21. The dance, directed by Mrs. Vera Cole, will include a group of high school girls and a group of young adults, and will depict a series of rhythmic moods ranging from the

For 14 days or longer—you can KEEP YOUR HAIR "BEAUTY-SHOP PERFECT"!

Just follow this simple routine at home—and your hair will stay just as smooth and lustrous-looking, just as smartly styled, as when you left the hairdresser! Try it, and discover how just a few minutes each day keeps your hair "Beauty-shop perfect" for two weeks or more!

Sandra Powell, celebrated beauty consultant, gives you this thrilling new hair-beauty secret!

FOLLOW THE SNOW WHITE HAIR-BEAUTY ROUTINE...

it's easy! First, choose a becoming style. If possible, have your hairdresser press your hair with Snow White Pressing Oil; it "dries bright"—holds its luster even after the hair cools off.

THEN DO THESE 2 THINGS EVERY DAY:

- 1 Smooth those rough edges! To prevent a fuzzy hairline—Apply Snow White Hair Beautifier to hairline danger spots—forehead, temples, back of the neck. Then brush well into hair. For rough, coarse hair—use Snow White Pressing Oil and press lightly with a warm comb. The same treatment helps curb "hairline frays"—stubborn new ends which may soon grow out. Do this regularly; new hair then grows in soft and smooth looking as hair newly pressed.
2 Keep that freshly-done look! To preserve curls and waves, to keep hair smooth and lustrous-looking—Rub Snow White Hair Beautifier into scalp, then brush hair thoroughly. Or apply directly, using a little on hairbrush. For ordinary hair, use Snow White Regular; for unusually hard-to-manage hair, use Snow White Heavy. Keep up this treatment; and you needn't be afraid to take down your hair, to comb and to brush it. With Snow White, curls and waves stay in place.

CONVINCE YOURSELF! Buy Snow White Hair Products at your cosmetic counter; have hair that's "beauty-shop perfect" every day!

USE Snow White HAIR BEAUTIFIER and PRESSING OIL

Hair Beautifier (Regular and Heavy) 25¢ and $1.00 plus tax • Pressing Oil 35¢ plus tax • at cosmetic counters everywhere

FREE! Send for Sandra Powell's beauty booklet—at your cosmetic counter, or write Snow White Products Co., Lynchburg, Va.

Miss Taylor was successful in keen competition with more than 1000 other students. The award was made on a basis of good general scholarship, special proficiency in mathematics, Latin, music, and physical education, and personal characteristics. Miss Taylor is the first student from Franklin township to win one of these scholarships. She also received a $400 Marica county scholarship to Butler university.

Throughout her school career Miss Taylor has led her class in scholastic achievement, and led the entire high school in her Freshman year she won the American Legion scholarship award, which is awarded annually to the Franklin township high school student with the highest scholastic rating, and continued to hold it throughout her high school career. She won the Latin award for leading the class each year she took the course. A sports enthusiast, she won a letter in girls' athletics each year, and clinaxed her sports career by winning the first pin and eard ever presented to a girl at the school for four years of outstanding sportsmanship.

TALLADEGA CHOIR HERE

Talladega College, founded by the American Missionary Association of Congregational and Christian Churches, was the first college opened to Negroes in the state of Alabama. Founded in 1867 as a primary school, it graduated its first college class in 1895. Its academic standards have been kept high. It is recognized by all educational boards as the finest type of institution judged by any standards.

It draws its student body from twenty-five of the forty-eight states and admits only those capable of high scholastic attainment. Talladega graduates are leaders in their home communities and not uncommonly attain eminence in their chosen professions. Though the Talladega College Choir is an extra classroom activity, its work is indicative of the mastery Talladega expects of all its students in everything they undertake. The Choir is under the capable direction of Frank G. Harrison, professor of music.

Still maintaining its Congregational connections, Talladega College was honored by having its choir invited to provide all of the music for the annual Conference of Congregational and Christian Churches to be held at Grinnell, Iowa, the week of June 16 through the 23rd. Two thousand delegates, representing churches from Maine to California are expected to attend.

Feeling that the choir had an offering which should be received as widely as possible, Indianapolis Alumni arranged to have it appear in concert at Bethel A. M. E. Church, Vermont and Toledo Sts., Friday night, June 28, 1946, at 8:30 p. m. This is indeed a rare musical opportunity, and will certainly be well attended. General admission will be 99 cents, tax included.

HAUGHVILLE CIVIC LEAGUE HAS MEETING

The Haughville civic league met Tuesday in Calhoun Chapel AM E Zion church. The group is trying to get improvement of several unimproved streets, and petitions have been made out for paving Sheffield, Belmont, and Traub. Members of the league feel that their work can be accomplished only with the co-operation of all the residents in the community. A special speaker has been obtained for the next meeting Tuesday, and Haughville citizens are particularly urged to attend.

Active in church affairs, Miss Taylor has represented St. Philip's Episcopal parish at the Diocesan conventions of the United Movement of the church's youth. She also sings in the choir at St. Philip's.

For seven years she was active in the Glee club and her work took several first prizes at the 4-H and state fairs. In addition to participating in judging and demonstration contests, Miss Taylor won second place in the Marion county electrification demonstration contest in 1944. She served three one-year terms as secretary of her 4-H chapter.

Active in church affairs, Miss Taylor has represented St. Philip's Episcopal parish at the Diocesan conventions of the United Movement of the church's youth. She also sings in the choir at St. Philip's.

RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP: Miss June Hammond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hammond, and a May graduate of Bloomington high school, was recipient of the Happy Hour scholarship. The scholarship, which pays tuition for one semester to Indiana university, is given by one of the city's outstanding social clubs to an outstanding colored student of the graduating class. While in high school Miss Hammond was member of the Blue Triangle clubs, branch of the YWCA, and was also member of the Commercial club. She plans to enter business school in the fall to study commercial subjects in which she maintained a high average during her high school career.

State Association Of Negro Musicians Convenes June 20 At Simpson Methodist

Mrs. Teresa Sanders, executive secretary of the Indiana State Association of Negro Musicians and chairman of the entertaining committee, and Roscoe R. Polin, state organizer, are ardently working to make this convention one of information and cultural achievement.

The convention will be held in Simpson Methodist church June 20th to 23rd. Musicians and students are requested to register and attend conferences during the day. Interesting programs have been planned by the committee for the night sessions, which are open to the public. Thurs., will be scholarship night; Friday, branch night; and Saturday, artist night.

A mass meeting will be held in the church Sunday afternoon at 3:00, with many singing aggregations of the state represented. Scholarship awards will be given, and memorial services observed.

Members of the entertaining committee for the convention are Bertha Davis, Evelyn Marsh, Helen Lanier, Ellen T. Meriwether, Bertha Howard, Eva Bohannon, Eva Turner, Marguerite Goodnight, Syndie Ferguson, Ersa Smith, Roscoe Polin, Speedie Jamison, Chas. T. Amos, and Earl Keen.

Mrs. Ivoretta Brown, Gary, is president of the association, and Miss Marguerite Goodnight, publicity chairman. (A4.)

Simplicity Marks Wedding Of Muncie Woman, Ill. Man

MUNCIE, Ind. — Simplicity marked appointments for the wedding of Miss Queen Victoria Bess, only daughter of Mrs. Matilda Wheeler, and Elzie Russel, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Russell America, Ill., which took place Saturday evening in home of the bride's mother.

Rev. J. K. Love, pastor of Mt. Zion Baptist church, performed the single-ring ceremony in the presence of a few close friends. Vases containing large bouquets of vari-colored spring flowers were displayed throughout the living room.

Mrs. Henry Stratton and Ed Bess, cousin of the bride, were the only attendants.

The bride chose a powder blue suit with a tushia crepe blouse made in a round neckline high at the throat and a choker of white, single-strand beads. She wore open-toed strap slippers of the tushia shade to match the blouse. Her corsage was of deep red American beauty roses and baby breath tied with a bow of red ribbon.

After the ceremony a turkey dinner was served buffet style. Present at wedding dinner were Rev. and Mrs. J. K. Love, Messrs. Samuel L. Hunt, Henry Stratton, Evelyn Edwards, Berdie Lowe, George A. Watkins, and

A. Wheeler, the Misses Minnie Polk and Delores Frazier, and Messrs. Edward Bess and Samuel Allen.

The bride is a member of Mt. Zion Baptist church, and is a member of its Pastors' Aid. She is one of the Four Queens of Harmony. Russell is a brother of Mrs. Ula Russell Jolly, Muncie, and served with the armed forces in the South Pacific four years, having been discharged last February. The couple will live in Muncie.

James Talley, Detroit, is visiting his brother, Corney Talley, and was a dinner guest of Mrs. A. Sturgeon Sunday.

Joe Nears Top Form Sportwriters Agree

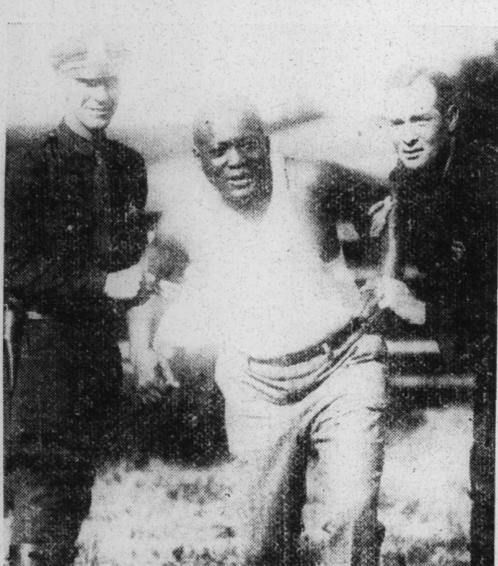

POMPTON LAKES, N. J. (N.N.P.A.)—Joe Louis straddled his staff before a select crowd of critics here last week and when the champion finished working it was generally agreed that the Brown Bomber is rapidly approaching peak form for the battle with Billy Conn June 19 at Yankee Stadium. A large group of boxing writers attended his sparring session. Louis has a staff of sparring partners far superior to Conn's. In Al Hoosman, Park Daniels, George Fitch and Jimmy Bell he has a quartet of workers considered topnight operators. And all give their best when they spar with the champion. As a result,ouis does not always shape up like a champion when inside the ropes with his spar mates; at least, he does not show too impressively in the minds of Conn adherents. They, of course, do not take into consideration the class of the sparring partners employed by the rivals. Louis was exceptionally alert against Hoosman and he did well with Daniels, who took one in the midriff that almost doubled him up. Louis is well satisfied with his condition. He admits he has grown in places, but points out that that is only natural. Louis threw his right hand more than he has been doing of late, but he did that probably to impress his onlookers. He has been nursing it—nursing it, perhaps, for the night of the 19th, when he most likely will cut it loose. The Hoosman session, which lasted only a round, was, as usual, a humdrum. Hoosman, under instructions to throw his left hand only, did so in a manner that might even make Conn look slow in comparison. Joe did not try to counter against Hoosman, contenting himself with evading as many of the Californian's thrusts as possible.

John Arthur Johnson, known to his friends as 'Lil' Artha' and to the sporting world as Jack Johnson, world's heavyweight boxing champion was by all honest and tried rules of the fight game the world's most able and skillful fighter but he paid a great penalty in violating "certain traditions of the land of his birth". 'Lil' Artha' was born at Galveston, Tex., March 31, 1878 and christened John Arthur Johnson. The onetime stevedore on the docks of Galveston who became the world's heavyweight boxing champion began his boxing career in 1899. His ring career lasted 29 years. He fought 109 major ring contests and exhibition bouts, won 69 of his decision bouts, including 29 by the "KO" route. He won the world's heavyweight title from Tommy Burns of Canada at Sydney Australia in 1908 in the 14th round when the police stopped the fight because Burns had been beaten to a pulp. Like Peter Jackson, another all-time great of the fistie ring and a black man born at Fredericksburg on St. Croix of the Virgin Islands, Johnson had the ability to stand in his track and dodge the most terrific and determined blows of his opponents. He would feint or lean and twist his head to dodge a head blow and draw in on twist his body to avoid the full force of a body blow. At the same time he would come back on his opponent with a shocking punch before the opponent was prepared to avoid it. The highlights of his boxing career include the bout with Tommy Burns at Sydney Australia Dec. 25, 1908, the bout with James Jeffries at Reno Nevada July 4, 1910 and the bout with Jess Willard at Havana Cuba April 16, 1915. Johnson defended his title five times in 1909 and about this time pressure was put on the former champion, James Jeffries to come back as a "white hope". He signed to fight Johnson. As the 15th round opened Johnson knocked Jeffries down with a left to his jaw. This was the first time that Jeffries had ever been knocked down. He rose at the count of ten to get the same blow in the same place. Jeffries went down again and was counted out. The bout with Jess Willard the claim "white hope" at Havana Cuba, April 5, 1915 will perhaps forever remain one of the marvels of the sporting world or fistiana. Sportswriters saw Johnson took a terrific beating, some observers have styled the fight a "big time" boxing or sparring match". Johnson was knocked out in the 26th round. Pictures of the fight show Johnson reclining on the ring, seemingly untroubled and shielding his face from the hot Cuban sun with his glove. Johnson never denied fully that the fight was fixed or that part of his end of the bargain was a light sentence for violation of the Mann Act. In 1911 he was convicted and sentenced to a year and a day in federal prison. He jumped bail while the case was pending, went to Canada and later to Europe and South America before returning to this country to face punishment for a crime in which the nature of his real guilt has been forever debated.

A NEW KING OF "FISTIANA" WAS MADE: Shown above is Jack Johnson and Tommy Burns, the time was Christmas Day, 1908, the place Rushcutter's Bay just outside Sydney, Australia. Fighting for the heavyweight championship of the world, Johnson gave the then highly rated Tommy Burns such a beating that police stopped the fight in the 14th round. (International News Photo)

"PINCHED FOR FOLLOWING HIS HOBBY, SPEEDING": Jack Johnson followed as one of his hobbies the driving of fast motor cars at high speed until the end came. In 1929 Orangeburgh, Pa. police arrested Johnson for alleged speeding as he was on the way to the training camp of Victorio Campolo, South American heavyweight "hope". The picture shown above was posed. (International News Photo)

JOE RATED EASY TO HIT BY 'ONE OF THE CONNS'

POMPTON LAKES, N. J. (N.N.P.A.)—Joe Louis, world heavyweight boxing champion, appeared last week in easy target to hit, according to Billy Conn's brother, Jackie, who made his comment after seeing the champion work over here with his sparring partners. Conn based his opinion of Joe's fighting ability on the success of Jimmy Bell, George Fitch, Al Hoosman and Park Daniels to hit him. Some observers agreed with Conn, claiming Joe had difficulty lifting his right arm and that his left hook does not dart furiously toward the foe as in former years. "He looked easy to hit," remarked Jackie after Louis' exhibition. Joe's sparring staff were reported to be giving him the same treatment he will face on June 19 at Yankee stadium when he meets Billy. They are making him solve the jabbing, hooking and cuffing problems he will face in defense of his crown. His physical condition is satisfactory to Marnie Scammon, his trainer, who added to his sparring six minutes of shadow boxing, bag punching, rope skipping, floor calisthenics and a stomach test, which included Joe exposing his stomach to a medicine ball thrown at four feet away by the giant George Nicholson. Conn has boxed 209 rounds to date and Joe 92. Latest reports reveal, Fight experts are making pro and con arguments on the champion's ability to weather the storm against Conn in the same fashion he did when they last met.

Louisville Pastor Addresses School

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — DOUGLASS and BANNECKER schools; Rev. Charles Owens, pastor of Hamilton Baptist church, addressed pupils, teachers, and parents of the 6A classes in opening exercises here last Monday morning. He emphasized several lessons for pupils and parents which would be necessary for full development of children in school and later life. 'GELLER'S'

(Cont. from Page 1, First Section) the Dreamland has been one of its most frequent "troublesome" spots. On November 4th, 1943 Max Geller was called into the office of chief of excise police, Ernest Minnicar, and told that numerous complaints had been coming about soldiers and other servicemen meeting and contacting women who transmitted venereal diseases to them. He was told at that time that it was a serious offense against the government and was warned about it. He was told that he stood a good chance of losing his license if he did not do something to correct this condition. Warned By A. B. C. Geller was told that if military authorities took action his license would be definitely revoked. He said that he would cooperate all he could. On March 1st, 1944, city police picked up Ruth Bailey, age 24, and Lucille Bailey, age 25, at Geller's Tavern and arrested them for vagrancy and examination. On June 28th, 1945 city police arrested John Campbell, age 31, on a charge of drunk and resisting arrest; On July 19, 1945, city police arrested Mary Stokes for vagrancy in Geller's tavern and later charged her with disorderly conduct; at the same time they also arrested Guy Scott, age 50, for disorderly conduct and Louise Dillon, age 25, for vagrancy and disorderly conduct, also Willard Coleman, disorderly conduct and sent him to City hospital for an examination. On October 3rd, 1945 city police called to Gellers on report of a disturbance, arrested Helen Frye, age 20, on a charge of drunk and vagrancy. In November, 1945, a sanitary inspection was made of the tavern by excise police and the following unsanitary conditions existed: 1, sufficient lavatory facilities were not available; 2, lavatory opened into the kitchen; 3, washing facilities not clean, soap and individual towel not provided; 4, notices prescribing the washing of employees' hands after contamination not posted; 5, floors, walls and ceiling dirty and in bad condition; 6, necessary 3 vats for washing dishes, mugs, etc., not available; 7, suitable receptacles equipped with tight-fitting lids for garbage, and refuse not available and finally, 8, beer coils had not been cleaned twice weekly. On December 20, 1945 city police went to Geller's tavern on report of an injured man and arrested Earl Middleton for being drunk; the next day the city police returned there and arrested Emma Cruise, age 26, on a charge of being drunk; later that same day in the same tavern police arrested Leslie Harding, age 24, for being drunk. On December 22, 1945 police answered the call that a disturbance was in progress at Geller's tavern. Reports at headquarters showed that a man, Roosevelt Anderson, age 40, stated that he had missed his billfold which contained from $41.00 to $50.00 after he had been with Emma Cruise, age 26, Leslie Harding, age 24, Marion Woodson, age 45 and Mary Duniver, age 40. All were arrested for being drunk and on vagrancy charges.

1946 Top Year for Offenses During the year 1946 hardly a month has passed without the police making a run to Geller's for some infraction of the law. On January 10, Helen Frye, age 25, was arrested there for being drunk; on January 12th, Doris Penick, age 25, was arrested there for vagrancy; on January 15th, police arrested Alberta Sparten, age 29, at Geller's on a charge of being drunk; on January 21st, police arrested Joseph Stront, age 66, on a charge of being drunk, and on January 22nd, police went there on report of a fight and found Dewey Walker, age 24, who had been struck in the head with a beer bottle. The police made no arrests although the man who struck Walker never left the tavern. On St. Valentine's Day state excise police made a routine check at Geller's Tavern and found over a dozen people milling around in the tavern. There were no other violations but on the 25th Max Geller was called in to the excise police headquarters and warned about people congregating in his place. Geller said that Negroes just had a natural habit of not wanting to sit down and that he had tried to get them to have them sit down but failed. He said that he would try again. This was an informal hearing. On April 6th, police and detectives made an investigation at

'CITY OF FEPC'

Continued From Page 1, 1st Sec.) could probably be provided. A final draft of the ordinance had not been completed as the Recorder went to press. Citizens Support Ordinance Strong support for the city FEPC ordinance was marshaled by a group of citizens headed by Sea Ferguson, which met at the Senate Avenue YMCA last Monday to discuss the ordinance and map strategy. This group recently held discussions with Milo Manley of Philadelphia, field representative of the National Council for a Permanent FEPC. The group had previously met with Representative Charles A. LaFollette of Evansville, nationally known for his fight on behalf of FEPC in the U. S. Congress. Besides Ferguson, who is temporary chairman, it was learned that the group includes F. E. DeFrantz, Willard Ransom, Walter Frisbie, Rev. R. T. Andrews, Rev. A. Calhoun, Miss Stevens, Rev. I. Bert Moore, Sanford Ramsey, Jerome B. Mance, Rufus Kuykendall, Miss Naomi Wortham, Mrs. Myrtle Roper, Robert W. Starns, Arthur Zinkin, Jr., and numerous others. Citizens Kuykendall, Mance the proposed ordinance, while subcommittee to aid in drafting and Ransom were named a legal Ramsey, Zinkin and Frisbie made up a publicity subcommittee. Geller's on report of a woman being cut. They arrested and took to City hospital Elizabeth Breedlove, age 24, who had a two-inch cut over her left eye. The woman who cut her was unknown and was never arrested. Mrs. Breedlove was charged with vagrancy but it was dismissed in court later on April 13th, police reported that Ernest Griffin, age 30, picked John Smith, age 37 in Geller's tavern and went to his apartment and the two of them drank a half-pint of whiskey. During an argument that followed, the police said, Smith stabbed Griffin.

Inspector Ordered Investigation On April 30th, Inspector of police, Donald F. Tooley, reported that he had received information that Louise Bowman, age 37, and Allynn Lyons, age 27, were soliciting soldiers and other men in this tavern, and ordered an investigation. That day a police team arrested these two women on a charge of vagrancy in Geller's. The same month Mary Moore, age 47, was arrested there for being a vagrant and drunkenness; on May 6th, police found Herbert Turner, age 48, with a 3-inch gash over his right eye in Geller's. He said for no reason some man named Chester cut him. He was never arrested. On the 10th of May Excise police made a routine check at Geller's and found no violation, but the next day they came back to Geller's and found miners in the place where alcoholic beverages were being sold. The officers also reported that the lavatory was unclean and in a bad state of sanitation. The floors were wet and there was wet paper on the floor. That same day city police went to the tavern and arrested a John Doe, and Thomas Pritchett, age 45, on a charge of being drunk. Before these latter arrests and investigation on the 10th and 11th a policeman had been cut as the result of a fracas at Geller's. While police were in the tavern on the 9th talking to Mrs. Geller a woman, Edna Redd, who had just finished serving a sentence, came in and Mrs. Geller told her to get out of her place. She started an argument and said that she would go on when she got ready. The police saw an open knife in Miss Redd's hands and told her to drop it but instead she ran out of the tavern and went west on North street. Police officers William Lee and William DeJarnette were seated in a squad car at North street, and Indiana avenue with a prisoner waiting for the wagon and saw Miss Redd. When officer DeJarnette tried to stop her she cut him across the head. She was finally stopped and arrested and charged with disorderly conduct, resisting arrest, and assault and battery. The last official report on Geller's Tavern was ironically in the owner's favor.

Messrs. and Mesdames Alphonse Nelson, Detroit, and Frank Tanzy, Mrs. Myrtle Draf, and Bobby Campbell were luncheon guests of Mrs. Mary L. Edwards last week. Mesdames Anna Sims and Jennie Harrod, Terre Haute, who attended the Indiana missionary convention this week, are guests of Mesdames J. S. A. Mitcham and A. Wright, 1915 N. Capitol ave.

STATE OF TENN.

Continued from Page 1—1st Sec. called for jury duty. Alexander Looby, chief defense counsel, told the court there were 3,000 Negroes in Maury County qualified for jury service. One of the witnesses called last week was Dan Legs, property owner. He declared he had never heard of a Negro serving on a jury here. Asked by the prosecutor if he had been "around the courthouse much," Legs replied that he had visited the building only to pay taxes. RITES HELD FOR TEACHER IN CITY SCHOOLS Funeral services for Mrs. Georgetta Boone Wharton, 2228 Highland pl., were held Tuesday June 11 in the chapel of Peoples Funeral home, conducted by Rev. R. H. Peoples. Burial was in Crown Hill cemetery. She died Saturday June 8, collapsing in a downtown business place. A native of the city of Indianapolis Mrs. Wharton was the daughter of Rev. Peter Boone, retired Baptist minister and Mrs. Eliza Bell Boone. She was a teacher in the city schools, having served in this capacity nearly 26 years. At the time of her death she was a teacher at School 56 and she had taught at Schools 19, 23 and 42. Mrs. Wharton was a graduate of Shortridge high school, Kalamazoo Normal college, Mich., and she had received a B.S. degree from Butler university. She was a charter member of the Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority and a member of the Second Christian church. Survivors include her husband Rufus Wharton, an adopted son, Cecil and three sisters, Miss Margaret Boone, Miss Edith Brown and Mrs. Roberta Brittain, Chicago.

CAHS Faculty Honors Dean

Dr. Russell A. Lane and members of the faculty at CAHS paid tribute to Mrs. Mary A. Johnson, retiring dean of girls, Tuesday in the school's cafeteria. A luncheon of chicken salad, gives, potato chips, crackers, apple pie a la mode, and coffee, was prepared by Mrs. Ethel Cox and her staff and served by the girls in Mrs. Simmons' food class. During the luncheon a medley of school day songs was played by Miss Emily Garrett. Tables were decorated with cut flowers and huckleberry with unique place cards made by Miss Ernestine Harvel. The light decorations made by Mrs. Willa Radloff's classes carried out the theme of "School Days and Teacher Days". Two large slates backed with ferns and palms carried the name of Dean Mary A. Johnson and 1911-1946 Reading, Rhythm, and Arithmetic. The program consisted of testimonials by those with whom Mrs. Johnson has worked closely. Mrs. Stella Walker spoke of her as a teacher; Mrs. Elizabeth Enix as a fellow worker; Dean Alexander Moore, Mrs. Lillian Hall, Miss Anna Stout, and Juliet D. Coleman as co-workers; Mrs. Ruth Cuthorne as a community worker; and Dr. Russell A. Lane as administrative sponsor. The faculty gift, a silver serving tray, was presented by Mrs. Anna Dawson. Rev. L. C. Whitley, pastor of Israelite Baptist church, is confined to his home, 532 N. Blackford st. Mrs. J. T. Highbaugh, who has been ill at her home two months, is much improved. Rev. A. L. Roach, pastor of Tabernacle Baptist church, is confined to his home, 810 N. West st.

Bus Jimcrow Ruling Hit Hard in Georgia

Ala. Negro Front

Hails Bus Travel Case As Notable Decision

By Emory O Jackson

BIRMINGHAM, (ANP) — Citizens here are "glad" that the United States Supreme court Monday outlawed interstate Jimcrow travel.

Atty. Charles V. Henley, grand master of the Alabama Masonic order which has over 36,000 members, commenting on the decision said:

"I'm glad it was made. It was right. It may stir up some but that will be all right."

"It satisfies me," asserted Chas. H. Nilon, commander of the Birmingham unit of the United Negro and Allied Veterans of America. He added, "I want to see what happens to Alabama."

New Day For America

Said W. H. Hollins, president of the Negro Business league, "After reading about the U. S. Supreme court decision outlawing Jimcrow in interstate travel, I saw a new day for America in developing her 13,000,000 citizens she has so long kept in second class citizenship."

Atty. Arthur D. Shores, president of the Progressive Democratic council: "This decision gives us a new hope and courage to continue our fight for first class citizenship."

Louis E. Burnham, of the Southern Negro Youth council saw it as "an essential step toward democratic unity which our nation needs today more than ever" and as "a body blow at the age-long oppression of Negroes."

C. J. Greene, district manager of the Atlanta Life Insurance company, called it "another landmark in the Negro's fight for first-class citizenship."

"A notable decision," remarked Dr. E. W. Taggart, member of the national board of the NAACP.

E. M. Murphy, state commander of the United Negro and Allied Veterans of America said it would have "far-reaching effect. I am proud of it," he said feelingly.

"They surely ought to bring this decision to Alabama," yelled L. C. Crews, machine shop worker.

Joyfully S. J. Bennett, district manager of the North Carolina Mutual Insurance company said, "It is revolutionary in our system."

Happy over the decision, Theodore Lawson, manager of Swank Fashions, reacted "We are heading in the right direction."

One of the leaders who had opposed Rule 718, the Rev. J. L. Ware, pastor of Trinity Baptist church, said "It is a step in the right direction. It should be far-reaching in its implications. I think that not only Negroes but all true Americans should approve it."

Rejoicing in the decision, Mrs. Belzora S. Ward, president of the City Federation of Colored Women's clubs exclaimed, "It is the nearest thing in making the constitution a reality and not a farce that has happened in the United States."

Alabama will have to revise its between-states travel laws to conform with this decision. I believe that the traveling public will accept the ruling sanely and American, at last seems to be breathing the spirit of democracy into its decision.

HOOSIERS AMONG NEGRO NAVAL CASUALTIES OF WORLD WAR II

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A total list of Negro casualties in the U. S. Navy during World War II was made public last week by the Navy Department.

The most widely known name on the list was that of Dorie Miller, Texas seaman who manned anti-aircraft gun during the attack on Pearl Harbor. Miller was awarded the Navy Cross. He later lost his life when his ship was torpedoed.

Names of Indiana men who died (or were missing) in Navy service, with the next of kin as listed in each man's service record are:

GARYITES SEEK PLACE ON CITY SCHOOL BOARD

GARY — The appointment of one of three Negro candidates to fill a forthcoming school board vacancy was sought last week by representatives of 37 civic and church organizations, meeting in First Baptist church.

Benjamin Wilson, and F. Lawrence Anderson, attorneys, and Howard Hill, a parole officer of the Lake County Welfare department, were chosen by ballot for the state to be presented to Mayor Joseph E. Finerty. The Mayor will be asked to choose one of the three.

Plans were made to circulate petitions seeking thousands of signatures in support of the desired appointment. Rev. L. C. Weddington, chairman of the meeting, said the petitions would be presented to Mayor Finerty in about two weeks.

The meeting, called by Joseph C. Chapman, Urban League executive secretary, was attended by 75 persons. Members of the Gary Ministerial Alliance, of which the Rev. Weddington is president, took a prominent part in the deliberations.

Mayor Told "Deliver" Mayor Finerty has been a frequent target of the Ministerial Alliance in recent months, in connection with gambling, vice conditions. It was declared at the meeting that the Mayor had promised Negro voters representation on the school board in exchange for their political support. With a vacancy in prospect July 31, it was said, now is the time for the Mayor to make good.

Of the three nominees, Wilson received the highest number of votes. He is a former president of the board of trustees of First Baptist church. During the war he served two years in the Washington office of the War Manpower Commission.

Anderson has been an attorney here for about 20 years. He is active in affairs of the Gary chapter NAACP.

Hill is reported to have the backing of local CIO unions.

The Cleveland Coloured Quintette recently appeared in Indianapolis for the "Youth For Christ Movement" at several white churches. All members are married and have been a singing group for the past twenty-five years. They have traveled extensively thru the United States and Europe. J. W. Parker, bass, is the uncle of Mrs. Lionel Artis and F. H. Lacy is a cousin of Mrs. Howard Filmore of this city. Some of the famous buildings in which the Quintette has appeared are: Salvation Temple, Riga in Batavia; King's Hall in Belfast, Ireland, and also in the dedicatory service at Abraham Lincoln's Monument in Fona Park, Oslo. They have dedicated their lives to bring Christ to the world in song and have published several song books.

Supreme Court Bus Jimcrow Ruling Arouses Ire of Dixie

WASHINGTON, (ANP) — Last week's supreme court decision outlawing segregation of colored and white passengers on interstate buses found the south generally reacting true to tradition. There was much scoffing, criticism, and general derision of the ruling.

In Alabama, Gov. Chauncey Sparks held forth on the states' rights issue. The human rights element was given no consideration. The governor pronounced the court ruling "entirely unrealistic," and said it would serve only as "fertilizer for the Ku Klux Klan."

"Leading Negroes of the south will not differ from this position," the governor observed. "The races," he added, "must be developed in their own spheres, absolute segregation and independent racial development with equal opportunities, it conflict is to be avoided."

The supreme court ruling is only an effort to "inflict social equality on the south," Sparks continued, and concluded:

"I think the people who promote this kind of stuff are not realists. Never in history have any two races which are diametrically opposite, like the white and black or the white man and the Indian, ever gotten along except by independent association."

Southern public service commission officials in most instances withheld comment on interstate aspects of the ruling, but were in agreement that state laws would continue to enforce segregation in intrastate transportation. Clayton Coleman, acting secretary of the U. S. State Public Service commission, asserted:

"I can tell you that Louisiana's laws of segregation in buses in interstate transportation will continue to be enforced."

Rep. John Rankin (Dem., Miss.), the Negro-hating congressman, suggested there might be a move to impeach members of the supreme court.

NEW POST OF VFW FORMED AT FT. WAYNE

FORT WAYNE — Rudy Grover has been named commander of the newly organized Fort Wayne Post of colored Veterans of Foreign Wars, it was announced last week. Establishment of the post was directed by Fred Rice, Fourth District Commander, VFW.

Officers for the coming year chosen at the two-day conference included Dr. James E. Smith, E. Chicago, president; Dr. A. C. Payne, East Chicago, president-elect (to serve as president the following year); Dr. D. A. Bethoa, Hammond, secretary, and Dr. C. R. Wood, Gary, treasurer. Dr. Hardy H. Stoner of Indianapolis was named a member of the executive committee, and Dr. E. D. Molen, Indianapolis, a member of the scholarship committee.

Dr. J. F. Berry, Indianapolis, was the outgoing president. A public meeting, held at Gallie Baptist church in conjunction with the conference was addressed by Dr. D. T. Roife, head of the department of physiology and pharmacology at McHenry Medical college, Nashville, Tenn.

Dr. H. N. Middleton of Indianapolis was among those who presented scientific papers before a session of the physicians. Dr. A. S. King, Indianapolis, conducted a program for dentists affiliated with the organization.

Next year's conference will be held at Terre Haute, with Dr. J. Hoover and Dr. D. A. Hoover, who are father and son, acting as hosts.

GARY LEGION POST GIVES $1,600 SCHOLARSHIP

GARY — An award of $1,600 toward his schooling will be presented to Maurice D. Bean, Roosevelt high school graduate, by Calumet Post No. 99 of the American Legion. It was announced last week. The award is in recognition of the youth's outstanding oratorical ability.

Bean, a 17-year-old honor graduate of Roosevelt, won the city, zone, district and state meets of the American Legion oratorical contest this year. He spoke on "The Constitution — A Barrier Against Tyranny."

He plans to enter Howard university, Washington, D. C., this fall to study law.

BUS JIMCROW RULING AVOIDS BASIC ISSUE, WDL CHARGES

NEW YORK CITY—The ruling by the U. S. Supreme Court that Jimcrow on buses in interstate transportation is unconstitutional because it is an undue burden on interstate commerce sidesteps the basic question of racial equality and leaves the way open for innumerable lawsuits before the right of a Negro to ride unmolested is conceded in the South. So stated Morris Milgram, National Secretary of the Workers Defense League.

"Great as this decision is in extending the legal recognition of the inequality of segregation, it is based entirely on commercial grounds," Milgram said. "The question of the binding force of the United Nations charter, raised by the WDL, was apparently avoided by Justice Reed's determination that the question of racial equality was not before the court. Justice Burton's lone dissent confirms the opinion expressed by the League at the time of his appointment that his Senate record showed him to be reactionary."

The WDL brief filed in the case cited Article 56 and 55c of the United Nations charter which provide that all members pledge themselves to promote "universal respect for, and observance of, human rights and fundamental freedoms for all without distinction as to race, sex, language or religion." Harold A. Stevens, WDL attorney, had urged that even if the pledge be held merely a statement of national policy it would still preclude the application of inconsistent state statutes affecting interstate commerce. The court did not rule on this aspect of the case.

EVANSVILLE MAN CONVICTED OF MURDER WINS NEW TRIAL

In a "liberalizing" decision which paralleled national equal-rights developments, the Indiana Supreme Court on Monday ordered a new trial for Eugene Dixon of Evansville, on the grounds of race discrimination in selecting the jury. Dixon was convicted Jan. 10, 1945 of the murder of Raymond McSwain, which took place Jan. 21, 1944. He was sentenced to life imprisonment, but challenged the verdict on the grounds that Vanderburgh County jury commissioners had discriminated against members of his race when calling prospective jurors.

Dixon's attorneys, Lockyear and Lockyear of Evansville, cited the fact that there was no Negro in the panel called for jury duty. Bringing out the proportion of Negroes in Vanderburgh County's population, they charged that the jury was not selected according to law and that Dixon's constitutional rights had been violated.

The lower court overruled Dixon's challenge, but the Supreme Court reversed the decision and ordered a new trial.

"We are convinced," wrote Judge Frank E. Gilkison in the Supreme Court opinion, "that the (lower) court's ruling is in conflict with . . . the 14th Amendment to the Federal Constitution . . . and that this ruling deprived the appellant of his liberty without due process of law and denied him equal protection of the laws."

During the trial, former bailiffs and clerks of the lower court testified that no Negro had been called for jury duty in at least 12 years. One special deputy said he was sent to summon one Negro for jury duty, but learned that the man was dead.

FULTON COUNTY, GA. CITIZENS REGISTER TO VOTE ATLANTA (ANP)—The official revised list of registered voters of Fulton County released by Registrar Howard Mashburn indicates that there are 24,137 registered Negroes, of which number 21,244 live in Atlanta.

Va. Railroads Ponder Bus Jimcrow Ruling

RICHMOND, Va. (ANPA)—Railroads operating through Richmond were continuing to segregate white and colored passengers in separate cars, and representatives of two roads said they did not believe the Supreme Court decision on June 3 in the bus segregation case would apply to train travel.

C. L. Toney, division passenger agent for the Southern Railway, exhibited a company news bulletin which quoted the court's opinion along with a statement that the action does not affect the railroads. Mr. Toney said his office was continuing to sell tickets to colored persons only for space on cars reserved for them.

"We're selling tickets here just as we've been doing for 30 years," he declared.

"Seaboard Undecided" An official of the Seaboard Air Line Railroad in Norfolk said his line provides separate accommodations for colored passengers and that the company does not feel obligated to change this practice as a result of the Supreme Court's ruling outlawing segregation on buses when colored passengers are traveling interstate.

A spokesman for Virginia Trailways, which operates buses out of its terminal at Ninth and Broad Streets, said he had noticed no change as to seating on buses. He said colored passengers still were taking the rear seats and that he had not heard of a single instance in which a colored passenger "tried to sit up front." He said the company will, of course, abide by the law and allow colored persons in interstate travel to sit wherever they wish.

Passengers on Richmond Greyhound buses will be permitted to select any seat they wish, C. L. Major, president and general manager of the lines, announced last Wednesday following study of the Supreme Court decision.

After conferences with Richmond and Washington attorneys, Mr. Major said: "We obtained a copy of the decision and as we interpret it, the decision affects any bus crossing a State line. Since any bus we operate crosses some State line, we are going to comply fully with the Supreme Court decision."

Mr. Major said that it "simply means that Richmond Greyhound will allow passengers to select any seat they want when they board the bus."

Asked if there would be any attempts to segregate colored and white intrastate passengers, Mr. Major replied, "The company will not try to distinguish between interstate and intrastate passengers."

State Officials Silent The Supreme Court held invalid the Virginia statute on the ground that it is a burden on interstate commerce. No State officials have commented as to whether in their opinion the entire statute is ruled out, including provisions affecting intrastate travel.

At local bus stations, colored passengers apparently have continued the practice of taking rear seats. When the Supreme Court's decision was announced, A. P. Stables, Virginia's Attorney General, expressed the informal opinion that it would apply to railroads as well as to buses.

Spottswood Robinson, III, attorney in the case before the Supreme Court, told the Richmond branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People Wednesday night that "it appears without a doubt" the court's ruling will apply to railroad and steamboat travel.

Ex-Gov. Talmadge Excites Race Hate On U.S. Court Decision

GARY GIRL, AGE 17, FREED AS STATE WITNESS

GARY — Miss Bolitha Jackson, 17, of East Chicago, was given a 10 to 20-year suspended sentence by Judge William J. Murray last week in a case growing out of the alleged robbery-murder a year ago of William Grady, white, of East Chicago.

Miss Jackson pleaded guilty to robbery-murder and fired the two shots that killed Grady.

Miss McCoy was recently convicted of first-degree murder in Valparaiso Circuit Court and sentenced to the Indiana Women's Prison for life. Deputy Prosecutor Floyd Vance said that without the testimony of Miss Jackson, Miss McCoy could not have been convicted. He requested the court to suspend Miss Jackson's sentence.

Grady was found dead in his automobile on June 2, 1945. A few days later Miss Jackson and Miss McCoy were seized by Detroit police, and allegedly confessed the murder and robbery of $23. The young women agreed that Grady picked them up and drove to a secluded spot for a drinking party. They differed as to details of the shooting.

GRAND JURY TO PROBE VICE, CRIME IN GARY

GARY — Convening of the Lake County grand jury at Crown Point, to begin an investigation of alleged vice and gambling conditions in Gary, will take place June 20, it was announced last week by the county prosecutor, John E. Roszkowski.

The probe was scheduled to get under way June 6, but was postponed because of the illness of a juror, Roszkowski said.

Only one day has been set aside for the vice and gambling probe, the prosecutor averred. However, he said, more time will be allotted "if necessary."

The Gary Ministerial Alliance, which has vigorously pressed the anti-gambling crusade, is scheduled to appear before the grand jury with evidence to back up its charges. The alliance, headed by Rev. L. C. Weddington, has charged that there is gambling in at least 40 places in Gary.

Talmadge charged the supreme court purchase of new tickets to continue their travel.

Turning to a group of reporters seated on steps of the Barrow County courthouse, Talmadge said: "Now here's something that will burn your papers up. Now get this:

"If I'm your governor there won't be any interstate bus travel in Georgia. To ride through Georgia a passenger will have to buy a ticket 50 feet inside the state line. If he's going to Florida he'll have to get off 50 feet from the Florida line and buy another ticket. There won't be any mixing of the races. White people and Negroes won't have to ride together."

MORAL GIANTISM
Giantism and dwarfism are biological characteristics strikingly illustrated in our population. Somewhere between these extremes, Mother Nature places most of her children; for the dear old mother deals harshly with deviates from the average. As with biological giantism and dwarfism so with the moral manifestations of these qualities we categorize them on every hand. For quite a few years this column has emphasized the need for more moral courage in race relations.

to lose a major battle, although he is always holding an advanced position. If a corresponding strong Negro leadership rises to match such leadership as Arnall and Lillian Smith are giving the south, we are going to head into a more secure course in race relations.

Now comes the latest decision that must challenge the Negroes to renewed efforts to help themselves by utilizing every opportunity to exercise the rights of suffrage. Supreme court decisions are empty things unless Negroes are going to rise to the occasion and accult themselves like men. With the supreme court paving the way in Washington and with Gov. Ellis Arnall blazing a new highway in the South, it seems that after all, the Negro is on the advance.

It was in recognition of this new South with its new spirit that gave rise to the Southern Regional Council. From the beginning it was contended that Negroes of the south should in an organized way seek to capitalize this growing liberalism in the south for in the last analysis if the advance is to come, it must come through the liberalism of the south, for Washington has on too many occasions ingloriously failed to do anything that would offend the south.

The supreme court alone poses an exception to this statement. The most remarkable thing about this whole matter is the pronounced absence of any stiff opposition to Arnall's advanced program, thus proving that this column has long contended that the south could go farther and faster than it was going. The south today is more ready for advance than is generally believed. It is uniting on a leadership of moral giants where too often pygmies are holding the fort.

The extent to which the younger generation can be brought into the picture is the extent to which the advance can be accelerated. When Arnall secured the suffrage of the 18-year olds he was making his most substantial stride; for it is among these that the hopes of advances are brightest. A few more moral giants among the whites who dare to be called "Negro-lovers" and a few more Negroes who dare to be called "Uncle Toms" to cooperate with them, will hasten a brighter day in race relations in the south and nation. More moral giants, white and Negro!

A NEW CITY (PARK) RECREATION AREA

The City Park Board took steps last week toward development of a new recreation area in the near Northwest section. The site is reported to include about 100 acres between Tenth street and Sixteenth street, extending east from Fall Creek to West street. The board was scheduled to open negotiations this week for the purchase of the area.

The proposed new recreation area is adjacent to the area in which the City Redevelopment Commission plans what has been styled as a "unique slum clearance program". The over-all project or its development has been the subject of discordant speculations since its first inception.

However the redevelopment of slum areas must be confronted in keeping with the growth of a city inhabited by people of marked civic pride or a community of appreciable homes above the classifications to be found generally.

Again a recreation area for all citizens of the several communities adjacent to the slum clearance project is a forward step in promotion of both civic consciousness and improvement. In the latter connection the city administration is slowly removing blighted areas from around one of the major hospital centers of the nation, in this instance including the City hospital, the Robert W. Long hospital, the Coleman hospital and the Riley hospital.

NATIONAL NEGRO CONGRESS' HISTORIC APPEAL

The 10th anniversary convention of the National Negro Congress, held in Detroit last week, appears to have marked one of those great milestones or turning-points in human affairs which occur only at intervals of many years. The opinion can be advanced that the gathering was one of the most significant events in the United States since the Reconstruction Era.

The breath-taking, grand achievement of the NNC parley was its appeal to the United Nations for relief from racial oppression in the U. S. Addressing itself to Trygve Lie, secretary-general of the United Nations, the congress asked that "full freedom and absolute equality and relief from oppression" be granted to "13,000,000 Negroes of the United States".

Action of the United Nations to remedy the situation was urged under Article 71 of the UN charter, which permits minorities to ask assistance for prevention of discrimination "on the ground of race".

This bold appeal placed the problem of the American Negro in the very center of the world stage, where it can no longer be hidden from the eyes of the people of the earth. Moreover, the appeal put the American Negro's problem, for the first time in many decades, in the proper perspective. As pointed out in the address to the convention of M. Fazal Elahi Qurban, representing the All-India Trade Union Congress, the problem of the American Negro people and that of the people of India are essentially the same. Both the American Negroes and the Indian people are held in bondage by imperialist powers, despite the fact that the Negro people live within the United States, while India is thousands of miles from its oppressor, Britain.

The National Negro Congress action thus will rally the support of hundreds of millions throughout the world to the cause of the American Negro.

The move is also a sharp and strong blow for peace. It reveals as in a flash the hypocrisy of "South Carolina Jimmy" Byrnes in his crocodile tears for "the rights of small nations." It exposes that the motive of Byrnes is not "preservation of democracy," but domination of the globe.

All truly democratic people will thus give heartfelt thanks that the National Negro Congress has proved itself worthy of this hour, has moved squarely onto the broad highway of freedom, and is proceeding full steam ahead!

SECOND-CLASS TRAVEL ON FIRST-CLASS FARE

The foundation of the Southland's infamous travel laws under which some citizens must travel second-class while obligated to pay first-class fare was shocked, last week to the extent that these may disappear in our own times.

The United States Supreme Court in an historical decision declared unconstitutional the statute of the state of Virginia which requires segregation of Negro and white passengers of motor buses (interstate passengers.) In reversing the Virginia court, the Supreme Court ruled that the Virginia segregation law imposed an undue burden on interstate commerce.

The court adopted the principles that state legislation is invalid if it unduly burdens "commerce in matters where uniformity is necessary—necessary in the constitutional sense in accomplishing a permitted purpose".

The decision is significant and far reaching in that a precedent has been set wherein the highest judicial tribunal of the land has recognized that citizens traveling over the land and paying first-class fare may not be obligated by law or otherwise to use second-class accommodations. The precedent is "the thing" and real justice or fair play are slowly overshadowing "empty symbolism", here, where the Founding Fathers of this Republic declared that "all men are entitled to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness".

BETTER U. S. HOUSING TO MAKE BETTER HUMAN BEINGS

Speaking recently before the annual meeting of the Architects' Institute of America, Philip M. Klutznick, Commissioner of the Federal Public Housing Authority said, "we cannot forever more relegate our citizenry to the inadequacy of unplanned, haphazardly constructed dwelling units in utter disregard of the needs of people and their children in the homes they live in".

Mr. Klutznick pointed to the thirty states with public housing enabling legislation and seventeen states that have already provided special urban redevelopment laws as concrete testimony to "the people's determination that America shall be rebuilt, not alone by expansion, but by sensible reclamation as well". Further he advised that "all racial and religious groups, as well as all brackets of family income must be given equal and fair treatment as the nation rebuilds and expands its housing".

Assuming that the views of Mr. Klutznick are included in a general way in the program of the Federal Public Housing Authority, the issue of decent shelter for the masses of people of the world's wealthiest nation must be solved in a wise and honest course of making better human beings against "the things to come" in the small world of tomorrow.

Booker T. Washington who was recently elected to the Hall of Fame was a man of whom it might truthfully be said, "he had a single idea in which he fervently and passionately believed". With his deep instinct and unerring foresight, he saw that the land offered the truest salvation to his people, and he dedicated his life to teaching the skills that would enable them to reap an increasingly richer harvest of independence and self-respect. Today, with the emphasis on urbanity and culture, there are many who would disclaim his distinction as the greatest Negro educator in history.

Whatever your opinion of Booker T. Washington, you cannot disagree with the truth of his philosophy that it is the duty of every man to learn to be better than he is. There are too many of us who are temperamentally and physically unsuited for the vigorous life in the land, and yet, most of us who elect to live the life in the big cities are proving daily that we are temperamentally and physically unsuited for the problems we must face.

By the standards with which we measure, city life is the highest form of existence, yet the lowest evidences of human behavior come from the cities. Admittedly the conveniences that make living seem comparatively like a sojourn in Paradise, abound in the cities, but then the most horrible examples of our concealed barbaric tendencies also show up greatest in the cities. Perhaps, at the expense of over-simplification, it can be said that the greatest single difference between the civilized and uncivilized areas is that in the cities, more people crowd together in less space than is the case in strictly rural areas.

What Booker T. Washington taught had its limitations. It presupposed a race of people who would have to work their way up from the bottom, and he sought to prepare them to provide for themselves the things they would immediately need. For a time he was successful in proving that there is dignity in hard work, and Negro farmers sought eagerly to learn the tricks and the skills that would give them a greater yield.

As other generations came on the scene, the influence of Booker T. Washington was lost as the white youth went away from it all seized young southern Negroes. Because the communities in which they lived didn't give a damn whether they could read or write their own names, they felt that they didn't have any responsibility in the matter either. As a consequence, many of them came to the big cities of the north with no better equipment than a grudge against white folks and a determination to get by without struggling too hard in the process.

It would probably be well to state here that there is a place in the big cities for all types of people, and that the poor and the damned are in most of them in abundance. It is true that a man can find his niche with no higher ability than that of a hoochback, a hoochy or a flunky, but it is also true that there is a place for men who are lawyers and doctors, radio mechanics, writers, teachers and gardeners. It does appear that there is more dignity and profit in the latter category.

Some of the people who make it a practice to study such things feel that the incidence of juvenile delinquency in some of our larger cities is due to the neglect of education for Negro youth. They point out that because Negro youth do not have educational advantages in the south, they are unprepared for and are frustrated by life in the city. Domestic Relations Court Justice Hubert T. Delany used the figures gathered in nine southern states to point out recently that the educational expenditures for the education of a white child is 212 percent greater than those made for Negro children.

This disparity, Justice Delany said, "robs not only the Negro child but the whole country." It would seem then, that when the forces of prejudice and greed in the south are in doing illiteracy and low educational standards for Negroes, they are undermining the very foundation of the nation which they profess to love. How much the Negroes in the South can do to help themselves is questionable, the South being what it is, but there is certainly something. However much we dislike criticism, we must admit that it is getting a little sickening to realize that Negro youth are committing serious crimes, and in too many cases, the youth have come from the South more or less recently and did not have much schooling. A boy who has been trained to direct his mind and energy into a channel that is both profitable and interesting to him is less likely to get into serious trouble than is the boy who has been taught only to brood over the injustice that has robbed him and his kind of their rightful opportunities.

Capitol Spotlight

By LOUIS LAUTER For the NNPA News Service

Chalk up another brilliant victory for the legal division of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. The decision it won in the Virginia Jim Crow case is bound to have an important impact upon race segregation wherever it is practiced.

But at the same time score a misuse against the Washington Bureaus of the NAACP—the lobbying unit of that organization—in the fight against the discriminatory practices of the United States Employment Service.

It appears that in 1944 the NAACP protested to Paul F. McNutt, governor of the Philippines, who was then chairman of the War Manpower Commission and had supervision of the USES, against the segregation of workers on the basis of race in the District of Columbia Employment Center.

In reply, McNutt referred to the secret agreement allegedly made in 1941 or 1942 between members of the House Appropriations Committee and heads of the D. C. Employment Center and stated that if the Employment Center operated on other than a segregated basis no appropriations would be made for its further operation. There is nothing in the record to show that the NAACP took issue with McNutt, although Executive order 8802, in effect at the time, prohibited race or religious discrimination in employment in government and war industries. Nor is there anything to show that from September 2, 1944, the date of McNutt's letter, to May 23, last, the NAACP took any action to stop the discriminatory practices of the USES which have become nationwide.

Meanwhile, in last November, Representative Adam C. Powell, Democrat, of New York, asked Secretary of Labor Lewis B. Schwellenbach, under whose supervision the USES now comes, to investigate the charge made by George W. Crockett, of Detroit, who at the time was executive director of the United Automobile Workers (CIO), that the Michigan office of USES was accepting and servicing hiring orders requisitioning "white males" only.

In March, upon the complaint of the United Federal Workers of America, now the United Public Workers of America (CIO), the Civil Service Commission investigated charges that the local USES office was maintaining separate files for white and colored workers, segregating job applicants according to race, and referring workers to jobs on the basis of race preference of employers.

The commission found not only that those charges were true but that the local USES office was referring job applicants to federal agencies here on the basis of race.

In April, William F. King, of 633 K street southeast, was hit over the head with a black-jack by a guard at the local USES office because he refused to get into a Jim Crow line for job applicants; he was arrested, charged with disorderly conduct and fined $5 by Municipal Court Judge Thomas D. Quinn.

Representative Ellis E. Patterson, Democrat, of California, charged that the USES office in Los Angeles had in one of its windows a sign, "For White Applicants Only." The Southern Patriot, published by the Southern Conference for Human Welfare, reported that "At the USES, in Birmingham, which has no Negroes on its staff, a Negro veteran with two masters' degrees, who had taught aviation mechanics and meteorology, was offered a job as a janitor."

Mrs. Agnes E. Meyer, wife of the publisher of the Washington Post, wrote about the Memphis office as follows: "One brave Negro wanted to be quoted as saying 'The Negroes of Memphis to a man—and a woman—hate John J. Guinazzo, head of the Negro USES, because he has racial attitudes that unfit him for his post."

"The Negroes center their hate on Mr. Guinazzo because like Mr. Crump he rules with an iron hand. He has been known to have Negroes tossed into the street for not removing their hats the moment they enter the door. In spite of his services to the unskilled, he is the symbol of the Negro's spiritual, moral and political isolation, his frustration and his utter defenselessness."

"They want a new head for the USES and a complete Negro staff of experienced workers. Yet such a staff would be up against the same problem—that the Crump machine is determined to 'keep the Negro in his place.'"

At the USES office in Anniston, Alabama, colored job applicants are rudely informed that if they wish to be referred to jobs they must enter through the back door.

The NNPA News Service has explored all of these complaints. It has continually brought them to the attention of Labor Department and USES officials. It was continually asked to lay off the story because USES appropriations might be jeopardized. But it kept publicizing the unpleasant facts.

Finally roused from his lethargy, Leslie Perry, legislative representative of the NAACP, sent a telegram on May 23 to reactionary Representative Butler B. Hare, Democrat, of South Carolina, chairman of the House appropriations subcommittee handling the Labor Department-Federal Security appropriation bill, urging him and the committee to direct the head of USES to take immediate steps to abolish Jim Crow practices in the local USES office.

All of the complaints against USES are administrative matters which Secretary Schwellenbach can correct. He has no authority to direct the USES to do anything, in asking Hare to issue orders to the USES. Perry is simply shifting responsibility from Secretary Schwellenbach and Bob Goodwin, head of the USES, to the House appropriations committee, which USES officials want done.

Labor View

By GEORGE F. MCRAY For ANP

LABOR CAN BE PUSHED TOO FAR

At the moment President Truman is trying to decide whether to sign or to veto the Case bill which congress passed last week. Organized management and industry are insisting that the President sign on the dotted line. Labor is bitter in its denunciation of both the legislation and the congressmen who voted for it. Nothing in recent years has come so close to uniting the CIO, the AFL, and the railroad brotherhoods as have the Case bill and Mr. Truman's misguided labor draft proposals.

The Case bill if signed by Mr. Truman would:

- 1. Create a federal mediation board with which employers and unions would be forced to cooperate though neither party would be required to accept the findings of the board.
2. Force unions to wait a maximum of 60 days before calling a strike.

- 3. Deny to workers found guilty of violating union contracts the benefits of the National Labor Relations act.
4. Outlaw recognition of foremen's unions.

- 5. Permit damage suits for violations of contracts, negotiated through collective bargaining, and restore the injunction in labor disputes.

- 6. Prevent payments by an employer to a union except for check-off dues, welfare funds, and back wages.
7. Make "extortion" in labor disputes a felony or crime.
8. Forbids secondary boycotts.

In every sense this is an anti-labor bill. Its main purpose is to harass and to intimidate the unions and their membership by making local union members and officials fearful of violating "the law" and by keeping the unions tied up in endless law suits. The language of the law is so broad and general as to invite labor strife and disputes rather than aid settling of labor management differences.

At the moment employers are complaining of the lack of democracy in trade unions. Personnel managers have been insisting that collective bargaining should be decentralized so that local union officials and plant managements could negotiate contracts based to a greater extent on local conditions. The Case bill would make such a thing impossible. For no union is going to place much authority in the hands of local union officials if such authority is to become the basis of tying up funds for the whole union in law suits. It is not hard for a plant superintendent or employer to go to a union steward and into a strike.

Fundamentally what we have in the Case bill is a futile effort to preserve American democracy as we have known it in the past. In all countries whether industrialized or not, a crisis in democracy develops whenever workers organize and act as a unit. Instead of making the democratic adjustments which the new situation requires, that is by increasing the share of the common man in the national income, repressive measures are adopted.

This happened in Germany,

Italy, Spain and Japan. It came pretty close to happening in England in 1927 when a government dominated by business sought to break the power of labor by passing a labor dispute act which outlawed the general strike, and union contributions to political parties. Today a labor government runs England and private enterprise is being destroyed in such vital industries like banking, coal mining, steel, and railroad transportation. It is democracy but with less freedom of enterprise in economic matters.

Something such as happened in England could easily happen in the United States. If the Case bill becomes law, additions are certain to be made to its objectionable features in the immediate future. The labor movement, now split into four warring factions, will be driven into closer unity. If not for purpose of bargaining, certainly for political action. American business would not like that for private enterprise would then face a fight for existence.

THE AVENUE

THE AVENUE IS STEAMING and rightly so—FOR 'TIS SAID that your HONORABLE MARION COUNTY LIQUOR BOARD came up with a split decision Monday on Max Geller's (Geller's Tavern) renewal application of his tavern license at 421 West North Street. . . . It was a split decision — Robert Allison and Tony Flack (Democrats) voted for renewal of the license while Charles Meischke and Robert S. Smith (Republicans) voted against the renewal. The case will be referred to the ABC for action. Smith, pres. of the board, said the place "has a three-page record for violations with the ABC." The Oriental was closed with a less shady record by the county board. The case never got to the state board. We are watching this case to see whether or not the Oriental was made the goat. If so, watch the fireworks fly. It seems to us to be a determined effort to rid the Avenue of all whiskey outlets controlled or operated by Democrats, proving once again that Politics is very much tied into the whiskey and beer bizness.

Jack Lad'In, owner of Jack's Liquor Store No. 1, 778 Indiana, charged this week that he was "threatened with a squeeze play" by another politically known liquor dealer in an attempted shakedown for a "piece" of his lucrative Avenue spot. It looks like some fireworks are promised in the none too distant future. Whatta you say, pal? . . . Our good friend Representative Louis Laddow is ill with pneumonia. His many colored Hoosier friends hope for him a very speedy recovery. The daily papers have been hinting that Chief of Police Jesse McMurtry will be replaced. This humble writer beseech the powers-that-be to retain the good chief in office. As far as we can see the gentleman is doing a bang-up job. . . . One of our best friends Lucky Lewis, former Recorder lynchtype operator, was in the city last week to attend the funeral of his niece, Mrs. Jennette Montgomery, which was held last Friday from the Peoples Funeral home. Mr. Lewis left Sunday morning for Detroit, Mich., where he is top operator on the Detroit Tribune. . . . Another one of our good friends, Richard Warren, former Recorder operator, returned this week from Tuskegee, Ala., where he had been a teacher-instructor in the school's printing department.

Pretty Mrs. Grace Glenn Johnson, former chirp artist at local nite spots is in town visiting her relatives and friends.

GRACE GLENN JOHNSON

Mrs. Johnson is now living in Buffalo, N. Y., where she has resided with her husband for the past six years. Before going to New York state, Mrs. Johnson is now living in songstress in local nite spots. Because of her wonderful voice, her friends predicted a great future for her. On her return to the city, she was swamped with requests to do guest numbers at certain brighteries. Last Wednesday nite, she obliged her friends with several vocal selections at Ruby's 440 Club. The house went wild and acclaimed Mrs. Johnson as one of the finest singers ever produced in Naptown. Grace will return to Buffalo in time to arrange several parties for her Hoosier friends who expect to attend the Elks' convention there in August. . . . James (Jimmie) Payne wants his many friends to know that he's in the Upholstering bizz at 146 Blackford street. The shop specializes in slip covers, and buys and sells all kinds of furniture. All work is guaranteed, and all work delivered in 7 days. When in need of this type of service, be sure and call Payne's Upholstery Shop, 111. 0057, James Payne, proprietor.

WESLEY O. (Baseball) Jackson promises a lotta action out at Victory Field Sunday nite, when the famous House of (ofay) David tackles The Cincinnati Crescents under the lights. Mr. Jackson is doing a wonderful job and is considered one of the best men in the biz, aside from being the youngest promoter in organized baseball. . . . Businessman John Matthews, captain of Indiana 104, lodge of Elks degree team, has on tap a mammoth picnic for 4th of July at Birdwell's Farm. . . . A capacity crowd is expected. The general public is cordially invited. Jackie and Sonny's swellegant Sky Club continues to jump nite and politely. The boys are really bringin' in good first class entertainment. All they need, like the other clubs, is more patronage. They would love for Naptown's colored gentry to give them a break. Why sit home and moan the fact that you have no where to take your friends when the gentleman will want to run for a bigger job. IT'S FOUR NINE CLUBS, good enough to take anybody. Give these men a break, and stop saying that you hope they make a Go of it. They can't make a Go of it unless you condescend to bring your friends around sometimes. Amen. . . .

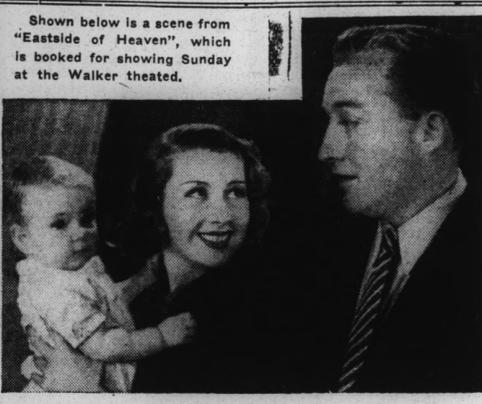

REPRESENTATIVE GERALD LANDIS of Indiana neither spoke on the subject of investigating the KKK (Ku Klux Klan) when it came up before the House Un-American Committee nor did he register any opposition to dropping the probe. His VOTE might have swung the BALANCE, according to Drew Pearson's column in Tuesday's Star. . . . Thought you folks in his district would like to know. You can never tell when the gentleman will want to run for bigger job. It's best that we keep the record straight. Don't you think so? . . . EUGENE DIXON of Evansville won a new trial Monday when the Indiana Supreme Court found that Vanderburgh County jury discriminated against members of his race when calling prospective jurors. Dixon had been found guilty of the murder of Raymond McSwain, and was convicted January 10, 1945, of the murder which occurred January 21, 1944. He was sentenced to life in prison. See complete story elsewhere.

AT LONG LAST THE CITY PARK board has plans for a new $125,000 100-acre public park and recreation area to be located in the area bounded by North West, 10th and 16th Streets and Fall Creek. Paul V. Brown, city parks and recreation director, said a gravel pit which the park department intends to develop into a lake for boating and aquatic sports comprises about half of the acreage. This is a good deal, and Mr. Brown and the school board should get together on a stadium for Attucks High. We hope Mr. Lane okays this proposition.

"Romance on the Beat", is the all Negro flicker which starts Tuesday at the Park theater.

Shown below is a scene from "Eastside of Heaven", which is booked for showing Sunday at the Walker theater.

"Eastside of Heaven" at Walker Sun.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week will find "Stormy Weather" heading the bill with Cab Calloway, Luscious Lena Horne and Bill "Bojangles" Robinson taking top honors among the stars at the Walker. The picture is great and was brought back because it's a great cinema attraction and one you cannot afford to miss. Also on the card is "Blonde From Brooklyn" with Lynn Merrick in the starring role. Extra feature for Saturday is "Lost City of the Jungle".

Opening Sunday is "Eastside of Heaven" starring Bing Crosby, Joan Blondell and Mischa Auer. Backing up the bill is "Girls of the Big House" with Lynn Roberts and Richard Powers in a daring expose of modern youth. Remember it's always cool at the Walker, Park and Lido theaters. Here you will find just the spot to spend these hot sultry days.

LUNCEFORD SETS NEW GROSS

LOS ANGELES, Calif.—Jimmie Lunceford, the famed "Harlem Express," rolled up one of the top grosses of all time in a week's engagement on the stage of the Orpheum Theater here. The date marked the popular Lunceford's return to the local scene after a year's absence and teed off his annual invasion of the west coast. Jimmie and his bandmen will play 32 consecutive one-nites up and down the Pacific Coast before sitting down again in a weeks engagement at the Trianon Ballroom in San Francisco, starting July 2.

Rupert Harris Presents Leo Hines In Kokomo

Rupert Harris, local dance promoter, will present Leo Hines and his celebrated dance band at the spacious and beautiful Danceland Ballroom in Kokomo, Indiana Wednesday nite, June 19. Admission for the swing session will be $1.25 at the door. Dancing from 9 till 1.

The Hines' aggregation is making its first appearance in Kokomo, after completing a successful tour of the Southern states. A large crowd is expected to be on hand from surrounding cities to welcome the young trumpet king and his swing aggregation comes next Wednesday.

"Romance on the Beat" At Park Tuesday

The Park theater offers for Sunday showing "Picture of Dorian Grey", starring Geo. Saunders in a thrilling murder mystery, and also the sensational career of the Brown Bomber, "The Real Joe Louis" with Al Donahue's orchestra and "Harmony Highway". Extra attraction is: "The Daughter of Don Q".

On Tuesday's bill are "Sensational", an all Negro song show; plus "Romance on the Beat" with Dennis Morgan and Barbara Stanwyck. Also "Christmas in Connecticut", plus "Lost City of the Jungle". Coming next Tuesday is "Mildred Pierce", academy award winner. You and members of your family are always welcome at the COOL, Park theater.

LaVon Kemp's Band Plays for Attucks Prom

LaVon Kemp and his orchestra played for the Senior class prom of Crispus Attucks high school, Friday evening, June 7. An enjoyable evening was spent by those present and who danced to the "groovy" tunes of La Von Kemp and his Vets.

Leroy Walker, 3rd saxophonist, made his debut as vocalist with the band by singing "Prisoner of Love", "Star Dust" and several other numbers. Herman Twines, one of Naptown's foremost trumpet players, is doing a fine job as trumpeter with the band. John Collins and Marion Lastwell, former service men, really laid down some "solid rhythm" for the boys. Earl Posh, a new member of the rhythm section, is strictly "in there".

Kemp's orchestra has played for some of the most exclusive affairs of the year—Walker Beauty School spring formal, Attucks' military ball; The Sportsman Club of Anderson, and the Alpha Kappa Alpha formal.

For dates or information concerning the band, contact L. A. Kemp, personal representative, by calling LI 8609. Wire or write 1310 Cornell Ave., Indianapolis, Ind.

HOUSING AIDE PLANS BETTER LIVING FOR ALL

WASHINGTON, D. C. (NNPA)—America has given sanction to discrimination in meeting the needs of its people by deeds of omission as well as by acts of commission. Philip M. Klutznick, commissioner of the Federal Public Housing Administration, told the annual meeting of the Architect's Institute of America in Miami recently.

As a remedy for this situation, Mr. Klutznick said all racial and religious groups as well as all brackets of family income must be given equal and fair treatment as the nation rebuilds and expands its housing.

This is much easier said than done, he added. "By our deeds of omission as well as commission we have given sanction to discrimination in meeting the needs of our people," he said.

"To reverse a long-accepted trend requires a willingness to undertake unpopular and unprofitable assignments. It means a never-ending fight against the steel bands that have confined large numbers of our people to poorly selected, overcrowded and congested areas of land.

"It means the opening up of new frontiers in land and in mind. It means fighting obstacles without number — yet it is a fight which must be made if the spirit of America is to grace and hallow the beauty of our physical accomplishments."

FISK PROFESSOR OF SOCIOLOGY DIES

NASHVILLE, Tenn., (ANP)—Dr. Edward Hyrcn Reuter, 63, professor of sociology at Fisk university, died last week at his home of a heart ailment.

Dr. Reuter was a founder of the Sociological Research Association, past president of the American Sociological Society and author of widely used textbooks in the field of family and population problems, race and culture. Among his many books are "Population Problems", 1923, "The American Race", 1927, "The Family", 1930, "Introduction of Sociology", with W. C. Hart, 1933, and "Race and Culture Contacts", 1934.

"The Lady and the Viceroy", Maureen O'Hara and Walter Slezak, who co-starred with Paul Henreid in RKO Radio's superb romance, "The Spanish Main" in Technicolor, portray respectively a noble lady and a relentless Viceroy of New Gdanada. The pix starts Sunday at the Indiana.

"The Spanish Main" At Indiana Sunday

"The Spanish Main" is Maureen O'Hara's thirteenth American picture, about which she is not superstitious, and her fourth in Technicolor. In it, she plays the daughter of the Viceroy of Mexico, engaged to Walter Slezak, the Spanish Governor of New Granada. But while sailing to her wedding, Paul Henreid, a bold Dutch pirate, captures her galleon and against her will makes her his wife. But Maureen finally falls in love with her pirate husband and, to make certain that Slezak will not mar her happiness with Henreid, she kills Slezak. RKO Radio lavished a top budget upon this adventure romance and, for the sea battle scenes, built four huge seventeenth century ships for the set.

Bunnie Barnes plays a swashbuckling female pirate, Anne Bonny, who was a real terror on the Spanish Main three hundred years ago.

SENATE HEARS MEMBER BLAST INTOLERANCE

WASHINGTON, D. C. (NNPA)—Addressing the Senate on Jewish contributions to the American armed forces in World War II last Tuesday, Senator Alexander Wiley, Republican of Wisconsin, denounced what he termed a rebirth of intolerance against Catholics, Negro people and Jews. He said:

"America has been shocked by the vicious outpouring of intolerance which has followed the end of World War II, a war for liberty and freedom of all peoples. This intolerance has been directed against the traditional victims—American minority groups, such as the foreign-born, the Catholic, the Jew, and the Negro. Every American-thinking American deplores and will fight this evil of bigotry racial and religious hatred and persecution, whether it be under the title of Ku Klux Klanism or any phony, high-sounding title.

"Every American-thinking American knows that each human has a right to be considered on his own individual merit rather than on the basis of what the color of his skin is, which church he attends, or where his ancestors originated."

was of "pure white blood."

The Negro widow filed an appeal with the United States Supreme Court on the contention that the Arizona law prohibiting intermarriage of the two races, under which her marriage was held invalid, "is unconstitutional and should not have been given effect in Massachusetts." The U. S. Supreme Court granted a motion to dismiss the appeal for want of jurisdiction, thus ducking the opportunity to make a decision on intermarriage.

"The outlawing of state laws against intermarriage is another phase of the unfinished business of the Supreme Court," Jones said.

MATE'S ESTATE IN LEGAL FIGHT OF ARIZ. WOMAN

ST. LOUIS (ANP)—The vain struggle of a Negro widow to share her white husband's estate is told in the June issue of the National Bar Journal by Sidney A. Jones Jr. Attorney Jones cites the case of Mrs. Antoinette Monks, who married Allen Monks in Arizona on Dec. 19, 1930, in stressing the difficulties of Negro women to enforce their marital rights through the courts when the mate is white.

After Monks' death in California in 1937, Mrs. Monks' right to her husband's estate through a will he signed in 1928 was contested by a will he had made to Ida Nancy Lee in 1913, in which he willed Miss Lee his entire estate. Mrs. Monks contended in court that her marriage voided Miss Lee's 1913 will, but the trial judge found the marriage invalid under Arizona law.

One-Eighth Negro Mrs. Monks had one-eighth Negro blood, the court discovered, Monks

FAMILY WITH ONE LEG HAPPY, SUCCESSFUL

HOUSTON, (ANP)—That the Winston Cockrells make good use of the one leg in their family may be seen in their well kept half-acre homestead in Acres homes here, in their comfortable home, and in the many activities they both engage in.

Cockrell, 44, lost both legs above the knees in a train accident nine years ago; his wife lost her left leg in an automobile accident in 1930. Despite the seeming handicap, Cockrell built his home, and with two assistants, operates successfully a garbage disposal service. Mrs. Cockrell cares for the home, the chickens and the hogs which they raise.

The legless man, an expert mechanic, owns and drives two trucks which have adjustments enabling him to operate the gas feed, brakes and clutch by hand. He repairs his own trucks, and often repairs cars for his neighbors. He is using his spare time now building a third truck from parts of wrecked vehicles.

The A-V-E-N-O-O

By OPAL L. TANDY
DON'T LET THE SUN CATCH YOU CRYING: Detectives of the homicide bureau are checking into new evidence concerning the Bridges murder which happened on the railroad a fortnight ago. At first it appeared to be a plain case of self-defense when Roberta Bridges shot her husband, George, to death as he tried to force his way in the house. Police never were able to find the death-gun, however, and so they held Mrs. Bridges. Now information comes to them that a man hid the shooting and fled out of the back door with a revolver in his hand. When the police arrived the back was open. The person who made this statement said that Mrs. Bridges had been "seeing" the mystery man and took the responsibility for the shooting because it would be easier for her to get out since she had had trouble with her estranged husband before. Don't know it to be true, but there is always a maze of conflicting stories following a serious crime—especially where a death by violence is involved.

MES. AUDREY UNDERWOOD, and Mrs. Marie Saunders, sister and wife respectively of Percy (Jackie P.) Saunders, co-owner of the Sky Club, gave him a surprise birthday blow-out after the show Monday night. His co-partner, James (Sonny) Sebree, and other "shirts" occupied chairs of prominence including Gate Mouth Moore, star of the present show, and his wife, Cleo (Mr. Black) McLendon, det. Jaque Durham, Mr. and Mrs. Charles (Kat) Edwards, of the Playhouse Cafe, Mrs. Glendon Heater, all of the Sky Club regular employees (band, waitresses, check girls, electricians,) and Robert Trice. Jackie's niece, Vernedeem Samuels, Chicago, sent him a telegram of congratulations and regretted that she could not make it. It was a grand affair with chicken, potato salad, and a white cake (rimmed in pink) with blue and green candles. W.F.LEY O. JACKSON, the sports promoter, was an invited but missed out on a freebie.

WHEN LIONEL HAMPTON, the master of swing jive, was here the other week he set the town on fire. After the dance he and some friends rolled up in "very fine wheels" to the home of Louise Makee McCauley's where she had a sorta reserved jam-session in waiting for him. You would never have known that Hamp was in the house. And just to show you how things happen, Helen Saine, unmarried and pretty, and on vacation from her hand job, was in the party without an escort. She remembered me. I met her for the first time when I was on M. P. duty in Paris, France about 8 months ago and she was there with the Sweethearts of Rhythm. . . Robert Bob Welch, who was the swarrest thing I saw that day (he seldom dresses) thought the Seine girl was a natural sensation. . . Someone wants me to name the ten best dressed women in town and suggests that I put Florine (Toby) Lasley in the group. I do not know enough about women's dress to do this. I am unqualified to fill the job so I refuse. That at least is more than some people would do.

SOMEDAY THERE IS GOING TO BE A WRECK on Fire Engine House No. 1's truck and if some firemen gets killed it will be the city's fault because too many men ride that one-truck. There is room for two vehicles at that station. Why don't they have two there? . . . More celebrations have been given this month than in any previous one this year. For any and every thing. The other night Arnatr Edelen, of the Famous Door, opened the door to Alberta Rhea and some friends; told us to take the place over and run it for a day. We did, too. An entire case of soda and then gave us two racks of quarters to play the juke-box with. We spent most of them on Duke Ellington's Flamingo, Erskine Hawkins' Tiffin Lu, Lucky Millinder's Darlin, and Wynonie's Here Comes The Blues. Oh, yes, Jean Rhea (Alberta's husband) was allowed to come in also. . . An Gfay cab company may have Negro drivers on the streets soon. The results of pressure from a certain "man".

THE DEATH OF SHERIFF OTTO PETIT was a distinct personal loss to me. I, as much as anyone, know what Petit did to and for Negroes. He was sincere and honest. He told me once that he could not do all things for Negroes but if he could he would try to influence Mayor Tyndall to make Preston Heater a Captain of police. I think Heater realized that. Later he made a lieutenant. I had Petit's private telephone number in my little book. I will have to throw it away I suppose. The new sheriff does not know me so well, although he has invited me in for a "conversation" . . . Hugh Bell and John W. Cooper have their century note tickets for the Lomis-Conn fight already. George Graham, William Bill Owens and Mrs. Mae Graham are going also. . . Reports are out that Mrs. Stella Walker Middleton, head of the English department at Atticus, has divorced Dr. H. N. Middleton, the heart specialist. Have not been able to reach either of them for a denial or confirmation of this report. However, I can and will check the records to be sure. . . Orville Jones and Marie Davis, entertained some Chicago friends, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Todd, at the Stairway to the Stars (Sky Club) a few days back. . . A civil rights suit has been filed against the Ohio Theater by two citizens who say that they were denied admittance because of color. Atty. Villard (Mike) Ransom is the plaintiff's mouth-piece. . . A new method is being employed by Avenue girls to "clip" their victims. If you want one you can call her via telephone and get connections only to be rolled again. It is a new approach to an old racket. You cannot trace the culprits by their number either.

A booking-promoting agency is about to be formed if the reports that they get about another agency are true. . . ALGY JONES WAS HERE for a while last week. He lives in Michigan with a new wife, Ella (Station Wagon) Jones, former little waitress at the Elks Lodge on Indiana avenue, lives in Milwaukee but she is spending the last days of a two-week vacation with her sister, Helen Ogburn, here. Her name is not Jones though. . . If time could be rolled back we would see Hiawatha (ex-bexer) Gray in his teens shining the shoes of a certain Captain Robert H. Tyndall just before he mounted his horse for tour-of-duty at Ft. Harrison. He is now Mayor Tyndall of Indianapolis. But you can't roll time backwards, we can only think backwards.

In Memoriam

JOSEPH EVANS—In loving memory of my husband, Joseph Evans, who departed this life, June 17, 1945. How we miss you since you left us. The call was sudden, the shock severe. We little thought such grief was near; As we loved him, so we miss him, In our heart he is always near. Loved, remembered, longed for; Through this lonely year. Sadly missed by, Mrs. Mary Evans, wife.

GIBSON—In loving remembrance of my beloved mother, Ella Gibson who departed this life June 19, 1917. Gone but not forgotten.

REDD—In loving memory of my dear mother, Daisy Loving Redd, who passed away two years ago, June 15, 1943.

Off I think of you dear mother And my heart is filled with pain; Oh this world would be heaven Could I hear your voice again

It was hard to part with you dear, Oh so hard to let you die; But I hope to meet you some day In the sweet by and bye

Nothing can ever take away The love my heart holds dear; Fond memories linger every day Remembrances keep you near.

Sadly missed by Georgia Redd Moss, daughter

HAMILTON—In loving remembrance of our beloved father and grandfather, Sam Hamilton, who passed away one year ago, June 12, 1945.

Gone dear one, gone forever, How we miss your smiling face; But you left us to remember, None on earth can take your place.

A happy home we once enjoyed, How sweet the memory still; But death has left a loneliness, The world can never fill.

Sadly missed by the family, Willis Hamilton, son Hattie Hamilton, daughter-in-law Gladys Nicholas Cosma Duerson Lydia Richey, granddaughters

MOORE—In loving remembrance of my dear husband, Pfc. MANSON GRANT MOORE, who gave his life that others might live. Died June 13, 1944, in Dudley England.

Honored among the nation's heroes lies our loved one. Beneath a simple wooden cross, his crown, And we who knew and loved him here, can say: A simple love, a simple trust, a simple duty done. Sadly missed by Leanna Hyde Moore, wife.

HOWARD—We, the family of the beloved Mrs. Fannie Howard, extend our heart felt thankfulness for services and kindnesses shown us.

Mrs. Latonia Strader and Family

CHURCHILL—In loving remembrance of my dear wife, Emma Goode Churchill, who passed away June 17, 1944. Dead Gid, after two long years, I cherish more and more each day the memory of your kind sympathetic understanding and loving devotion. M. J. Churchill, Husband.

BIRTHS Willie and Mary O'Neal, 2214 Measant, boy. Benjamin and Lillian Bunch, 2320 Arsenal, boy. James and Inez Cox, City Hospital, girl. James and Pearle Fowler, City Hospital, girl. PROBLEMS OF HUMANITY
by the ABBE WALLACE SERVICE

A HUMAN RELATION COLUMN WHEREIN THE TROUBLED IN MIND AND HEART CAN SEEK COUNSEL AND GUIDANCE

Success, Love, Happiness, Money, Marriage, Health

Note:—Don't worry needlessly when your mind is weighed down with worry and you feel the need of guidance, and the counsel of an understanding friend. Write your problem with your letter. For a "private reply" send $2 for ABBE'S 1946 INSPIRATIONAL READING. With each reading, you will receive free a personal letter of sound and constructive advice analyzing three (3) questions. Please send a stamped (3c) envelope for your confidential reply, and send your full name, address and birthdate to all letters. Explain your case fully and outline your problems within the realm of reason. Write to:

THE ABBE WALLACE SERVICE
Care of The Indianapolis Recorder, 515 Indiana Avenue, Indianapolis, Ind.

H. C.—I enjoy reading your column. I need your help now. I have been married twice and it seems like I am still not going to make it. I have two girls, one by each husband. Now it looks as if I will have to quit this husband after trying to make it for 7 years. I try to live a Christian life before him and my children. Out of all the seven years we have been together I have nothing to show for it. It is this one girl child. He works but doesn't give me enough money to pay the bills and when I ask him for some he curses me for days. I am a Beauty Parlor Operator and that is how I have bought clothes and other things for the house and children. All the love I had for him is gone. Please tell me what to do?

Ans.—You won't find perfection in any man and a wise wife accepts this fact, magnifies his good points and fails to see the bad. The best approach to your problem is to pool your incomes and work out a satisfactory budget to cover them both. At the present you are both earning your own money, handling it separately each to his own interest, making it a bone of contention. This is wrong. Marriage partners must share and share alike if mutual love is to exist. Straighten out your financial problems and your present feeling for your husband may change altogether.

E. G. B.—I am 22 years old. My boyfriend is over seas and I love him and he tells me he loves me. He told his mother he loved me. We were supposed to be married but he didn't get a chance to come before he left. Tell me if he still feels the same, he says he does, and must I wait on him?

Ans.—He's depending on you to keep your promise as he is keeping his. With the points he has accumulated, it shouldn't be too long a period before he is eligible for discharge. Continue writing him cheerful, newy letters regularly. Your letters bring him more happiness and joy than any of his other experiences.

M. O. S.—I am in trouble and need help. I have been married two years and now my husband refuses to do anything for me. All he does is pay my rent and he tells me that he only lets me stay because I have no place to live. Now there is a man in my life and he said he loves me but I don't see him often. Let me know what my baby and I must do?

Ans.—Both of you are guilty of infidelity which disrupts a marriage quicker than anything else. You should seek legal aid and force your husband to support your child. As long as you are married to your husband discontinue any friendship you might have with another man. It will only complicate your own affairs and might interfere with you getting support from your husband.

B. C.—I was sitting here thinking and thought I would write to you for help. Now my question is this: I met this man about two years ago and he is always asking me for dates. I have never given him any answer yet. I want to know if he is worth thinking about, or considering. He works out of town at present and I want to know if I should send him a telegram some night after his working hours are over... should I do this? He claims he loves me.

Ans.—This man periodically asks you for dates... don't rush in with a telegram now, this might cause him to think you were suddenly getting in a big hurry. Just calmly wait until the next time he asks you for a date, and then give him the long awaited opportunity to come to see you. When a man loves a girl there are always ways and means of him proving it to her, so give him time to show you what kind of a fellow he really is, and what his intentions are.

L. J.—I am very much in love with a class mate of mine, unfortunately he's about three years younger than I. If I have to say it, I am one out of a hundred... no running around for me and I don't expect to. This youngster is supposed to like me, but his actions are very much the contrary. He appears to be the playboy of the class, everytime you look around he is playing or talking to some girl in an intimate fashion hardly ever does he have time to say "Howdy do". It makes me very angry at times but I am far from saying it. I am always shy or afraid to say what I want to say. Should I get some pluck and say whatever I want to say and if so, just what shall I say to him?

Ans.—Yes, show your young friend that you're at least able to find the courage to talk to him, and when you do so, chances are that you will have so much fun talking and associating with the other members of the class who are of your own age that you will prefer some of them anyway... of course you admire him, just as the other girls in the class do but his is not real love at all and you shouldn't be losing any sleep over it.

FORMER MARINE TO PROSECUTE KKK IN GEORGIA

ATLANTA, (ANP)—Gov. Ellis Arnall placed the prosecution of the hooded Ku Klux Klan in the hands of Daniel Duke, a former Marine, who warned the night riders that he would "show no mercy" in driving the organization from Georgia.

The 32-year-old Duke is familiar with Klansmen. He was assistant solicitor general and prosecutor in the KKK flogging trials here before the war, and was successful in indicting and convicting eight klansmen for the fatal flogging of Uke Gaston, a suburban barber.

"In times past," Duke said, "there have been hundreds of good, respectable citizens who have joined organizations that have preached hatred and bigotry. These good people have been used as a cloak of respectability behind which the un-Christian practices of these organizations have flourished."

La. State Official Sees No End To Law On Travel Jim Crow

BATON ROUGE, La., June (NNPA)—Louisiana will continue to enforce its laws relating to segregation of races on buses and trains in intrastate commerce despite the decision by the Supreme Court that such segregation in buses crossing state lines is illegal, Clayton Coleman, Acting Secretary of the Louisiana Public Service Commission, declared last Monday.

Louisiana's laws on segregation of the races in railway coaches and depots date from 1890 and 1894, Coleman said, and were extended to cover buses by a commission resolution in May 1939.

"Enforcement of the ban on race segregation in buses entering Louisiana is a matter under the jurisdiction of the Interstate Commerce Commission," the Secretary said, "but I can tell you that Louisiana's laws on segregation in buses in intrastate transportation will continue to be enforced."

Strong FEPC Law Called For In Calif. By Will Rogers Jr.

By HARRY LEVETTE
LOS ANGELES (ANP)—Support of a state fair employment practice law came last week from Will Rogers, Jr., on a broadcast over radio station KFOX.

California voters will become the first Americans to vote on the issue for themselves. The California Committee for Fair Employment Practices succeeded in placing FEPC on the ballot for the next election as a counter move to the refusal of the state legislature to consider FEPC legislation.

Rogers, Democratic nominee for U. S. Senator, urged voters to hurry to beat the deadline for placing the all-important state FEPC on the ballot.

DIXIE SPIRIT RUFFLED BY TRAVEL RULING

ATLANTA, Ga. (NNPA)—Segregation of white and colored passengers in buses operating as interstate carriers has been outlawed by the Supreme Court decision, but colored passengers in the South were reported to be continuing to ride in the rear seats.

Most bus company officials said they issued no directives for changing the arrangement of seating colored passengers in the rear and whites from the front because they were awaiting a study by counsel of the opinion.

Thomas Bailey, governor of Mississippi, made the typically southern pronouncement when he asserted: "Segregation will continue down here. Neither the whites nor the Negroes want it any other way. I don't believe there will be any friction. There never has been in this matter."

Earlier Governor Chauncey Sparks of Alabama criticized the Supreme Court's decision. "The decision interferes with the rights of states to conduct their internal affairs," Sparks said. "When that right is completely denied, we no longer have a nation composed of sovereign states."

Sparks asserted that the ruling was "entirely unrealistic" and served as "fertilizer for the Ku Klux Klan."

From Georgia westward to Louisiana and Arkansas came the same report, this time: "Awaiting review of the decision; Negroes occupying rear seats."

Matt L. McWhorter, vice chairman of the Georgia Public Service Commission, said the State would abide by the decision, then added: "It is my thought that Georgia laws providing for segregation will continue to be applicable to intrastate traffic."

Greyhound To Meet Bus Ruling Along Atlantic Coast

CHARLESTON, W. Va., (NNPA)—Immediate compliance with the Supreme Court ruling that states cannot require segregation of white and colored passengers in interstate buses was indicated Monday by the Atlanta Greyhound Corporation, which operates in most of the so-called "Jim Crow" Southern States.

"We naturally comply with whatever the Supreme Court of the United States says is the law," said George S. Engle, Executive Vice President and General Manager of Atlantic Greyhound.

RALEIGH, (NNPA)—North Carolina's utilities commissioner, Stanley Winborne, last Monday described as "regrettable" a decision of the Supreme Court barring the segregation of white and colored passengers on interstate buses.

Winborne said that he was of the opinion that all interstate buses operating in North Carolina would have to discontinue the segregation of white and colored passengers.

EDUCATIONAL MOVIE WITH NEGRO TEACHER BARRED IN DIXIE

PHILADELPHIA, (ANP)—"The South just would not permit us to put a Negro teacher in the movie 'The Springfield Plan,'" Arthur DeBra, representing the Motion Pictures Association of America, told a group attending the first National Conference on Citizenship here recently.

DeBra was answering an inquiry on right of the South to control moving pictures and radio made by Solis T. M. Alexander, nationally known lawyer representing the Associated Negro Press, at a press, radio and movie panel of the conference. No answer was given as to why the South continues to dictate policies of radio and motion pictures.

CIO Leader Urges Anti KKK Platform For Democrats

A plank to "outlaw the Ku Klux Klan and any organization that advocates intolerance, racial or religious hatred" was urged upon Indiana Democratic platform-makers last week by Powers Hapgood, regional CIO director.

Hapgood urged adoption of the anti-Klan plank in an appearance before the Democratic platform advisory committee. Under the direction of Fred E. Bays, former state chairman, the group is drafting a proposed platform to be presented to the Democratic state convention to be held in Indianapolis June 25.

Hapgood also urged higher unemployment hours, a total of more than 90 students participated at different times under the sponsorship of the Student-Community Interracial Committee, a recently formed organization of students and community leaders which has been carrying out active work during the past summer.

A meeting addressed by Earl B. Dickerson, Chicago attorney, followed the picketing. Dickerson is vice president of the Chicago Council Against Racial and Religious Discrimination, president of the National Bar Association, former member of the Chicago city council and member of the FEPC. He also heads the Chicago Urban League.

Slogans Hit Jim Crow
Pickets in front of the restaurants carried placards reading, "Illinois Law Says Don't Discriminate," "Jim Crow Must Go," "We Pledge Together—Why Can't We Eat Together?," "Herb McKenley, Athlete of the Year, Can't Eat Here," etc.

McKenley, Negro student from Jamaica, recently broke the world 140 record and had previously been elected "athlete of the year" by University of Illinois students.

During the past six years, all but seven campus restaurants at the University of Illinois ceased to discriminate against Negro students. One additional restaurant has begun serving Negroes since the Student-Community Interracial Committee has become active.
