

LAST RITES HELD FOR RECORDER OWNER

Hundreds Mourn Passing Of Mrs. Fannie C. Stewart

More than 500 persons were on the scene at Christ Temple Church noon to pay a final tribute to Mrs. Fannie C. Stewart, late publisher of the Recorder. Those assembled inside and outside the church represented a community life, business, industry, civic or political, education, church and social life.

In the eulogy Rev. Willie Lee, pastor of Christ Temple, paid a striking tribute to Stewart as "a noble Christian woman of deep religious convictions." He lauded her as devoted to the memory of her husband, the late George P. Stewart, a loyal and church member, mother and friend to many of the friendless.

Other pastors of the city paying brief tributes to Mrs. Stewart included Dr. C. T. H. Watkins, pastor of Bethel AME Church; Dr. R. T. Andrews, Mt. Zion Baptist; Dr. C. Henry Bell, Mt. Paran Baptist; Dr. H. L. Burton, Phillips Temple CME; Dr. N. E. Vincent, Northside New Era Baptist; Rev. R. H. Peoples, Second Christian; Elder Edward Carter, associate pastor of Christ Temple, and Rev. Henry W. Lewis, widely-known Baptist leader.

The impressive floral tributes represented sympathy or condolence by persons in all walks of life throughout the city and from others across 10 or more states. The John A. Patton Funeral Home officiated in funeral arrangements.

The burial was in Crown Hill Cemetery, alongside her husband in the family lot.

Out-of-town persons from over the state were present for the funeral. Coming from the most distant point was Mrs. Beatrice Batchelor-Moore, Jamaica, N. Y.

MESSAGES OF CONDOLENCE received from persons in all walks of life, included among others: Gov. and Mrs. Harold Handley, U.S. Sen. Homer E. Capehart, H. Dale Brown, 11th Dist., Republican Chairman; former Mayor Alex M. Clark; Joseph K. Shephard, Indianapolis Star; Thomas W. Young, president, Norfolk Journal and Guide, Norfolk, Va.; C. C. DeJolie, Jr., editor The Louisiana Weekly, New Orleans, La.; Mrs.

Robert L. Vann, president of the Pittsburgh Courier, Pittsburgh, Pa.; and C. A. Scott, editor of the Atlanta Daily World, Atlanta, Ga.

Walker, president of the National Newspaper Publishers Ass., Cleveland; Carl Murphy, president of The Afro-American Newspapers, Baltimore, Md.; Charles Davis of the Johnson Publishing Company, publishers of Ebony and Jet; and John H. She was the daughter of the late C. M. Willis, founder of Willis Mortuary, and a member of one of Indianapolis' oldest leading families. She was graduated from Shortridge high school and Butler University.

A member at Bethel, Mrs. Hatch was active in its Daughters of Allen and Women's Improvement clubs. She was also a member of the Old Settlers Club of Indianapolis and the Indiana State Retired Teachers Association.

The automobile driven by Senator Brokenburr, 71, 518 W. 41st, collided with a car driven by W. R. Harper, 39 of 946 S. East, early in the afternoon.

Harper and a passenger in his car, Carol Rowe, 14, 406 E. Merrill, were also released from General hospital after treatment.

Senator Brokenburr, who was a former alternate delegate to the United Nations, was driving east on 32nd and Harper was driving north on Northwestern when the accident happened.

THIRD OF KENTUCKY'S SCHOOLS NOW "MIXED"

FRANKFORT, Ky. — "Integrated" students now comprise nearly a third of the total enrollment in 170 of Kentucky's public school districts, according to the Department of Education's annual survey on school integration recently made public.

Another 46 school districts have no Negro children of school age, the survey found.

Ft. Wayne Woman Claims Prejudice In Son's Case

A prominent Northern Indiana attorney has been assigned to aid a Fort Wayne youth given an apparently harsh and vindictive sentence for having relations with a white girl, NAACP leaders revealed this week.

Willard B. Ransom, NAACP state legal redress chairman, said Atty. Charles H. Wills of South Bend has been assigned to investigate the case and determine whether there are legal grounds for aiding the 17-year-old boy.

Mr. Ransom and Atty. Patrick E. Chavis, Jr., of the NAACP legal staff, conferred here Wednesday with the family of the youth, James Bowie, who is being held in the Allen County jail pending transfer to the Indiana State Farm.

THE BOY'S WIDOWED mother, Mrs. Thelma Bowie of 1128 Buchanan, Fort Wayne, said she came to Indianapolis seeking help because Negro leaders of Fort Wayne are afraid to intervene in

Whites Object To Negroes As New Neighbors

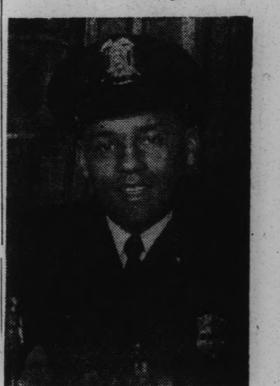

Race relations in Indianapolis took a backward step this week if it is true, as most sociologists and observers of racial tension seem to agree, that segregated housing is the basic issue in Negro-white problems.

White residents of a near-Northside community seem displeased at the prospect of welcoming a Negro neighbor into their midst and have made their displeasure concrete with vandalism against the home which is to be occupied by a Negro family.

The Recorder learned this week that windows in the home at 2137 N. New Jersey had been broken out Monday and Tuesday night and that stones were thrown at the house Wednesday, apparently in an attempt by white residents of the

Three Gary Schools Named To Honor Negro Americans

GARY — Three of the city's new elementary schools were formally named for famous Negro Americans by the Gary school board recently. Thus honored were Mrs. Mary McLeod Bethune, famous educator and social worker; Dr. Alain Locke, famed educator and author, and Benjamin Banneker, credited with making the first American clock.

Each of the three schools had committees each of which submitted three acceptable names to the board for their respective buildings.

Born at Sumter, S. C., of poor parents, Mrs. Bethune rose to a place in the national government when she was appointed by President Roosevelt as chairman of the National Youth Administration. She was founder of Bethune-Cookman College at Daytona Beach, Fla., and was its president until her death in 1954.

DR. LOCKE was the first Negro to attend Harvard University, where he became a holder of the Phi Beta Kappa key. He was head of the philosophy department at Howard University until his death.

Banneker was an architect, horticulturalist and expert agriculturist. His father, born a slave, raised enough money to buy Benjamin's freedom. The lad subsequently became such a well-known farmer, people from four states sought his advice. He helped to plan the city of Washington, D. C.

Other names submitted by the naming committees included Daniel Hale Williams, a Negro, and first physician to perform a successful heart operation; Mrs. Elizabeth Eton Lytle, Gary's first Negro teacher, and Walter White, prominent author and late executive secretary of the NAACP.

WE REGRET LOSS OF PHOTOS

Due to a photogravers' strike in Indianapolis and delay or loss in transit of engravings made in Chicago, The Recorder must go to press this week without many photos for which we had planned.

We regret the inconvenience to our readers and will be back next week with the wide-scale photo coverage for which The Recorder has been noted.

HOLD THAT POSE! Though she is all dolled up and ready to go, purty Patsy Swatts will have to wait a while before she can show her wares. The Phyllis Wheatley YWCA's "Ziegfeld Follies, Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow," in which Miss Swatts was to appear, has been postponed until January. Ticket holders will be glad to know their ducats will still be good then. (Recorder Photo by Jim Burres).

Recorder Cheer Fund Drive Launched; Many Are Needy

Three Negroes On Mayor's Group

Three Negroes, Mrs. Ralph Hanley, Mrs. Susan Knox Werd and Atty. Rufus C. Kuykendall, have been named by Mayor Phillip Bayt to the juvenile aid committee to study juvenile arrests and detention in Indianapolis in helping determine the city's attitude toward proposed new laws.

Richard E. Emery, committee chairman, said the group hopes to draft or support legislation to "modernize" laws dealing with juveniles who run amok of the law.

Not believing in Santa Claus probably makes a child unconsciously unhappy. But knowing that Santa Claus does exist and not seeing him at Christmas certainly makes any child heartbroken.

It's because The Recorder knows this that for the past 28 years it has sponsored a Christmas Cheer Fund, through which hundreds of little children—and adults, too—are given visits by Santa Claus and gladdened at Christmas.

The Cheer Fund drive has opened. But long before the drive itself opened, the pleas for help began to stream in to The Recorder office. Already received are far more requests for help than

Widow, 85, Burns To Death At Home

The badly-burned body of an 85-year-old widow was discovered in her home, 2929 N. Eastern, Wednesday by a nurse making her weekly visit.

The nurse, Mrs. Dora Nelson, 52, 706 S. Norfolk, told police she found the body of Mrs. Emma Baker on that floor between the living room and the kitchen of the home, and that most of the woman's clothing had been burned away.

A wad of badly-burned bills was also found by the body.

NABBED IN NOBLESVILLE RAID: State excise department police, in a surprise raid early Sunday morning, netted 82 people, most of them from Indianapolis, at the Ten-Ten Sportsman club and the Plum and Eighth Street restaurant in Noblesville, where many well-known figures of the Indianapolis lower echelons regularly partied each weekend, according to police. Identifiable in the first picture are Miss Sarah C. Johnson, 35, 4804 E. 30th; William Shirley, 39, 319 W. 16th, and James "Jimmy" George, operator of the M. and M. tavern here. George was named by police as ring-leader of the gambling, bootlegging and prostitution activities. Miss Johnson was named as operator of the restaurant, which adjoins the Ten-Ten club. The well-planned raid came after police had received several complaints against the place over a period of many weeks. No one escaped in the melee which followed the surprise entrance of the first officers, what with officers stationed at all windows and doors. A large quantity of liquor, dice, cards, revolvers and switchblade knives were confiscated.

Pastors Take Part In Church Federation Family Life Clinic

Included among denominational representatives for the Family Life Clinic of the Church Federation of Greater Indianapolis, are Rev. S. D. Hardrick, A.M.E.; Mrs. Mattie Anderson, A.M.E. Zion; Rev. H. L. Burton, C.M.E. and Interdenominational Ministers Alliance, and Rev. Samuel Wright, Methodist Lexington Conference.

The year-long study, now in its final stages, goes into several specific problems including public assistance, marriage and divorce, educational programs for family living, child welfare, the employed mother and the needs of older persons.

"The nature of the program is such that a number of non-sectarian social agencies, educational institutions, and civic groups are participating because of their concern for family life," says Rev. Laurence T. Hosie, the federation's executive secretary.

ON THE OTHER HAND, church groups are participating because the clinic program includes evaluation of family life programs by each local church and relating the community study results to the local church's family life program.

Phases of Indianapolis family life have been studied piece-meal previously, but the current study incorporates a number of simultaneous surveys which will be brought together for analysis and discussion in a series of seminars next January.

While the seminars will not be open to the public, eight delegates from each participating church will be able to attend the sessions. Many churches not members of the federation are taking part in

Mr. Kent estimated the loss at approximately $700.

Mrs. Kent, prominent in social circles of the city, is a cosmetics demonstrator with the Mme. C. J. Walker Manufacturing Company.

38 of 39 State Churches Stay With PAW, Says Kokomo Elder

Of the 39 Pentecostal churches in Indiana, 38 have chosen to retain their affiliation with the Pentecostal Assemblies of the World, Elder Samuel Johnson of Kokomo pointed out this week. "Splits in a holiness body," Elder Johnson feels, "only tend to cause hatred and strife among God's people."

He recalled how when plans for organizing a new world-wide body were first discussed, the pastors of the state called several meetings to determine if the situation warranted such a move.

"AFTER WEIGHING the matter very carefully," he said, "we came to the conclusion that there was no lawful reason for reorganizing and, therefore registered our disapproval."

"Inasmuch as we know there is no perfect organization, we are willing to remain with the PAW and work toward its perfection."

Elder Johnson's reference was to the newly-formed Pentecostal Churches of the Apostolic Faith, a global movement of which Christ Temple, Indianapolis, is a part. "The Word of God is absolutely against splits in the Church," the Kokomo elder contends. "How can we have fellowship pulling ourselves to separate ourselves one from the other, we also sever our fellowship. Now I beseech you, brethren, mark them which cause divisions and offenses contrary to the doctrine which ye have learned and avoid them."

"The great organization of the Pentecostal Assemblies of the World has weathered many a storm, and it is up to those who love it to stand by it and help keep things afloat. The churches in Indiana have always stood by it and no other time before now has any pulled away."

"In 1934, the late Elder Robert F. Tobin stood on the floor of the Louisville National Convention and fought hard defending the principles of the PAW and, in the midst of every opposition, he remained with the body."

"We deeply regret this that has happened and has caused the peace of God's people to be disturbed. Remembering that we must give account to God, the members of the Apostolic Bible School Association go on record as standing 100 per cent with the PAW."

Man, 78, Killed on Way Home After House-Cleaning Job

An elderly man hurrying home from work, a frantic mother rushing her injured son to the hospital, a wet pavement and a heavy drizzle proved a fatal combination Monday night.

Oliver Hughes, 78, 2165 N. Capitol, was nearly back home from a house-cleaning job when he was struck down by a car in the 2100 block of N. Capitol.

Death was instant. The driver of the car, Mrs. Joanna Bush, 42, 629 E. 52nd, told police she was rushing her 11-year-old son to the hospital with a severely bleeding arm. She said she passed a truck and Hughes walked directly into the path of her car.

ALTHOUGH SHE ESTIMATED her speed at about 30 mph, she was unable to stop the car in time due to the slippery pavement. The victim was hurled more than 30 feet, it was reported.

Mrs. Bush was not held. Funeral services were set for 10 Saturday in Jacobs Brothers West Side Chapel, with burial in Floral Park.

Born at Coushatta, La., he had lived here 23 years. An odd-jobs man at the time of his death, Mr. Hughes had previously worked at a foundryman and a railroader.

Ft. Wayne Woman

the "hot" case due to its interracial angle.

Mrs. Bowie said two prominent civic leaders were fearful of losing their jobs if they protested the 180-day State Farm sentence given the juvenile and Circuit Judge William H. Schannen's allegedly highly-prejudiced remarks in the courtroom.

A minister who is subject to another kind of pressure advised her to go to the judge and "beg" that her son's sentence be changed to the Indiana Boys School, Mrs. Bowie said.

"This was coming sooner or later, and it is just as well James take the fall as anyone else," the pastor said, according to Mrs. Bowie.

THE MOTHER ALSO charged that at the time of her son's arrest on Nov. 2 a white probation officer, Mr. Nagel, told her: "Don't get a lawyer, James will be put on probation."

The youth had no counsel at his trial.

Mrs. Bowie was accompanied to Indianapolis by her sister, another son and a daughter.

Previously Mrs. Edna Mirris of Gary, NAACP state president, and J. DuVall Banks of Marion, first vice-president, had visited Fort Wayne in alarm at strong signs of prejudice in the case.

After his arrest the Bowie youth was held incommunicado for two days, his mother said.

At the trial Judge Schannen was reported as saying to James: "You ought to be castrated. And I hope they do it where you're going."

THE MOTHER OF the girl, 17-year-old Barbara Baker, raged at her daughter in the courtroom and shouted: "I could slap you, I could kill you!"

Judge Schannen reportedly asked Barbara: "Do you want to bring colored babies into the world? Do you want to marry him?" and finally "Don't you feel like throwing up?" Mrs. Bowie said James had never been in trouble before, except for a minor incident following a football game at Marion, where they formerly lived. At that time a group of boys were scuffling and one of them was pushed through a store window, she said.

"Since we moved to Fort Wayne and he entered Central high school, he had been getting better grades," she said. "He even had a job, and now he has lost that too."

The mother asserted that her son was by no means alone in his attentions to the Baker girl, who was sentenced to an indeterminate stay at the Indiana Girls School for her part in the affair.

"WHEN THE POLICE found them in the parked car, there were three colored boys and two white girls sitting there talking," she related. "They took the girls down but let the boys go. It wasn't till the next day that the probation officer came and got James for questioning."

The mother alleged that she was not permitted to speak during the hearing in Circuit Court.

Both James and Barbara were reported suffering from a venereal disease. The interest of liberals is not in condoning delinquency on the teenagers' part, but in removing the element of racial hysteria that apparently has been injected into the case. The NAACP's stand is that the offense should be handled just as if the youth were of the same color.

Interracial social activities are widespread in Fort Wayne. This is apparently more than some of the older generation can stand, regardless of whether the youths' behavior is good or bad.

 Then settle back and see if your taste is tuned to the flavor message in Cabin Still:

"RELAX... this is the GENUINE!"

Nothing new about it but the thrill of discovery. That rich, round flavor partly comes from our way of Kentucky Weather-Ripening in airy, open-riek wooden warehouses. That and the slow-poke way we Copper-Distill it to create our special flavor. No "news" here. Just A Bourbon Man's Bourbon. Try it!

Social Scene . . .

By RICHARD C. HENDERSON

A comparatively quiet week allows me to share with you a letter I received some time ago from Mrs. William H. Richardson of Annapolis, Md., who, with justifiable pride, sent me a tear sheet from the "Evening Capital" of that city which had a full page spread on her activities with the Annapolis Church Circle Library. Mrs. Richardson, for those who just can't remember married names, is the former Miss Eloise Keller, one of my predecessors as social editors of Indiana's Greatest Weekly who has a large circle of friends here.

Eloise has cause, I think, to be proud of the job itself. In a city not too famous for any racial liberalism, she has held a post for some time as children's librarian in the public library system, a "first" particularly significant since the users of the library are predominantly white.

Seldom during her visits here have we had a conversation in which she has not shared with me her joy in seeing little children falling in love with her with no regard for color. One cannot help but realize that race relations in that city will be greatly affected by the spontaneous love of these children who no doubt go home singing the praises of "Miz Richardson."

Bearing this out is one of the pictures on the page which shows her at "story time" with a group of 14 children, only one of them a Negro. With no fanfare, the cut matter points out that "Some react with gravity, some with smiles, but all the children love the moment when Mrs. Eloise Richardson, children's librarian, begins to tell them a story."

In her letter, Eloise told me, "I felt a great sense of pride to know that in spite of the cross-burnings in our country recently, before this came out, that surely I must be making some kind of contribution in human relations and in the South."

"It was only a little over a week ago, she said, that a cross was burned right here in the governor's grounds on his fence because he has had the courage to speak out for right."

"Then in this same county only 78 miles from here one was burned on the lawn of one of our physicians because he sent his young son to a white school. In fact, the governor had to send out state police to patrol the area for their protection."

"I have never had one repercussion on my job, and I think I have a right to feel this sense of pride. I suppose when one is so busy doing a job, they are not aware of the far-reaching progress they can make."

"I can safely tell Eloise all her friends here are happy with her. Members of La Chayne, Inc., have returned to their homes following their trek to New York City recently. The club, a national

Tempi Singers To Appear On Monument Circle

Members of the Tempis Music club are pretty proud youngsters these days. They have accepted an invitation to participate in the opening Christmas season program on the steps of Monument Circle, singing under the direction of Izler Solomon, conductor of the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra.

Only six groups are participating in the program, to be held December 10. A special rehearsal in preparation for the program was held at the last meeting, held with the adult advisor, Mrs. Sadie Hardman, 2340 Martindale avenue.

The club is also planning its annual dinner-dance, to be held some time around December 28, and a candy sale is to be started next week.

35 Years of Campus Living at I. U. Unfold at Mary L. Gray Reception

Thirty-five years of campus life at Indiana University, Bloomington, were unfolded last Saturday night as a large group of the university's alumni gathered to pay tribute to Mrs. Mary Gray, who for 35 years was matron at Dargon House, a group of cottages for Negro girls on the campus before housing there became integrated. Hosts of friends from over the state, Michigan, Delaware, Missouri and Illinois attended the affair, held in the Student Union Building of the Indiana University Medical Center here.

Many enjoyed browsing through the white leather-bound album filled with pictures of Indiana University alumni, their families homes and business places. The pictures, sent from various parts of the country, showed what former students had accomplished.

As Harold Brown and Mrs. Katie Johnson of this city, John Ward of Marion and Mrs. Lois Bynum, Chicago, played familiar I.U. tunes, the approximately hundred guests sipped raspberry frappe served from a table adorned with tall candles and an unusual centerpiece dominated by a pumpkin filled with baby mums in fall colors and accentuated with seasonal fruit.

The centerpiece was the work of Mrs. E. Kirk of Indianapolis, a former I.U. student. Climaxing moment of the reunion was the informal talk in which Mrs. Gray, in an emotion-filled voice, thanked the scores of former students and friends who had gathered to pay homage to her, verbally and financially, for the years of devotion to the dreams of Negro students on the Bloomington campus.

Out-of-town guests included John Ward, Marion; Mrs. George A. Johnson and daughters, Mary and Margaret, Delaware; Atty. and Mrs. Loyd Brown, Detroit; Atty.

Halcyon Temple Has Night Out

Members of Halcyon Temple No. 127 entertained Raymond J. Hill, president of the Indiana State Association of Elks Lodges, and his recent bride and mother, Mrs. Harriet P. Grant of Gary, at their "night out" last Friday at the Indiana Lodge No. 104.

Presentations of wedding gifts and tokens of esteem were made by Mesdames Geneva Witt Williams and Eula F. Walden.

Mrs. Marie C. Lewis, former "Lady of the Year," congratulated her successful, recently-elected Mrs. Hattie Perkins.

The visitors were house guests of Mrs. Theresa M. Ransaw, daughter ruler of the temple.

CHARLOTTE HOLLAMAN IN 3RD TOWN HALL RECITAL

NEW YORK (ANP) — Among the many singers who greet our music-halls these days, Charlotte Holloman, soprano, sustained her reputation in a 5:30 recital last Sunday, under the auspices of the Musical Art Group, which had gathered together for her a large and appreciative audience.

Miss Holloman's program in itself was an education in variety, and rarity. She opened with 2 arias by Vivaldi: La pastorella sul primo albore, and Dille ch'il viver mio; also one by Mozart: No. no che non sei capace (Koochel 416).

Her German group comprised Hugo Wolf's "Nachtzauber," Ellenrieder Der Spröde, Die Bekehrte and Er ist's, concluding with Franz Schubert's aria, Ah, non lasciarmi, no, prior to the traditional intermission period.

In French, Poulenc's Fiancailles pour rire; La dame d'André, Dans l'herbe, Il vole, Mon Cadavre est doux, Violon and Fleurs.

She honored one of our leading Negro composers, Margaret Bonds, with a first manuscript performance, of By wood on a snowy evening, concluding with a group of Negro spirituals by Hall Johnson, who is eminently worthy of taking Harry T. Burleigh's place on recital programs. My good Lord done been here, His Name so sweet, Give me Jesus and Ain't got time.

Miss Holloman's voice is not just lyric soprano. It has dramatic as well as coloratura propensities, altho runs of the latter are just a wee bit cloudy at times. One fine evidence of her mental concept of tone is that she seems able to start a song without any introductory aid from her accompanist, to doubt a heritage from her public school music experience. But above all, she is serious in dictation and emotional content.

Lowell Farr showed a lovely impressionism throughout the accompaniment which probably had best been omitted in the Spirituals which are definitely rhythmic.

Members of the Ladies Alliance of Corinthian Baptist Church met Wednesday of last week with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hatcher, 1329 Cornell avenue, and surprised the Hatchers with gifts in celebration of their 50th wedding anniversary.

NO SKELETONS IN '57-58 ALL-AMERICAN WARDROBES

Bill Burner—ANS Features
ISN'T IT A LOVELY DAY to be caught in the rain? . . . particularly since there's no longer any need to worry about rain or shine, wrinkled or disheveled clothing.

Today, your all-weather topcoats, suits and a wide range of campus sportswear shed water like a duck's back and stay wrinkle-free and neat for many a moon, thanks to Dow Corning's new Syl-mer fabric finishes. This silicone treatment, now featured prominently in stores across the country, resists water and any waterborne stains such as ink, coffee, tea, milk, fruit juices and soft drinks. They roll right off without wetting or staining the fabric, and even oily stains can be removed with a simple household solvent cleaner, without erasing the finish.

Since Syl-mer reduces wrinkles and creases caused by moisture, this "look-like-a-man" not "a-drowned mouse" trend has more advantages than meet the eye. Hours once spent in pressing can now be turned to sports, camping, card-playing, dates, just plain lounging—and studying—of course, not to mention the extra dollars saved on cleaning bills.

AND IN THE HEADLINES comes the biggest hat news yet to hit the campus. In Grandpa's day his hat was his mark of distinction, so be it now. The "one-hat man" is gone with the "one-car family." And a man without a hat is a man without distinction.

Wardrobes will hold hats of many textures, many shapes and many colors. One hatter, the Frank H. Lee Company, has designed a very special hat wardrobe, which includes a jaunty spectator sports style for casual wear, a regal daytime felt that is soft, and "easy on the eye," and one of the latest "s" styles.

Long live the new campus wardrobe that cooperates to the fullest with your many activities. It saves you dollars, makes sense, keeps you comfortable, smart, warm and dry—does almost everything but get you a headache.

Beaux Arts Trio Are Season's First Soloists With Symphony

Indianapolis will have a chance to hear a chamber music group called by Robert Casadesu, internationally eminent pianist, "the finest I have heard in America," this weekend as the Beaux Arts Trio appears Saturday night and Sunday afternoon as the season's first soloists with the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Izler Solomon.

To perform the seldom-heard Concerto for Piano, Violin and Cello of Beethoven, the trio is composed of Menahem Pressler, pianist, former solo artist who has appeared as guest attraction with the Indianapolis orchestra several times; Daniel Gulet, violinist, former concert master with the famous NBC Symphony Orchestra conducted by Arturo Toscanini, and Bernard Greenhouse, one of the nation's foremost cellists.

The group was in residence at Indiana University last summer and has received outstanding reviews in the performance of the Beethoven concerto with symphony orchestras throughout the nation.

Major symphonic work will be the Symphony No. 1 of Dmitri Shostakovich, performed once before locally with Howard Mitchell, guest conductor, in 1955.

Also included in the weekend program are the overture to Gluck's opera "Iphigenia in Aulis" and "The Ode to Consonance" by Roy Harris, one of the nation's outstanding contemporary composers currently a member of the Indiana University faculty. Both works will be heard for the first time locally.

Saturday night's performance begins at 8:30, and the Sunday matinee will begin at 3. Tickets at $3.75, $3, $2.50, $1.75 and $1.25 are available at the symphony box office in the Murat theater, ME. 5-9598.

Chatting with the FAC

By ELSA JACKSON

Attendance registered at the regular monthly meeting Monday night of last week was very nice indeed. The president, Starling W. James, expressed his appreciation for the cooperation of some of the affiliated groups. The meeting proved to be very interesting, with Mrs. Emma McKnight, chairman of the health and welfare committee, making an outstanding report on the annual tea and Mrs. Ethel Ryan, chairman of the activities committee, reporting that the rummage sale held the preceding Saturday was highly successful.

Mr. James reported on having "ended a dinner at the Continental Hotel the preceding Saturday for the March of Dimes. A fashion extravaganza will be given at the Indiana Roof in January under sponsorship of local beauticians and the FAC. Mesdames Priscilla Dean Lewis and Nora Hector will represent the FAC when the planning committee meets at the YWCA.

Mr. James also reported on attending a meeting at the YMCA to plan a conference in the Senate Chambers in December with the Indiana FEPC. Efforts will be made to bring about better working conditions and better job opportunities for members of our group.

Plans for securing financial assistance for the Eastside Christian Center were discussed at a meeting held in the center. Mr. James attended and spoke briefly. Mrs. Edna Martin is director of the center and is doing a very fine job. Walter Scott, Mrs. Willora Morris and Mrs. Ora Phillips were appointed to write a letter to the Indianapolis Baseball Association, suggesting that gate receipts would increase if more and better Negro players were members of the Indianapolis Indians. Outside help would then be unnecessary, they point out.

An urgent plea was made for the payment of pledges made to the building fund and also for cash donations which have been promised to the FAC.

Mrs. Lula Hodges, who is now off the sick list, Mrs. Violet Fox and Mrs. Clo Woolridge were appointed by Mr. James to get in money previously pledged.

Members of the 20th anniversary committee are eagerly awaiting the reports of contestants. Mrs. Hattie Davis is expecting the contestant she sponsored, Mrs. Florence Bullock, the only one to have 2,000 tickets, to walk away with all honors.

The membership drive committee made a very nice report at the meeting. A chicken dinner will be served all committee members who have reached the quarter level. Mrs. Emma McKnight's team

The civic and legislative committee met at the home of the chairman, Mrs. Lillian Goens, last Sunday afternoon and composed a letter sent to Mayor Bayt protesting the proposed conversion of Tarkenton at a parking lot. The letter was result of pleas made by residents of the area.

Resolutions have also been sent to the Interstate Commerce Commission asking that local water rates not be increased. The committee voted to have its Christmas dinner December 16 at the home of Mrs. Goens. Secret pals will be revealed.

Make Plans For Reception After Monster Meeting

The YMCA Reception Planning Committee, meeting last Saturday with Mrs. Priscilla Dean Lewis, 2734 Boulevard place, completed plans for a reception to follow the Senate YMCA "Monster Meeting" Sunday afternoon for the speaker, John Wesley Dobbs, and Miss Mattiwilda Dobbs, famed concert singers. The reception will be in Room "C."

As chairman, Mrs. Lewis will be assisted by Mrs. Fannie Hyde, past grand officer and member of Pride of the West Chapter No. 45, OES; Mrs. Mattie Anderson, national and international grand officer of the OES and a member of the Pride of the West chapter; Miss Martha White of Delta Sigma Theta sorority, who will pour, and Dr. Roscoe R. Polin, who will be master of ceremonies.

Other hostesses include Mesdames Flora H. Crossen, Ellen McIwether and Flossie Harris and the Misses Lula B. Hoss and Ruth Hicks.

John G. Powers, general chairman of the annual membership drive, expressed sincere appreciation to the individuals and organizations which have paid their fees. The funds will be used December 2 to help erase an outstanding obligation.

The membership dinner will be held at the close of the drive in December.

NOTICE!!

Because Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 28, falls on our regular press day, The Recorder will be published a day earlier next week. Deadlines for news have been moved up accordingly. News items should be in on Monday and State news on Saturday.

Voice of the Eastside

By MARY P. MCGUIRE

Hundreds of persons from various denominations attended the beautifully carried-out funeral service of Mrs. Fannie C. Stewart, publisher of The Recorder and mother of Recorder Editor Marcus C. Stewart, Mrs. Joyce S. Thompson and Mrs. Fredonia S. Temple, last Saturday in Christ Temple. The passing of "Mother Stewart" shocked the city at large; I know of no death which concerned so many people so deeply.

"She had a good name gained by godly living," said one minister. Among other remarks were:

"During the 30 years I knew her she was always pleasant to know."
"She took stock of her life in the morning. Therefore she was ready when the evening part of her life came to the end. If we spend the morning of our life well, the evening will be all right."

"Many speak of Christ's goodness looking down, but Mother Stewart held her head up high when praising God. She said, 'Elder Carter, if I would go before you, I want the church to have a hallo, luhah time, singing and shouting.'"

Ministers appearing on the program were Drs. C. T. Watkins of Bethel A.M.E. Church; R. T. Andrews, Mt. Zion Baptist; C. H. Bell, Mt. Paran Baptist; H. L. Burton, Phillips Temple C.M.E.; N. E. Vincent, New Era Baptist; R. H. Peoples, Second Christian, and Henry W. Lewis.

In his eulogy, Elder Carter said, "Choose ye whom ye will serve and lay aside every weight. To run you must keep your eyes on Jesus. Mother Stewart made her choice—God first and her children next."

Serving as flower girls were the Women Sponsors of The Indianapolis Recorder Charities, Inc., and the Dorcas Circle of the church, of which Mother Stewart was a member.

With the passing of Mother Stewart, this column is somewhat hard to get out. She was a great consolation to me, giving me encouraging words many times in time of trouble.

Rev. Noel Hord of Terre Haute was guest speaker for the missionary of New Bethel Baptist Church last Sunday, when all workers for the Dr. J. O. Clark Memorial Window turned in their gleasers, making a very fine report.

Mrs. Esther Lynch, president, and members of the missionary are working untiringly to reach their $1000 goal.

Another effort for the Clark Memorial Window is a tea to be given Sunday from 4 to 7 at the home of Mrs. Ethel Merker, 1810 Bellefontaine street.

L. P. Meriwethers Entertain Eastside League For 4th Year

A tradition of several years' standing was followed Monday night, when more than 30 persons, members and guests of the Eastside Better Business and Civic League, enjoyed a pre-Thanksgiving Day banquet at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Lucian B. Meriwether, 2257 North Capitol avenue.

The evening's principal speaker, Atty. Frank R. Beckwith, lauded the league for its work in advancing the Negro in matters of civic pride and betterment and striving to bring about racial equality.

He placed a large measure of the blame for our apparent lag behind Russia in technological progress on the evils of racial segregation.

"If one-tenth of all children born in this country are condemned at the outset to second-class citizenship and second-rate opportunities, the whole country suffers," the prominent attorney and civic leader said.

He has been actively associated with the cause of racial advancement through his work as president of the Yankee Doodle Civic Foundation, as well as in his legal activities.

Guests at the gala affair included Mesdames Ellen T. Meriwether, Nina Thomas, M. Jenkins and Lettie Skaggs, Dr. S. D. Meriwether, Atty. Mercer M. Mance, Rev. A. J. Parry and William A. Bailey, among others.

The dining table was well stocked with roast turkey and all the trimmings. An attractive centerpiece included a huge fruit bowl with a gigantic candle.

The occasion has become an annual affair given by the Meriwethers in recognition of the league's work.

Mrs. Mary P. McGuire Council has been the group's president since it was founded more than 20 years ago.

NAACP Leaders, Others Set Goal Of 3 Million Negro Voters in South

ATLANTA — A recent conference of leaders of the NAACP and cooperating groups meeting here has set a goal of 3,000,000 Negro voters in 11 Southern states by 1960.

Following a two-day planning conference, the goal was announced by Roy Wilkins, national executive secretary of the NAACP. The conference sessions were attended by representatives from Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Florida, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, Tennessee, South Carolina and Virginia.

"We seek as our first goal the registration of as high a proportion of Negro voters as of whites. The immediate goal is to bring Negro registration up to 60 percent of its potential or about 3,000,000 voters by 1960. With the incentive of the 1957 Civil Rights law, we are confident that this goal can be reached," a statement issued by the conference declared.

The conference was called to develop a program to encourage registration and voting by Negro citizens under provisions of the 1957 Civil Rights Act. It was the first such law passed by Congress in 82 years. The objective of the drive is to increase more than two-fold in the area the present registration of Negro voters estimated at about 1,250,000. Mr. Wilkins expressed the opinion that the NAACP drive "would stimulate an increase in registration of white voters. The NAACP also is for this and is not trying to register more Negro voters than white." He added, "We want to remove present restrictions so that more voters of both races may register."

The conference statement recommended "that the NAACP board of directors establish the necessary machinery and provide the necessary budget to implement a program which will reach every Negro household in 11 Southern states," because achievement of the conference objectives "requires organization and year-around campaigning."

Mr. Wilkins further pointed out that voting in the South is far below the national level, and the disfranchisement of Negro voters has operated to keep low the level of voting among white people. He cited figures of comparative numbers of votes cast to elect a congressman in a southern state and a northern state.

THE NAACP LEADER also told the newsmen that southern whites were being "deluded by some politicians and some newspapers who know better. They are being told that if the NAACP is curbed things will settle down and the struggle for civil rights be abandoned. This will not happen," he said.

Instead of feeding the people delusions, Mr. Wilkins asserted, the press and political leaders of the region should be calling for discussions between the races. "It is time for such interracial talks," he added, "even if complete agreement is not reached immediately. It is time to inject some sanity into the present situation."

If the new South is to realize its full industrial potential, he declared, it should welcome the new civil rights act as an aid for "this goal cannot be attained if the Negro is counted out. The civil rights law seeks to give the Negro a voice in the South of which he is an integral part."

The new law, signed by President Eisenhower on Sept. 9, establishes a Commission of Civil Rights to investigate sworn complaints that citizens have been denied the right to vote because of their race, religion or national origin; to study and collect information concerning legal developments constituting a denial of equal protection of the laws; and to appraise laws and policies of the federal government concerning equal protection of the laws.

Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., chairman of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, declared that while he is not a "ballot determinist" he has recognized that the "ballot is one of the master keys to unlock the pearly gates to freedom."

"Voting alone," he said, "will not solve all the Negro's problems. There are a plurality of things and methods needed to solve these questions." Dr. King called for "unified action in the area of registration and voting." He concluded, "The crusade for citizenship, sponsored by the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, should be regarded as an indispensable aid to the NAACP, and it is by no means in competition or in conflict with the NAACP."

Baptists Challenge Presidency Of Chicago's Rev. J. H. Jackson

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The right of Rev. Joseph H. Jackson of Chicago to continue in his office as president of the National Baptist Convention of America was challenged this week by a group of 10 ministers through the United States Attorney for the District of Columbia.

A petition to the U. S. District Court here charged that Rev. Jackson has "usurped, intruded into or unlawfully holds or exercises" the presidency of the 25,000-church convention representing some 4 1/2 million members.

The petitioners brought the suit to avert the "quo warranto" in which the government may authorize the suit to be brought in the name of the United States. The petition has been authorized and approved by Oliver Gasch, U. S. Attorney.

According to Atty. James M. Nabrit, Jr., chief counsel for the petitioners, the ministers represent some 1160 churches with an estimated 43,800 members. REV. JACKSON, pastor of Chicago's Olivet Baptist Church, is currently serving his fifth term as president of the mammoth organization. In fact it was his election to a fifth term, during last September's convention at Louisville, that brought on the petition.

His challengers cite the convention's constitution which reads: "A president of this convention shall not be eligible for re-election after he has served four consecutive terms, until at least one year has elapsed."

To circumvent the constitution, the petitioners charge, Rev. Jackson in the September meeting "did arbitrarily adjourn the meeting of the convention's Board of Directors without adopting rules for the convention" after an opinion was presented by the convention's attorney declaring him ineligible for re-election as president. IT IS ALSO ALLEGED that Rev. Jackson improperly issued badges to persons not qualified as delegates and allowed such unqualified persons to vote, and, without authority, declare that the aforementioned provision of the constitution did not bar him from re-election.

Rev. Jackson's contention is that since the Board of Directors session was adjourned (by him) before rules for the convention were adopted, those rules, including the provision limiting tenure of the presidency, were not properly adopted and consequently were of no effect.

Meanwhile, the protesting ministers are asking the court to rule that the Chicago minister holds the national office unlawfully and should be "oust and excluded therefrom" immediately.

CHURCH EVENTS ... of the City

Thousands of people all over the United States will gather next Thursday to celebrate Thanksgiving Day. Many will attend church sometime during the day to give thanks to God for His wonderful blessings to them, and many will raise their voices in beautiful songs of praise.

The American people really have so much to thank God for. We who live in this country do not have to suffer as many are suffering around the world today. In the midst of the land of plenty as we celebrate next week's holiday, let us pray a prayer for those who are suffering the world over. Let all mankind remember to do as Psalm 107 says: "O give thanks unto the Lord, for He is good: for His mercy endureth forever."

Many churches in the city will celebrate Thanksgiving by having special services Thursday which all people are urged to attend.

Rev. F. Benjamin Davis, pastor of New Bethel Baptist Church, will be guest speaker Thursday morning at 6 for sunrise services in First Baptist Church, North Indianapolis. The service is an all-day affair sponsored by the Metoka and Galeda Bible class of the church school, which will serve breakfast to all guests.

Holy Communion will be celebrated Thursday morning at 10 in St. Philip's Episcopal Church. The pastor, Rev. Henry J. Hill, will be celebrant.

Seventeenth Street Memorial Baptist Church will have special ices. Dr. C. T. H. Watkins, pastor of Bethel AME Church, will speak Thursday for the Methodist giving service to be held at 11 at Phillips Temple CME Church, members of Simpson Methodist church, and members of the Zion Tabernacle AME Zion Churches will share in the service.

A life well spent on earth in service for mankind and a life so well-lived it became an inspiration for others was that of the late Mrs. Fannie C. Stewart, Elder Willie Lee, pastor of Christ Temple, said during the funeral services for the former publisher of The Recorder last Saturday.

She loved her God and was always giving Him praise for all blessings. She was a sincere Christian, one who showed her love for Christ.

Today she is resting with her Master, Whom she served and loved. She will long be remembered by those who knew her kind and gentle way. She has left her golden footprints in the sand of time, and they are worthy of being followed today by any youth.

She will continue to live on in the lives of those who knew and loved her.

The Leatha Ervin intermediate class of the Sunday school of First Baptist Church, North Indianapolis, held a special meeting Thursday of last week. During the organizational meeting, the group was named after a member of the church, Mrs. Ervin, who spent 28 years in Africa as a missionary. Elected officers were: Linda Blunt, president; Harold Battle, vice-president; Rosetta Jones, secretary; Beverly Black, assistant secretary; Wardean Lang corresponding secretary; Walter Hayes, librarian; Wardell Finney and Clifford English, class custodians; Charles Williams, chairman of the sick committee, and Billy Spann, reporter.

The class will begin work on Christmas projects next week.

The Baltimore Memorial Window Committee of New Bethel Baptist Church will have a musical program Sunday afternoon at 3:30.

The closing of the convention of First Baptist Church, North Indianapolis, will be held Sunday afternoon at 3:30, with Rev. W. Hardy, associate pastor, as speaker. The church fellowship dinner will be held following morning services in the dining room.

A special program will be given by the missionary society of Mt. Helm Baptist Church at 8 Monday night. Mrs. Mary Brown is sponsor.

Young people of the city will leave Friday of next week for Nashville, where they will attend the Midwest Baptist Youth Conference. About 500 young people are expected.

The Willing Workers club of New Liberty Baptist Church will hold special services Sunday at 3:30.

Believing that Sunday is a special day in Christian education, teaching and tradition and that it should be set aside for worship, rest and family life, and that it is desirable that a climate be cultivated in the community which would encourage all citizens to observe Sunday as a special day of worship, rest and family life.

Mrs. Edna Artis Was Friend And "Mother" To Hundreds

Few people can enjoy a quiet life of service to others. Mrs. Edna M. Artis, mother of Lionel F. Artis, manager of Lockefield Gardens, had such a life, serving for many years as unofficial "mother" and counselor, friend and confessor to anonymous hundreds who found her second-hand clothing shop she operated for a long time at 843 Indiana a place to go and unburden their troubles.

Mrs. Artis, 78, died unexpectedly at her home, 822 Fayette, early Monday morning following a stroke. Funeral services were to be held Thursday morning in the Peoples Funeral Home Chapel, followed by burial in Crown Hill.

A native of Terre Haute, Mrs. Artis had been active in civic and church work since her arrival in the city from Paris, Ill., in 1908. She was a member of Second Christian Church and took part in its missionary society and Service club.

She was especially valuable in leading discussion groups and interpreting Biblical passages.

As a member of the Domestic Art club, a social and service group, she enjoyed along with the other members sewing for herself as well as for new babies of the community.

PEOPLE FROM ALL WALKS of life visited her used goods and cleaning establishment, giving her an opportunity to act many times as a consultant, friend, teacher and helper. She was never too busy to have a pleasant smile for whoever stopped in, and she was such a "poor businesswoman" she habitually "marked down" goods when she saw people in need who couldn't afford to pay what items were worth.

A long-time resident of her neighborhood, she was a leader who influenced others for good by example rather than by preaching. In addition to the son two cousins, Mesdames Ella Taylor and Eva Mitchell, survive.

Police Catch Up With Suspected Dope Pusher

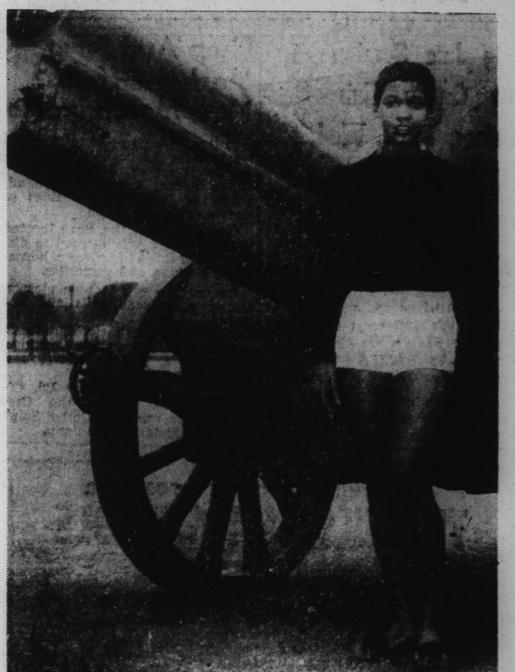

Local police, after a two-months hunt, this week caught up with James Stratton, 28, a suspected dope pusher, of whom it has been said was "chased out of Chicago" by narcotic agents of that city.

Stratton, whose address is given as 1042 W. 32nd, was arrested in a house in the 1100 block of West 33rd by Detective Sg.s. William E. Owen and Robert E. Keithley.

According to the officers, Stratton threw a flashlight of the pencil style out an open window when they confronted him in the house. Officer Keithley recovered it. He said he found 36 capsules of diluted heroin in the barrel of the flashlight.

Stratton was held on a preliminary narcotic and larceny charge. He has been suspected also of being a member of the TV theft ring ensnared recently by local police. He was a member of Mt. Paran Baptist Church.

Only immediate survivors are the widow, Mrs. Sallie M. Hughes, and a brother, T. B. Hughes.

JUST LET 'EM START SOMETHING! The Russians may have their spunkies and "mutnickis," but we'll lay you odds they've got no morale boosters like 18-year-old Sharon Wilson on their side! Shapely, Sharon is all set to do her little bit if the long-standing "cold" war should warm up. When not posing for gag shots beside outmoded cannon, Miss Wilson, 325 W. 42nd, is a busy sophomore at Indiana University. (Recorder Photo by Jim Burres.)

H. Jernagin. All pastors are urged to cooperate.

The National Disciples' Student Fellowship Council has authorized its executive committee to continue negotiations for possible merger of the council into the New United Campus Christian Fellowship, which would include the Disciples of Christ, Presbyterian and Evangelical United Brethren Churches. The Christian Youth Fellowship of Second Christian Church was host on Nov. 10 to the District World Fellowship Youth Meeting.

ABUNDANT LIFE BY ORAL ROBERTS

HOW BILL STOPPED FUMBLING THE BALL

The power to believe is the greatest force in a human being. Faith and fear are both a form of believing.

Here's a man whose steps have been dogged by sickness, frustration and failure. Someone tries to encourage him by saying, "Don't be afraid. God will help you." He cries, "No, I don't believe He will. I do not believe anything can help me."

Therefore, his fear is a form of belief. He believes God can't help him.

Faith is believing also. Faith is based upon confidence in God and His power to protect and deliver us. This kind of believing brings that feeling of security. It relaxes the muscles. It removes the knot of fear from the stomach. It controls the emotions and calms the mind.

Bill Thomas was a young high school student and his greatest ambition was to be a football player. In his junior year, he went out for the team. His tackling was vicious. His courage in meeting any situation was outstanding. He played the position of "halfback and carried the ball very often.

One day early in his career when the center snapped the ball rather hard, he fumbled. From that hour an insistent fear plagued him whenever the ball was to come to him. Always he would think, "What if I fumble, drop the ball?" When he was carrying back punts down the field, the same fear would nag him. And he did begin fumbling the ball often. Finally the coach told him that if he kept on fumbling, he would have to take him off the team. But the coach was a rather keen student of human nature. He took young Bill aside, and this is what he said, "Bill, I know that you are not afraid. Your tackling is too hard and you face the biggest of opponents without one quiver of fear. I would rather have you between an enemy ball carrier and our goal line than anyone else I know. Now, tell me why you drop the ball."

"Then Bill told him of his first experience and of the awful fear that kept seizing upon him every time he was called to carry the ball—the fear of fumbling. Then the coach said quietly, "Bill, I want to talk to you and then you talk to yourself. You simply have begun to believe that you are going to fumble. Now, I want you to change your form of believing. From now on whenever the ball is coming to you, I want you to say with a determination and believe it, 'I will catch the ball; I will not fumble; I will carry the ball.' Then ask God to help you—and He will."

From that moment on, Bill never fumbled again. He became one of the best players in the state. He changed his believing.

These two master emotions, fear or faith, will control you. You are what your believing is because you turn all the power of your being completely in the direction of your believing. The difference lies in whether you practice your faith or practice your fear. Fear not! Only believe.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations. Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months! In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 20 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or strychnine of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in a proprietary or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at drug stores, satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. *Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

Cheer Fund

can possibly be satisfied. This year The Recorder can only do what it has done in the past—help the few hundreds a small, kind-hearted community opens its heart to and feel heavy-hearted that many hundreds of others will have to have a bleak Christmas.

IT'S A SAD FACT that too many people, relaxing in their warm homes full of turkey, contentedly viewing the pile of gifts under the big decorated Christmas tree, forget they are in a community which has far too many others who are not enjoying the happy side of celebrating Christmas.

At the Recorder, we can't forget that. We are too close to these people who come to us pitifully begging for just a little ray of sunshine for their children. For too often we see mothers struggling to support large families who swallow their pride in their love for their children.

Letter after letter says, "I have never asked for help before, but I can't stand the thought of seeing my little children crying on Christmas morning."

We cry with them when we realize that a large segment of the community's population is now enjoying greater wealth than it has ever had before.

We know this segment could give $50,000 without even feeling it. We also know it will be little short of a miracle if these comfortable people give $5,000.

The Recorder itself gives till it hurts. Promoting the Cheer Fund annually costs around $1000 and requires the work of a large staff of professional and volunteer workers.

About 50 women sponsors, for instance, working under the direction of Mrs. Paul A. Batties, work indefatigably for many weeks trying to do good work in the community.

They visit homes, investigate cases and are invariably saddened by the plights of the destitute hundreds they see. They know at firsthand—and that is what makes it hurt—that the overwhelming majority of the people who write to the Cheer Fund for help desperately need it.

They see a sad study in contrasts. ON ONE VISIT they see perhaps a family of ten—fatherless. Five or six children may be sleeping in one bed. None of the children is properly clothed. They haven't had a decent meal in their lives. They hear about Santa Claus, but he's as far away as the stars.

The mother begs, "Just a second-hand doll would please Mary, and Billie has such a bad void because his feet are on the ground. We don't want much, but couldn't we get just these two things?"

On another visit a family of four is headed by a father who has a good job and has a healthy bank account. A turkey dinner is nothing out of the ordinary—in fact, the mother may be annoyed because Christmas is nothing "extra."

The house is warm, the children well-clothed, there's a big TV set, beautiful furnishings and so many toys the children are bored with them.

"The Indianapolis Recorder Christmas Cheer Fund is the noblest endeavor in the Negro community," Dr. Guy L. Grant, president of The Indianapolis Recorder Charities, Inc., says flatly.

"Through it hundreds of people have been made happy each Christmas and we're proud of that and thankful to a generous community."

The 1958 March of Dimes will be conducted Jan. 2-31.

neighborhood to scare away Negroes who had purchased the home.

Mrs. Eva Stratton, who formerly lived at 2715 E. Minnesota, told The Recorder Tuesday that she had gone to the home on New Jersey last Monday evening to clean up in preparation for moving later in the week.

WHEN SHE RETURNED Tuesday, she said several windows of the home had been broken out.

Undaunted, she returned to the home again Wednesday, continuing her plans of moving in, only to find that more vandalism had been done the preceding night.

In the meantime, the family received a phone call from one of the new neighbors who crisply informed her, "We don't want to live near colored people."

The home is in a neighborhood which has seen more than a little racial tension in recent years, as Negro families have pushed from the east as far west as College.

A minor race riot broke out several years ago when the first Negro family moved into the general neighborhood, with most demonstrating being centered around 16th and College.

More recently, demonstrations and threats have been directed against the Peoples Temple, an interracial church founded by Rev. James Jones at 15th and New Jersey.

While inside the church an unusual example of harmonious race relations has been seen, with white and black working together with no regard at all for color outside the church all has not been peaceful.

At first small crowds of white residents of the neighborhood milled around the church whenever services were held, making clear their disapproval of the venture in brotherhood started by the young minister.

ALTHOUGH COMPARATIVE PEACE reigns now, with the neigh-hood is a nursing home operated burden of democracy, minor events have rippled the apparently serene surface from time to time.

Also a target in the same neighborhood a nursing home operated by the church at 24th and College. Like the church itself, the nursing home is operated on a complete interracial basis.

While The Recorder has learned that a Negro family has lived peacefully for some time in the 3000 block on New Jersey, as far as known there are no Negroes elsewhere on the Northside street.

New Twist Works In Old Pigeon Drop

A fast-talking con man used the old "pigeon drop" game, but with a slightly new angle, to trick Mrs. Angelina Murff, 54, 4113 Byram, out of $264 and three diamond rings Wednesday.

Mrs. Murff told police she was confronted on Monument Circle by a man who offered her a job as women's matron in a downtown bank building.

She said she followed the man to a bank building, where she was given a job application blank to fill out in the lobby. She said he even had a red inkpad for her to use to put her thumbprint on the application.

HE THEN HINTED that she should withdraw her money from a savings and loan firm, she told police, and deposit in the bank as a security to help her get the job. Mrs. Murff withdrew her money and placed it in an envelope and added her rings as "added security."

The man then instructed her to go to a department store to arrange to buy her work uniforms, and that he would meet her there.

"we cannot help," he added. "I know there is the money to spare—in fact, I personally know people who just waste money in over-preparing for parties—but so many people just don't believe they have any responsibility as their brother's keeper."

As the 1957 drive is intensified during the coming few weeks, we hope the total community will open its heart and give their brothers and their brothers' children a real merry Christmas.

in a few minutes. Becoming nervous and suspicious when he failed to show up, the woman returned to the bank, where she was told her application had not been filed and that no one who fitted the description she gave had ever worked at the bank.

When Mrs. Murff opened the envelope the man had given her, her money and rings were gone.

Chatter for the College Set

By BILL RASPBERRY

Things are looking up again among this town's collegians, it seems. At least this last weekend was a very definite improvement over the preceding. Which all goes to show that nothing—not even Indianapolis—is beyond hope!

At first, I thought we were off to another typically dull weekend since nothing much happened Friday, as far as I was able to determine. But Saturday, the Scarlet Vaguettes got things rolling with a very enjoyable sweater hop.

Couples attending the affair were watching "tops"—sweaters, shirts, etc.—with prizes being awarded the couples sporting the cutest outfits. My overwhelming modesty forbids my mentioning the fact that I and my date, Barbara Crowds, picked up the prizes. I can't help thinking, however, that somebody was being funny when they gave me a comb and brush set, since I KNOW my hair is always extremely beautiful.

Barbara's prize was a really lovely bracelet. Club members include President Emma Crenshaw, Vice-president Beverly Collins, Secretary Dolores McGavok, Treasurer Clara McIntyre, Maxine Williamson, Clara Hutchins, Doris Edwards and Virginia Bailey.

Also Saturday, Purdue Omegas had a dinner and dance for their neophytes. Attending from here and reporting a swell night of dining and dancing were Ruthie Collins, Laura Mays, Marilyn Milton, Esther Quarles, Luella Stenson and Hubert Dixon. Man, what a harvest that Dixon had!

The festivities were at the plush Palms cafeteria, an ultra-modern Lafayette establishment. Guests of honor were new Omegas, Bob Oldham, Dick Brooks, Charlie Lyons and David Lewis. David is the only Naptowner in the group.

Although it was an Omega deal, most of the major frats and sororities were represented. Laura Mays is having a little difficulty getting back down to earth after being serenaded with the Sweetheart Song by Purdue Kappas. Wonder how much she paid them. Not to start any gossip, but maybe Vivian Bedenbaugh should have stayed around a little longer. As soon as she left, the other gals swarmed over Charlie Lyons like butterflies on honeysuckle!

I must congratulate the Omegas for their sense of brotherhood. Although Lonnie McIntyre is in Germany, his "brother," Erich Barnes, saw to it that Ruthie didn't get lonely.

The Intercollegiate Club enjoyed immensely its Sunday afternoon program featuring music by Albert Walton's combo. The group—tenor saxman Walton, Al Finnell on bass, Eddie Johnson on the skins and Roland Armour on the keys—produced many pleasant sounds. If you've not a dance or party in mind, I'm sure these guys would appreciate your contacting them. Believe me, they will nicely!

Following the Intercollegiate session, Harold Oliver had some of the kids over to his place for a cozy little "get-together." My, but his mantle is tastefully decorated! Right, Jean Cox?

Muncie, too, was a right swinging town last week. Delta Iota chapter Kappas entertained with an on-campus dance (darn that 11:30 curfew!) and the Alphas partied at the increasingly popular Brownstone. Didn't any Naptowners make either affair?

Yvonne Davis entertained friends at a birthday dinner in her home Saturday. Guests included "Queen Charlene" Cox, Margaret Garrett, Dolores Anderson, Geraldine Duncan, Joan Davis and Vivian Edwards. What, no fellows?

Nu chapter Kappas have plans nearly completed for a rather fabulous pre-Thanksgiving banquet at the Sheraton-Lincoln Sunday. I pity you unfortunates who won't be able to make it, as it promises to be a real tough deal!

A friend of mine was on my neck recently because I happened to say that half the fellows she goes out with are hoods. I'm sorry, kid, and hereby retract the statement. Half the fellows you go out with AREN'T hoods.

Katherine Wright, Franklin cutie, is doing her practice teaching at Franklin high school. Kat's a senior at Franklin College.

I suppose that's about all there is for this time. Be sure to let me in on the weekend's activities. Until then, I'll see you around.

CAREFREE CO-EDS: "Noting the happenings" of last year's crop of neophytes as recorded in Tennessee State's "Tennessean" are three of this year's freshies: Faye Williams, Houston, Tenn.; Nalue Bowlin, Memphis, Tenn.; and Carole Baltimore (standina) Indianapolis.

Brazil WCTU Lists Officers

BRAZIL—The Progressive WCTU met at the home of Mrs. Mary Smith and elected as officers for the coming year Mesdames M. Wickware, president; Mary Smith, vice-president; Rosetta Wilburn, recording secretary; E. Bradshaw, corresponding secretary, and Anna Nave, treasurer. Due to the illness of the former vice-president, Mrs. Ida Wilburn, Mesdames Rosetta Robertson and Lillian Jarrett couldn't attend the meeting.

Miss Ollie Belle Wickware, who has been a patient at the Robert Long hospital in Indianapolis, is now up and fine. She went to Indianapolis last Sunday with members of Second Baptist Church to attend services at Garfield Baptist Church there. Rev. Pat Buckner preached his first sermon at his "home" church in Indianapolis, where members and visitors enjoyed a country-style dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Patton visited his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Patton, in Indianapolis last Sunday.

Mrs. Laura Spencer was called to Cincinnati by the death of a brother-in-law last week.

Over 100 Attend Youth Festival Given by Church Women's Group

Over 100 young people and adults attended the annual "Youth Festival" sponsored by the Human Relations Committee of the Council of Church Women last Friday in the downtown First Baptist Church, of which Dr. Ozle D. Pruitt is pastor. Mrs. A. Ray Kaufman is president of the sponsoring group.

Young people of the church served as hosts, while guests were young people of various churches of the city, members of the Youth Council of the Indianapolis Church Federation and foreign students in the city attending colleges.

The theme for the meeting was "Together We Share."

Greetings were extended by young people of the church, who conducted an "ice-breaker" of games, with Rev. William Helm, minister of Christian education at the church, in charge.

Henry J. Richardson, III, vice-president of the Youth Council of the Church Federation and member of Witherspoon United Presbyterian Church, was master of ceremonies.

The group was welcomed by Mrs. Inez Smith, chairman of the Human Relations Committee. Guest soloist was Fritz Keithley of Third Christian Church.

ECHOES OF THE Planner House work project sponsored by the Youth Council were given, and pictures were shown. Serving on the panel were Miss Mildred Jacks of Allen Chapel A.M.E. Church; John Thompson, University Heights Evangelical United Brethren Church, and Ki Nimori of Japan, member of Third Christian Church.

The panel members agreed that a Christian Youth Weekend Work Camp is "a wonderful experience for all young people." "It gives the young people something worthwhile to do for others," they said.

Ki Nimori spoke on his week-long work camp spent last summer on an Indian Reservation out West.

"The Indians have been treated very badly, more so than the Negroes," he said. "Many of them are shoved off in a camp to themselves and believe they are in a concentration camp."

"They were happy to know that someone cared for them and that we had come to build a church for them. In helping them we build a stronger fellowship between them and the Americans. They need our help and prayers."

Students attended from Jamaica, Japan and Ethiopia. Enjoying their stay here, they said they find everyone in the country "nice and friendly."

PURPOSE OF THE Human Relations Committee is to bring about a closer fellowship among young people in the city and foreign students who visit the city.

Special music was rendered by the Manual Aires of Manual High school, directed by Harry Henderson.

Rev. Festus Carey, Jr., director of Christian education at Second Christian Church, directed games for the group, after which refreshments were served by the committee.

Members serving were Mrs. Francis Weber, vice-chairman, and Mesdames Robert Haynes, George Medicott, Ray Guhrle, Cordelia Elliott, Fay Wilbur, Denver Hinton, Teresa Sanders and J. Roger Carey.

The Christian Youth Council invited young people to join them in another weekend work project sponsored by the Christian Youth Council of the Indianapolis Church Federation at Planner House, Nov. 22-24.

THANKSGIVING, 1957

If people of the United States of America are thoughtful, Thanksgiving Day this year should be a sober holiday, given to taking serious stock of what God has given this country and what this country has done with those gifts.

The corporate sins of this nation should weigh heavily upon our shoulders as we pause to thank God for His blessings. We have been guilty of arrogance, of exalting ourselves. We have been guilty of worshipping Mammon, improperly using God's gifts.

Russia's big bold step in outer space should rid us of much arrogance; yet few of us are sober-minded enough to realize what that step means. We waste time condemning American scientists who have not been properly supported in the first place; and we waste more time trying to ridicule the Russians in an attempt which is nothing more than a childish "So what?" when we have been bested.

Our worship of Mammon is steadily demoralizing the nation, yet we go blindly on our way, allowing money-mad businessmen to undermine the very foundations of our nation's ethic. Juvenile delinquency is aided and abetted by the movies, magazines, vile music and indifferent communities.

But the worst sin is racial prejudice. Jesus Christ Himself warns of the hypocrisy of men who pretend to love God while hating their brother, yet millions of Americans will devoutly bow their heads next Thursday and expect God to accept their thanks, when their hearts are full of hatred for their brothers.

"Turn back, O man, forswear thy foolish ways," wrote the hymnist Clifford Box. We need to listen to him as we say our prayers next Thursday. Every American should dedicate himself to proving his thankfulness by daring to admit his sins and going about ridding himself of them.

Earth shall be fair, and all her people one: Nor till that hour shall God's whole will be done. Now, even now, once more from earth to sky Peals forth in joy man's old, undaunted cry, "Earth shall be fair, and all her folk be one!"

The Recorder, The UAW and Ford

The Recorder is glad to publish the letter to the editor on this page showing the concern of Raymond H. Berndt, Region 3 director of the United Automobile Workers, with the reported "freeze-out" of Negro workers from the Indianapolis plant of the Ford Motor Company.

We are somewhat at a loss to understand why Mr. Berndt is apparently so "hot" because we appealed to UAW President Walter Reuther for help in the situation. Certainly the great United Auto Workers union is second to none among organizations battling for fair employment throughout this country.

Our statement to Mr. Reuther in regard to the local UAW set-up was: "The regional UAW has made efforts for fair employment but evidently with little success." In other words, we consider that the UAW and The Recorder are on the same team but the team is getting licked and it is time to call for reinforcements.

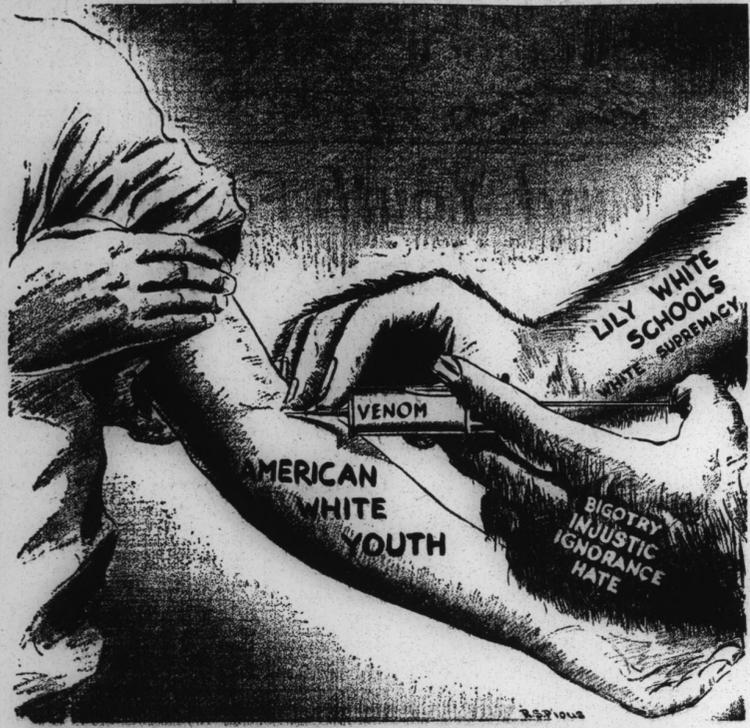

Moreover, let us point out that the week before appealing to Mr. Reuther, we had addressed a similar appeal to Henry Ford II, head of the Ford Motor Company. The name "Ford" also has a high standing in regard to employment of Negroes, dating back long before the UAW was born.

We cannot repeat it too often—THIS NEWSPAPER IS INTERESTED IN AND BATTLING FOR A FAIR SHARE OF JOBS FOR NEGRO WORKERS, NOW AND FOREVER. We do not know at this time just where the blame for the local situation lies, but we certainly intend to find out. And while the major responsibility is assumed to lie with management, we can't take it for granted that all labor leaders (inside or outside the UAW) are above investigation on this question. Let the chips fall where they may.

A couple of Mr. Berndt's observations are unfortunate. The Recorder not only fought for FEPC legislation during the last session of the State Legislature; this newspaper was fighting for such legislation when Mr. Berndt was in diapers. The record will show that over the course of years it was the UAW and other organizations which "joined with" The Recorder and the NAACP, and not the other way around.

Furthermore, The Recorder was the ONLY newspaper in Indianapolis to oppose the Right-to-Work Law. Incidentally, in editing Mr. Berndt's statement we have taken the liberty of capitalizing the word "Negro" in every case. We assume that this was a clerical error, but somebody on Mr. Berndt's staff needs education on the point.

It is never too late to mend. Even though the local plant reportedly has hired its initial contingent, we believe the situation can still be remedied if the Ford Motor Company, the UAW and all others concerned will recognize the extreme urgency of fair employment in one of the most important industries in Indianapolis. Let us bury the hatchet and go forward together.

THEY DON'T HAVE A FAIR CHANCE IN A SEGREGATED SCHOOL SYSTEM

Letters to the Editor ...

EDITOR'S NOTE: Letters to the editor constitute for many people some of the most interesting reading found in any newspaper. The Recorder, major voice for a large segment of the city's population and recognized as such by a still larger portion, has recently received many long letters of interest. In several instances these letters are by white citizens who have sent us complete copies of letters only partially reproduced in the daily press.

Takes Recorder To Task About Ford Company Policy

To the Editor: I am deeply concerned with the stories appearing in the November 2nd and November 9th issues of The Indianapolis Recorder relative to the disproportionate number of Negroes employed at the Ford plant in Indianapolis since the UAW and its Local 111 are prevented by Taft-Hartley from deciding who the employees at the Ford plant will be since the Taft-Hartley Act prohibits closed shop agreements.

So that the facts are clear I believe it should be pointed out that our Union, the UAW and its Local 111 are prevented by Taft-Hartley from deciding who the employees at the Ford plant will be since the Taft-Hartley Act prohibits closed shop agreements.

It should also be pointed out that at the time hiring started at the local Ford plant stories in The Recorder indicated that The Recorder was satisfied with management's statement about their hiring policies, but no follow-up was made to determine whether or not these policies had been adhered to, whereas we in the UAW on a number of occasions had requested management to hire additional Negro employees, and were advised that they were going to continue hiring the most qualified employees, and by a strange coincidence it always appeared that whenever a Negro worker applied for a job, their files of applications would always produce a more qualified worker.

SINCE THE FORD hiring policy fits the area it appears that the various agencies, citizens and The Recorder in Indianapolis could have prevented this deplorable condition by joining with the UAW when we attempted to have Fair Employment Legislation enacted during the last session of the State Legislature. It should be very clear a this point that the Chamber of Commerce sponsored Right to Work Law certainly doesn't give Negroes the opportunity to work where they are qualified and available for work.

The UAW stands ready and willing to cooperate with all groups to eliminate the present hiring practices that prevail not only in Indianapolis, but in any other city in these United States, and we join with those who have not been hired in asking why The Recorder and other groups get excited about the hiring policy at the Indianapolis Ford plant AFTER the Ford Company has hired its full contingent of workers.

Raymond H. Berndt, Director Region 3, UAW.

Yes, Teeners Can "Lick" Rock 'n' Roll

To the Editor: I am writing to you about the editorial in the Nov. 9 issue of The Recorder, titled "Teenagers Can 'Lick' Rock and Roll." The paper is sent to me, as it has been for the last few months, and I read it through from front to back. I liked this editorial, so I thought I would write to you and add my two cents' worth.

I am from the progressive school of music — the cool sounds are my meat. I like music — good music, that is. Some of the rock 'n' roll is good, but it is very little. The old rhythm and blues songs are—or should I say were—nice.

It's really something to hear singers like Miss Holiday, Jimmy Rushing (in his heyday) and of course Miss Dinah Washington and Miss Fitzgerald.

Of the last two I just named, Miss Way-Lington has come a long way. She can now sing just about anything. As for Miss Fitzgerald, what can one say about her? She is a singer's singer and has been for the last two decades, so there is little I can say or want to say about her; she is the tops.

THIS IS WHY I go for the progressive sounds. Artists like these like to express themselves to the fullest. To sit and listen to them or to hear

Running Away from Negroes Is Beginning to Hurt Whites

The drive of Negroes for complete inclusion in all the facets of American life seems to be succeeding in all areas, even the church, faster than it is in the area of residential living.

There are no figures available, but there are indications that in nearly all communities, regardless of their location, residential segregation is on the increase.

There is little evidence that Negroes have been allowed to escape the ghettos to which they have been assigned in every major city and hamlet large enough to have a sizeable Negro population.

THE OVERCROWDING has been lessened somewhat simply because the ghettos have been expanded by the flight of white home owners whenever a Negro has been able to purchase a house in a formerly all-white section of town.

In a matter of months after the first Negro buys a home in a formerly proscribed section of town, the whites who have been living there sentimentally have sold out to other Negroes and gone to live in the great suburbs with the attendant septic tanks and fancy mortgages.

If they have so much as spoken to their short-time Negro neighbor, it has been probably to explain to him that they are crazy about the old neighborhood "and all," but they are moving to the suburbs to give their children a chance to grow up healthy or to have peace and quiet in their declining years.

The new Negro neighbor politely feigns to understand, but he knows the real reason. He knows that the white neighbor is unhappy to live beside Negroes because he has been brainwashed.

He has retained all of the hogwash about white superiority which he learned at his mother's knee and in church and Sunday school, but maybe this has lain dormant for many years.

He knows that he cannot really afford to buy another house, but the real estate boys have created a myth about the depreciation of value which his home will invariably suffer if an "undesirable" neighbor moves in.

Although it may be hard for him to figure how this could happen if he intends to live there the rest of his life, he has nevertheless accepted the myth.

OFTEN THE MERE FACT that the Negro has moved in is not sufficient for him to sacrifice the things which he has lovingly put into his home, but he is usually given a booster shot of Negrophobia either by his white neighbors who are more alarmed or by white or Negro real estate dealers who ring his doorbell to apprise him of the fact that the "change-over" is taking place or that "the n-----s are coming."

The white real estate purveyor assures him that he has a nice, modern, rustic-type home in a "restricted," FHA-mortgage-insured suburb for a mere 15 or 16 thousand dol-ars. The Negro real estate man assures him that he can get him $12,000 for his present home (for which he paid $7,000 ten years ago).

The victim fall for the talk of the real estate wheelers and dealers and sells his home to a Negro who has to buy on contract with $4,000 down and $80 a month for ten years.

The seller then takes his cash less the commission to the real estate agent and pays down on the suburban home and the new furniture which the new home demands.

And both new home-owners wake up a few days later finding themselves loaded to the hilt with debts.

That is the general pattern, but there are a few variations. Like the case of a "liberal" wife Southerner, whom we shall call Henry Beauregard, because that is not his name.

ABOUT FOUR YEARS ago Beauregard, who draws a moderate salary as the head of a local public institution in Indianapolis, used his accumulated earnings and credit to purchase a comfortable home in the neighborhood of Butler University.

He and his Northern-born wife were very happy and intended to live out the balance of their days there, but about a year ago they became very unhappy. Negroes had moved within a stone's throw of them, and their neighbors had begun to put up "for sale" signs. And the real estate men flocked down upon them like buzzards upon a rotting carcass.

They want to fly with their friends to the suburbs in spite of the fact that the husband is a great humanitarian and has won the respect of Negroes for his stand for interracial decency. But the move would almost destroy them financially.

Another complication has developed. The big wheels in the white real estate racket are not too happy to do in this case what they have been doing all over town. They realize that the formula developed by them in existing Butler University, the citadel of knowledge endowed by locust tycoons, to be surrounded by Negroes.

They are following their traditional pattern with many misgivings. They almost begin to see the light, but not quite.

THE ANSWER to the problem of the Beauregards and to the white real estate men who are turning whole sections of existing Butler University in order to escape integrated residential neighborhoods is to face the situation squarely.

They must either adopt the plan that whenever a Negro family moves into a neighborhood, the white residents refuse to sell on a basis of panic, and of selling individual Negroes homes in whatever neighborhoods (including suburbs, in which they can afford to buy—or they must face the consequence.

And the consequence will be the practical abandonment of the cities to Negro occupancy while the white population is relegated to the suburbs, and both Negroes and whites will be the unwitting prey of predatory deals in real estate. It is just that simple.

"Some People" Say -- In Our Town

By W. ALEXANDER CHAMBERS

MRS. ELEANOR ROOSEVELT visited in our town. She was here as the principal speaker for a session of the convention of the Indiana State Farm Bureau, the second largest organization in the nation of its kind.

Elsewhere, Mrs. Roosevelt was a guest and speaker at Flanner House, a nationally-known social service organization. Mrs. Roosevelt's talk, in some circles, has been the subject of striking comments.

The former "First Lady of the Land," who enjoys a record in that role (presiding period) which may unlikely ever be equalled, is a world traveler and an unforgettable speaker.

In her talk at the Flanner House among other things she observed that "the real struggle is whether we can meet with freedom what has been done under compulsion in the Soviet Union."

Discussing projects or programs of the Flanner House, she said further, "This seems to have seeds of something that is going to be essential in the struggle with Soviet Russia. I would feel better if it were an integrated project."

Immediately, in the same connection, she proposed, "That is one step that has to be taken before you can have really integrated and normal schools. It is a great responsibility of those of us who live in areas in which it would not be difficult to do this job."

Flanner House and its projects program have the moral and material support of numerous leaders of business, industry and civic affairs of our state, and several states from Minnesota to Texas. Some of these leaders may treat indifferently Mrs. Roosevelt's observations in this instance. However, as a prophet enjoying some esteem in her own land and times, her proposals or observations on the programs or projects of Flanner House should be food for some continuous and practical thought, to be implemented into action.

MRS. FANNIE C. STEWART, widow of the late George P. Stewart and his successor as publisher of The Indianapolis Recorder, passed away last week after a variable period of confinement and illness in her home.

Directly or indirectly this writer has been associated with the institution which she headed for over three decades. We feel that in some manner we have been fortunate and inspired by coming in contact with this truly Christian and noble woman.

She was steadfast in her convictions, a stern but fair practical philosopher of life. Mrs. Stewart was a loyal and devoted wife, mother and friend to many of the friendless. She brought forth the idea which crystallized into the Indianapolis Recorder Charities, Inc. She was surely and truly concerned about the evolution of fellowship and brotherhood of all men, or a better humanity.

Other than in regard to her spiritual convictions she was modest or unassuming. Yet in expression she was philosophical, and in action effective or constructive. Beyond the bounds of her immediate contacts she was not necessarily well known. However, in many manners her influence or activity was a paradox of the truly and surely noble and purposeful life. From the sidelines, as it were, she performed in a modest or unassuming manner, a "mighty labor."

Whereas, many of us have encountered: Our life is but a little holding, lent To do a MIGHTY LABOR: we are one With Heaven and the stars, and with a paragon of men. To serve God's aim: else we die with the sun. —MEREDITH.

U. S. SEN. WILLIAM E. JENNER recently has been the subject of varied speculations in our town. This might follow the fact that "HE" has been fairly adroit at intruding, or keeping his name in the news and particularly in connection with various controversial political topics on the national level.

Again, on the state level some of the top brass of the opposition party has contributed to flares of limelight shed upon the "gentleman from Indiana," Mr. Jenner.

In this connection Mayor Vance Hartke, Evansville, has been considered widely as a possible contender to unseat Sen. Jenner in the U.S. Senate. Mayor Hartke has been making speeches over the state, and it is said he has hope of winning the Democratic nomination and defeating Sen. Jenner in the next election.

Speaking recently at Lebanon, Mayor Hartke asserted that Sen. Jenner opposed a tax cut for wage earners and small businessmen with dependents, but favored one for corporations.

He opposed a proposal to study why a farmer's farm prices keep dropping while food prices in grocery stores keep rising. The soaring cost of living during the GOP administration, is our answer to sputnik," Mayor Hartke said.

Again, in a speech at LaGrange he charged that "Jenner has spent most of his 13 years in the Senate grandstanding, masquerading, maneuvering and maligning."

Otherwise he charged that Sen. Jenner missed eight of twelve roll calls on defense measures in three years, and voted against military security twice when he appeared. In the same connection he stated that "muddlers like Sen. Jenner" are partly responsible.

TECH OPENS NET SEASON FRIDAY WOOD CAGERS START SAME NITE

Tech's Greenclads, often a bridesmaid but seldom a bride in the high school basketball flinging, were slated to open the prep hardwood season by playing host to Secina on Friday, November 22.

Paced by "All-American" guard Eddie Hannon, the Techsters are defending city champs and North Central Conference kings. These trophies show the class Charley Mass' boys have, but what they want is the big one—the IHSAA tournament. And this could be the year.

No less than seven letter men from last year's stellar aggregation are back, and they're joined by 6-7 Indulis Brikmanis, a junior who wasn't around last season. INTEGRATION IS sincere at Tech, and Coach Maas usually fielded a team last season with more tan boys than whites. It looks like the same this time.

Figuring as regulars are Hannon, who got pre-season All-American mention at guard; Harold Boyd, 6-3 center who improved rapidly last year and might be shifted to forward if Brikmanis is in there; and Ronnie McCauley, all-state full-back who can also kill you on the basketball floor when he's right.

Other veterans are Larry Bemis, Ronald Bryant, Richard Johnson and Charles Umbanhowar. And one thing about it—there's no clash of race, nationality or individuals when the Tech boys are playing—they're all Greenclads striving for victory.

Newcomers on the Tech roster include George Bishop, Kenneth Brooks, Charles Peterson, James Spaulding, Roscoe Fields, Ray Carter (the tan football speedster), Ronald Boyd (brother of Harold), Noel Sandy and Robert Mimms. The Greenclads will have one-ninth of their regular season over when Sunday rolls around. Following Friday's game with Secina they will be host to Warren Central on Saturday, Nov. 23.

ALSO LAUNCHING ITS season this Friday (Nov. 22) is Wood which was to play Whitehall at the Manual gym. Coach Powell Moorhead may open with an all-tan team comprising Wilson Lorick and Melvin Cobb at forwards; William

He will skate next on the Coliseum ice in the Chiefs' last Sunday night game of the season, at 8 p. m. Sunday against Fort Wayne.

Others on the Woodchuck squad include George Brown, Mike Ellis, Fred Gholdson, Ray Hendricks, R. V. Moore, Tony Bova and Bill Ware.

THREE CITY GAMES are slated for Wednesday, the night, before Thanksgiving. Shortridge will launch its campaign at Secina, while Broad Ripple starts against Lawrence Central in a tilt at Ripple. Wood will play Franklin Township at Manual.

Fletcher Leads Boilermakers To Bloomington

WEST LAFAYETTE — Though he has made only one touchdown this season, Tommy Fletcher from Richmond leads all Purdue scorers with 25 points.

Going into the season-ending Purdue-Indiana battle at Bloomington on Saturday, Fletcher has kicked 16 points after-touchdown in 17 attempts.

The number 13 proved unlucky for Tommy. After hitting his first 13 this year, he finally missed one in Purdue's 27-0 rout of Northwestern last Saturday. However, he tallied three later conversions.

The senior halfback's total also includes a field goal early in the season.

In the Northwestern game, full-back Mel Dillard got his third TD of the season and end Dick Brooks his second.

6-9 Center Sets Scoring Mark

WILLIAMSBURG—Terry Harper, tan 6-9 center of the Williamsburg high school basketball team, broke the Wayne County one-game scoring record with 42 points last week. But his team lost the game.

Harper hit 20-for-26 field goals and 2 free throws. He used mostly a spin shot in under, while being guarded by three opponents.

But Fountain City won the contest, 75-70.

Roosevelt Wins Gary Grid Title

GARY — Roosevelt's Panthers, coached by Leonard Douglas, won the city football championship this season with a 5-0 record in local play.

Passing Sportinalities

By TINEY BALDWIN

Here is our answer to George Whitaker's letter of last week.

"Dear George:

"When I wanted to pick a team, the first man I went to was William Gooch. I asked Gooch to organize a team as I wanted one to be the opposite of William Brown's. We named four players but the fifth was never named. So after about three weeks, with Gooch not saying anything, I called Brown in and asked him about his team.

"Naturally I had something to say about players pro and con. I wanted Gooch, if he would bowl, and Sea Ferguson, from last year's team. But when I talked to Gooch, he said he was through with the Okey Doke and wouldn't bowl. Maybe, George, you should ask Gooch. I also talked to Sea Ferguson and we got him.

"Now about Alvin Gaddie. This fellow to me is the leading bowler of the city at present, as far as a high average is concerned. I have had the honor of bowling with Alvin only once — that was in doubles.

"So as far as I was concerned, he belonged on the team. But when I asked others on the team, they said he is not a team man. Why, we don't know — but that alone goes 100 percent against him as far as we are concerned. For I have been a team man all my life in bowling, baseball and with the Parker House Sausage Co.

"J. B. Elliott, another good man as far as everyone is concerned, is a nice man until some marzuma gets up. Then the lump comes.

"William Brown has been here a long time and should know personnel, and I have faith in his ability to pick bowlers. This team will roll any team in the country if we can get them into Indianapolis. But after you bowl these teams you mention in their own cities, they will not make a return appearance here.

"So, George, that's the other side of the story.

"Your Buddy —

"T.B."

4 Tan Returnees Drill for Purdue

WEST LAFAYETTE—Four tan returnees on the Ray Eddy's squad which is practicing for the opening of Purdue's basketball season when Miami of Ohio plays here Dec. 2.

Willie Merriweather, 6-5 junior forward from Indianapolis Attucks is the only one of the quartet who holds a major letter. Willie hit 344 fro m the field and 684 at the free throw stripe last year, while scoring 57 points for the Bollermakers.

Good news to the fans is the return of Harvey Austin and Wilson Eison, both of whom missed the second semester last year due to book trouble.

Austin, sensational 6-0 guard from Buffalo, N. Y., rifled 104 markers in his hobtailed season (420 from the field), and could become one of the Big 10's best. Eison is the 6-5 center from Gary Roosevelt who was "Mr. Basketball of 1955" in the high school tourney.

Rounding out the quartet is Charley Lyons, 6-4 junior from Ft. Wayne North, who also was on the high school All-Stars of '55.

ATTUCKS HI-Y GIVES $100 FOR SCHOLARSHIP

By LEWIS GARRETT (Attucks News Reporter)

The Crispus Attucks scholarship fund was recently presented with $100 by the school's Hi-Y club.

The money represented proceeds from a dance in honor of members of the football team, at which each player was presented a trophy. The club also raised funds by selling apples at the Attucks-Secina football game.

President of the Hi-Y is Charles Williams; William Bentley is vice-president. Other members are Lewis Garrett, William Glenn, David Howard, William Souhern, Fred Johnson, William Webster, Albert Moss, Arnett Saunders, Leroy Dunson, Calvin Maul, Joe Murray and Bernard McCutchen.

R. K. Smith and Lewis Holl sponsor the group.

Tigers 'Out in Street' For 3 Basketball Tilts

By CHARLES PRESTON

Statewide jealousy of Crispus Attucks, funneled through the IHSAA, has cut down the number of games Attucks is allowed to play at Butler Fieldhouse.

As a result, the Flying Tigers are "out in the street" for at least three games on their basketball schedule which begins next week.

This appeared to be the ugly truth looming through a fog of contradictory statements and denials as The Recorder went to press.

The Tigers, who were runners-up in the state tournament last spring after winning it the two previous years, will open their schedule against Sheridan in the Washington high school gym on Friday, Nov. 29.

The following night—Saturday, Nov. 30—they will play host to Terre Haute Gerstmeier in the state's first big intersectional tilt of the 1957-58 season. Attucks defeated Gerstmeier in the "Final Foursome" last spring.

This game will be played at Butler. Permission to rent the Fieldhouse was first denied, then granted after negotiations and call to IHSAA Commissioner L. V. Phillips.

Athletic Director Ray Crowe said he attempted to rent Butler Fieldhouse for all the Tigers' home games. But, he declared, Miss Kathryn Bromley, secretary and assistant treasurer of Butler, would allow only four of the contests to be played there.

To make matters worse, Crowe asserted, Miss Bromley insisted on specifying two games with lightly-regarded out-of-town quintets while refusing use of the gym for some of the Tigers' biggest games.

IN A TELEPHONE conversation with The Recorder, Miss Bromley denied this version. "There has been no action limiting the number of games Attucks can play at the Fieldhouse," she said. "The same policy applies to all high schools—the Fieldhouse can be rented whenever it is not in use for other events."

THE BUTLER OFFICIAL'S statement appeared shaky, however, when The Recorder called Commissioner Phillips and he said:

"As you know, there has been a lot of criticism around the state, with Butler being dubbed 'Attucks' home floor.' I talked to former Principal (Russell A.) Lane about it last year, and to Mr. Crowe a couple of weeks ago.

"In purely an advisory capacity, I suggested to Miss Bromley to limit the thing as much as they could, so that Attucks would not be playing all its home games at Butler.

"It's merely a goodwill thing all around. Of course Butler wants to keep the goodwill of these other high schools so they will send graduates there."

On being informed of Attucks' desperate situation, Phillips said: "I will call Miss Bromley and tell her as far as we're concerned, to help them all they can."

THEY BURIED MRS. FANNIE C. STEWART in Crown Hill Cemetery last Saturday, following impressive funeral rites held in Christ Temple Church in Fall Creek Blvd. . . . Elder Willie Lee, pastor of the church delivered the farewell remarks to "a grand old lady" who had spent many years participating in the joyful services of soul-warming singing and spiritual shouting. . . . She wanted it this way. . . . And, we know she enjoyed every bit of it as she lay amidst a profusion of flowers that literally embarked her bronze casket. . . . It was the kind of religious fervor she always enjoyed.

IT WAS A PLEASANT AFTER-MOON in spite of threatening rain or snow, and it seemed as if the Heavens had suddenly become quiet and peaceful as if, in anticipation of a kindly lady who was about to take on her heavenly wings and ascend into the clouds. . . . It was a distinct quietness that permeated the air during the services. . . . It was as if an Angel of the Lord hovered nearby as a sort of "Watchman of the Night."

HUNDREDS OF PERSONS were in attendance at the home of her daughter Mrs. Fredonia Temple in 4256 Graceland before the start of the procession led by six traffic officers to the church. . . . Following the services and under a blanket of grey skies, the "grand old lady" rode in majesty along a circuitous route traversed by her many, many times. . . . The procession moved slowly from Christ Temple to Boulevard Place to 21st street, west in 21st to Northwest, south on Northwestern to Indiana, then passed The Recorder office, to Vermont and Senate, north on Senate to Boulevard Place and thence to Crown Hill. . . .

Oscar Brand Writes Song Book, 'Singing Holidays'

NEW YORK CITY (ANP)—Oscar Brand, folk singer and BMI songwriter, has written a song book for both children and grown-ups called "Singing Holidays," published by Alfred A. Knopf on November 15. Subtitled "The Calendar in Folk Song," Brand's book is a collection of ninety folk songs which tie in with thirty American holidays. Traditional as well as original songs are included in the 258-page volume. The musical arrangements are by Douglas Townsend, licensed by BMI, and the volume is profusely illustrated by Roberta Moynihan.

In the popular field, Brand has written six BMI songs in current release: "The Right Kind of Woman," recorded by Mark Murphy for Decca; "Lady, Lady Will You Marry Me," sung by Elliot Lawrence with the Country Boys on the Victor label; "Poor Lonely Girl," by Toby Reynolds for Decca; "Necklace of Roses," by Hana on Old Town Records; "The Captain's Daughter" and "I'll Never Forget You," both performed by Oscar Brand on Old Town Records.

"Singing Holidays" is the first music book to be published by Knopf in 15 years. For almost that many years Brand has been gathering and writing material for it. As Director of Folk Music for the City of New York, Oscar Brand has broadcast a weekly half-hour show on the city's station WNYC. The program of folk and folk-song is heard every Sunday from 6:00-6:30 P. M.

For the Children's Record Guild, Brand has written and recorded "Come to the Party," "Bring a Song, Johnny" and "Noah's Ark," all distributed through the Book of the Month Club. His work won him a "Best in Children's Records" award from the New York Music Critics and "Consumer's Guide."

BUDDY BRYANT, bandleader, arranger, composer and sax, is in this week's spotlight. He is better known as Naptown's "King of the Formal Dances," having played more affairs of this kind than any other group in town in recent years. Buddy hails from the state of Missouri, where he played in his high school band many moons back. After finishing school, he organized his own unit and traveled thru-out the middle-west.

"Mr. Bandleader," hit Indianapolis around the early 30's and went to work for the late Joe Mitchell, who at that time, had one of the finest nite spots in the city. Buddy fast became very popular with the local music-lovers, having such great sidemen as Earl "Fox" Walker, drums, who was just starting his musical career at that time, and Jimmie Cole, sax, who later became nationally known as a bandleader and arranger.

We might take time out to state that during his music career Bryant played as a sideman with the late Fletcher Henderson, Tiny Bradshaw, the one and only Dusty Fletcher and many road shows from coast to coast. The cat is a very good business man and knows what's happenin', you want to believe it. The following are the personnel of the "King's" fine hard pushing orchestra: William "Bill" Offord, alto sax; Clifford Henderson, tenor sax; William "Boggie" Johnson, 88'er; Eddie Leath, bass; Robert "Sonny" Reeves, drums; Big John Snell, trumpet, and the lovely Sarah Huddleston, vocalist. The "King" says he will do his best to please all the music and dance lovers who come his way. This king does care. . . . (Bob Womack)

FANTABULOUS ROCK 'N' ROLL STAGE SHOW-DANCE... We were guest of Lorin Kiely of Evansville, booking agent for the rock 'n' roll stage show-dance which was held at Tomlinson Hall on last Thursday nite (Nov. 14). This affair featured over 50 of the nation's top rock and recording artists which included Mickey and Elyvia, Larry Williams and ork. Big Joe Turner, Bo Diddley trio, the Moonglows, Roy Brown, Annie Laurie, the Velours, Nappy Brown, Vikki Nelson, Tiny Topsy, Mary Ann Fisher, Del Viking's group and Ray Charles and his large orchestra.

Due to the weather there were not many people out to dig this affair. However in our personal opinion the best acts of the show were 'Big Joe Turner, Ray Charles plus his orchestra of nine men who were also the house-band. Tiny Topsy, blues vocalist who had the crowd asking for more. Nappy Brown who sang his Savoy recording of "Bye Bye Baby," and Annie Laurie who knows what to do with a song. All in all, we have seen better road shows in these parts. It could be that the acts were just getting together for the first time.

INDIANAPOLIS MUSICIANS LOCAL NO. 3 (AFM)... Due to the fact that we have a newspaper deadline to make, we were unable to dig the results of the recent election of officers of the Indianapolis Musicians Local No. 3 A.F.M., for the years of 1958-59. There were two septa cats running for the executive board, Eldridge Morrison and Lancaster Price, the latter for re-election, being the first of his race to hold such a position in said local. We will have the info for you in our next column. Be sure to order your Recorder early.

YES, SIR, IT'S FANTABULOUS... And that's putting it mildly... And you and your friends must be there to appreciate it! No doubt you've guessed it by now—It's the Recorder Christmas Benefit Midnite Show at the Walker theater Saturday nite, Dec. 14... Entire proceeds benefit Recorder Goodfellows Christmas Cheer Fund... Make a date now to attend this fantabulous affair!

ENTERTAINMENT AT HAWAIIAN LOUNGE
SOMETHING NEW HAS BEEN ADDED... It's delightful music at its merry best next week at Pflum's Ritzy Hawaiian Lounge, 2656 Northwestern Ave. Albert Walton's combo will entertain patrons of the bistro on Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday nites from 8 till 12. You and your friends are invited to come out and join in the fun and merriment ala Walton style.

SONG FOR HANDY SINGERS RECORDED
HOLLYWOOD—TV Star Nat King Cole and the First Lady of Song, Ella Fitzgerald, who are among the stars in "St. Louis Blues," sent a recorded birthday song duet to W. C. Handy, composer of the famous blues song. The recording was played in New York at a banquet in honor of Handy's 85th birthday.

AL COBINE AND THE I. U. JAZZ OCTET IN CONCERT
A modern jazz concert featuring Al Cobine and the I. U. Jazz Octet will be presented Friday, November 22nd, at 8:30 p. m. at the Union Building of the Indiana University Medical Center, 1300 West Michigan Street, Indianapolis.

This is the first modern jazz program of the Indianapolis Jazz Club. The Cobine combo was selected because it represents the main stream of modern jazz in this area today. The Octet was organized at Indiana University in 1954, and three members of the original group are with the present unit.

The personnel includes Al Cobine, tenor sax and clarinet; Al Kiger, trumpet; Willis Kirk, drums; Jack Coker, piano; Ed Cox, trombone; Joe Bogue, bass. There will be a second tenor sax man in the group.

Al Cobine in 1954 won the Thor Johnson award for musical composition with a work for brass ensemble, and was musical director and arranger for the Fred Dale band. Other members of the Octet have played with Les Brown and Lionel Hampton, and have recorded on the Fantasy, Focus and San Francisco labels.

BENNY GOODMAN is scheduled to teach a jazz course at Boston University... Pretty Lena Horne's first B-way musical ran nine performances... The vehicle, "Jamaica," is set for a year's minimum run.

'ROCK' FLOPS, BUT ROYALTY 'DIGS' COUNT
LONDON—The versatile Count Basie's orchestra 'dug' Queen Elizabeth II, recently, and started her tapping her feet... But rock 'n' roll was a flopper... The occasion was the annual royal command performance at the Palladium with American stars stealing the spotlight from most of the British performers.

PRINCESS MARGARET, who once told Basie she had all of his records, could not attend because of a previous engagement. Basie said the Queen told him the Princess was "very sorry" she couldn't come.

SEEN! STARS WITH DELORES CALVIN
Erskine Hawkins and crew into Detroit for two weeks... They're going all out to make W. C. Handy's birthday a never-to-be forgotten one—even Albert Gibson, the tennis star, will step into another profession and do some singing... Althea loves to sing and has a deep, husky voice which she handles adeptly to pop tunes—however, we don't think she'd make much of a career of it: there are too many husky-voiced pop singers and little or none top tennis champs... Louis Jordan, enroute east, will feast on Thanksgiving turkey in Chicago... The six servants of the late Louis B. Mayer were left sums in the will depending on the length of service' from $2,500 to $5,000 each... A rush on Christmas songs and albums out in time.

La Verne Baber has a new album brilliantly named just "La Verne" which is more in the ballad style than her usual rock and roll... Calvin Jackson, who has been rather quiet these few years, has a record with his orchestra for Liberty—with an unusual flip: the ork, on one side with Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue" and the reserve features the Jackson Quartet with more Gershwin tunes... The entire effect is a standout... Dinah Washington comes up with a Mercury release, "Blues Down Home" backed with "Everybody Loves My Baby"...

PIONEER NEGRO MUSICIAN HONORED
NEW YORK CITY (ANP)—Last Friday evening, the Harlem Musicians' showcase, notwithstanding a severe rainstorm, launched a beautiful concert at the downtown Carl Fischer Hall, No. 165 West 57th St., with the double pleasure of presenting little known talented Negro musicians, and honoring Carl Dixon, pioneer Negro musician, upon the occasion of his 71st birthday.

The participants, who were either present or former artist-pupils of Mr. Dixon, were: Arlene Duane, pianist and vocalist; Barbara and John Scott, pianists; and Vincent Shields, baritone. The guest performers were: Amy Goodwin Helen McCallister, vocalists; George De Costa, violinist; Dorothy Dalton, Diana Straugh, and Coleridge-Taylor Parkinson, accompanists; and Arlein Straw, Negro woman composer.

NOTICE!
Because Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 28, falls on our regular press day, The Recorder will be published a day earlier next week. Deadlines for news have been moved up accordingly. News items should be in on Monday and State news on Saturday. HAPPY THANKSGIVING!

Augmenting the star-studded bill are The Counts, singing their great record hit, "Darling Dear";

FLASH FORD AND DORIS BARTLETTE will be among the stars on the big 9-star bill at the Sunset Terrace Friday nite, November 29. Other stars include Jon (Mr. Hardhead) Thomas and his orchestra, The Counts, Caldonia, Mr. Percy, Tiny Torchy and Park Chops. Advance tickets are now on sale at The Sunset and Edwards Record Shop.

MUSICAL UPBEAT

by BOB WOMACK

THE FLU is still raging. Doctors and nurses, men, fine queens and children are much infected. As I write this column we are feeling much better, thanks to the musician's friend, Dr. Arthur Howell, who knows what to do with that old flu bug.

THANKSGIVING thru January 1 has been predicted to be one of the biggest celebrated seasons of the entire year. Entertainment programs will be the nation's treat during these weeks and Indianapolis expects to have its share of the best made attractions, not to mention the numerous social clubs spotlighting both local and national top artists.

THE WHOLE TOWN is talking about that great "Show of Shows," namely the annual Indianapolis Recorder Christmas Benefit Show which will be held at the beautiful Walker Theatre on Saturday nite, December 14, from midnight until the early hours. Many of the top-flight entertainers will appear on this sensational bill.

We have been advised that this year the famous Madison Sisters singing duo will not appear as they have done in the past... Reason... Your guess is as good as mine... Maybe next time... Huh?

It is not too late for the cats and their gals to sign up for this great affair. You may do so by contacting The Indianapolis Recorder Theatrical Dept., 518 Indiana Ave., or by calling ME. 4-7049 from noon till 9 Monday thru Saturday... Let's get the show on the road, time is getting shorter and shorter. So make a date to sign up early for a choice spot. Many talent scouts from the leading TV, radio and recording companies will be on hand to dig the talent. It might be your chance at the big time; believe me when I tell you these things.

WE DUG Jimmie Collins, 38, at his beautiful pad last week and talked much music and things. Other cats present were Earl Van Ripper, 88, and Booker T. Hollis, sensational drummer who was feaured in "Know Your Entertainers" recently on these pages. The boys are making plans for the forthcoming holidays, including the Recorder Xmas Show. The above musicians are some of our best in the city, having worked almost all the top bistros in the Midwest and out East.

AT THIS WRITING, Charles Hatcher and his trio are still playing at Jim George's "Big M Tavern"... RUSSELL WEBSTER, tenor sax, is the leader of the Mayfair Tavern trio out East Tenth street-way. We have been advised that the cat is working his men too hard for what hot is involved in the gig. The day of race horsing is over. Bandleaders should have their sidemen's interest at heart at all times regardless of the situation.

Many leaders and players make their mistake on locations when they go out and run around with the patrons of the clubs, taverns, etc., where they are working. This is very bad for the music business. After all, we have been only playing certain spots for only a few years now, if you dig what I mean...

AVAILABLE... The following combos are open for engagements: Glenn Douglass, Merrill Laswell, Harvey French, Bill Stafford, Albert Officer, Sr., Johnnie Harris, Larry Liggett, and the BobCats All-Stars. For information contact: The Beat by calling ME. 4-7049.

MUSICAL THIRST... According to the Washington State Liquor Control Board, "live" music makes a person more thirsty than does the recorded variety. The board recently passed a ruling that live music be banned from Seattle taverns on the theory that live music influences patrons to drink more. The musicians' union is protesting.

NA CHOICE... Ludwig van Beethoven was once approached by a doting and particularly annoying father who, with his eight-year-old son in tow, insisted the child was a genius, that he had composed two brilliant symphon-

By THE SNOOPER

With Thanksgiving coming next week—and it will come and go before some of you will read my next column—I take this time now to wish all of my faithful readers the best of Thanksgivings. Now I am going to let you in on some of your best pals' secrets.

Dempsey Douglass and Dianna Tucker are on Cloud No. 9. Keep up the good work, kids. I hear that Ramona Busby and David Moore are madly in love with each other. Norma Thompson and Buddy Jackson are telling everyone that Cloud No. 9 isn't high enough for them. I hear that Brenda Shores is having fits over Bobby Tolden, but Carolyn Artis won't let him go. William Townsend is really making it with Geraldine Evans.

Geraldine Evans, what happened to Edgar Levels? Don't tell us you left him for William Townsend. Hus on Boglin, who's this tough chick you have been trying to pick up at School No. 37?

James Evans and Juanita Brown are cooling their heels on Cloud No. 9. It seems Eddie Clark only has eyes for Linda Boyd. I hear a girl by the name of Queeneva Martin is really going for a boy named Billy Sears. A little bird told me that Joyce Jackson and Archie Thomas are steadily moving toward Cloud No. 9.

Say, Gloria Hodgen, they call me that you and Cindy Cureton are really cooling your heels these days. Say, Edgar Seary, you haven't a chance with Carol Mosley because she has eyes only for Billy Toliver. Jack Tandy and Shirley Mosley are as close as two peas in a pod.

PEGGY TRIBUNE is singing "You Are My Personal Possession" to Dickie Steele. I hear Shirley Tribune has her heart out for Lawrence Highbaugh. James Noble Jackson is singing "Lover Come Back To Me" to Carol Williams.

Clarissa Singer, what's happening to you and James Rhodes? I hear the "Perfect Couple" is Frances McRoy and Howard Phillips. Judy Griffin, please tell us who your heart beats only for. Ronald Barbee, why don't you give Virgie Furr a chance? I hear all she ever talks about is how much she loves you.

FREDDIE PERVINE and Senobia Henderson are really lovey-dovey. Fred Tuckett, if you have any feeling for pretty little Freda Nickolson, you'd better come on through, because three or four other boys I could name are trying very hard for her affection. What's this I hear about Mary McGee not having a boyfriend? Mary, that doesn't sound like you. The breeze tells me that Teddy Patrick likes Bonnie Westbrook very much, but the feeling isn't mutual.

Flora Davenport is cooling it with a Westside boy by the name of Ronald Griffin. Hey, Diana Knox, what's this I hear about you and Arthur Williams? Why don't you let the SNOOPER in on it? Sandra Miller and Charles Darsey are head over heels in love. Sandra Pope, why don't you give some of those Southside boys a chance? Norma Cheatum, who was that nice-looking boy you were seen talking to the sixth period?

What's this I hear about Sam Balls and Linda Pedmond making headway through Cloud No. 9?

THE SNOOPER has been told of two new clubs being formed. One on the Southside called the Silhouettes. The members are Norma Cheatum, Sue Doty, Hattie Mosley, Sandra Pope and Marjorie Williams. The other one is the J.B.U.'s and its members are Alice Brown, Diana Allen, Joyce White, Betty Crawford, Patricia Rhodds, Marcia Summers, Marva Buckner, Katherine Crowe, Rebecca Thomas, Patricia Loving, Shirley Donahue, Anita Bledson and Sandra Brown.

To start their club off right, the J.B.U.'s are giving a dance November 27, at the Douglass Center. Admission will be 35 cents.

It may look to some people like Henry Hayes has lost his "magic touch," but he must still have it because he is still holding on to Patricia Hogue when other boys are still killing for a chance with her. Ronald Webb, it is nice hearing that you and Judy are together at last. I hear Gwendolyn Battles was trying to play the field until Ulysses "Baldy" Garrott wrapped her around his little finger.

SAY, DICKIE HINKLE, who is this girl called Bertha that you are being seen with pretty regularly these days? Hey say there, who is this good-looking stud that Virginia Boyd has been seen with lately? I hear that Sam Ezell is back. Hope you try to make it with a certain good-looking girl who is just crazy about you. If you go all the way, you might end up on Cloud No. 9. Who knows! Brenda Marshall, how are you and Eddie Dalton making it? Gail Hockett, I hear you have responsible for U.S. losses in the missiles, arms and satellite races.

Seemingly politicians in "the same boat" immediately and some who appear to be floundering in misty waters, on the eve of political campaigns appear to "talk out-of-school" as it were. The result is that a long-suffering and conclusively forgetful electorate is reminded of how political flim-flam has been "flimmed or flammed." Thus, it appears that there is both travesty and tragedy in the circumstances of a long-suffering gullible electorate continuing to forget the consequences of ambition in the perennial school of politicians.

eyes for Wesley Coleman. Am I right? Betty Woodard tells me that Robert is her one and only and there is no one else in the picture.

Elmer Myers, why don't you make up your mind about Ronald Boyd and Ronald Barbee? Bessie Mae Harnsey is singing "Love Me Tender" to Eddie Clarke. Elizabeth Seay still playing hard to get to a certain boy? Why don't you quit acting silly and give the boy a chance, Elizabeth? James Boyd is still singing "Come Go With Me" to Katherine Beavers. Say, Jo Ann Wright, who is this boy that you are forever looking at in school? Why don't you tell him? I hear that James Schaffer is telling everybody that he would be a changed boy, if Roberta Staples would forgive and forget. Please forgive him, Roberta.

SAY THERE, CHEE-CHEE, I hear that you and the one and only Wanda Hobbs are getting ready to fly on Cloud No. 9. Work on, Chee-Chee, because I know a certain boy who would like to have a chance with you, cute doll. Would someone please tell me if Joyce Blakemore likes John Walker? If not, tell her that this boy on the Eastside is still waiting for an answer. Dallas Dancer, I understand that you and Deris Tandy will be hearing wedding bells in the near future.

Glady's Turner, is it true that Michael Seymour is your one and only? Charlene Vaden, I hear that you have about as much chance with "Roulette" as a snowball in July. Marva Cooksey, are you still playing the field, or is it that you can't get Julius Robbins? Mary McGee, someone told me that your chances with William "Baby Brother" are very slim. Yvonne Smith, I hear that you and Edgar Seary are still going strong.

THE SNOOPER caught Jesse Johnson steadily mugging at the Shortridge senior play. Tell me, Jesse, who was this slick chick you were with? Velma Austin, who is the lucky guy? We have an idea, but we would rather hear your story.

I hear that Martha Tyler is gone head over heels about a boy named Floyd Johnson. What is this I hear about Edna Bouie and Howard Nicks? I hope you are not letting Edna down, Howard. Elbert Bouie, I think that you should look around in

Two To Represent CAHS At Job Placement Confab

Two members of the Attucks staff will attend the Dec. 6 conference on job placement problems of minority group youths in the Indiana House of Representatives chamber. Principal Alexander Moore announced this week.

Placement Director George DeCoursey and Vice-President Wilbur Chenault will represent the school at the conference sponsored by the State Fair Employment Practices Commission and its director, Charles E. Decker.

Moore said he'd like some students to attend the discussions if it can be cleared downtown.

Items slated for discussion include the determination of and methods of removing racial and minority training barriers and the role of schools in guiding, counseling and channeling minority groups into "traditional" jobs.

Decker has invited the Legislative Advisory Committee to sit in on the conference to determine if additional legislation is needed to insure fair employment.

Also expected to attend the one-day session are representatives of labor, industry, employment security, public and parochial schools and the President's Committee on Government Contracts.

mutual. I was told that it would not do Antis Lyles to try to get Marcel Elliot back because Gloria Thomas has his heart all sewed up at the present time.

Say there, Dickie Walker, didn't I see you and Margaret Holt hugging each other outside the "Y" last Friday nite? Tell me, kids, are you trying to start an old romance over again? I hear Raymond Glenn is trying out for Lora Wilson. What will Melvin Vaughn say about this? I hear Renee Grant and a stud named Theodore are really making out.

There is a newly-organized all girls' club called the Vel Veltons. Officers are Mary Reeves, president; Wanda Harris, vice-president; Carol Williams, secretary; Mona Toliver, assistant secretary; and Jerry Rice, treasurer. Other members are DeLois Barton, Maxine Black, Nina Crenshaw, Patricia Dimmitt, Edith Harrison, Peggy Harrison, Louise Kay and Barbara Ross. The SNOOPER wishes you the best of luck in any of your undertakings.

HEY, DICKIE HINKLE, who were those two queens you were riding with in a Mercury convertible the other nite? Is the reason you don't come over to Shortridge any more that a certain babe at Tech has captured your heart? Information, please—Will someone please tell me if Rosie Baker still goes for Woodie White? Say, Vernon, my boy, do you still go for Clarissa Broadus?

The SNOOPER was told wrong about Paul Shields and Regina Bridgeforth being quite tight with each other. It seems the truth is that his heart belongs to Doris Davis. I hear Jackie Durham is steady falling in love with "Dodie," and that the feeling is
