Downtown Department Stores Losing Business of Negroes, Study Shows

NEW YORK — Negroes do not shop at downtown department stores in proportion to their numbers in big cities—and the reason is racial discrimination.

That is the finding of a study by the Center for Research in Marketing.

"Despite widely reported evidence of large Negro urban population, Negroes are not shopping in downtown department stores," said William Capitan, president of the center. His statement was based on two studies on "The Dynamics of Purchase Behavior in the Negro Market," which surveyed 3,016 Negro families.

"IT IS PERFECTLY true that the Negro population in major urban centers could be salvation of the downtown stores," he stated, "but it will not be unless concrete

Negroes Tired of Political Crumb. Civic Leaders Say

Scores of Indianapolis Negroes, both Republicans and Democrats, this week denounced Gov. Matthew Welsh's failure to appoint a Negro to fill one of the upcoming vacancies on the city's Municipal Courts. Criticism ranged from mild disappointment to utter disgust.

There has been speculation in some circles that Rufus C. Kuykendall, long-time Indianapolis attorney and noted civil rights leader, who had actively campaigned for one of the three appointments was passed over by the governor because of his outspoken attitude on civil rights.

"I don't know what the governor had in mind when he announced the appointments," one prominent civic leader told The Recorder during a telephone interview, "but we, as Negroes, are pretty sick and tired of being taken for granted."

The rights leader, who professed to being a registered Democrat, said any more qualified for the post than Kuykendall (Kuykendall is a Republican) would be hard to find.

KUYKENDALL, who also made an unsuccessful bid for a municipal court judgeship when the Indiana General Assembly created two additional courts during the 1957 session, is president of the Marion County Bar Assn. He formerly served as assistant staff director of the legal staff of the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights in Washington, D.C. During this time he acted as the director of the Office of Laws, Plans and Research.

Under former President Eisenhower he also served with the U.S. Commission for UNESCO, a subsidiary of the United Nations.

3 Gary Leaders Charged With $33,000 Bribes

HAMMOND (ANP) — According to testimony introduced in the U.S. District court here last week three Gary Negro politicians handled about $33,000 in bribes and kickbacks between 1956 and 1958.

The three were David C. Mitchell, deceased, former city councilman; Benjamin F. Wilson, attorney and former city councilman and Terry Gray, a councilman-at-large presently in the city of Gary.

The three were among some 15 persons named as conduits, or intermediaries, in funds involved in tax evasion conspiracy trial of Gary Mayor George Chacharis and five other Gary men. The government charges they funneled some kickback money to Chacharis.

GRAY TESTIFIED that Chacharis gave him three checks totaling $9,000 that came from Shamrock Engineering company between 1956 and 1957.

Wilson told the jury in Federal Judge Robert A. Grant's court that the mayor handed him checks totaling $17,000 between 1956 and 1958.

Mrs. Jessie Mitchell identified her late husband's signature on three checks totaling $9,000. The checks were made out by the Bumbales and Shamrock firms in 1956 and

Negro Firefighters at 15 Of City's 32 Stations

Indianapolis' 37 Negro firemen are now serving in 15 different stations throughout the city, instead of the majority working at the previously all-Negro Fire Station 1, 1445 W. Michigan. There are 32 stations in the city.

As a result of the fight against discrimination, Capt. Felman Johnson, the only fireman at Station 1 who had refused to sign the petition against an all-Negro station, was promoted to station captain at No. 23, 900 Burdall Parkway.

Other Negroes at that station are Lt. James Bryant and David Clardy and William Berry, both subs.

Remaining at Station 1 are Capt. Howard Clark, Lt. Roy Pope and Charles West, a sub.

Felix Lyles and Andrew Johnson maintain posts as inspectors at the Fire Prevention Bureau, 301 E. New York. Lt. George Collins will continue as a junior grade mechanic at the Fire Department Repair Shop, 1100 Sanders.

The following other stations are now integrated:

- STATION 2, 16th and Roosevelt, Herbert Miller and Homer Bledsoe, subs.
- STATION 3, Fountain Square, Benny Sayles and Jack Perkins.

Plan for 'Whites Only' Apartment Near Butler Hit

By CHARLES S. PRESTON

Opposition to an apartment project that reportedly is being promoted "for whites only" in the Butler University area will be voted next week before the City Zoning Board.

The Butler-Tarkington Neighborhood Association in a meeting Monday night instructed its officers to oppose the request for a zoning variance for two apartment buildings at 46th and Hinesley, only a block from the Butler campus.

The zoning board will hold a public hearing on the request Friday, Dec. 14.

MRS. ROBERT E. HENDERSON, 401 W. 46th, reported to the meeting that an agent for the venture came to her home, and when it was decided "forced

Suspect Faces 20 Years On Federal Narcotics Rap

A 42-year-old Northside man, termed by city police as "the top narcotics pusher in Indianapolis," remained in Marion County Jail Thursday afternoon in lieu of bonds totaling $25,000.

If convicted on the federal charge of illegal possession of heroin, James S. "Skipper" Conner, 1851 E. Riverside Drive, faces a possible sentence of from 10 to 20 years in prison.

He was arrested late Monday afternoon after police, acting on a tip that the accused narcotics peddler was going to make a delivery, stopped his car at 26th and Boulevard.

Before he was stopped police said that they observed Conner throw away a package, which was recovered later, containing 51 capsules of heroin from the car at 26th and Capitol.

TWO OTHER MEN, Eugene Jenkins and Edward Owens, both of 1811 E. Riverside, were also arrested after police learned all three men were alleged partners in a number of burglaries.

Police found a large amount of booty at the 1811 Riverside address as well as Conner's home.

In addition to the narcotics charge, Conner, who has served time recently on charges of larceny and drawing a deadly weapon, is also being held by city police on preliminary charges of burglary and grand larceny.

Both Jenkins and Owens are being held on a preliminary charge of burglary. An additional charge of violation of the 1935 Narcotics Act was also filed.

Students Charge Bias 'Plays Role on Stage' at Shortridge

Parents and students at Shortridge High School this week strongly protested the withdrawal of an "interracial act" from participating in the Junior Vaudeville, annual all-school production.

Originally they had favored a boycott of the school cafeteria, but later decided to hold a meeting Monday morning with faculty members and students involved in the act.

As this situation came to light, complaints, ranging from the nearly all-Negro varsity basketball team with no Negro cheerleaders, to the fact that the general staff, from cafeteria to teaching, still remains predominantly white at the near north-side school which is about 40 per cent Negro, were heard.

The "Producer's Choice" was among three acts cut in favor of the supposed four "all-white" best productions, last Friday during the final rehearsal.

When it was decided "forced action" would not alleviate the situation, students decided to meet and relate their opinions intelligently at an open-auditorium.

It was reported that Robert J. Schultz, principal, was called back from a Bloomington conference over the weekend because of the "near riot" at the school, when police, plainclothesmen, and paddy wagons were called.

DISCUSSION centered around whether or not the interracial act merited participation in the Vaudeville, but students told The Recorder "no decision was reached and nothing was accomplished."

The situation was turned over to the Shortridge Adult Human Relations Council of which Guy Marquis is president.

AT THE MEETING students questioned why there was not a Negro judge on the committee, and were reportedly told there was none "qualified" since they teach either in the industrial arts or academic departments.

School officials were questioned as to whether an alleged "prejudiced white teacher," who was dropped as a Vaudeville judge, would remain at Shortridge and were told that the situation was out of Shortridge officials' hands and would have to be referred to a higher authority.

Marquis said that some members of the integrated presentation agreed that it was justifiably withdrawn at a Tuesday night Human Relations meeting, while other students still maintain its failure to be accepted centered around the "anti-Negro" sentiments voiced by a "biased" teacher who had allegedly told students the "act would not be chosen."

STUDENTS DECLARED that "all Vaudeville acts" should be integrated to represent the majority of the student body and likewise other school projects should be identifiable with the Act was lodged against Jenkins after police found five sticks of marijuana at his home. Police reportedly had been watching Conner for several weeks prior to his arrest and had received information Monday afternoon that he was going to "make a drop" somewhere on the Northside.

IN THE GARAGE police discovered two stereophonic record players, which had been stolen from the Radio Equipment Company, 1500 Stadium Drive, about two weeks ago.

AT THE REAR of the home in a garage, police found eight portable television sets and a transistor radio, believed to have been taken in the Radio Equipment Company burglary.

Conner, who detectives said was the city's "worst criminal," was turned over to Federal authorities on the narcotics charge while bond was set at $15,000 on the larceny and burglary charge.

Jenkins was scheduled to reappear in Municipal Court Monday, while Owens and Conner were scheduled to reappear Friday.

It was expected that the Federal grand jury, now in session, would hear the case against Conner and possibly return a decision Dec. 14.

Conner and Jenkins were awaiting trial on burglary charges in Criminal Court 1 after they were indicted for theft of clothing from L. Strauss & Company and Richman Brothers.

At the time of their arrests, Conner was free on $5,500 bond and Jenkins was free on $2,500 bond.

The accused narcotics peddler served 18 months of a 1 to 10 year term at Michigan City for a $15,000 theft in 1955. He was found guilty of grand larceny.

In 1959 he was sentenced to 90 days after he was convicted of drawing a gun on a policeman.

A 42-year-old Northside man, termed by city police as "the top narcotics pusher in Indianapolis," remained in Marion County Jail Thursday afternoon in lieu of bonds totaling $25,000.

HE IDENTIFIED checks for $2,250 and $2,750 from Bumbales, $7,000 from Tolleston and $5,000 from Shamrock.

During examination by Alex Campbell, defense attorney, Wilson said he spent large sums on campaign expenses. Wilson was defeated for re-election two years ago.

apparently as a public relations move, an outlined plans for the pair of apartment buildings at 4605-4625 N. Hinesley. An older home now on the site in the area of spacious residences would be torn down and two three-story buildings containing 11 apartments each would be erected.

"They will be for whites only," the agent was quoted as saying, apparently in the belief he was coating the pill. But he couldn't have been more wrong, as Mr. and Mrs. Henderson are staunch members of the Butler-Tarkington group which opposes housing segregation and strives to maintain a friendly integrated community.

According to press reports, the request for the variance was filed by Mason-Killion Construction Co. as an agent for C. J. Koschnick. Cost of the project was estimated at $150,000.

$33,000 Bribes

1957. Gray, Wilson, Mitchell and another Negro, city attorney Harry Schell were named, with the others, in an indictment obtained by the Justice Department last Feb. 7.

Gray also testified that Chacharis gave him two checks totaling $5,000 in 1956 to pay for the councilman's campaign expenses. The checks were from the Big Horn Locating company and were signed by Kenneth Harrington, president of the Shamrock firm of Gary, government evidence showed.

In connection with the three checks which totaled $9,000, Gray said he signed the billing statements to the Shamrock engineering firm "for providing disposal area for muck and material."

Gray, said he used the money to invest in property and help pay his tuition at law school at Valparaiso University. Chacharis got none of the money, he added.

The councilman said he paid income taxes on the full amount of the checks. Gray has been on the city council since 1947 and formerly was chief probation officer in Gary for Lake County Juvenile Court.

Wilson told the court that the checks he received from Chacharis were made out to W. Henry Walker, Wilson's former law partner who now is an attorney in East Chicago, Ind.

The former councilman explained that he did not want his name on the checks from three contracting firms because of inferences that might be drawn from his position at that time as city council president.

Wilson, who was 5th District councilman from 1948 to 1960, told of making out invoices to the companies for legal services. He said he gave about $3,500 of the $17,000 back to Chacharis and performed no actual work for the firms.

Walker withheld a portion from each check to pay taxes on the full amount, Wilson said, but the East Chicago man received nothing else.

Wilson said the checks were issued by the Shamrock Construction Company; Charles Bumbales and Sons, sewer contractors; and Tolleston Construction Company.

During examination by Alex Campbell, defense attorney, Wilson said he spent large sums on campaign expenses. Wilson was defeated for re-election two years ago.

Noted Negro Educator, Church Leader Buried at Hopkinsville

(Special to The Recorder) HOPKINSVILLE, Ky. — A well-known local Negro educator and church leader, who was the first to introduce a high school orchestra in Negro schools in Kentucky, died Nov. 25 at Nashville, Tenn.

Mrs. Mayme Leonetta Brooks Copeland, wife of the late Dr. Thomas H. Copeland, died at Hubbard Hospital after seven months' illness. She was 78.

A native of Paducah, Ky., Mrs. Copeland, a resident here since 1914, began her teaching career at Attucks High School in 1916. There she organized an orchestra—the first in a Negro school in the state.

IN 1923 SHE WAS appointed supervisor of music and head of the commercial department at Attucks. She also helped organize a Parent-Teacher Association, believed to have been the first of its kind in Hopkinsville.

Mrs. Copeland, in 1931, was named supervisor of the Jeanes program of vocational education in Christian and Todd Counties. Six years later she was appointed state head.

In 1942 the educator founded the National Jeanes Association and served as its president until 1949. She headed the rural section of the Kentucky Education Association 17 years, and the American Teachers Association four years.

She founded the Philanthropic Virginia E. Randolph Fund in 1934 and was one of the founders of the Connectional Women's Missionary Society. She served as corresponding secretary and editor 17 years for the latter organization. Prior to coming to Hopkinsville, Mrs. Copeland taught in schools at Beattytown, Carlisle and Sunny-side, Ky., and Providence, Tenn.

Her husband was pastor of Freeman Chapel from 1914 until his death in 1952. She had served as grand lecturer, grand treasurer, and grand organizer of the Eastern Star.

A 1933 GRADUATE of Kentucky State College, Mrs. Copeland received her Master's degree from Columbia University in 1933. Funeral services were held Friday at Freeman Chapel, with burial in Cave Springs Cemetery.

Survivors include her daughter, Mrs. Mattye Copeland Flowers of Nashville; a foster daughter, Mrs. Ethel Copeland Downer of St. Louis, Mo.; a foster sister, Mrs. Velma Duke of Aurora, Ill., a granddaughter and three great-grandsons.

Rep. Adam Powell to Resign as Pastor of Abyssinian Baptist
NEW YORK — Representative Adam Clayton Powell Jr., announced this week that Sunday will be his final day as minister of the Abyssinian Baptist Church.

The 53-year-old Democrat from Harlem gave no reason for his resignation and said that he will explain it at services Sunday.

Powell has been with the church 32 years and his late father was minister there 29 years. Abyssinian Baptist is one of the largest churches in the nation with 10,000 members.

WILSON TOLD him only that the checks were "retainers" from construction companies doing business with the City of Gary, Walker said.

Walker said Wilson asked him to be an intermediary to avoid questions of "conflict of interest" being raised against the councilman. In the indictment Walker was named as an intermediary.

Mitchell was named as a conduit in the original indictment against Chacharis and was later indicted on perjury charges by the federal grand jury. The charges were dropped upon his death last spring. The government contends that Chacharis got the money.

The singers have won five trophies in open competition, two in Indianapolis and three in Oakland, Calif. Incidentally, the group gospel five years ago, the West Coast. tively seeking the appointment and was extremely well-qualified for the position, Welsh also passed over a number of other able and qualified Negro attorneys in his choices for the three $14,500-a-year posts.

The Recorder learned Thursday that the name of Judge Mercer Mance, who is to be replaced as Judge of Superior Court Room 2 Jan. 1, had been given consideration. No reason was given as to why Mance, who has established himself as an able jurist during his four years in Superior Court, was passed over.

Another Negro Democrat, prominent in local politics, described himself as being hopping mad.

"It's high time white politicians here in the state and throughout the nation be made to realize the voting power must be reckoned with."

"It should have been clear after statistics showed we'd have Richard Nixon in the White House now instead of John F. Kennedy if the Negro vote had gone the other way."

WHITE DEMOCRATIC leader who has not had his stolen credit for delivering the Negro vote have failed to properly reward the faithful.

They pass out a few token jobs and feel we're supposed to be satisfied, the man continued.

He concluded by saying that Negroes, regardless of their political affiliations, should form a strong coalition and demand full citizenship.

ed in executive or buying positions in these stores. Negroes are acutely conscious of this, and deliberately refrain from buying in establishments where such a pattern of job discrimination is evident.

(4) The atmosphere of the stores and the attitudes of white personnel make the Negro feel unwelcome and suspected of criminality. As one Negro put it, talking of a well-known New York downtown department store, "I went into the store to buy a handkerchief and they treated me as if I were going to steal something from the counter. I won't shop there any more."

Capitman said, "Not only are Negroes convinced that such practices exist, but the present patterns of local purchasing must be changed by a positive, direct appeal on the part of the downtown stores to the Negro customer. This will require both advertising and public relations programs directed to the Negro community."

PFC. CLEMPHUS BURKS JR. PVT. ADRON BOWMAN JR.

CAMP PENDLETON, Calif. — Two Indianapolis Marines recently completed four weeks of individual combat training with an infantry training regiment here.

They were Pfc. Clemphus B. Burks Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Muriel N. Burks, 4242 Fairview Terrace, and Pvt. Adron D. Bowman Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Adron David Bowman Sr., 1016 W. 31st.

Burks, 19, is a June graduate of Washington High School. He entered the service in July.

THEIR TRAINING provides them with a background of experience in the field under combat conditions. Live firing exercises are conducted, in addition to field trips and classroom lectures.

Under carefully selected instructors, the Marines learned to take their places in small fighting units, such as the four man-fire team and the 14-man squad.

They maintain rules for who can be a judge should be revised, selection policies for all school activities should be changed, and the door should be open for Negro students to freely participate in school activities without fear of repercussions.

Most students feel it will be most undesirable to produce an "all-white" Vaudeville since Negroes are an active part of the school.

One student possibly summed up the general feeling of most when he said: "The Vaudeville incident was nothing significant. It's always been one-sided at Shortridge."

Which holiday greeting is older... the first Christmas Card OR Gordon's Gin?

Gordon's Gin was an English holiday greeting 74 years before Mr. J. C. Horsley designed the first Christmas card. The Gordon's you drink today harks back to Alexander Gordon's original 1769 formula, for one doesn't tamper with a good thing... especially when it is the world's biggest seller. This year send cards, serve and give Gordon's London Dry Gin.

'White and Gold'... Debutante Ball ... Highlights Holiday

son, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Anderson, 424 W. 38th St., and Miss Darlene Newcomb, daughter of Mrs. Vernie Newcomb, 3539 Graceland, and George Newcomb. Others "coming out" in the lovely ball sponsored by Alpha Alpha Chapter, Iota Phi Lambda

Stephanie Elizabeth Huston, Linda Vanada Jeter, and Marva Marie Myers. The 15 lovely debbs wore floor-length white gowns to make their gracious "bows to society." (Recorder photo by James Burres)

15 Lovely Girls 'Come Out' In Iota Phi Lambda's Debutante Ball

By PAT L. WILLIAMS
As per usual the 1962 Debutante Ball was no exception to Alpha Alpha Chapter of Iota Phi Lambda Sorority's resplendent record of annual presentations of the exquisite formal dance.
A bevy of 15 lovely girls "came out" in this year's pre-holiday "Gold and White Debutante Ball" at the chic Indiana Roof Ballroom.
Commentator was the charming Mrs. Mahala S. Evans of Chicago, vice-president of Iota Phi Lambda, who graciously introduced each of the debbs "graduating" in the social presentation—always a highlight of the year's activities. Mrs. Evans was presented a white orchid corsage by sorors.

of their fathers through a passageway created by large palms and gold-trunked trees topped with large gyrofoam balls of a mixture of gold and white—made by Mrs. Elizabeth E. Babb, Alpha Alpha secretary.
Each carried a corsage of large bows covered with gold carnations, with nylon puffs featuring velvet streamers and handles—designed like a parasol purse.
They made a pedestal curtsy upon entering to join their escorts, handsome in stiff white-fronts, tails, and white carnation boutonnieres, who had been introduced by Dr. Cleo Blackburn, president of Jarvis Christian College at Hawkins, Tex., and executive director of Flanner House and the Board for Fundamental Education.
Appropriate music was played by Dudley Storms and his band to the delight of the many happy guests, sorors, and the debbs—all excited in this—their big moment.

All anticipated the crowning of the "Queen of the 1962 Debutante Ball" as the 1961 queen, Miss Judith Talley, and her court, Miss Carol Lynne Anthony and Miss Sandra Phillips, entered.
Miss Talley was attractive in her debutante gown to which was pinned a red carnation corsage. Her court members were charming in semi-formal attire carrying carnation corsages, highlighted with gold ribbon.
Miss Donna Cummings, smartly-dressed talented young singer, whose blue ensemble was complemented by a white carnation corsage with blue ribbon, sang the "Queen of the Debutante Ball."
Miss Darlene Newcomb, daughter of Mrs. Vernie Newcomb, 3539 Graceland, and George Newcomb, was introduced as second queen's court member, and Miss Jimmye Ruth Anderson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James Anderson, 424 Maple Road, was first runner-up. They were escorted by David A. Bridgforth and Frederick Evans III, respectively.
Newly-crowned "Queen of the Debutante Ball" is Miss Zanda Creighton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Creighton, 4253 Rookwood. She was escorted by William Davis Mackey Jr.
She was crowned by Miss Talley who presented her with a large presentation bouquet of red roses.
Other debutantes were the Misses Cassandra Jean Bailey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gratz E. Bailey, escorted by James Thaddeus Charleston; Jennie Gaynelle Bishop, daughter of Cortland

What The Debbs Wore!

My, but the girls were so pretty in their white floor-length gowns at the Debutante Ball that we thought we'd give you a glimpse of what each wore for her "big moment."
First of all "Queen Zanda," Miss Zanda Louise Creighton that is, was adorable in white embroidered silk organza over taffeta with elegant lines and a pearl-trimmed scalloped neckline.
A bouffant petticoat allowed for skirt fullness. Her accessories were pearl earrings and necklace, and long white gloves.
Miss Jimmye Ruth Anderson, member of the queen's court, was attractive in white satin trimmed with seed pearls and sequins atop lace at the round neckline and waist and short sleeves. Lace dropped to the back of her dress and was caught with a petite bow. She wore elbow-length gloves.
The beautiful Miss Darlene Newcomb, member of the queen's court, wore white taffeta with a full-skirt accented by lace panels and highlighted by tiny pearls and sequins and round neckline.
Peau de soie, featuring a slight tuck in the skirt held in place by a large bow, a neckline which dipped in the middle, cap sleeves and fitted bodice, was worn by pretty Miss Jennie Gaynelle Bishop.
Lace over net featuring a scalloped neckline and a bottom trimmed with bows on either side was worn by popular Miss Elsie Antonia Ford.
Charming Miss Linda Vanada Jeter wore white silk organza with embroidery trimming on the high neckline, bodice, sleeves and hemline. The skirt was full with

Colorful Xmas Mexican Display at Atkins Shop

Artistic, creative ideas of Mrs. Dora Atkins Powell will be projected through a "Mexican" Christmas theme to be carried out vividly in a colorful display she has prepared for the Christmas season.
Always featuring a most attractive and different indoor display during the holidays—especially Christmas—this year Mrs. Powell, while travelling in Mexico on her vacation, decided also to "go down Mexico way" in her holiday creation.
Constantly looking for new ideas for her shop while vacationing, Mrs. Powell explains that the Christmas season in Mexico starts early with "posada" parties, enduring the holidays—especially search for shelter, knocking from door-to-door.
This leads itself into a series of songs and processions, climaxed by the breaking of the "penata," a decorated clay jug stuffed with gifts for the young and old. Along with the penata, Mexican towns display nativities of Nativity scenes and Christmas trees.
Mrs. Powell learned to make the penata in Mexico and will have a number on display. She has many other new ideas from Mexico.
The poinsettia, still the most popular of all Christmas flowers, derived its name from Joel Poinsett, member of the U.S. House of Representatives, who in 1825 brought the plant from Mexico to Florida. The Mexicans described it as a "Floral Star of Bethlehem."
Poinsettia, cyclamen, azaleas and many attractive novelties and gifts will be on display during open house from now through Christmas, Mrs. Powell said.

Xmas Party Plans Made By 12-of-Us

Coming to Galilee in the year of 1928, we pause in recognition and honor of our pastor and his wife. We must first thank Almighty God for seeing fit to plant Rev. Dudley in this vineyard to cultivate and harvest this field, as the almighty so directs him. Mrs. Clarissa Dudley, the wife who by his side works so wholeheartedly in every phase of our church, is an asset in the field of Christianity. The growth of this community throughout spiritually, has been due largely to the teachings and directions of our pastor. He has already carved a corner-stone of memories of greatness that shall and will, live on, that the sands of time can never erase. May God's blessings be ever with him.

Chairman of anniversary, Mrs. Carrie Oldham; publicity, Mrs. man, Mrs. Mary Worders.

Church Events of the City

By WILLA THOMAS

Christmas is a time for joy, but for those in need—the hungry, homeless, and suffering—there is little joy. This is especially true of the neediest of all sufferers—the little children without food and clothing.

The Indianapolis Recorder Christmas Cheer Fund needs a boost from every person. Christian, club, church, and other organization.

I urge each church to take a special offering for this cause.

Sunday School children and mission groups can collect canned goods and bring them to The Recorder office, 518 Indiana.

Special programs can be given, with money donated to The Recorder Christmas Cheer Fund.

WILLA THOMAS

Friends, will you continue to help us provide the city's needs with food, clothing and gifts? Your own Christmas will have a deeper meaning because you shared.

The World-Wide Bible Reading from Thanksgiving to Christmas, sponsored by the American Bible Society, is on. Won't you join the millions in reading God's Word daily?

THERE WERE MANY at the Chicago Mid-West Baptist Conference. We are appreciative of all the cooperation and support rendered by state leaders.

Besides those mentioned last week, youths from Metropolitan Baptist Church and South Calvary Baptist Church attended. Joining in from Garfield Baptist Church were Rev. Richard Watts, associate minister; Mrs. Druclilla Andrews, Miss Sharon Moore, Miss Birdie Mae Williams, Robert Marsh and Clarence Highbaugh.

I received an invitation to attend an Open House Sunday at Wallace Community A.M.E. Church, 3576 N. Orchard. I am sorry I was unable to attend, but I'm grateful to Mrs. A. J. Stevens for inviting me.

Sunday at 3:30 p.m. in Bethel A.M.E. Church, Plainfield, Miss Anna P. Stout, social worker in the Papp Personnel Center of the Indianapolis Public School System, will present a picture travelogue on her summer trip to Israel. Also on the program will be a "Huntley-Brinkley Report," according to a letter from Mrs. Charlotte Horne.

Dr. M.A.B. Fuller of Austin, Tex., 1105 Angelina, is not very well. She is president of the National Baptist Senior Woman's Convention and has done much good the world over.

PROCEEDS from the Friday nation-wide World Day of Prayer should be mailed to Dr. Fuller.

Thanks for the lovely get-well cards sent me during my recent illness. It's good to know you are thought of.

While Christmas shopping, pick up a gift for a mentally ill patient in one of our hospitals. Take it to the nearest Fire Station. It will bring cheer and happiness.

If you plan to have a Christmas program, get the details in the mail to me at once.

Have you paid your Church Federation dues? If not, do so at once.

Mission groups and churches, which have leprosy piggy banks, send them to the treasurer.

TIME FOR TALK

By WILLIAM "Skinny" ALEXANDER

Meanwhile back at the desk—I find there was much controversy about a couple of articles in last week's column. Of this you can be sure—if it is not true, then I would not dare write about it.

AROUND THE COURTS:

Atty. Bill Mercuri, who was thought to be a leading candidate for one of the soon-to-be-vacated Republican Municipal Courts, sat in Court IV Saturday.

Mercuri was named Chief Deputy Prosecutor by Prosecutor-Elect Noble Percy. Atty. Mercuri, an experienced criminal lawyer, is one of the best deputy prosecutors to come along in quite a while.

Some attorneys around the courts seem to favor the creation of a third criminal court to take a lot of pressure off them and give the Demos a chance to stay within the criminal court division.

Most mentioned to take over if the legislature approves such a move is Criminal Court Judge Richard M. Salb or Owen Mullin, top-notch attorney around town.

Richard Stewart, defeated Demo candidate for Criminal Court 2, will also get recognition for the job.

First, a petition must be launched to get the General Assembly to go along with the proposed program.

A thought: "It would certainly help our 'streets of fear' considerably."

FROM POLICE HEADQUARTERS: Inspector Noel Jones assured this column it won't be long before the killer of one woman and believed rapist of two others is brought to justice.

"I have the best detectives on the force working on the case. Some have been working around-the-clock, while others have been on duty 16 and 17 hours. The public can look forward to an apprehension soon."

The vice squad has been doing a commendable job. Patrolmen William McCoy and Kirth N. Vance, both rookies, have come a long fine in vice investigations. Keep up the good work, officers.

LOOK FORWARD TO: Gov. Matt Welsh to appoint three municipal court judges

Human Rights Week In 1962

Beginning with United Nations' Human Rights Day, Dec. 10, and including U.S. Bill of Rights Day, Dec. 15 this year will mark the fourteenth anniversary of the UN General Assembly's adoption of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights.

Heretofore, the U.S. National Commission for UNESCO which has sponsored the observance of Human Rights Week has declared that "at the root of almost every international problem today—in every trouble spot the world over—lies a denial of human rights."

Otherwise the commission declared, "... food and technical assistance, important as they are, cannot satisfy the hungers of restless millions. They feel that other needs are equally pressing. They want to be recognized as equals in individual human dignity, in national independence, in self-government. They want, in brief, to possess the RIGHTS OF MAN."

We salute the sponsors, in 1962, of Human Rights Week on the world-wide level, or anywhere over the world. But we contemplate in our small corner, we are told that the hope and glory of the world abide in propagating or perpetuating the ideal philosophy and material fullness of our immediate way of life.

In a world of an all-communicative humanity people of many areas over the earth might contemplate such an assumption with marked misgivings. They have full knowledge of martyrs and prophets over our land trying to weave into our moral and legal codes full protection under the U.S. Constitution for all men over our land regardless of national origin, creed or ethnic background.

On the world scene, teeming millions of people without the "boast of Albion's pomp and heraldry" know there is supposed to be in the United States equal justice for all men regardless of national origin, creed, or racial background. THERE IS NOT.

Notwithstanding, our society is piously proclaiming to all the world, in a vicious kind of hypocrisy, that "there is a form of government restraining no people to inferior roles in its commensurate affairs because of national origin, creed or racial background. It does not appear that we can sustain or perpetuate our role in world affairs unless we put more meaning in practice of all the principles (spirit and letter) of the Constitution of Our Republic.

Otherwise, the evolution of humanitarianism in a world of an all-communicative humanity appears to encompass people rising to full stature of self-determination and for better or worse. And all the people of the far-flung areas of the earth aspire to recognition of their rights as men under the sun.

Heretofore noted this manner of things holds the greatest challenge abroad, but charity begins at home in the promise (vision) of a "new order of human affairs" of the Founding Fathers of Our Republic. However, as we observe the U.S. Bill of Rights Day and Human Rights Week, in 1962 the burden of outmoded traditions prevails against weaving into our moral and legal code the spirit and letter of the U.S. Constitution.

The Political Front, Congress in 1963

In keeping with opinions of some leaders on the civic, religious, labor and/or liberal fronts over the country, it is ventured that an intensified struggle may shape up in the 88th Congress convening in January.

Some political soothsayers seemingly base such forecasts on purported omens in the 1962 election, or conclusions that people over the nation have issued a mandate for Congressional action curtailing unemployment, improving our social welfare programs and extending full justice to all citizens under our basic law and regardless of national origin, creed, or ethnic background.

We contemplate that congressional action—embracing legislation to be, or not to be—should shape up as the most provocative of the decade. Notwithstanding there are no indications, in signs of the times, that the stakes of the majority of people in federal legislation may be accounted for, when or if the majority of the people let their guards down.

It follows that proponents of progressive legislation are confronted even as heretofore by unseemly traditions in parliamentary procedure. Such procedures, heretofore, have restrained most plans for enactment of legislation exemplary of changing times and scenes. More directly, in meeting demands of the times both Houses of Congress are confronted with challenges on reforming rules of procedure, or debate, and sometimes authoritarian prerogatives on procedures of chairmen of various committees.

A liberal Republican Senator ventured recently that both Houses of Congress should revise drastically their rules on parliamentary procedure which he styled "archaic." However, political alignment in other days have thwarted all gestures toward reforming these rules, and it remains to be proved that the 88th Congress will take any commensurate action on the issue.

In the U.S. House a reform of rules would reduce the veto power of the Rules Committee, where Congressmen with seniority, and more often than not of arbitrary political persuasions thwart the enactment of legislation sustaining practical interests of a majority of the people.

Despite the "archaic" nature of U.S. Senate rules on discourse (debate) the responsible policy committee of the majority party usually can force a vote on major issues that the Senate might be inclined to vote on. But the arbitrary powers of chairmen of House committees are more extensive than those of chairmen in the Senate.

Assuming that a handful of leaders of both parties are committed actually to a reform of parliamentary procedure, the 88th Congress might make history of undue import. Members of both Houses of Congress are confronted with a challenge in a travesty on parliamentary procedure, and it appears now that they must answer in a little while the people eventually to be served.

Negro Press Creed the United States of America can best lead the world away from racial and national antagonism when it accords every man, regardless of race, color or creed, his human and legal rights. Hating no man, fearing no man, the Negro Press strives to help every man in the firm belief that all are hurt so long as any one is held back.

Letters to the Editor... Challenges Conservative's Stand, Cites NAACP, Relates Negro Wants

To The Editor:

I here refer to the article, "Local Conservative Tells Why He's Opposed to Integration." The writer states toward the beginning of his article that he is neither "biased nor prejudiced."

I'd like to add also, neither is he open-minded nor intellectually honest. This article is a pure example of rationalization. The NAACP and CORE are promoting equality of all men, and the writer places them in the same bracket with hate movements (KKK and White Citizens groups).

He then backs up his stand for segregation with his account of the Bible creation. I've seen no account in the Bible of God creating a black man, yellow man, red man, brown and white man.

To my knowledge, He created one man and one woman from the dust of the earth, whatever color that was.

Arthur J. Schneider's solution of voluntary separation is rather late in coming. The white men must not have believed in it when they reproduced by their black slave women.

This race mixing, miscegenation and mongrelization, cry that is shouted by the white man when integration is mentioned is a case of projection resulting from his own deep-seated guilt.

Segregation up to this time has failed to produce the race separation he says he wants. So if it is separation he wishes segregation is not the answer. Proof is the 8,000,000 mulattoes in this country.

Sees Negroes Ready to Climb San Juan Hill for Kennedy

To The Editor:

It was a common saying that the Negro votes were in the pockets of the political bosses. All that was needed was just a turn of the handle and the votes would jump out to suit.

But when Franklin D. Roosevelt stepped into the ring for President, the scene was changed. The first thing he did was to save the poor people's money. He closed the banks and placed them under the Federal protection.

He stopped the marshals from selling poor people's property, he set up the C. C. Camp, he used almost every letter in the alphabet (N.R., A.W.A.C.—I can't name them all), he made work, and he helped poor people to own a home.

When our President John F. Kennedy stepped into the ring, almost every denomination threw up a cry of "No." They tried to belittle him as they did Alford Smith. All they saw was the "Pope."

The first thing he did was to take Rev. Martin Luther King from behind bars. He took the shackles off his hands, and the so-called state rights leaders are now afraid to fool with Rev. King.

I will now give you a few names of Negroes he lifted up in the face of strong opposition: Dr. Robert C. Weaver, Federal Housing Administrator; Judge James B. Parson of Chicago, U.S. District Court; Judge Wade McCree of Detroit, U.S. District Court; Cecil Pool of San Francisco, U.S. Attorney; Meril M. McCurdy of Cleveland, U.S. Attorney; Andrew T. Hatcher, Asst. White House Press Secretary, and Christopher C. Scott, Deputy Postmaster General.

The eyes of the Negro are open and all the powers of hell can't close them again. See what the President is doing in Cuba?

I feel that our President is a Christian, and the God he serves is a war Lord and a God of peace. He does not allow anything to interfere with His power.

The greatest battle ever fought was not between the Kaiser of Germany and the Allied powers. It was between God and Lucifer. When Lucifer challenged God's power, he marshaled his army on the plains of Paradise. The God Negroes are serving marshaled His Archangels, the Cherubims, and the Seraphims. God placed before them the royal standard of heaven. The whole universe shook when the two strong forces locked in battle. God gained the upper hand of Lucifer; God never raised a white flag. He kicked Lucifer out of heaven and into hell.

God will not allow anyone to usurp His power and authority. The President is Commander-in-Chief of the Army and Navy. He marshaled the battleships, the jet planes, the submarines, and gave orders to Mr. Khrushchev to dismantle every missile and send them from Cuba back to Russia.

As Commander-in-Chief he gave orders to stop and search every ship headed toward Cuba. You will remember that Mr. Khrushchev once said that he would bury America. When the President signed that ultimatum, Mr. Khrushchev was like the dog wagged by his own tail.

All America was with the President. The Negroes were ready to climb San Juan Hill again. We all know the President is the friend of the Negro; Gov. Ross Barnett did not believe that. As Adlai Stevenson told the Russian diplomat, "I'll wait till hell freezes over for your answer."

So the Negroes are prepared to stand with the Commander-in-Chief if hell freezes over. Let us as determined Negroes pave the way for the unborn generations. Remember the Maine, remember Dorie Miller, and remember Pearl Harbor.

Rev. George Tate

VOICE FROM THE GALLERY

Twenty Years Afterwards

By Andrew W. Ramsey

This week the atomic age has been with us for 20 years, and in these 20 years we earthlings have made some changes in our ways of doing things.

The atomic age was only two and a half years old when we demonstrated the devastating power of the atom by destroying two Japanese cities.

In the succeeding years we have added to our vocabularies in English, French, Spanish, German, Russian and Twi such words as fall-out and fall-out shelter.

In a moment of altruism we created the United Nations Organization as a replacement for war as a method of resolving international understanding s and as an aid in the job of improving the lot of humanity.

From the remnants of empires we have carved a half hundred new nations, and we have seen the white man lose out in Asia and hang on by a hair in a part of Africa.

We have perfected travel to the extent that any spot on the earth can be reached in a day's journey or less.

We Americans and our human brothers called Russians have not only caused hardware to circle the globe. We have hurled cages with monkeys and with men into the space around our sphere and brought them back apparently unharmed.

We have bounced radio signals off the moon and other celestial objects, and we have utilized space to make worldwide television possible (some day we may make it worth looking at).

We have created great interstate freeways to carry an ever increasing number of automobiles and made possible the greatest slaughter on the highways ever conceived by the most diabolic of people haters.

We have experimented with artificial insemination to make the male sex unnecessary, and we are well on our way to complete automation to make people unnecessary.

On the international scene we have seen brown diplomats and black diplomats hold oratorical slugfests with white diplomats and come off creditably.

We have seen black men and women walking, walking with dignity toward their goal of human freedom.

And we have seen Negro boys and girls sitting down to gain the respect to which their human natures entitled them.

WE HAVE SEEN all-white schools opened to Negro pupils for the first time, and we have seen them let their white pupils out the back door while turning the schools over to the Negroes.

We have seen Negroes gain recognition in sports from which they were barred 20 years ago, and here in Indiana we have seen one Negro high school, barred from athletic competition with white schools 20 years ago—we have seen it win three state basketball championships, and we have seen the other remaining Indiana Negro high school win the state track title several times in a row.

Twenty years ago, there were few places in downtown Indianapolis where a Negro could sit down and eat a sandwich. Today that has changed. Most first class eateries in the Hoosier capital now cater to people who want to eat instead of getting as much mileage as possible out of the whiteness of their skins.

We have seen Negroes using all of the city and state parks—a thing not seen 20 years ago.

We have seen the telephone company hire Negro girls and operators, and the public transportation utility employ Negro bus drivers.

We have seen Negroes buy and develop homes and housing subdivisions.

All of these things we have seen, but there are others we have looked for but, in vain.

During the past 20 years we in Indianapolis have not seen a Negro elected to the city council.

We have not seen any disposition to open up all housing for rent or for sale to buyers or renters without regard to race, creed, color and national origin or ancestry.

We have not seen the integration of the public schools regardless of the changes of the schools to which Negro pupils are assigned.

We have seen no concerted effort on the part of white churches to integrate.

And we have not seen sustained effort on the part of governmental units or private industry and business to employ, and promote personnel without regard to racial and religious factors.

We have seen the United States demonstrate the ease with which it could put a man in orbit and retrieve him, and we have witnessed the difficulty our national government had in putting a man in the University of Mississippi and the long number of years it took the government of Indiana to put one Negro on the State Police force.

We wonder then, if it is possible that we are becoming more adept in handling atoms and missiles than we are in handling people when surrounded by the fall-out of generations of taught hate. We only wonder.

I certainly hope by these weeks of fellowship around the great doctrines of the Bible, we are moving toward one, faith, both inside our Baptist fellowship and throughout the world. As you think of Eternal Life today, think of these scriptures as follows: I. Ole Man Adam Is Dead (Romans 6:6-7, 25; I Cor. 15:45-59). II. A Funeral and a Wedding Here (Romans 6:8-5). III. A New World in My View (Romans 6:8-11, 20-22; John 7:1-3; Eph. 4:20-22; Col. 3:9-25).

OLE MAN ADAM IS DEAD. Man has been blown up to be something super duper. In his game of life, if he had no one else in his corner, he had himself written in box car letters. Originally as man appeared on earth, he was practically nothing but a corpse (Gen. 2:7) without God's breath in him. And with God's breath (Gen. 2:7) he came alive and began to tick. He named all the things in the garden and all the animals. He paired them off in brooderies, dressed the garden and spent his leisure time walking and talking with God. When man and woman took over and ignored his maker, then he died. Even these things which seemed to be life were only the dying kicks of a waning python.

Man without God built his towers and his cities like Babel. God confused his tongue, and down his toy cities came around him to the ground.

According to Scofield's Reference Bible, the very term world is kosmos or order, system, beauty, and form. It has the idea of such order as man can possibly devise around his vain motives of greed, competition, graft, and selfishness.

This kind of system has the seeds of its own destruction within itself. That accounts for our stayed stalemate between the East and West. Our social and economic scientists admit the ole man is dead themselves.

A FUNERAL AND A WEDDING HERE. During the depression of the 30's I got two calls in the line of my profession at the same address on the same street—but not in the same family. One was upstairs and the other down.

The first call was for me to preach the funeral of an old man named Smith in the downstairs apartment. The second was to officiate at a wedding for a family upstairs whose 21-year-old daughter was being joined in wedlock.

Only an hour separated the funeral, which came first, and the wedding, which followed an hour later.

I was living way out south, and both families preferred my service and my economic status needed their balm. However, when I objected to Mr. Crumble, the hilarious father of the newlywed upstairs, told me: "Doc, go ahead. I think lots of old man Smith. Give him his due. Cart him away to the graveyard. There's a new life upstairs, new start and happiness ever afterwards. Ain't that what you say? Huh?" I told him, "Yes," buried Mr. Smith with due honors and walked upstairs with a renewed pride that here was a new start, new life and happiness ever afterwards.

That is what every baptism spells: I. Death and burial of the old dead man of sin in our lives. II. A surrender to follow our Captain Jesus into a new life. III. A resurrection.

SAYS THAT 'PURE ARYANS' AREN'T SO PURE EITHER

To The Editor:

Anthropology has always fascinated me and I have devoted some time to the subject.

It amuses me to hear some people because of national origin call themselves "pure Aryan." The term "Aryan," much used in Hitlerite Germany, is kept by scientists as a name for types of languages only, according to Raymond Firth, professor of anthropology at the University of London. This you won't find in Webster's Dictionary which defines "white man" thusly: "A true, sterling fellow, one who is honest and sincere."

Most who call themselves "pure Aryan" aren't even Nordic in type (blond, blue eyes, and long-headed). In fact, less than two percent of the Swedes can claim to be Nordic in type, and Germany has much less than that.

A noted German anthropologist once said: "There is no such thing as a European." His was one of the books Hitler burned to keep the truth from his people.

A lot of people who call Negroes "sons of monkeys" will be shocked to know these "sons of monkeys" could well be their great-great-grandfathers.

Walt, Oscar Burn Up League Heading for Game Here

Can Tiger Defense Stop Artesian Ace?

Attucks' cagers—coming along nicely, thank you—were slated for their first road game of the budding basketball season Friday, Dec. 7, at Martinsville.

Bill Garrett's defensive demons pulled away from Terre Haute Schulte, 52-42, Saturday after outlasting Logansport the night before (see story below).

Meanwhile Martinsville was racing past Rushville, 57-43.

The patterns of the pair of Tiger victories were similar. In both cases Attucks took a halftime lead, then sagged till the foe drew even or nearly so. The fans got a scare followed by the "Crazy Song," and what more could a basketball addict want?

In both games, too, it was a lanky forward who saved the day. Against Schulte it was Wilson Watkins who scored 11 of his 12 points in the 4th quarter. His co-forward, Don Rhoades, counted 11 for the game.

THERE HAS BEEN considerable talk that Attucks is "ragged." While the error figures appear to bear this out, a more important factor is that Garrett seems to be experimenting with various combinations in these early games.

This is especially true at center. Dependable Allen Bridgeforth, who is listed at only 6-1, has been starting. He scored 6 points against Schulte—4 of them in the last quarter.

However, 6-5 Robert Motley has also looked good in limited action. And it's reported that 6-5 David C. Williams is about through serving his "time" for some fistfuffs, and may break into the lineup at Martinsville.

AS IT HAPPENED, Schulte was the wrong team to be undecided at center against. Pacing the visitors at the pivot spot was a sensational tan sophomore, Mike Harris, who took only 6-2, topped all scorers for the night with 21 points.

Harris flipped back-to-the-basket hook shots like Goose Tatum, turnaround jump shots like Larry Humes, and missed only one of each kind as he hit 10 fielders.

In order to keep the ball away from him, Garrett put in Motley and still another center, rugged 6-4 Leroy Patton. The big football tackle performed like Sheddric Mitchell of Attucks' 1955 state champs, scoring 8 points in addition to helping put the clamps on Harris.

In the game at Martinsville, the Tigers may need all the centers they can rustle up. The Artesians are led by kingsized star Steve Sadler.

THE GUARD DEPARTMENT is another where Garrett has plenty of talent and is shuffling boys in and out. Horace Webb, for instance, was sent into the game and immediately fired from the 10-second line and made it.

Webb several times drove all the way, reminding old-timers of Emerson Johnson who was on the Shelbyville state championship quintet with Garrett. Only trouble was, he blew the shots—but he finally got the range.

Webb finally amassed 6 points while Willie "Duck" Carson got 5, including a tip-in. For "small" men, the Tiger guards can really jump.

SCHULTE GAVE A much better performance than expected, and will be heard from before the season is over.

Attucks started with its polished zone defense, but had to come out of it because of the phenomenal corner-sniping of Larry Nunley and Mike Gauer.

The game was well officiated by an integrated team of Don Call and Russell Freeland.

Flying Bluejays to Meet G'castle Team

Hershey's Bluejays, amateur cagers with a 7-1 record, expect tough competition when they meet the Greencastle Merchants at 2 p.m. Saturday at Concord Center.

The Bluejays added two victories to their string last Saturday. They claimed a forfeit from the Illinois St. Postoffice and then went on to stamp the Butler Sigma Nus 118-69.

Add Butler paced the winners with a whopping 42 points, while Earl Humphreys chipped in 27 and Bruce Cunningham 22.

Don Winger was high for the losers with 20.

Sonny, Floyd Tied Up in Tax Clinch

NEW YORK (ANP)— Both Floyd Patterson and Sonny Liston, who won the heavyweight title by dethroning Patterson in Chicago on Sept. 25, got caught in the middle of a $1,174,084 tax suit filed by the Federal government last week against Championship Sports, Inc., promoters of the fight.

Patterson and Liston were named co-defendants in the suit, filed in Manhattan Federal Court at the direction of U.S. Atty.-Gen. Robert Kennedy.

Patterson and Liston were snarled, along with the promoters, in an attempt to beat the 90 percent tax bite the government usually puts on the purses of heavyweight championship bouts.

CHAMPIONSHIP SPORTS, Inc., attempted to pay Patterson and Liston over a 17-year period, and thus spread the tax over 17 years, instead of giving them their full purses now. At the time the plan was announced, the Associated Negro Press warned it might backfire.

That's exactly what happened as the government demanded the entire revenue this year, according to Atty. Tom Bolan, CSI president.

The government described as a "sham" a contract entered into by CSI and Graff, Reiner and Smith Enterprises, Inc., a Nevada corporation that was to pay the fighters under the 17-year plan.

LISTON, MEANWHILE, moved to Chicago and immediately was involved in another controversy. He told reporters he would work for the Chicago Commission on Youth Welfare, giving boxing exhibitions, making speeches and helping youths.

But Mayor Richard J. Daley and officials of the commission said they didn't know a thing about it.

Mustangs Stomp Central J's in Pythagorean Play

A clash of previously unbeaten in the Pythagorean Class "A" basketball league last week found the Meridian Mustangs coming on strong in the second half to defeat the Central J's, 78-69.

The Mustangs trailed at halftime, 38-33.

Willis Mark of the losers was high for both teams with 30 points. Jim Montgomery, formerly of Tech, led the Mustangs with 25 followed by William Trabue with 21.

The night before, the Central J's had rolled over Mt. Vernon 67-37. The J's had three players in double figures: Willis Mark (18), Henry Orr (17) and Clarence Hubbard (16).

IN "B" COMPETITION, the Southern Cross Crusaders defeated the Trinity Warriors, 41-34. Bobby Mitchell scored 24 for the victors and Norman Matthews 12.

ONE THAT GOT AWAY: Attucks' sharp zone defense has limited opponents to an average of 43 points in the Tigers' first two games (both victories), but here's a shot by Logansport's Don Peretto (45) that got away despite checking efforts of Don Rhoades (35). Other identifiable players are the Berries' Mike O'Rourke (41) and Ken Gundrum (33). Bill Garrett's cagers won a 47-44 verdict in the contest at Butler Fieldhouse—where both teams hope to do some more playing next March. (Photo by Earl Porter)

Philly Scribe Raps Liston For 'Running Out' on Town

PHILADELPHIA (ANP)— A sports writer has written an "open letter" to heavyweight champion Sonny Liston, criticizing him for running out on Philadelphians, and the Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission, by moving his residence to Chicago.

Claude E. Harrison, Jr., sports editor of the Philadelphia Tribune, an Associated Negro Press member newspaper, cautioned Liston that although he has won the heavyweight championship, he still has to earn public recognition as a respectable citizen.

Harrison's letter read in part: "Dear Mr. Liston:

"I understand you have followed singer Joe Williams' advice, packed your bags and moved on to Chicago—your reasons being Philadelphians, police officers in particular, have been harassing you.

"SINCE YOU BECAME world heavyweight boxing champion you feel your stock as a citizen has soared sky-high. You couldn't be more wrong. You're still the same person. The friends you have picked up are the 'fair weather' type. Let the clouds lower their silver lining and you'll be walking alone again.

"Here in Philadelphia, where the Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission gave you a fresh start, should be the place where you earn—not receive—your papers as a model citizen.

"Commissioner Al Klein and Secretary John 'Jack' Saunders (a Negro) went out on the limb to get you a Pennsylvania permit and you repaid them by staging your now world-famous 'lark in the park' bit.

"STILL THE COMMISSION stood behind you. It could easily have dropped you like a hot potato, saying a man who has been arrested 19 times, with two convictions, was not fit for the sport."

But the Commission "backed you despite pressure from the World Boxing Association (then the National Boxing Association) and other state commissions.

"Both you and I know your Sept. 25th championship bout with Floyd Patterson couldn't have been staged if Klein and company had dropped a dime on you. So where would you be today?"

"Without a boxing permit; without 'fair weather' friends; without the heavyweight championship; without the money to buy a home in Chicago."

THE LETTER WENT ON to warn Liston that people "are still doubtful about your connections" and that he may find Chicago "the same as Philadelphia." Those who are skeptical will be waiting for a chance to "jump down your throat," Harrison advised the champion.

The letter further advised Liston to keep his mouth shut and "bide your time." You will be accepted "on your record," not your words, it added.

Harrison wished Liston the best of luck in his battle to conquer his biggest foe—himself.

Urged to Join Women's Swim Class at YMCA

More members are welcome to join the women's swimming class on Wednesday and Thursday mornings at 10 o'clock at the Fall Creek Parkway YMCA, it was declared last week by Cliff Ransom, physical activities director.

There is no charge to full members of the Fall Creek Y, Ransom said. A $1 activity fee is assessed non-members.

2 Tan Players Named to South Squad That Will Meet North

MIAMI (ANP)—Two Negro players from Florida A & M's unbeaten (10-0) team last week were invited to play on the South squad against the North in the annual Shrine post-season College All-Star football game in the Orange Bowl here. They will be the first of their race to play in the classic.

Game director Andy Gustafson did not immediately identify the two tan players. Prominently mentioned were fleet halfback Robert Paramore and Hewitt Dixon, powerful 192-pound fullback. Paramore runs the 100-yard dash in 9.3 seconds.

Quarterback Jim Tullis, who last week was named to the Associated Negro Press 1962 All-America team, also was given a good chance to be selected. Tullis' accurate passing spearheaded the FAMU campaign.

Bellamy Battles Wilt To 37-Point Standoff

From ANP Reports

Oscar Robertson and Walt Bellamy, Hoosierland's prime gifts to pro basketball who will tangle at the Coliseum on Thursday, Dec. 13, are currently burning up the nets in the National Basketball Association.

Big Walt held Wilt Chamberlain to a draw, limiting "The Stilt" to 37 points while scoring the same number himself, as his Chicago Zephyrs racked up their first NBA victory over the San Francisco Warriors last week.

The 37-point total, in the game played at San Francisco, was the Big Dipper's smallest total of the season.

The 7-foot-plus Chamberlain is the NBA scoring champion. But he looked like anything but a world-beater as Bellamy, former Indiana University All-American and 1961 Rookie-of-the-Year, dogged him all over the floor.

It was the Zephyrs' first victory over the Warriors since the Chicago team entered the NBA two years ago. It was also the Warriors' 6th consecutive defeat. At that point the former Philadelphia club had lost 8 of their last 9 games. ACROSS THE COUNTRY in a tilt in Madison Square Garden, New York City, all-around star Robertson scored 31 points and executed 15 assists while leading the Cincinnati Royals to a 139-129 victory over the New York Knickerbockers.

The Royals with Oscar and the Zephyrs with Walt will lock horns at the State Fairgrounds Coliseum in Indianapolis next Thursday.

With tipoff at 8:30 p.m., the game will be a regularly-scheduled NBA contest, with Cincinnati the home team.

Well-Geared 'Windmill' Defense Highlights Tigers' Opening Win

By CHARLES S. PRESTON

A well-geared windmill defense combined with a good-enough pot-shooting offense to give Attucks a 47-44 opening basketball victory over Logansport last week at Butler Fieldhouse.

The Tiger zone defense, with everybody keeping his hands up, was a thing of beauty for the first game of the season.

Offense, on the contrary, was pretty much alley ball. The top performance was by prowling panther Don Rhoades, who zeroed 5 fielders, including 4 straight from the outer reaches during the second half.

COACH BILL GARRETT showed the 3,000 fans he has plenty of talent to work with this year—and he didn't show it all at that.

Stringbean senior Wilson Watkins sniped 4 buckets and fired the team with his driving. Newcomer guards Willie "Duck" Carson and James Bradberry scored 9 and 8 points respectively, compelling Logansport to come out of its zone early in the game.

Guards Clarence Rhea and Horace Webb handled the ball smoothly. Football tackle W. C. Taylor gave a stout example of floor-control.

Robert Motley, a 6-5 center, in a brief appearance hit 2 long fielders—one of which didn't count—and Garret didn't use two other centers: 6-5 David C. Williams (who was listed but not dressed) and 6-4 Leroy Patton.

Grid end Allen Bridgeforth, who stands 6-1, played the pivot.

LOGANSPORT, MEETING Attucks for the first time in season play, was unimpressive in the attack and rebounding departments. However, Coach Jim Jones has some boys you can't let shoot—including Fred Hillis and Don Peretto who scored 12 each, Mike O'Rourke (10) and Kenny Gundrum (9).

The Berries earlier had knocked off Winamac, 57-46, and Mishawaka, 71-58. They had a tan substitute, Mike Simmons, who didn't get into the game.

Approximately 500 fans followed Logansport on its first trip to the Fieldhouse since the Final Foursome of 1961. The Berries had lost to Attucks, 76-50, in the 1959 Foursome.

An integrated pair of officials, J. L. Bailey and Don Phillips, received occasional boos regardless of race, creed or color.

AFTER ROLLING to a 39-26 lead midway in the 3rd quarter, Attucks fell apart offensively and its lead dwindled to 45-44 with 1:37 to go.

In the opinion of sportsman Don Kelly and this writer, the frenzied drum-beating in the 4th quarter could well have been dispensed with. It may have set too exciting a rhythm for the players when cool heads were called for.

"The Spiral Road" Rock Hudson Opens Sunday at the Walker Theater

The renowned novel by Jan de Hartog, "The Spiral Road," a story of Dutch doctors in the jungles of the Netherlands East Indies, has been brought to the screen by Universal-International, with Rock Hudson, Burl Ives and Gena Rowlands in the starring roles, and opens Sunday at the Walker Theater.

The large Javanese population there, its awesome jungle, and the old-world Dutch architecture of its only city, Paramaribo, made it an ideal background for the powerful story.

The noted Dutch author's book, a brilliant appraisal of civilized man's struggle against the jungle, combining the jungle's brutal dangers with the constant battle of the human spirit against the lures of depravity and degradation, was partly filmed on location deep into the jungles of Surinam (Dutch Guiana), only four degrees north of the equator.

Filmed in color, "The Spiral Road" was produced by Robert Arthur and directed by Robert Mulligan from the screenplay by John Lee Mahin and Neil Paterson.

Although "The Spiral Road" is a drama of Dutch colonial doctors battling plagues and epidemics in the Malayan peninsula, climatic conditions around Indonesia prompted the choice of Surinam as a film site.

Taverns Offer Best In Entertainment

MR. B's POMP ROOM: Your host Herschel Buckner—at this swank drinkery has innovated something new and different—a Record Party by "the King" every Monday and Thursday at the West 30th St. bistro . . . Record spinner is Thomas Jennings, who has brought something new to Naptown entertainment-wise. Ellis Murphy, former Red Cap at Union Station, is mixologist; Anna Mae Parks and Shirley Cox, waitresses, and George Barber head mixologist. Come out and join in the fun every Blue Monday and Thursday nites.

PLACE TO PLAY: The Psychos Trio is still whipping up a musical breeze nightly at this Avenue play spot . . . where the crowds are enjoying this fine aggregation niftily and especially at the Saturday afternoon matinee. Your congenial host James McQueen Sr., invites you and your friends to come out and join in the fun every nite of the week.

RED KEG: The Untouchables are doing a fine job at this Avenue bistro that's located in the point where Indiana intersects Senate, every Friday and Saturday nite. Be sure and dig these cats this Friday and Sat.

BING-O-MAR CLUB: Little Jimmy Screech and his combo are the main attraction at this far West Indianapolis joy-spot, where they are walling niftily with special features for the ladies every Friday nite, which is guest nite; Saturday afternoon cocktail hour from 4 to 7 p.m., and Saturday after midnight a ramble until 2 a.m. with no cover or minimum charge plus plenty of Free parking. Remember, the Bing-O-Mar Club is located just 2 blocks South of West Morris St. at Howard and Pershing.

CACTUS CLUB: Pookie Johnson and his quartette are the featured attraction every Friday and Saturday at this northside playhouse. Included in the band are such stars as: Earmon Hubbard, piano; Eugene Fowlkes, bass, and Edward Gee on drums.

FLASH . . . Leland Bailey, advertising manager of The Indianapolis Recorder, entered Methodist Hospital Wednesday for a check up.

Mrs. Sam Thomas, wife of the Harding St. business man, is home from St. Francis Hospital.

XMAS SHOW: Entertainers and musicians are signing up like mad for the big Recorder Christmas Midnite Benefit Show at the Walker theater Saturday nite, Dec. 15. Proceeds from the show will go towards helping hundreds of needy families at Christmas . . . This year's bill will present all types of talent . . . young and old . . . amateur and professional . . . with accent on the amateurs. All of them are giving of their time and talent for FREE in order to help a good cause . . . and to provide a lotta entertainment for the hundreds of persons expected to attend the affair.

REHEARSALS will be held at the Walker Casino on Thursday and at 7 P.M. . . . NOV. 13 (This is a CHANGE from Thurs. and Fri. as previously announced) All persons appearing on the bill are expected to be present for these REHEARSALS . . . Thursday at Walker and Fri. at Sunset at 7 P.M.

IT'S NEWS: Comments on the President's Housing Order . . . brought this comment from a local real estate man who, according to news dispatches, lives in an integrated neighborhood and has colored neighbors who "could buy and sell me" . . . and he has no intention of moving, and sees no panic.

Washington, D.C.: According to news dispatches the riot at the new stadium Thanksgiving Day was started by Negroes before a crowd of 50,000 watching a football game between an all-Negro high school team and a Catholic school. At the game's end more than 1,000 Negro youngsters charged across the field into a section of white rosters. It took police an hour to stop it. The game was for the city high-school championship. St. John's (Catholic) won, 20 to 7. Now there is talk of canceling the yearly play-off. (Too bad, huh?)

THANKS TO MR. AND MRS. JESSE BAKER for that fine Thanksgiving Day dinner and to Mr. and Mrs. Leverett Brunaugh for that delicious delicacy so pleasing to your taste (food) . . . and to another friend for that delicious steak (in the raw) and to de-lovely Bessie Ward of the Royal Grill for her tender cooking of same with that good southern gravy and onions befitting a king. We really feasted for several days . . . wow!

IN THE MAIL BAG: A writer complains because we are being asked to contribute to a fund for a float in the Parade of Roses in Pasadena, Calif., but she refused because on the float there is space for 6 girls and not a Negro on the float. She says: "With all the lovely models we have I'm sure they can find one to ride on the float. It's up to the papers and the leading people in Indianapolis to look into this . . ." And she asks: "Are we going to stand back and let things like this go on for ever? Please see what can be done about this!"

RECORDED RECOMMENDED

AFRICANS CHARGED: 650 natives have been charged with the murder of two white children during the racial riots last month, said a news release out of Cape Town, South Africa. But, no whites have been charged in the deaths of five natives, also killed during the riots.

F-L-A-S-H . . . Thom Ervin and Robert Kent, well known newspaperman and filling station operator are sponsoring a vacation trip by Jet Flight to Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands (the paradise of the Americas) next July with hotel accommodations (luxury living) plus plane fare for 9 days of relaxation at the nominal cost for the entire trip at $325.00. All persons interested in the trip may contact Mr. Irvin at The Indianapolis Recorder or Mr. Kent at Kent's Crossroads Service Station, 442 N. West St. ME. 4-8995. Gertrude Ward Singers Playing Pink Poodle For First Time

We are told that the next few years will be the really big ones for gospel singing.

Since this is a newly created phenomena of show business, very few of us can be authoritative on this statement. However, when you see THE GERTRUDE WARD SINGERS at the Pink Poodle, you will certainly have to admit that the next few years do look unusually bright for them.

Why should gospel singers become so popular after so many years of neglect? Ray Charles has become one of the world's most sought after entertainers by employing a sound that often comes straight out of a gospel tent. Popular singers such as Della Reese, Sam Cook and Oscar Brown have come into prominence by using the driving gospel beat and sound. In today's tension filled world, at a time when so many people are afraid to do anything that tapers with convention, it must be pure relief to see a group like THE GERTRUDE WARD SINGERS that are performers who obviously and completely enjoy themselves. The spectators themselves are free to participate in the music. In a world of uncertainty, THE GERTRUDE WARD SINGERS sing what they like. It is all glorious and happily positive.

Another reason the GERTRUDE WARD SINGERS have become so popular is because of their very original and unmistakable beat.

GERTRUDE WARD

They always swing, and with their strong rocking beat, they open the door to their listener.

The first time GERTRUDE WARD ever appeared in a night club was in 1957 when she and her daughter Clara performed in The Village Vanguard in New York City. Following that they appeared at the Newport Jazz Festival. It was here they discovered they could impart their before undiscovered singing style to audiences other than religious groups. THE GERTRUDE WARD SINGERS employ piano and organ in their performances, but on occasion they have given performances with many of the great jazz bands.

Also on the bill is Allen Drew, one of the top comics in the country. He is terrific. Direct from from 17 years at Club DeLisa in Chicago.

OLD Mr. BOSTON

IF YOU DON'T LIKE THE TASTE OF "HARD LIQUOR" . . . TRY THESE PLEASANT-TASTING CORDIALS

To many people, the finest "hard liquors" in the world taste harsh and unpleasant. Some simply wince and bear it. Others drink Old Mr. Boston cordials instead. (We have no axe to grind, for we make all types of liquor.)

The cordials shown here appeal to a great many people because they are, in truth, delicious. You taste natural flavors—real berries, real fruits, real mint and seeds and spices. We prepare each flavor ourselves right from the moment the fresh fruits are picked. The results speak for themselves. Let others swallow their "hard liquor"—while you sip and savor the flavor of these pleasant-tasting cordials.
