ONE DAIRY IS CONDEMNED SIX CHARGES AGAINST HIM

INSPECTOR JOHN OWENS HERE FRIDAY TO INSPECT MILK MEN'S BARN AND WAGONS—FINDS SIX OF THEM IN FAIR CONDITION—THE SEVENTH IS CLOSED BY HIS ORDERS AND MUST BE IMPROVED BEFORE MORE MILK CAN BE SOLD.

TWO LOTS OF MILK DUMPED

Wagons of two of the Dairies are Met on the Street—Milk is Found to Be Dirty And it is Dumped in the Gutter—All Proprietors are Ordered to Clean up Their Places.

Milk was flowing in the gutters Greencastle Fri. morning. The reason was that John Owens, state pure food inspector, was here to look into the dairy situation. Mr. Owens met milk peddlers from two of the dairies on the street and after testing the milk and finding that it was very dirty, it was dumped in the gutters.

Seven dairies were inspected by Mr. Owens and Dr. Sudranski, the local health officer Fri. morning. They were the dairies of Finis Whitted, J. W. Lemmick, Paul Tuck-Bence & Lee, H. M. Bennett, Isaac Strain and H. Frazier.

The dairy of the first was found to be in a very bad condition and the dairy was condemned by Mr. Owens. Mr. Whitted ships his milk to Terre Haute and so the closing down of the dairy will not effect the local situation.

Whitted was ordered to build a milk shed, put floors in his barns and to take his milk separator out of the barn and into a separate building. He cannot legally ship any more milk until these things are done. He also was ordered to generally clean up his place. The Ice Cream manufacturers in Terre Haute who purchased of Whitted were notified of the dairy being condemned and were ordered not to use any more of the milk shipped by Whitted until he complied with the state laws.

The other dairies were found to be in only fair conditions and the owners were ordered to immediately clean up their places. The chief troubles found were the dirty conditions of the stables and badly arranged milk sheds.

Mr. Owens said Friday afternoon that he feared that some of the herds were effected with tuberculosis and that an inspection of the herds would be made later by experts. He said that in many of the towns the experts found that from 25 to 50 per cent of the animals of the several dairies were effected with disease. He says that in many of the towns the city councils have passed ordinances for licensing dairies and in that way the dairies were under close observance of the local officers. This plan may be taken up here by the council.

WM. H. McILVAIN ARRESTED IN BAINBRIDGE SAT. MORNING ON CHARGE OF ILLEGAL SELLING LIQUOR, IS BEFORE THE MAYOR AND HIS TRIAL SET FOR TUESDAY MORNING AT 9:30 O'CLOCK.

DETECTIVE GOT THE EVIDENCE

Prisoner Furnishes $100 Cash Bond—It is Said That At Least 6 More Affidavits Will be Filed Against The Man—Was Arrested Before on a Similar Charge.

Deputy Sheriff Boes went to Bainbridge Sat. morning and arrested Wm. H. McIlvain a druggist on a charge of selling liquor. W. F. Lewis a detective, connected with a Lafayette Detective Bureau swore out the warrant, on which the man was arrested.

McIlvain was brought here and taken before the Mayor. He pleaded not guilty to the charge. His trial was set for Tuesday morning at 9:30 o'clock and his bond fixed at $100. He gave cash bond.

Beside the affidavit upon which he was arrested there are five others against him and the prosecutor says that at least 6 more will be filed before the first case comes to trial. Among the charges against him are charges of selling minors, conducting a store in which liquor is illegally sold and illegal selling of liquor.

A charge against the man came several months ago was dropped on account of the witness in the case refusing to swear against him. The cases against McIlvain will be pushed this time, however, McIlvain was once arrested in Lebanon, fined and given a jail sentence for illegal liquor selling. He paid the fine and Judge Artman suspended the jail sentence. Then McIlvain went to Bainbridge and started a drug store.

William McIlvain, the Bainbridge druggist, who was arrested Saturday on the charge of selling liquor illegally, has promised to leave within 60 days. This was arranged Tuesday when Mr. McIlvain appeared for trial before the Mayor.

Five affidavits beside the one upon which McIlvain was arrested had been sworn out and the man would have been prosecuted upon each affidavit had not the compromise been effected.

When the temperance people in Bainbridge, who had worked up the case against the man, and Mr. McIlvain reached here that morning, preparatory to going into the trial of the case, it looked pretty bad for the druggist. The temperance people,

CLAIM BY A DePAUW MAN

Former University Student Kills Destroyer of His Home and Faces Trial for the Crime—Wilbur R. Gibbons Shoots Edward Rosenrath at Terre Haute.

WILL PLEAD UNWRITTEN LAW

Edward Rosenrath, who was shot and instantly killed by Wilbur R. Gibbons at Terre Haute Sunday night, was a Brazil boy, having been raised in that city. Gibbons formerly attended DePauw University.

The dead man was the son of Peter Rosenrath, an old soldier who lived on west North street for many years. Peter Rosenrath died several years ago and his widow went to the Soldier's Home at Lafayette and there is where she has made her home. The son and several of the daughters moved to Terre Haute where they have since lived. Gibbons found Rosenrath and his wife walking along the street in Terre Haute Sunday night and after some words between them, Gibbons shot and killed Rosenrath. Gibbons claims that Rosenrath was in the act of picking up a brick to throw at him when he shot him.

Gibbons and his wife had been having trouble and had been separated for some time. Rosenrath is said to be responsible for the separation of Gibbons and his wife which resulted in the murder Sunday night. Gibbons is a graduate of DePauw University and formerly held a responsible position in the Terre Haute postoffice but is now a finisher at the Standard Wheel Works.

"Any man who would wrong my daughter or anyone's daughter should be killed. The trouble is that many of them do not get what they deserve."

This statement by Alonzo H. Davidson, father-in-law of Wilbur R. Gibbons who shot Edward Rosenrath when he found him with his (Gibbons) wife Sunday, indicates the line of defense which will be followed by the slayer. That the "unwritten law" will figure in the case as it did in the Thaw murder trial; was the declaration both by Gibbons, the slayer and his father-in-law, Davidson, who called at the jail yesterday and declared that he would assist in the defense. Mrs. Gibbons also visited her husband at the jail and on leaving the prisoner she said no further action would be taken in the divorce proceedings.

DAUGHERTY WILL PROBATED

The last will and testament of Henry Daugherty was Wed. filed for probate, under the terms of the will all the personal property and one hundred acres of the real estate goes to the wife through her life. After the death of the wife the property is to be equally divided according to the laws of Indiana, among the living heirs. The heirs at law will receive at once 77 acres of land. The land belonging to the widow and the heirs is all located in Franklin township.

Sammel N. Harshbarger and Geo. W. Stewart have been appointed executors.

THE BOARD OF REVIEW

Several important cases came before the board of review Wed. and late Tuesday. The Gas Company was assessed and the value placed at $9,000. The Water Works Company was also before the board and much time was spent in going over the case but at noon Wed. no decision had been reached in regard to the assessment.

Friday has been set as the day for the banks to make statements before the board. It is probable that the assessments of the banks will be made on that date.

COUNTY LOSES DITCH CASE

Supreme Court Reverses Decision of Judge West. Declares Morgan Co. Court Has Right to Order Bridges Destroyed.

NOT SAME VIEW AS APPELLATE

The Cook Ditch case has at last been decided by the supreme court and decided against Putnam county. The basis of the decision is, however, quite different from the one on which the appellate court based its reversal of the opinion of the lower court. The appellate court held that the Putnam county court in which the original action was entered had no jurisdiction in the case, and therefore, could not issue a restraining order.

The supreme court holds that the contention that Putnam county was not notified of the action of the Morgan county court, and was not, therefore, a party to the action of the Morgan county court is not good. It held further that a court of competent jurisdiction which the Morgan county court implied to be, has the right to order bridges destroyed if it deems it necessary.

Thus ends, for the time being, one of the hardest fought legal battles the county has entered. Competent attorneys have represented the county and excellent judges of three counties have ruled on the case which is now reversed.

The following is a synopsis of the ruling:

21292. American S. D. Works vs. Board, Montgomery C. C. Transferred from Appellate Court Reversed Gillet, C. J. (1) Before the act of 1905 was passed (whatever changes that may have made) a county did not own any highway bridges wholly nor have jurisdiction to restrain injuries thereto, but the control and authority respecting such a bridge was in the township alone was a necessary party to a drainage proceeding effecting a bridge on a county line as was necessary to give the court jurisdiction by proceeding under Section 5624, Burns 1901 and an allegation in a complaint for an injunction must be disregarded that merely asserts the legal conclusion that the county was never in any manner notified of the proceeding (2) An order affecting a highway bridge made in a drainage proceeding by a circuit court of competent jurisdiction is not subject to collateral attack since the power of such courts extends to ordering the construction of a drain in such a manner as to injure or destroy an existing bridge.

DEATH OF A. D. KELLEY

Death came to Alonzo D. Kelley, one of Greencastle's oldest and best known citizens Monday at 4:45 after several weeks of illness. Mr. Kelley was born March 30, 1832 at Delaware, Ohio.

The parents removed to Greenfield Ind., when he was a small boy and from there to Greencastle. Mr. Kelley was a student in old Asbury University for some time but did not finish his college course.

It was during that time he worked with his uncle John Richhart as a tailor. His parents lived in term in Mansfield, Greencastle, and Stilesville and it was at Stilesville he met and married on March 27, 1862 Miss Roann E. Matson. Three children were born to them two sons, Edward and Chas. A. and one daughter, Miss Susie. The son Edward died some years ago, the other son is well known as one of Greencastle's most prominent merchant's. The daughter remains at home with the mother. One brother, D. E. Kelley, a sister Miss Elanor McAninch lives in this city.

In 1864 Mr. Kelley enlisted at Stilesville in the Union cause, under Capt. A. J. Lee. He was 1st Sergeant of Company E. of 78 Vols.

After his service as a soldier was ended he entered the general merchandise business in this city and remained in that work for some years, till failing health compelled him to give up. The funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the home on E. Washington street by J. F. O'Haver.

The G. A. R. will have charge and the pall-bearers will be selected from that order. Burial will be made at Forest Hill.

In an address at Vassar college Joseph Jefferson once said that a national theater in this country is an impossibility. Politics, said he, would sooner or later get into it and ruin it. "They would have a Republican tragedian and a Democratic comedian," he added.

The Judge's Joke.

Henry Keyes of Vermont was a life-long Democrat. Governor Mattacks, or Judge Mattacks, was for a brief period a Democrat also. After he got to be a judge he soon became a Whig. While holding court at St. Johnsbury he occupied a room at the leading hotel, which, as was usual during court time, was dull. Late at night Mr. Keyes arrived and wanted a bed. The landlord informed him that every bed in the house had two in it except the one that was occupied by Judge Mattacks.

"Go up and tell him that Henry Keyes wants to sleep with him." The landlord went up, rapped at the judge's door and told him his errand. "Henry Keyes," said the judge, half asleep—"Henry Keyes of Newbury? Democrat? Oh, yes; I've had it once. Let him in."

A Slave of Habit.

"Mr. Butcher," said the patron with the infant in her arms, "will you please weigh my baby?" "Sure!" responded the busy butcher, depositing the little human bundle on his scales. "Just sixteen pounds and a quarter, Mrs. Riley." "But," commented the watching parent, "your scales register only sixteen pounds." "You're right, madam," said the butcher, reddening as he took another look. Then, turning to the bookkeeper behind the desk, he called out, "Annie, take off that quarter of a pound!"—Judge.

Transfusion of Blood.

The earliest case of the transfusion of blood from the veins of one person to those of another on record so far as we know is that of Pope Innocent VIII, who is said to have been successfully operated on in April, 1492. In 1667 the operation was performed both in France and England apparently with success, but it again fell into oblivion till 1824, when Dr. Blundell in his "Researches" proved the feasibility of the process. Since that time it has been regarded as a legitimate operation.—New York American.

Transplanting Trees.

To merely replace a tree that has been blown down is a much more simple affair than to transplant a forest giant. Yet this sort of thing is constantly done and is no novelty. So long ago as the time of Louis XIV. hundreds of forest trees were dug up by the roots and transplanted to Versailles, where they still form a forest around the old palace.

Emory Moore, a Bartender, is Arrested and Fined $10 and Costs, For Selling Liquor to Charley Ray—Appeals his Case to the Circuit Court.

TOOK BOOZE TO LIVERY STABLE

Emory Moore a bartender was arrested Mon. morning on a charge of selling liquor on Sunday. The testimony against the bartender was given by Charley Ray, who alleges he bought the whiskey of Moore.

Ray, his brother Will Ray and Bill Bundy were arrested at the Interurban station Sun. evening. All had been drinking and Will Ray was very much intoxicated. All were taken to jail. Monday morning they were before the Mayor. Will Ray was fined $11 for intoxication Bundy $13 for profanity.

Charley Ray, told the Mayor that he had bought whiskey the men had been drinking from Emory Moore. He said that Moore had given the liquor to him in a livery stable and that he paid $1. for it.

Moore was then re-arrested and pleaded not guilty. He was found guilty by the Mayor, however, and fined $10 and costs. He appealed the case to the circuit court. Moore gave bond for his appearance. Charley Ray was not fined. The other two men were allowed to go on their promise to pay their fines later.

Final arrangements have all at last been completed for the commencement exercises of Clinton, Madison and Washington townships. The exercises will be held on July second. Clinton and Madison will hold joint exercises in the afternoon. The affair will have something the form of a picnic as the address will be given in the open air, in a grove.

The exercises of Washington township will be held in Reelsville on the evening of July 2. Rev. Thomas H. Kuhn, a candidate for the nomination for governor on the Democratic ticket and now nominated for congress from the eight district will be the orator of the day at both of the places. ## SETTLES WITH THE STATE County Treasurer Went to Indianapolis Sat. to Take State's Share of Taxes Collected at Spring Installation.

THE FUNDS AMOUNT TO $16,000

Treasurer Ed. McG. Walls Sat. took to Indianapolis to the state treasury the money due the state from the spring installment of taxes. The total $16,203 was made up of several funds. The state tax was responsible for $2,207. The benevolent institutions of the state took $4,436. Interest on common school fund was $2,103. The state educational fund was 2,039, and the school fund $4,818. Interest on the permanent endowment fund was $161 and docket fees $40, making a total $16,203.

Treasurer Walls took the money Sat. morning and made his settlement with the state treasurer before noon.

In stating Saturday that County Treasurer Walls had taken $16,203 to the state treasury as the spring installment of state taxes we omitted to state that Mr. Walls had already paid to the state $17,000 as advance payments called for by the state's necessities under the present administration. There had been advanced by the county one payment of $3,000 and one of $14,000 before this last payment which was a final settlement. The total paid, therefore by the county to the state was $33,000.

BOARD MAKES ASSESSMENTS

Values For Taxation Purposes to the A & C Stone and Lime Company and the Western Tin Plate Works Saturday.

PERSONAL PROPERTY COVERED

The Board of Review of Putnam county made several assessments of interest Saturday. The A & C Stone and Lime Company was considered and the assessment placed at $14,000. This is $1,000 more than the valuation placed on the property last year by the State Tax commissioners. The added value is due to improvements that have been made and to material on hand, the company having a large quantity of crushed stone that has not yet been disposed of. This assessment covers both personal and real property.

MARION TOWNSHIP

Marion township yearly graduation exercises were held at the Christian Church June 12, graduates 16, common and 6 high school. The annual address was by Dr. A. W. Conner, of Lafayette, there seems to be one thing badly needed in Marion township, a new school building large enough to admit all the different grades including fourth year high school as it is quite a burden on parents to send their children to Greencastle to finish their fourth year in high school, besides a large expense to the parents. It seems that the Advisory Board of Marion cannot decide what the wants and needs of Marion township are as regards a new school building if they would appropriate sufficient means to build a new building there is no want for plans and specifications as trustee Bunten has three in his office.

Come together gentlemen talk this matter over if Mr. Bunten has not what you want as to plans for a new school building have other plans drawn. It is not trustee Bunten the patrons and many school children of Marion township are looking to for school privileges but to you gentlemen of the Advisory Board of Marion.

What was said to be the "missing link between man and the ape" was found by Dr. Dubois in 1895 on the banks of the Beo wan river, in central Java. The "link" was named "Pithecanthropus erectus."—New York American.

GIRL ARRESTED FOR THEFT

VIOLA PARKER, AN INDIANAPOLIS WOMAN TAKEN IN CUSTODY BY MARSHALL REEVES ON INFORMATION FURNISHED BY CHIEF BRAY OF THE INDIANAPOLIS POLICE FORCE.

CAME HERE TO BE MARRIED

Is Accused of Taking a Seal Skin Sack and a Suit Case—Girl Was Staying Here at The Sims Hotel—Officer From Indianapolis Arrives Here and Takes Prisoner to That City.

Coming here to become the bride of a local barber, Viola Parker, a young woman of Indianapolis was arrested Saturday on a charge of theft by Marshall Reeves. The local officer arrested the woman on information furnished by Chief of Police Bray of Indianapolis, who telephoned here asking that the arrest be made.

Miss Parker is accused of stealing a sealskin coat and a suit case from Mrs. Edwards, of 608 Union Ave., Indianapolis. The girl was taken to jail and held until an officer from Indianapolis came here after her. While here, Miss Parker, who is a nice appearing girl, stayed at the Sims hotel.

She came here, she told the officers that morning to marry a local barber next week whom she has been in love with for some time. They had planned to be married and then she moved away from Greencastle. During the morning her lover visited her at the jail and heard the story. He told the officers that he was going to fix up the matter. During the afternoon an officer arrived from Indianapolis and the girl was taken there.

Detective Otto Simons was the officer to come after the girl. He stated that the girl had admitted taking the coat and the suit case from Mrs. Edwards, but said that hunger drove her to it. The girl formerly worked in a millinery store in Indianapolis and is charged with stealing articles from that store. She has not been employed for some time. The girl was traced to Greencastle through letters written to her sweetheart here. Miss Parker roomed at the home Mrs. Edward.

AS TO MR. TAFT

What a gang of hypocrites we are. Secretary of State Taft has just issued a pronouncement to the Istmus of Panama government that if the election is not held along reform lines if the people do not have a right to express themselves freely—this government will take a hand.

The same press reports carried with them the bribery by Taft forces in Kentucky and the absolute suppression of the delegates to Chicago chosen by a majority of the people. The kettle and the pot must each have smiled over this proclamation.—Frankfort Crescent (Rep.)

A Freak of the Lightning.

A curious case of lightning destruction took place some years ago at Gatchina, an Imperial summer residence not far from St. Petersburg, where stood a stone column fifty feet high, held together by iron angles. When rain fell more or less water penetrated the stones in the interior of the monument. One day it was struck by lightning, and instantly the column disappeared from view, killing a lone sentry on guard. The only explanation is that the heat of the lightning instantly generated steam on coming in contact with some of the water and the terrific explosion followed.

STRUCK BY FREIGHT TRAIN

ITALIAN FROM THE NATIONAL ENGINEERING CO. CAMP STEPS IN FRONT OF FAST BIG FOUR FREIGHT AND IS DANGEROUSLY INJURED—PROBABLE THAT HE CAN NOT RECOVER.

VICTIM TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

Left Side is Crushed and Broken Ribs Pierced Lungs—Internal Injuries May Cause Death—Had Been Cleaning Cinders Out From Under an Engine—Stepped on to Main Track.

At near 5 o'clock Mon. morning an Italian, employed by the National Engineering Co., at their camp near Delmar, was struck by a fast west bound Big Four freight train, and was so badly injured that he probably will die.

The man had been cleaning the cinders out from under a locomotive which was standing on a side track. After he had completed his work he crawled out from under the engine and stepped onto the track directly in front of the coming freight. He was thrown to the side of the track by the force of the engine striking him. Other Italians ran to him and he was taken aboard the train which struck him and brought to Greencastle.

Dr. McGaughy was called and gave the victim temporary treatment at the station. The Italian was taken to Terre Haute hospital on the first passenger train. Dr. McGaughy found that the man was dangerously injured. His left side is badly crushed and the broken ribs have penetrated his lungs. He also has another bad injury. The Italian's right eye was torn out and he is suffering a bad scalp wound. It is probable that he will die.

England's Oldest Castle.

Manchester castle is said to be one of the oldest inhabited houses in Britain. It was old in King Henry's time, for it appears to have been the Romans who first raised its huge gray towers to defend the passage of the river Esk running below its walls. From its perch on Hardknot fell it commands the country from the hills to the shore, a position of immense importance so near to the border. At the time of the Norman invasion the fortress was given to the Penningtons, who have held it ever since.—Westminster Gazette.

Discontent.

When discontent seizes upon the mind it is like the deadly cancer, reaching out with its tentacles for sound flesh to feed upon. It must be checked in its incipient stage. The caustic of self arraignment must be unsparingly used and the salve of common sense liberally applied. Self treatment is necessary to insure a cure.—Frank B. Welch.

WHEN FRIENDS FALL OUT.

In politics, when friends fall out, the opposition learns the truth. The Republican press is certainly making an attempt to place the Democratic party in possession of all the damaging evidence against the probable nominee of the Chicago convention. Not since war times have the candidates been so ruthlessly flayed by the press of their own parties as during the present campaign. The cause is evident. The Republicans have no man that is popular with the people of more than one section. Fairbanks carries no more than the politicians of his own state, the people of Indiana being against him almost to a man. Hughes is popular only in New York, with some not very loudly express appreciation in other states. Taft is rapidly becoming the enemy of all but the administration men and the southern office holders. The enemies he has made already would mean the defeat of any man, unless backed by much money and coercion. In fact the Indianapolis News boldly and plainly states that President Roosevelt, in his attempt to help Taft, has forgotten all about the "square deal," and with his bulldog stubbornness is pushing him through in spite of raging opposition, expecting that his own personal popularity aided by money and force exercised through office holders will elect Taft. The president seems, however, to be over shooting the mark, and is losing so fast in personal popularity that to pull Taft through begins to look to Republicans as a large contract. The negro vote is against Taft. The railroad men of the country against him, and now considerable factions of the party, angered by the machine's action in seating Taft delegates, right or wrong, where contests exist, declare that they will refrain from voting at all or vote the Democratic ticket if Taft is nominated. Some even declare that the Republican ticket must be beaten for the good of the Republican party and the country at large. The tendency of affairs during the last year would seem to prove this declaration true.

The excuse put forward by the Taft managers for their rule of might in the Chicago convention is that the others would have used the same methods had they had the chance. Yet the others have never committed themselves to the

Are you going to buy a hat? Did you ever wear a Hawes? We sell this hat because we think it the best. Give us an opportunity to show them to you.

SUTHERLIN

"square deal". And then, too, those who loved Roosevelt looked for something more from him than from the average life-long politician of the Foraker, Fairbanks, Watson type. That they would debase both politics and honesty was expected, but it was not expected that Roosevelt would stoop to such means. Hence the surprise and another explanation that does not explain.

CURRENCY REFORM.

That the Republicans, in forcing through the senate and the house at the last moment the notorious and infamous Aldrich and Vreeland currency bill have not in any way restored confidence in our money, or added any to the belief that Republican are for the people, can be seen by the attitude of Republican papers toward the bill. We say Republican papers for should we quote from the most reputable Democratic papers there would still be possible the charge of unfairness. But Republican papers are not unfair to their own party. Rather it is only when the burden becomes unbearable that they cry out. Of the commission appointed to coriate currency legislation the North American (Rep) says:

The Commission has been established solely for the purpose of side-tracking, delay, and deceit. Aldrich and Cannon named the members from among those who were for the rotten measure just adopted not by reason of party expediency, but because they believe that the gambler-swindlers, who to them, constitute "the great business interests," can do no wrong.

"Therefore these men were chosen to compose this Commission. Therefore, an insult unparalleled in parliamentary annals was given when the chairman and all the ablest members of the House Committee on Banking and Currency were deliberately omitted from a body which was made purely political, tho it should have been a non-political, non-partizan, business commission of experts.

"And the reason of it all is that this Commission is intended not to accomplish, but to prevent, scientific currency reform".

The Boston Herald (Rep) says in the same vein:

"What sort of currency reform can be expected for the Aldrich-Vreeland Commission? Will it be an Aldrich bill authorizing the permanent annexation of miscellaneous bonds to the currency system? Will it be a Vreeland bill, authorizing the issue of money by irresponsible banking associations? Or will it be a combination of both, terrified into shape by Cannon of Danville? Whatever the report of this political Commission may be, it will have to meet another appearance of the Fowler bill on the floor of Congress. The campaign has really but first began. The public has had only a first lesson in the currency problem. The facts are as important as those involved in the old discussion of the gold standard. They are as intimately related to the welfare of every man. Congressman Fowler is not likely to ignore the challenge of his opponents. The Aldrich-Vreeland Commission has not yet eliminated Mr. Fowler. It will yet be forced to face him with his principles and his facts."

Further comment is hardly necessary. These papers realize that the whole course of the currency legislation headed by Aldrich and Cannon has been to put the country in the hands of Wall Street.

WHAT THEY WANT.

The "allied interests" of New York and the country in general are making it very plain that they propose to fight to the death the laws, passed and proposed, which forces them into some degree of honesty and fair dealing. They realize that many thousands of people must be cheated and robbed that one or two men may amass a fortune of a hundred millions, and they do not wish the laws allowing such cheating and robbery to be changed. The comic paper "Judge" and the "Harper's Weekly" the open and avowed organs of Wall Street, are loud in their cry that "Business" must not be interrupted by "political meddling". By political meddling they mean the investigation of railroad rebates, the new laws governing insurance companies. The meat inspection bill, the pure food laws, anything, in fact which protects the public and compels even a small degree of honesty. These papers assert that money and votes can be had only by the candidate who stands on a platform of non-interference with these interests. It alleges that almost every bucket-shop has made the same declaration. They fear the honesty of Mr. Bryan and Mr. Roosevelt. They want some one who will promise reforms and see that they are never carried out. Now note that these papers are for

Mr. Taft, and the average voter will have learned something that will be worth remembering during the coming campaign.

FACT AND FANCY.

If the advance notices published bear any relation to the Republican platform as adopted, Theodore Roosevelt is certainly the idol and ideal of the party. And yet, popular as Mr. Roosevelt is, we are inclined to think the eulogy over strong. Mr. Roosevelt has done much. He has also failed in many things. For instance the advance draft of the platform gives him great credit for "busting the trusts". In all seriousness, where is the trust that has in the least changed its methods because of the action of the administration. The Steel Trust is in tact. The Meat Trust has forced prices higher than ever before. The standard Oil Company, although heavily fined, winks the other eye, adds a quarter of a cent to the price of oil, and murmurs softly that fine must never be collected. Whatever Roosevelt's real feelings on the matter have been, his followers have failed to do anything but make a play to the grand stand. Much advertised prosecutions have resulted in fines that have never been paid and in nothing else. Much of the legislation carried at the end of the big stick has been found to be full of flaws, not capable of being carried out. The senate and house leaders have often been too sharp for the president, and have given him but the husk of what he wanted, or at least pretended to want, if we look at the worst side of the charges against him. Roosevelt is an able man, but we doubt if he is yet a demi-god, and even more we doubt that the Republican party has exchanged places with divinity in the control of earthly affairs.

ARE MORMON MISSIONARIES

Company of Elders of the Church of Christ Will Speak in Greencastle Saturday and Sunday on the Tenets Belief of Their Church.

WILL EXPLAIN THEIR BELIEFS

A party of Elders of the Church of Christ, better known as Mormons, will reach this city from Brazil on Saturday and will conduct meetings on the streets Saturday and Sunday. They are a part of a regularly organized movement to educate the country to a correct understanding of the tenets of the church. Two members of the party were in town today making arrangements for the work on Saturday and Sunday. The first meeting will be on Saturday at 3 o'clock on one of the principal street corners. Other meetings will be held in the evening at 8 o'clock and on Sunday at the same time.

The purpose of the meetings are outlined by the elders as follows:

What the book of Momons is, and where it came from will be the text of a sermon. No collections will be taken or asked as they all pay their expenses personally.

Mormanism is in the world for the world's good says Elder J. A. Ollorto, who is preparing for the coming meetings. "We believe in the Pure Gospel of Jesus Christ and extend the olive branch of peace toward all the nations set and organizations who are seeking the good of mankind. We believe the Glory of God is intelligence and man will be saved no faster than he gains intelligence. Utah is advancing along the lines of education, now standing third among the states of U. S. in education. We count investigation and are willing.

These Mormon missionaries are from the west representing the states of Utah, Idaho, Arizona and Colorado. They are advancing the principles that are taught in the Bible. Are anxious to give people a full and clear understanding of "What Mormons believe during the series of meetings the origin and rise of Mormons will be explained and glad that people shall know just what we are and what we teach and practice.

A cordial invitation is extended to all to come to the meetings."

DEMOCRATIC NEWS

What Good Democrats Over the State Are Saying About Things Political in Indiana And Else where.

In asking the legislature of 1907 to increase his salary from $1,500 to $2,000 (which was done) the custodian of the State House gave as a reason that the official force in the State House had been "doubled" and that the cost of living had greatly increased. But the custodian was of the opinion that the pay of his army of janitors, policemen, watchmen etc, might very well remain where it was. It is true that the number of persons drawing salaries in the State House has "doubled" since the Republicans came into power, and it is also true that the cost of living has gone up under Republican rule, but it does seem that the cost of living might have effected that janitors as well as the occupants of the swivel chairs.

"Not less than 63 and probably 100 millionaires"—most of them of the "multi" kind—in the Republican national convention. So says the correspondent of a Republican paper. Were these men all in Chicago to look after the interests of the ordinary fellow Well, were they?

Willsomeone please point out a trust that this "trust-busting administration has "busted"? The whole brood are doing business as arrogantly as ever, fixing prices and gathering in the people's dollars without the slightest fear of interruption.

That Indianapolis national bank that failed several years ago having $600,000 of "assets" which, in the wind-up of its affairs, were stolen at auction for this would be right under the new 'emergency currency' law if it had managed to survive until the present time.

HER FEET WERE SORE AND CRACKED

Soles Seemed as Though Covered with Knife Cuts—Could Not Bear Weight of Feet Even on Pillow—Was Long Unable to Walk—Many Remedies Failed—Now Cured.

WILL PRAISE CUTICURA AS LONG AS SHE LIVES

"Some four years ago I had the misfortune to have my feet get sore. The doctors could not tell me what it was. I used everything I could hear of or think of but all to no avail. The feet were all cracked across the bottom as if you had taken a knife and cut them every whichway. They would peel up, and, oh, my! how they did hurt when I would try to walk—which I was not able to do for a long time. One day one of our neighbors came to our house and asked what was the matter. I showed him my feet and he said he had heard of Cuticura Ointment which would heal them up. There was only enough to apply once, but I found it helped me so much that I sent for a set of Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Pills, costing one dollar, and to my great joy, my feet were cured and I have never troubled me since. I shall praise Cuticura as long as I live for the great help it has been. Mrs. Margaret Primmer, Plattin, Mo., June 30 and July 21, 1907."

OBITUARY

MISS. JANE CHALMERS CULROSS

Mrs. Jane Chalmers Culross was born in Blairgowrie, Scotland, June 1, 1836 and died in Los Angeles, California May 12, 1908. The Chalmers family has for generations been characterized by love of learning, military, heroism and staunch Presbyterianism. Jane Chalmers came to America in 1873 and was married in New York City to Mr. John Culross also a native of Scotland, and a man of sterling character. Mr. and Mrs. Culross then came to Greencastle to make their home. Their brief married life contained much of joy—though not unmingled with sorrows. Twin sons were born to them who died in early age. Then came a crushing blow the death of Mr. Culross.

Some years afterwards Mrs. Culross removed to western Kansas where she went through the trying experiences of "proving up" a homestead and timber claim. The last years of her life were spent in California, during the most of which she resided at Long Beach. Wherever

Mrs. Culross lived she had warm friends, which she deserved for she was a friend to many. In her girlhood she became a member of the Presbyterian Church and ever remained devoted and enthusiastic in her allegiance to the faith, taking a practical and living interest in mission, and other Christian work. She was a woman of strong character, with firm convictions respecting matters of right and wrong, and with it all had deep human sympathies.

Two brothers, Major P. Chalmers in the British army (retired) and Mr. David Chalmers and three sisters, Miss Isabella Chalmers, Miss George Chalmers and Mrs. Euphemia C. Borrie, all living in Scotland, survive to know her loss. A nephew Mr. Wm. Chalmers of Los Angeles, Cal., was present during her last sickness, and accompanied the remains to this city for the final services.

In closing we quote from tribute written by a friend during the years of our acquaintance. I never knew her to swerve or falter from her Christian faith and belief in God and in the doctrine of her church. As a friend Mrs. Culross was true as steel. We have lost a devoted friend and sister, but our loss is her gain.

"In the somber bark with the shadowy sail,
O'er the waveless tide with the boatman pale,
Thou hast past from our sight,
Dear friend farewell!
Nor the tears that are falling, nor language can see,
The deep anguish of heart—of the bitter cry.
In the last farewell, in the last goodbye.
But yet while we mourn in the gloom of sorrow,
Sweet hope gently whispers there's a fairer tomorrow.
Of a soon coming morn, of a happy reunion,
With the loved and the lost when our life-work is done,
In the rest sweet rest with the Father and Son.

NANCY CHRISTIE

Nancy Christie was born Jan. 12, 1836 near Lexington, Ky., came with her parents to Putnam County, Ind., when a child seven or eight months old, was left an orphan when about thirteen. She then made her home with her brothers and sisters.

She was married to James Christie nearly forty-five years ago. Two children were born to this union, Charley, who died when three years old, and Sherman who survives to mourn the loss of a mother. She and Uncle Jimmie as he was well known lived happily together until 1905. She was the stepmother of three children, and the foster-mother of seven orphan. It goes without the necessity of saying that she was a tender mother and did loving deeds well in the world. To care for those our children and raise seven orphan children and provide homes for those who have no home is one of the greatest of all works, which any one can do in life.

She bore her part well in the long struggle of life. She knew what it was to do hard and labor work in providing for the wants and necessities of the household. She lived within a quarter of a mile from Reno all of her married life. Until the fall of 1906 when she went to live with her son, Sherman in Danville where she was tenderly cared for by loving hands. Coming to Reno on a visit with her niece, Mrs. John Gross of whom she was very fond only a few days before she died, in fact she was taken sick in a few hours after she came home and never rallied and here she passed from the earthly life to her heavenly and happy home.

She was converted in here youth and united with the Christian church about 35 years ago, she and Uncle Jimmie joined the church of God when organized in Reno. This church going down they both went into the organization of the Reno Baptist church, they both loved this church with a love as lasting as life. This owes its existence to them two devoted and consecrated souls. Her home was always open to those who preached the Gospel and to Christian people.

She has passed peacefully to her reward and it can be truly said of her she lived well making the world better because of her living in it and it can be said in the language of our God's word. Blessed are the dead that die in the Lord.

ANDREW J. ALBRIGHT

Andrew J. Albright, son of John and Margaret Albright was born near Raleigh, in Alamance County, North Carolina, August 23rd, 1828. Came to Indiana, and settled in Putnam County when 19 years of age. Was married to Mary S. Weathers, the daughter of Thomas E. and Mary Weathers June 12th, 1851. To the union was born, twelve children, six boys and six girls. Four sons and daughters together with his aged companion preceded him to the beyond, leaving two sons and two daughters, namely: Hiram N. Andrew, M. Nancy A. and Louise J. also one granddaughter, Mrs. Agnes M. Lane whom he raised from infancy is left to mourn for him and also the many relatives and friends. He united with the U. B. Church at Old Salem, when very young and afterward moved to Manhattan and united with the Christian Church, then moving his membership to the Antioch Church at Hamrick where he remained faithfully until death. Always attending church until his health would not permit. But was always very much interested in the welfare of the church.

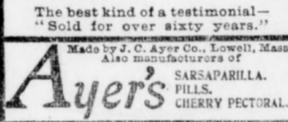

One year ago the 15th of last March his aged companion was called home, and since that time he has been failing and been very feeble. His sickness was of five weeks duration and he wore it all patiently, always thankful for everything that was done for him. He was kind and loving father and companion always dutiful, and faithful to his family. He has seen Greencastle built, and was one who helped to build the Haneman Opera House. The old Court House and many of the other buildings in Greencastle. He has resided in and lived near Manhattan for about 60 years, until last November he went with his children to Brazil, Clay County, where he passed away quietly Friday, June 5, 1908. Being 79 years, 9 months and 3 days of age.

Funeral services were held at the Manhattan Church, by Elder Cline of Cloverdale. Interment at the Old Salem cemetery.

Testimony introduced convinced the Mayor, however, that the man was guilty and he was fined $5 and costs of $15. The fine was paid. Jackson alleged that he signalled Pounds to stop his machine but that he refused to do so.

SOUGHT MEDICAL AID

Wise Mule Hikes for Veterinary But Dies at End of Journey.

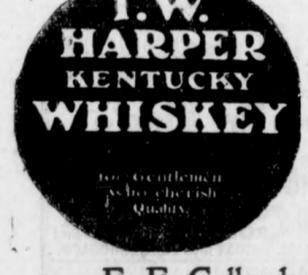

William Mount, living in the vicinity of Englewood, was the owner of a mule yesterday. Today the corpse of the animal was found in "Dick" Hazel's barn. It appears that the mule had been indisposed and showed signs of illness for several days. Dick Hazel, the Englewood blacksmith is somewhat of a veterinary surgeon and it was stated this morning that the mule had knowledge of this fact. At any rate the mule sometime last night succeeded in making its escape from its owner's premises and hiked for Hazel's. It was found dead in the latter's barn this morning, and how it ever managed to effect entrance to the building is a mystery. The mule had evidently gone to Hazel's seeking medical attention.—Bedford Mail.

SOME TRACTION STORIES

Interurban Possibilities as Reported From Danville—Two More Lines in the County.

TO ROCKVILLE AND CLOVERDALE

There is a rumor afloat that the time is not far distant when the work of extending the Danville division of the T. H. I. & E. to the west, through New Winchester, Bainbridge and on to Rockville will be taken up in earnest and pushed to completion as soon as possible. Now that the state has decided upon a site in Rockville for the tuberculosis hospital, it would only be natural that some direct connection with Indianapolis should be effected and at the present time the line from Rockville to Danville and into Indianapolis looks to be about the proper caper. There is no doubt on earth that the people along the line would do all in their power to assist in the building of the road so far as they would be able. It is generally understood that a great portion of the right-of-way could be secured at a most nominal figure, and a number of land owners have sent out the word that they will be glad to donate all that is required for the road past their farms. It is understood that the Bainbridge town council has offered the road a franchise free of any cost whatever, and there has been a story that Bainbridge has offered to furnish twenty men who will pay $100 each for a round trip ticket from their town to Indianapolis on the first car run over the road. That the line would be a most popular one there is no possible doubt, and the people whom it would benefit are most desirous of seeing it built. The story was in circulation the latter part of last week that the surveyors were to begin their work on the line Monday morning, but if there have been any steps taken in this direction we are not aware of it. However, we would be most exceedingly glad to be able to inform our readers that the work had begun.

Another story which has been in the air is that the line will probably be continued on over the proposed line to Amo and then on to the southwest, opening up a country which is in about as sore straits for railroad accommodations as is the country through which the Rockville line is to pass. There is a foundation for this story, though we are not at liberty to name our informant. The story is to the effect that linemen were sent over the Danville line the first of this week to make some necessary repairs, and before leaving headquarters they were told to put the line in good shape with just as little work as possible, as there was a deal on hand to sell the Danville line to the people back of the proposition to build a line from Cloverdale to Indianapolis and the present owners did not want to sink any more in repairs than was absolutely necessary. Who the Cloverdale people are is not stated, but the word is that it is their intention to build their line from Danville through Amo, and then run in a westerly direction through Stilesville, Belle Union and Cloverdale, and then open up the country to the south with Evansville as the southern terminal. If this is their proposition it would certainly tap a country which would give the road a splendid patronage as there are a number of splendid towns through which it could pass, thus bringing itself in direct connection with many thousands of people who have at the present time no opportunities for travel such as would then be afforded. This line would then connect with the Terre Haute division of the T. H. I. & E. at Amo, thus bringing the southern portion of Hendricks county in close proximity with Danville and putting all the towns along the southern portion of the county in direct connection with the county seat, which would be a wonderful advantage for all concerned. As the grade of the line from Danville to Amo is already made, the line that far could be put into operation within a comparatively short time if the work was pushed and from Amo on south the work could be also pushed rapidly. We are hoping these proposed extensions are not all in the air but will bring developments which will soon see real things doing.—Friday Caller.

ALL WORK DONE AFTER MIDNIGHT

The Interurban company has found that its power is not sufficient to handle its business and is arranging to put on more power by adding another circuit. It is the intention of the company to start a limited service as soon as sufficient power can be secured. The first step at putting in the new circuit has already begun. This is putting on new cross arms on the high tension poles. Mammoth cross arms, which with the insulators weigh 140 pounds, are now being put on in place of the old arms. The work of putting on these arms is now well along. Last night the gang was working on East Seminary street. The gang does not go on until the last car has arrived in Greencastle each night and the power turned off at the power house. Then they work until the power is turned on again in the morning. The gang is working west.

AUTO WRECKED THE EGGS

Driver of Automobile Runs Amuck And Smashes Huckerster Wagon Injuring the Driver and Spilling Much Butter and Many Eggs.

A story comes from the northern part of the county to the effect that a huckerster wagon supposedly belonging in Bainbridge was struck by an automobile on the Rockville Road not far from Morton and badly wrecked. The motor was being driven at a reckless rate and attempted to pass the wagon without giving notice. The two vehicles collided and the wagon was wrecked and eggs and butter were inextricably mixed. The driver of the wagon was slightly injured. The automobile was not damaged, apparently, for it went on with undiminished speed and was soon out of sight. The number of the machine was not obtained.

HE WAS FOR THE PEOPLE

John Adair Nominated by Acclamation by Democrats of Eight District.

HIS SPEECH OF ACCEPTANCE

Congressman John A. M. Adair of the Eight Indiana District was nominated by acclamation by the Democratic district convention here today.

There was a large attendance of delegates and visitors. Five hundred Democrats came from Munice and Anderson on special traction cars, accompanied by a band.

There were 108 delegates in the convention, and they were called to order by Lewis Ellingham, district chairman.

Mr. Adair, in a speech of acceptance, thanked the delegates for the honor and viewed his work in Congress.

"I am," he said, "going to make my campaign on promises and pledges sacredly kept, and upon the record I have made as your representative. I believe in honesty in politics as well as in business, and despise corruption in all forms. I shall not ask, accept or receive from any corporation, campaign committee or individual a single vote of the district. If I can not be honestly and fairly elected and go back to Congress with a clear conscience and an honest record, I prefer not going at all.

"I shall not engage in a mud-slinging campaign. I do not like candidate who is afraid to go before the people on his own merit, but bases his hope of success on personal attack or upon misrepresentation of his opponent, but shall go before the people with a plain, honest statement of what I have done in the past and what I hope to do in the future.

"I told you I would support any legislation offered by Pres. Roosevelt or a Republican member, just as quickly as I would support it were it offered by a Democratic President, or a Democratic member. If I believed it to be in the interest of the people. I now call your attention to the fact that I have sacredly kept that promise, and I will ask you to examine the record and you will find from every vote I cast and every word I uttered that I did not allow partisanship to enter into a single act of mine.

"Mr. Cromer charges in a Muncie paper that I voted against the recommendation of the President for four battleships, but he fails to tell you that I voted with a large majority of the Republicans in the House for the construction of two battleships this year. Out of 223 Republicans in the House, only fifty-seven voted with the President for four battleships, and 166 stood against his recommendation. I stood with the 166 Republicans because I believed it would be a tremendous burden upon the people in times of peace to contract for four battleships in one year costing $40,000,000. In fact, the speaker of the House and all of the Republican leaders voted as I did upon that question. With this one exception, I voted for every recommendation made by the President during the entire session. Therefore, I am sure no honest man will contend that I have not kept that pledge made to the people."

The Plow in Spain.

In Spain about the only kind of plow in use is a primitive wooden affair with one handle and a tongue. To this is hitched a pair of small oxen or of mules yoked up like oxen. The driver rests his right foot on a rear extension to keep the plow from jumping out of the ground, steadying himself by touching his left foot when he seems likely to lose his balance.—London Graphic.

She (on her bridal tour)—Oh, Dan, I'm so unhappy! Dan—Why, what is the matter, my darling? She—If I am as sorry to you as you say, you can't be sorry your first wife died, and that makes you too brutal for me to love.—Life.

"Did you ever see a cake walk?" "No, but I've seen a cheese that would have walked if it had not been tied up."

COTTAGES FOR FIFTY READY NOW

Circuit Clerk Hamilton is in receipt of a letter from Superintendent W. C. Van Nuy, of the Epileptic Village located at New Castle. Mr. Van Nuy states that two cottages have just been completed and that these cottages will accommodate about fifty patients. They wish these patients to be boys between the ages of 12 to 20 years. The cottages are located upon a farm of 1250 acres, and it is desired that all the patients received should be able bodied and capable of working on the farm. No helpless or violent patients can yet be taken.

Mr. Van Nuy states further that it is desired to secure these fifty patients from as many counties as possible. Putnam county had made no application on behalf of any patients. The superintendent asks the clerk to name any boy or young man troubled with epilepsy who is in need of a good home, and he promises to hold a place until application in a formal manner can be made. Any one knowing such a boy would do well to communicate with Circuit Clerk Hamilton.

TO APPEAL HIGERT CASE

Temperance People File Bond in Circuit Court and the Fight Against Local Saloon Keeper Will be Pushed—County Commissioners Granted Him a License.

CHARGES ARE OF UNFITNESS

The temperance leaders Wed. evening filed a bond in their appeal from the decision of the county commissioners to the Circuit Court in their charges against Walter Higert...

Gillen & Wilson and John H. James will represent the temperance people in the case and it is probable that John P. Allee, who represented Mr. Higert in the hearing before the commissioners will remain as his attorney.

The Rev. A. T. Riley, as leader for the temperance people, filed the charges against Mr. Higert. It is alleged that Higert sold to minors, sold to intoxicated persons and that therefore he is unfit to conduct a saloon.

THE LAW IN THE CASE

The filing of the appeal from the commissioner's court in the Higert license case makes the law governing these appeals worthy of consideration. Previous to 1906 in cases of appeal, the applicant for license had the whole array of technical weapons of the law at his disposal.
