Had Close Call At Rail Crossing

Wayne Alexander and a companion had the scare of their lives Friday, when a Monon freight train cut several feet off the rear of their truck as they crossed the tracks going into the William Houck residence two miles northeast of the city. Alexander said he "stopped, looked and listened," but when he started over the tracks, which are in a rather deep cut at the crossing, the train was on him as he attempted to drive across. He succeeded in getting all but the rear end of the truck off by the time he was hit. That portion of the truck which was still on the tracks, was cut off. The driver and his companion escaped injury, but much of the truck was a wreck.

RED CROSS INFORMATION

Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Allen, of Allendale are in receipt of two letters that give a picture of one of the many Red Cross services for men overseas. The first letter is from their son, Sgt. Robert Allen, stationed in England and serving as band director in their air forces. During a November furlough he went into Scotland visiting Edinburg and Glasgow and a remote village called Dryman, not far from the shores of Loch Lomond.

"Here," writes Sgt. Allen, "to my amazement I find the Red Cross has taken over a fine peace-time resort. We had private rooms and bath, fine meals, wonderful beds, and all peace-time luxuries."

The second letter came V-mail from the Club's Red Cross Director. She wrote, in part,

"Your son, Robert, spent part of his furlough with us here at the American Red Cross Service Club. He looked very well and seemed to be thoroughly enjoying his holiday. We enjoyed having him here with us and only wished he might have stayed longer."

ANY JAPS IN THE BLOCKHOUSE? BOOM! YES, 20 OF 'EM

A DAY AND A HALF after Namur island, Kwajalein atoll, Marshall islands, had been "secured," a supposedly-silent Japanese blockhouse blew up, bursting a steel door. You can imagine the surprise of the Marines when a Jap soldier stumbled through and 19 more were found inside, 16 of them dead, three injured. There was a large supply of aerial bombs stored inside. The Jap pictured in center here, blown out of the blockhouse by the explosion, sits on the ground as Marines move toward the doorway to take three prisoners. This is an official United States Marine Corps photo. (International)

Cloverdale Boy Discusses Crops

The following is part of a letter written by a former Cloverdale farmer, Cpl. Perry R. Michael, now stationed at Geiger Field, Washington.

"... I went to Pomeroy, Jim and I got Saturday off so we went down on the bus Friday night. It is about 120 miles from here and farther than I thought. This section of the state is nothing but wheat and cattle country. It is very hilly and I do not see how they move machinery around those hills, but the hills are so large that they are not as steep as they look to be.

They have about 20 degree warmer climate there than we do here. The wheat seeded last fall is about four inches high now and green as a lawn. The grass in the pastures is also green. The varieties of wheat sown are Marcus and Turkey Red, both are hard wheat and can be seeded in spring or fall. The average yield is around 40 bushels per acre. They do not use any commercial fertilizer. They had a large bunch of stock cows in the pastures and in the stubble fields. They also plant barley for feed—for hogs and steers. They have always used horse power—they had a large combine thrasher with a motor on it which they pulled with 20 head of horses. I never saw anything like it in my life! They had gang plows that required 12 head of horses. However, they said they were going to have to use tractors this year because they could get no help. They use caterpillar tractors—any other kind could not get around those hills.

Jim's parents are very nice. They have two boys in high school. Jim's grandparents came over Saturday morning and took us to Lewiston, Idaho. They were pretty old people, but were bent on showing me the country and they had a nice car and apparently plenty of gas! The road from Pomeroy to Lewiston is on the original Lewis and Clark trail where they traveled up this valley to the Snake River and on up to the place where the Clearwater and Snake come together. The town of Lewiston is located there now. Grandpa took great pride in telling me the exact spot where Lewis and Clark camped, and kept me frantic with his driving. We went to a registered Hereford sale in Lewiston. We came back to Pomeroy in the afternoon. We went to church this morning and left there for here at one o'clock. I had a very nice time. These people are all Germans. The old folks spoke German a lot to each other. They were very interesting to talk to as they had come to this state in the late eighteenth century. They had a smoke house full of meat—sugared hams, shoulders and bacon hung and cured with wood smoke. Jim's grandmother fixed us a smoke-cured pork sausage which was really good. I hadn't had so much to eat since I was home on furlough!

They have been through Indiana. They went back to Detroit a few years ago, bought a new car and drove to Indianapolis and took Road 36 to Springfield, Ill. Jim's grandpa goes over the Yellowstone at times

Cpl. Brown Writes Of Battle Wounds

This is part of a letter written by Cpl. Harold Reese Brown explaining how he was wounded:

Dear Sis,
Sorry I haven't written sooner but this is the first time I have felt like doing any writing. At present I'm in a hospital in North Africa. Maybe you would like to hear of my little experience since it isn't too serious.

We were making an attack on open ground with no protection in the day light when I was hit with a machine gun bullet. The funny part was I was hit in the left leg just above the knee but I thought I was hit in the foot for that is where the pain went too.

Knowing I could be of no further help I started crawling back to some buildings about 200 feet away and while I was making my way to the building another bullet took the sole of my right shoe but it didn't touch me, but it did leave a blood blister about two inches wide on my foot.

I finally reached the building where some other soldiers were and they bandaged my wound for me. I remained there for the rest of the day and that night our outfit had to pull back as the attack was unsuccessful leaving me and some other wounded men in the building.

While I was laying there that night a shell hit on the roof of the room I was laying in, covering me with about three or four feet of stone roofing, only my head was sticking out. Since there was no one around except wounded soldiers, I remained there for about five hours. You can't imagine how painful it was laying under that stone.

Finally someone came around the next morning and spent several minutes in digging me out, but I guess I was pretty lucky at that for I later found out I just got a fractured hip from the falling stones. I remained in another part of the building for the remainder of the day when our outfit made another attack that night which was successful and they were able to get me to a hospital. Laying there all that time in the building without being able to move caused me to end up with a pair of frozen feet which hurts more than the bullet wound and hip fracture combined.

As a whole I'm getting along pretty good now, for it could have been a lot worse than it was.

Well, I guess you are tired hearing about myself so I will stop.

Tell everyone to write for there is nothing that helps a person like receiving letters. Best of luck to all and hope everyone is feeling fine.

Love,
Reese

Reese's address has changed again and it is now: Cpl. Harold R. Brown, 15102852 (Hospital) Third General Hospital, Ward 25, A. P. O. No. 423, c/o Postmaster, New York City, N. Y.

15 Jap Convoy Ships Are Sunk

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Southwest Pacific, Feb. 19.—(UP)—Allied bombers sank 15 enemy ships attempting to supply and reinforce the big Japanese bases at Rabaul and Kavieng, in a mast-height, three-day running attack that was believed today to have destroyed the entire convoy.

A communique, which said enemy casualties were heavy, listed the sunken ships as: a destroyer, two corvettes, an 8,000-ton tanker, a 7,500-ton tanker, a 6,000-ton transport, five cargo ships of 2,000 tons each, three 1,500-ton cargo vessels, and a 500-ton freighter.

"This is believed to have comprised practically the entire convoy," the announcement said.

Allied medium bombers intercepted the convoy on Tuesday off Massau Island, north of New Ireland, after a lone Liberator spotted the supply ships steaming toward the harassed Japanese bases in the Bismarck archipelago.

The 12 sunken merchantmen aggregated 36,500 tons and included tankers carrying oil for battered Japanese air bases.

Except for anti-aircraft fire from the ships, the allied bombers were unopposed as they swooped over the vessels at mast-height, singly or in pairs. The Japanese failed to put a single plane in the air to protect the convoy.

PRESIDENT OF ARGENTINA MAY RESIGN OFFICE

GEN. RAMIREZ BELIEVED READY TO TURN POST OVER TO REPETTO

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, Feb. 19.—(UP)—Gen. Pedro Pablo Ramirez, who seized the Argentine presidency in the army revolution of last June, may resign tomorrow and turn the office over to Chief Justice Nicolas Repetto of the supreme court, Buenos Aires reports said today.

The political situation in the Argentine capital remained extremely confused and momentous events may be imminent, these reports said.

One report said that if Dr. Repetto became president he would immediately call a national election with the intention of returning Ramirez—who might be the only candidate—to office, perhaps with Amadeo Sabatini, leader of the radical party now exiled in Uruguay, as vice-president.

Tomorrow a new presidential administration would have taken office under normal constitutional conditions, but Ramirez's revolutionary regime has suspended the election procedure.

High navy officers, who had supported the June 4 revolt led by the "colonels' clique" of the army, were reported to have brought the political crisis to a head, telling Ramirez that he must step down as a result of this week's internecine fighting among his army supporters.

Earlier reports indicated that army squabbling had strengthened the president's personal position, but late advices said that, as a result of the naval officers' action, Ramirez had agreed to resign provided there were no recriminations.

"WONDER DRUG" SUPPLY IS STEADILY INCREASING

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19 (UP)—The war production board had the assurance of penicillin producers today that soon the "wonder drug's" holding magic will be available in sufficient quantity to meet all military and civilian requirements.

Output of the precious white powder has expanded so speedily that American and Canadian firms producing Penicillin reported at a meeting of WPB's Penicillin producers' industry advisory committee they will be able to fulfill all needs by mid-1944.

Credited by medical men with the power to save lives when all other methods have failed, Penicillin has been manufactured in minute quantities since its properties first were discovered last year.

Steady advances in production methods, however, have assured tremendous increases in manufacture and producers said the monthly output would reach billions of units this summer.

The drug has been doled out carefully in the past—mostly to the armed forces and for scientific research, with a small portion allotted for civilian cases passed on by a special medical board.

Expected To Act On Baruch Report

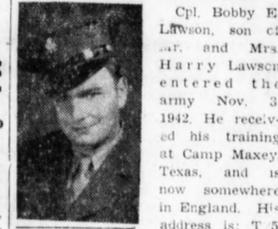

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—(UP)—President Roosevelt and war mobilization director James F. Byrnes were expected today to act promptly on recommendations of the Baruch report for speeding victory, "getting us all back to work in peacetime enterprises," and taking the government "out of business."

The report—at once a blueprint for tightening up war production and an elaborate plan for demobilization and reconversion—was prepared to the end that, "once victory is won, we can close the books on the war as quickly as possible."

Submitted to Byrnes last night, it breathes confidence that the gigantic job of redirecting the nation's industry and manpower back into the pursuits of peace, admittedly more difficult than the conversion from peace to war, can be accomplished through advanced preparation without paying the price of economic collapse, depression and unemployment.

In the meantime, it urges immediate preparation of an emergency "X" day deconversion plan to enable the nation, in the event of a sudden German collapse, "to go on with our crusade against Japan."

Rev. F. L. Brooks Writes From Hawaii

The following is a letter from the Rev. Frederick L. Brooks, former resident of Greencastle, who is now Assistant director in the Seaman's Service in the Hawaiian Islands.

Dear Editor, The Daily Banner
Just a few lines that you might include in your service news column. I want to send my heartfelt greetings to the people of Greencastle and tell them that I have happy memories of my work and residence there. I left Cascade Iowa to accept a position in Civil Service sometime ago.

My main purpose in writing is to let you know that changes have occurred in my employment. I am no longer connected with Civil Service, but was released to accept the position of Assistant Director of the United Seaman's Service which is a sort of U. S. O. Club operated exclusively for Merchant Seaman. Our job is to provide a home for the merchant men away from home. They are the lads who are delivering the supplies which you produce. The work is a type of social service and we do all we can to entertain the boys and make them happy while they are stopping here.

This job takes part of time. To be exact 56 hours a week. Finding my afternoons free, I accepted a position on the U. S. O. staff as a program director. While still in Cascade I was interested in the U. S. O. Drive. Now I am a member of the staff there in Honolulu at the Army and Navy Y. M. C. A. which has been turned over to the work of the U. S. O. I am in a position to see at first hand how the money which you have raised is being expended. And I believe it is a fine investment. Boys come into our club who have been down under. It is the boys who come into our club will testify that we are doing a good job of it.

There is never a dull moment at the club. Something for the entertainment of the boys is going on at a time. Dances, floor shows, hymn sings, informal sings, around the piano, Sports facilities, movies—are available every day for you boys in the service. It is my duty to promote and direct many of these programs. All this is without charge to the boys in the service and it war workers away from home. Since I have been connected with the organization, I want to say that I certainly believe in the U. S. O.

I must close with best wishes to a for a year of victory which we sincerely hope lies in the very near future. We are trying to do our job here. Keep up the good work at home, and we will be home to see you one of these days. Sincerely, Rev. Frederick L. Brooks, forgoe Minister, Rev. Brooks is the husband of Mrs. Thelma Brooks of this community. He is a graduate of De Pauw University and of the Seminary of Dubuque, Iowa.

Germans Facing New Soviet Trap

MOSCOW, Feb. 19.—(UP)—German forces below Lake Ilmen appeared to be in full retreat toward the Baltic States today in an attempt to escape a new Soviet trap threatening the railway junctions of Pskov and Dno.

Yielding the fortress of Staraya Russia and Shensk, 28 miles to the northwest, the Germans fell back westward along the railway and highway to Pskov as Soviet armies cut deeper into their northern flank and endangered their route of retreat.

Front reports indicated the enemy also would abandon Dno. Junction of the Pskov-Staraya Russia and Leningrad-Vitebsk railways, and fall back to a new line based on Pskov and Polotsk, only a few miles east of the Latvian border.

ADMIRAL NIMITZ SENDS YANKS TO ENIWETOK ATOLL

AMERICANS LAND AND EXTEND INITIAL BEACHHEADS ON JAP OUTPOST

PEARL HARBOR, Feb. 19.—(UP)—Meager official reports indicated today that powerful U. S. Marine and army invasion forces rapidly were extending their initial beachheads on Eniwetok atoll, 750 miles northeast of bomb-battered Truk, with complete conquest perhaps already in sight.

While 16-inch-gun American battleships joined cruisers, destroyers and planes in a pulverizing bombardment to cover the advances on Eniwetok. Other elements of the Pacific fleet apparently were retiring from the Carolines after subjecting the bastion of Truk to a smashing carrier based air assault.

(Radio Tokyo last night again told the Japanese people of "fierce fighting" at Truk and warned that the American attack was part of an offensive pattern whose ultimate aim was an assault on Tokyo. The broadcast added no fresh details to yesterday's Japanese communique, which said Japanese army and navy forces had intercepted the American units.)

The 22nd Marine division and elements of the 106th army infantry division (probably a total of at least 20,000 men) pushed ashore on Eniwetok under a drumfire air-sea bombardment Thursday and successfully established beachheads. Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, commander of the Pacific fleet, announced in a communique shortly after noon (6 p. m. EHT) yesterday.

Though no further bulletins have been issued by Nimitz's headquarters the fact that the invasion forces were able to consolidate their beachheads—the toughest phase of any amphibious assault—tended to justify optimism that Eniwetok might be occupied as quickly as was Kwajalein, 355 miles to the southeast, which fell after an eight-day battle.

The communique gave no hint as to the extent of the opposition encountered, but it seemed probably that the terrific preliminary and accompanying bombardment had razed most of the enemy's long-prepared pillboxes and artillery emplacements. Rear Adm. Richmond Kelly Turner, invasion command, was expected to follow the Kwajalein pattern of sweeping rapidly across the invaded islands to smash all organized resistance with the aid of tanks, artillery and flame-throwers, then mop-up the scattered remnants.

Though Nimitz did not identify the site of the initial landings in the 21-by-17-mile circular atoll at the northwestern corner of the Marshalls, the main objectives were believed to be Engebi Island, 2,000 yards long and 1,500 yards wide at the northern end, and Eniwetok, narrow heavily-wooded island about 1,000 yards long at the southern end.

Possession of Eniwetok atoll would give the United States one of the finest fleet anchorages in the Pacific and an air base on Engebi Island with a runway nearly 5,000 feet long.

THE CHURCH INVITES YOU
VALUES OF WORSHIP

To list the values of worship would mean to list all the values of life. Jesus indicates very definitely in his great intercessory prayer that this is true—"is life eternal, that they may know thee, the only true God." Now, the purpose of worship is to impart this knowledge.

The primary purpose of the church is to provide an opportunity and a place of worship. The most important exercise in which any member of the church can be engaged is devout intelligent worship. So fruitful is such an exercise that it easily takes the rank of the "one thing needful." Why not accept the invitation and COME TO CHURCH NEXT SUNDAY?

crowds thronged to the scene of action. His friends kept saying, "Pat, don't try that crazy stunt; you can't walk that rope." Finally a stranger feeling sorry for him called out, "Of course, you can; go ahead; I know you can." The youth cut a groove in the wheel of a barrow and was in the act of placing it on the rope when the would-be benefactor insisted, "I am positive, son, that you can walk that rope; go to it!" "You really think I can? You know I can?" "I'm sure of it." "Then my problem is solved." "What do you mean, my problem is solved?" "I need some one to ride in the wheelbarrow."

CHURCH SERVICES

OUR HOMES ARE NURSERIES
The church began at first in a family and was preserved by the Godly care of parents, instructing their children and household in the truths of God, whereby the knowledge of God was transmitted from generation to generation; and though the church is not confined to these limits, yet every private family is a little nursery to the church; if the nursery be not carefully planted the orchard will soon decay. Oh, could you be willing Christians, that your children when you are laid in the dust should be into the degenerate plants of a strange vine and prove a generation that do not know God? Atheism needs not to be planted, you do enough to make your children such if you do not endeavor to plant truth in their minds. The very neglect of the gardener to sow and dress the garden gives advantage enough for the weeds to come up. This is the difference between truth and atheism. Truth does not grow without, but will die even where it is planted without watering. Atheism and profaneness are weeds that will grow without setting but they will not die without plucking up. And therefore you that are parents and not teach your children, you deal the more unrighteously with God because you neglect the best season in their whole life for planting in them the knowledge of God and plucking up weeds of error. Young weeds come up with most ease, sinful ignorance becomes willful ignorance, yea impudence in age; you will not instruct them when young and they will scorn their ministers when old. Parents you have a twig to bend

ARE YOU A WAR MOTHER OR FATHER RELATIVE OR FRIEND OF A MAN OR WOMAN IN SERVICE?

THE AMERICAN LEGION WANTS TO KNOW HOW SERIOUS YOU ARE IN SEEING THAT THESE MEN AND WOMEN IN SERVICE

GET A SQUARE DEAL!

THE AMERICAN LEGION IS ACTING AND URGES YOUR COOPERATIVE SUPPORT NOW.

Congressional Bills 3917 and 1617 Presented to Washington for Passage, Authored by The American Legion with its 25 Years' Experience, Places the Administration of Veterans' Affairs in the Hands of Veterans Themselves.

WHY ARE THESE BILLS SO IMPORTANT?

Please Read This!

Fellow Americans:

On January 10 The American Legion's omnibus bill which is a legislative "Bill of Rights" for the men and women now in service, was introduced in Congress. In the Senate the bill is known as S. 1617 and was presented by 11 members of the Senate. In the Lower House it is known as H. R. 3917, with an identical companion bill, H. R. 3921.

This omnibus bill, if enacted into law, will insure that the absorption of our soldiers and sailors back into civilian life will be accomplished speedily, efficiently, with understanding and without undue hardships. The measure provides for consolidating virtually all aids and services for the returning veterans within the U. S. Veterans Administration, simplifying procedure and eliminating red tape as far as possible and giving the veterans and tax payers a square deal.

Within the scope of the bill we have brought nearly every phase of the problems of war veterans -- educational opportunity, vocational training, muster out pay, adequate and prompt treatment of the disabled, establishment of hospital facilities and veterans unemployment compensation -- under the Veterans Administration, and the establishment of a board of review for consideration, upon the request of any veteran, of the type and nature of his or her discharge from active duty.

Those fighting the war today are entitled to rights, not to gratuities. And that is what this legislation is a Bill of Rights for G. I. Joe and G. I. Jane.

SUGGESTED COPY FOR TELEGRAMS, LETTERS AND POST CARDS TO BE SENT TO MEMBERS OF CONGRESS

SUGGESTED LETTER

Suggested Letter:
My Dear Senator (or Congressman):
As an American citizen fully appreciating that the men and women now fighting our nation's battles are entitled to certain rights when they return to civilian life, and as a parent of one now in service, I urge you to give full support to The American Legion's legislative proposal for a "Bill of Rights" for the veterans of World War II.
(Note: If not a parent of one in service and a member of the family, so state in letter. If a friend of service man or woman, so state).
I fully realize that we can never repay our fighters of this war for their services in the preservation of our nation, but we can and must give them a square deal when they return home. In my opinion the enactment into law of the legislation referred to will accomplish this. I am depending upon you to support this measure.
Sincerely yours,
(Signature).

CATHOLIC INFORMATION

What is the mission of missionary? Once there was a handful of men who went forth to convert the world to Christianity. These men knew exactly what their mission was; for Christ had said to them personally: "Going therefore, teach ye all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost; teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you."—Matt. 28:19-20.

They knew full well that the truth of their teaching was guaranteed, for the Master had said: "He that heareth you, heareth me."—Luke 10:16.

And so they went forth on their humanly impossible mission with a forgetfulness of self and singleness of purpose which resulted in the loss of their lives and the conversion of the ancient world.

Today in most every land there are Catholic missionary priests—about 12,000 all told—each following Christ's command: "Go ye into the whole world and preach the Gospel to every creature."—Mark 16:15.

Each teaching the exact same divine truths that Peter and Paul and the other Apostles had preached—each aware of his God-given powers by succession, for our Blessed Lord had said: "Behold, I am with you all days, even to the consummation of the world."—Matt. 28:20.

And so the Catholic missionary of today carries on his Christian mission of teaching, preaching, converting, baptizing; and so it will be throughout the ages until there shall be "one Fold and one Shepherd."

The Truth about things Catholic is what we are attempting to give you in these articles. If you like our explanations, won't you write and tell us so?

"DO YOU KNOW?"

United States railroads rolled up about 85,000,000,000 passenger-miles in 1943.

Cattail floss has many of the qualities of kapok and is useful in life belts and floats, heat and sound insulators, and as filling for cushions.

A pastry flour now used in Switzerland contains 50 per cent dried fruit, the rest being wheat flour, fruit and other sugars, nuts and skim milk.

Nail-making in colonial days was largely a home industry; farmers and families hammered out nails as a profitable way to spend long winter evenings.

Iron and copper, which build up the hemoglobin content of the blood and prevent or remedy nutritional anemia, are easily obtained from eating most fish.

Common milkweed plants, long regarded as a farm weed pest, are now furnishing floss for lifebelts, marine mattresses, and for heat and sound insulation.

"MOTOR UNFITNESS" FOUND PREVALENT IN COLLEGE MEN

An "appalling" number of young men entering college suffer from "motor unfitness," tests at the University of Illinois show. The tests and their results are reported by Dr. Thomas K. Cureton, of the University's School of Physical Education, in the journal, American Medical Association.

Motor fitness, he says, means "capacity to run, jump, dodge, fall, climb, swim, ride, lift and carry loads and endure long hours of continuous work." Vitally necessary to the soldier, motor fitness is also needed by the civilians for their safety and health. Dr. Cureton points out:

Many people, he says, slip on rugs, in the shower or pool or when dismounting from moving vehicles and suffer serious accidents because they lack kinesthetic sense and cannot tell when they are off-balance and how to recover quickly.

Protected soft lives, dependence on motor vehicles, inefficient physical education, and lack of hard physical work are blamed by Dr. Cureton for the large number of men who enter college with motor unfitness.

Tests developed at the University of Illinois to rate students on motor fitness include ability to balance on one foot or toe for 10 seconds; ability to do 20 leg lifts and 20 situps in succession; ability to lift and set down once a person's own weight; ability to do a standing broad jump

BOWLING (By Jim Zeis) BASKETBALL

Columbus Edges Tiger Cubs 23-22

The Tiger Cubs just couldn't make their shots connect Friday night and Greencastle high school lost its final basketball game of the season, 23 to 22, to the Columbus Bulldogs in the local gym.

The visitors jumped into an 8 to 5 lead at the quarter and increased this advantage to 17 to 8 at the half.

In the third quarter both teams put up a strong defense. Shonkwiler collected a field goal and a free throw for the Cubs while Columbus registered one basket from the field and it was 19 to 11.

Greencastle fought hard and worked the ball in for close shots at the hoop, but the ball just wouldn't drop through. However, the Cubs outplayed the Bulldogs, riging up 11 points while holding Columbus to 4 and the battle ended 23 to 22 in favor of the visiting quintet.

Had Greencastle made a fairly decent percentage of their shots the Cubs would have defeated Columbus by at least 10 or 12 points.
