Features of the annual Red Cross dinner meeting of Putnam County chapter of the American Red Cross, held last night in the community room of the Presbyterian church, were a talk on Red Cross disaster assistance by Ralph Werner, Indiana Red Cross field representative, and showing of a sound film entitled Red Cross Report.

The meeting, open to all Red Cross enrollees, was attended by some sixty persons. All arrangements, including the table decorations that consisted of miniature Red Cross flags and bowls of summer garden flowers, had been made by Mrs. O. T. Martin, executive secretary and her assistant, Miss Minetta Wright. The dinner had been prepared by Mrs. George Garrett and her staff of workers.

The meeting was opened with community singing led by the Reverend Elmer Harvey with Capt. Joseph Campbell as accompanist. Opening the business portion of the meeting, Walter Ballard, chapter chairman, called attention to the copies of a 15 page annual report compiled in the chapter office. These printed reports took the place of verbal reports from chairmen of various committees. Included was the annual financial statement as prepared by Mrs. Joe McCord and audited by Frank DeVaney. ## SCHRICKER TO BE NOMINATED FOR SENATOR

STATE DEMOS HOLD CONVENTION TODAY IN INDIANAPOLIS

INDIANAPOLIS, June 24.—(INS)—The Old Warrior of Hoosier politics—Gov. Henry F. Schricker—held the spotlight today as 1,807 delegates assembled in the Indianapolis Coliseum for their 1952 state convention. Schricker was assured the nomination for United States Senator. He was keynote speaker. And he very likely already had given his approval to a slate of candidates which would emerge victorious from the party conclave.

Lt. Gov. John A. Watkins, a close associate of Schricker's appeared the probable winner of the Democratic gubernatorial nomination over B. Howard Caughran, former United States Attorney.

Mishawaka Mayor E. Spencer Walton likewise held a lead in the battle for the nomination for lieutenant governor. His opponents were Earl Everett, Muncie, 10th District chairman, and Clifton Cardwell, Tipton County farmer. In addition, the 26 national convention delegates chosen by the Democrats last night and today are expected to support the presidential candidacy of Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois. Schricker is a staunch Stevenson backer.

Schricker—the veteran of many a crucial political battle—had decided belatedly to bow to the pleas of thousands of Democrats and accept the senatorial nomination. At one time it was believed Schricker's acceptance of the nomination was contingent upon Stevenson's entry into the presidential race. The Illinois governor still disavows any presidential ambitions, but Schricker said last week he believes Stevenson must give in to the pressure put upon him by those who think he is the party's best candidate.

Schricker—considered his party's best vote-getter in more than a decade—must face the Republican number one campaigner, U. S. Senator William E. Jenner, in the November election.

Watkins—if nominated—will battle the GOP's George N. Craig for the governorship.

In convention today, the Democrats had a two-way race for the nomination for Treasurer and a three-way battle for secretary of state. All other nominations were uncontested. Frank G. Thompson, of Bluffton, and Arthur B. Kinser, Bedford, were the candidates for the nomination for treasurer.

Fighting for the job of secretary of state were Thomas W. Callahan, East Chicago; William A. Wilson, Crawfordsville, and Alfred Fisher, Paragon.

Among the incumbents seeking renomination were Attorney General J. Emmett McManamon, Indianapolis; Appellate Court Judges F. Leroy Wiltrout, Elkhart, and Warren W. Martin, Booneville, and Clerk of the Supreme and Appellate Courts Eudora Kelley, Brown County.

Judge George W. Long, Columbus, was the lone candidate for the nomination for judge of the supreme court, and Herbert I. Johnson, New Albany, was without competition for auditor.

Earl M. Utterback, Kokomo, also was along in the race for the nomination for superintendent of public instruction.

RESEARCH AT PURDUE

Dr. Donald J. Cook, associate professor of chemistry at DePauw, has accepted a post-doctoral research fellowship at Purdue university for the period from June, 1952, to June, 1953. He will be on a sabbatical leave from DePauw during the coming school year.

The research will be under the direction of Dr. E. T. McBee, head of Purdue's chemistry department, and is supported by a U. S. Navy Ordnance research

Indiana Police Groups Will Compose 'Shock Troops' In Enemy Air Attack

EVANSVILLE, June 24.—Indiana's city, county and state police will be the "shock troops" in the event of an enemy air attack on the state's industrial, military and agricultural centers, Major Robert A. O'Neal, State Police executive officer, told delegates to the annual conference of the Indiana Chiefs of Police Association here today.

Urging that Hoosier police administrators unite to meet new peacetime and possible wartime problems, Major O'Neal, who will become State Police superintendent July 1, also warned that the state is vulnerable to sabotage by enemy agents.

"The police departments are the only public service forces available to aid the 4,000,000 men, women and children in Indiana if a demoralizing, suicide air attack should be hurled at us," he asserted. "No other agency of government at any level would be available to act immediately in such an eventuality."

"Just as the police constitute the first line of defense during peacetime disaster, the police will be in the vanguard in war," Major O'Neal said that the police and citizens must be alert against "those who sow the seeds of discontent and build their fifth column among us." The state, he pointed out, is fast becoming an important cog in the national defense effort. He emphasized that saboteurs might attempt to paralyze the populous industrial districts by causing disruption or destruction of public utilities. "Each of us must observe the highest degree of understanding and cooperation," he told members of the police chiefs' association. "Never before in history have we had to face such tremendous problems as we do in these days of international unrest."

He lauded Hoosier enforcement agencies for installing auxiliary police training programs, in-service police training in techniques and procedures, improved records and radio communications systems, inter-department coordination and selection of high caliber recruits.

"We are learning that this interchange of ideas and tools of the trade has a certain appeal to the taxpayer, for he knows he is getting more and better law enforcement for his investment than he did a few years ago," Major O'Neal observed.

Pointing to steady increases in the crime and traffic work load of police departments since the outbreak of fighting in Korea two years ago, he said that coordinated action by the police, prosecutor and court is imperative to meet the bigger job. Continuity of enforcement must be unbroken, he asserted.

He recommended: 1. That judges, prosecutors and police chiefs be given adequate personal, necessary equipment and funds to operate

SOVIET BORDER GUARDS IGNORE ALLIED PROTEST

RUSS AGAIN BAR U. S. AND BRITISH PATROLS FROM BERLIN HIGHWAY

BERLIN, June 24.—(UP)—Soviet border guards ignored an Allied protest today and again barred American and British Military Police patrols from the Berlin-West Germany super-highway.

The U. S., British and French High Commissioners sent a note to their Soviet opposite yesterday "insisting" on the Allied right to patrol the 110-mile artery across the Soviet zone of Germany.

They said the Soviet ban imposed May 8 violated the four-power agreement ending the Soviets' 1948-49 blockade of Western Berlin. At Braunschweig, police announced that two young West Germans who had been kidnapped Sunday from the western side of the East-West German frontier by a Soviet patrol were released yesterday.

They told police they were dragged across the border and questioned by East German Communist police about the strength of West German border and custom guards in the area.

All was quiet in the Schoeningen area of the zonal border, where Soviet troops and Communist police kidnaped 43 West German workers Sunday and held them until early yesterday.

EAST MARION HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB IS FLOAT WINNER

This replica of an old East Marion township home of 100 years ago, won the Centennial Float award at Fillmore Saturday afternoon. It was entered by the East Marion Home Demonstration Club. Most of the decorations on the float were burned away by the fire which started while the float was still moving through the big crowd.

THE END OF THE BEWKISKERED TRAIL AT FILLMORE

EXTRA

INDIANAPOLIS, June 24.—(INS)—Wildly cheering Indiana Democrats today unanimously nominated Gov. Henry F. Schricker for United States Senator.

The 68-year-old Governor, whose campaign symbol is the "White Hat" was opposed for the nomination, and agreed to accept it only after thousands of party members had pleaded with him to oppose Republican Sen. William E. Jenner.

The 1952 race will mark Schricker's second bid for a senate seat. In 1944, at the end of his first term as governor, the "White Hat" was defeated by Sen. Homer E. Capehart, 829,489 to 807,766.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 24.—(INS)—The movement to draft Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois for the presidency skyrocketed today as Indiana Democrats named an almost solid pro-Stevenson bloc of national convention delegates.

Meeting in state convention, the Hoosiers chose eight top party leaders as delegates at large, and almost to a man they are expected to support the Illinois governor for their party's presidential nomination.

Each of the eight will have one-half vote. Twenty-two other delegates, each of whom will have a whole vote, were named in congressional district caucuses last night, and the majority of them also are in the Stevenson camp.

Gov. Henry F. Schricker, nominated for United States senator by the convention, and Indiana's two Democratic congressmen, Winfield K. Denton, Evansville, and Ray J. Madden, Gary headed the list of delegates at large.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—(INS)—The Senate Appropriations Committee today rejected a House-passed bill against sending a U. S. ambassador to The Vatican.

LAKENHEALTH AIR BASE, England, June 24.—(UP)—An American Air Force B-50 "Atom Bomber", the first of its type to arrive in Britain, crashed and burned near here today.

The U. S. Air Force said all 11 crewmen aboard were killed. The Air Force said the plane crashed into waste ground between two farms at Bryant Max Bottom, a hamlet near Lakenhealth, soon after taking off for a routine training flight from the Royal Air Force Base at Mildenhall.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—(UP)—The FBI has turned up evidence that charges Owen Lattimore was planning a trip to Russia or one of the Iron Curtain countries were false, it was learned today.

The new twist in the case may prompt the State Department to cancel its "unusual" order barring Lattimore, a Johns Hopkins University professor, from leaving the country.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—(UP)—The government today modified its ban on manufacture of color television sets, but warned against expecting any

Mercury Soars To 94 Monday

Local residents sweltered again today in a near-record June heat wave from which the Weather Bureau does not promise any immediate and lasting relief.

Monday afternoon, the mercury soared to 94 degrees and indications were this morning that the temperature may exceed that mark before sundown.

A long range forecast for this section of the nation states that temperatures will be above normal for the next two weeks.

Hot and humid weather with a few local thundershowers was in prospect over Indiana today. At 8:30 a. m., The Daily Banner thermometer registered 80 degrees. The minimum for the night was 75, which was 4 degrees warmer than the low mark

LIONS TO HOLD ZONE MEETING FRIDAY NIGHT

LOCAL CLUB ALSO MAKES PLANS FOR INSTALLATION DINNER

Zone Chairman John Andrew announced at the meeting of the local Lions Club Monday evening that a sectional zone meeting will be held at the Old Trail Inn next Friday night. All officers of the six clubs in the zone are expected to attend.

Wayne Hopkins, chairman of the committee on arrangements for the annual installation dinner, announced that this session will also be ladies night. The event is scheduled for Tuesday, July 8, at 6:30 p. m., at Old Trail Inn. Buell Ross, another committee member, announced additional plans for the meeting.

President Paul Evans stated that the club is planning to hold a big ice cream social at the little park the Lions have fixed up at the corner of Washington and College Avenue. All proceeds will be used for Kids' Day. John Andrew, Bob Harvey and Leon Smythe were named on this committee.

Joe Ward reported on the club's participation in the Fillmore Centennial parade last Saturday. The Greencastle Lions had a coach drawn by a team of horses in the procession.

Guests at the swiss steak dinner meeting Monday at Joe's Cafeteria were Vernon Elmore and Elton Clodfelter.

Robert Flint was installed as a new member by President Evans, Andrew Zeller and Richard Steiner were introduced as new members by Sidney Mandelblatt and Morris Campbell.

Workman Falls Off Garage Roof

Mr. Boswell, who resides on West Columbia street, was first taken to the Putnam county hospital in the Rector ambulance and then to the office of a local physician. It was reported that he suffered cuts about the face and a wrist injury but his condition is not believed of a serious nature.

City police said Mr. Boswell fell about 15 feet.

THIS AND THAT

(JIM ZEIS)

Congrats to Clyde Miller on his election as State Commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars! Her's best wishes. "Brick."

And, incidentally, we want to congratulate Edith Crawley for a job well done as Department President of the VFW Ladies Auxiliary the past year.

Also, congrats to Fay S. Hamilton, residing Judge Advocate of the Fathers Auxiliary Department after two years of efficient service and to Herb Blocker, new Department Chaplain of the VFW Dads.

Have you noticed that Ted Brown eats a carrot every morning as he winds his way to the First-Citizens Bank.

After Saturday night's rain, we want to know who said "It Ain't Gonna Rain No More."

"Water, water everywhere, and not a drop to drink" unless you boil it.

Probably the busiest man in Greencastle Sunday and Monday was Orville Stewart, Water Works superintendent.

Summer is really here and so is fried chicken time in Indiana, which sure makes us glad we reside in the Hoosier state.

Certainly warm weather for the Democrat convention in Indianapolis today.

Fillmore is now embarked upon its 101st year following a wonderful Centennial celebration last week.

We know that Russellville will hate to lose Ernest Chilson as school principal but on the other hand residents of the northwest Putnam town are glad for his promotion to the Glenn high school.

It will be a big time at Fern, when former pupils and teachers hold a reunion on the old school grounds July 20.

The floor at the fire department is bright and clean since the firemen applied a fresh coat of paint. Don't ask us what color it is... we're color blind.

Just think, it's only been a few years ago that the city was enjoying weekly band concerts on the court house lawn and later at Robe Ann Park. Times have indeed changed.

Haven't seen C. J. Ferrand in town for several days. Hope the Fillmore observance didn't get him down.

Within two week the national Republican convention will be underway in Chicago. From all the fireworks that are predicted, it should be sort of an extended Fourth of July.

And speaking of the Fourth, the Roachdale Lions are getting ready for their annual celebration the first of the month.

If we were a kid again, how we would enjoy that old swimming hole right now!

OWN YOUR OWN HOME

THE CHESTER is a brick house with low rambling lines and an attached garage. There are three bedrooms and bath, large living room with fireplace and double-glazed picture window and a combination kitchen and dining room formed into an L-shape by the rear entrance vestibule.

Closet space is well provided for and distributed throughout the house. There is a full basement, side entrance leading to the stairs and a rear entrance opening into a vestibule. Plans call for a covered front entrance, hip roof with asphalt shingles and overhead garage door.

Looking At Life By Erich Brandeis

It's too bad that you can't put whatever makes human beings human in bottles and use it to lubricate machines.

Or, better still, it would be wonderful if this liquid could be used to inoculate humans who have either lost their humanness or never had enough of it.

Brig General William P. Campbell, assistant chief of finance of the Army, has just returned from a tour of duty in Europe and North Africa.

He was supposed to find out how the military pay system was working.

During his travels he talked to some 5,000 soldiers and, since most of them were just kids or near-kids, they wanted to know all about what's going on in the United States and particularly in their home towns.

So General Campbell—nice guy that he is—offered to get in touch with the relatives (and sweethearts) of about 300 of the G. I.'s and promised to phone them any messages the soldiers wanted delivered.

So far, so good.

But, when he got back, the General found out that there was no appropriation for that kind of stuff.

The only way it could be done was to call all the folks Collect.

So, during a seven-day period he called 296 people on the phone.

And since the night rates are lower than the day rates, and since he realized that many of the families were pretty poor, he called them all at night and on Sundays, when the rates are also lower.

All in all, during that week, he put in six hours every night and eleven hours on Sundays.

Isn't it ridiculous?

Here the Government spends billions and billions on all kinds of foolish projects, on all kinds of monkey business.

Everything nowadays is figured in billions. Millions are only chicken feed.

But for something that is really HUMAN and of inestimable value to the morale of hundreds of families, there is no appropriation.

That is where my bottled "Oil of Humanity" comes in.

If we could only inoculate some of our legislators and our high officials with some of that oil, what a change it would make in our whole government setup!

General Campbell's experience is so typical of what is so prevalent in government.

And not only the government ACTIVITIES have become mechanical. It seems that almost every government employee sooner or later is forced to become a robot.

Go to any government office. Did you ever see a smile on any of the faces? You'd think they have to pay a tax on smiles.

But perhaps they do.

Foggy Mr. Muzzy Doesn't Differentiate Between Small Cards.

To signal your interest in a suit, it is not always possible to flash a high card. Partner should therefore take this fact into consideration when he watches your play to a trick.

In today's deal Mr. Muzzy led the king of hearts and Mr. Champion dropped the trey.

Notice I said "dropped." He would have liked to put his finger squarely in the middle of the card and twist it.

Or he could have hesitated before he played, fingering a couple of other cards, to call Mr. Muzzy's attention to the fact that he had some sort of a problem.

But, while Mr. Champion is far from a loveable character, he is an ethical player and he could do none of these things.

You can guess the result. When Mr. Muzzy saw the trey he frowned and started to think. When that happened Mr. Champion knew he was sunk.

Mr. Muzzy master-minded the hand as only he can do—and shifted to the nine of diamonds. Mr. Dale then ran off eleven tricks in diamonds, spades and clubs.

"Why didn't you continue hearts, Muzzy?" asked Mr. Champion coldly.

"Because you played the deuce," returned Mr. Muzzy angrily.

"I played the trey, not the deuce," Mr. Champion continued.

"Well, deuce, trey, what's the difference," Mr. Muzzy argued.

"It was a small card."

Mr. Champion knew he was licked. There was nothing to be gained by telling Mr. Muzzy that, while the trey WAS a small card, it did not necessarily say to shift. Mr. Muzzy should have considered the fact that the deuce had not shown up on the first trick.

It was not in Mr. Muzzy's hand or dummy. It was possible, of course, that Mr. Dale had # and was false-carding. But it was more likely that Mr. Champion was starting an echo from the holding he actually had.

Furniture Market Pleases Sunkel

The consumer is being offered the best values obtainable in home furnishings for several years, with the accent on improved styling and greater utility, according to Willard Sunkel, manager of Horace Link and Co., who has just returned from the International Home Furnishings Market in Chicago.

According to latest U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics figures, Mr. Sunkel said, home furnishings are one of the best buys on the market today, as prices have not increased in line with rises in other commodities, and the values being presented are greater.

New chairs, chests and tables have been so designed as to be equally appropriate for living room, dining room or bedroom. Many of the pieces will have the same finish varying in minor decorative details and hardware. Numerous chests and desks to be shown have been finished on the back, to permit placement at right angles to the wall, and thus serve as a room divider. Color continues to play a big part in most of the new lines. The new co-ordinated groups, Mr. Sunkel said, simplify the space problem and give the home a finished, co-ordinated appearance.

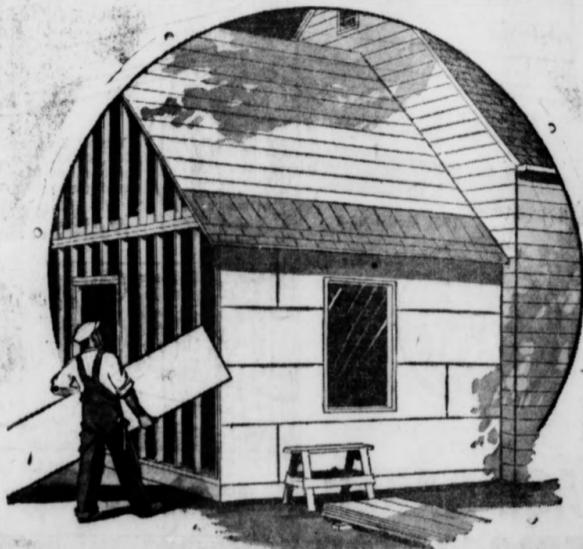

While modern design will be shown almost everywhere, Mr. Sunkel states there has been a softening of the sharp lines of former years. Provincial furniture continues to enjoy wide popularity in both wooden pieces and upholstered furniture, he says, with finishes predominantly in medium colors, with a "soft" look.

NOT LIBERAL ENOUGH

WASHINGTON, June 24 (UP)—Harold E. Stassen said today the "conservation program" proposed by Dwight D. Eisenhower and Robert A. Taft is not liberal enough for the future of America and carries danger and another Republican defeat next November.

"I have urged both of them, and will continue to plead with my party, for a more liberal approach," said Stassen in a speech prepared for delivery at a luncheon meeting of the National Press club here.

Governor Gives Keynote Talk

INDIANAPOLIS, June 24 (INS) — Governor Henry F. Schricker, who will be nominated for United States Senator today, stoutly defended the record of his second administration against Republican criticism during his keynote address to the Democratic convention in Indianapolis today.

The Governor outlined the accomplishment of his state departments, one by one. He paid special attention to the State Highway Department, which has been criticized severely by George N. Craig, GOP nominee for Governor.

Governor Schricker said: "The war years have taken a heavy toll in the state highway system. To a large extent we have concentrated our attention upon repair maintenance and modernization, but have not neglected construction of new roads as funds were available. He summarized specific accomplishments as:

1. 160 contracts for bridge crossings of various kinds, including railroad overheads and underpasses, have been signed.

2. In the field of signal protection a total of 615 traffic signals and flashing beacons at intersections have been installed.

3. Some $50 million has been spent by the road department, of which $20 million was for new construction and the remainder for resurfacing and widening.

The Governor said never before had so much resurfacing been done and that the Highway Department had done a creditable job in halting the deterioration of the state roads.

The Governor said that his mine inspection department had helped in a brilliant Indiana mine safety record, with less accidents than ever before in the state and less accidents and deaths than any other mining state in the nation.

Schricker defended his action in opposing repeal of the secret provisions of the State Welfare law to save $20 million in federal allowances a year and then paid his respects to his GOP opponent this fall, Senator William E. Jenner. He said:

"What all of us should remember is that the very welfare act which the Republicans tried so assiduously to amend in 1951 was introduced and sponsored in 1941 by the then Republican majority leader in the State Senate, William E. Jenner, and was passed over my executive veto which I had been forced to announce in order to sustain constitutional government in Indiana."

The Governor denounced corruption in government, saying: "We have not, we do not, and will not condone, excuse or explain any wrong doing or moral obliquity in public office, whoever the guilty or whatever their station. It is my hope that, as of old, we would rather suffer defeat at the polls than surrender the high calling of our party as protector and defender of the principals upon which it was founded."

Sen. Taft Gets Illinois Votes

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 23 (UP)—Illinois Republicans handed the last ten GOP convention votes to Sen. Robert A. Taft.

The state GOP convention, in a rousing show of support for the Ohio senator as their party's presidential candidate, voted him ten delegates-at-large Monday with hardly a murmur of disapproval.

The name of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Taft's chief opponent, wasn't even mentioned during the three-hour proceedings in the stifling 95-degree heat of the state armory.

An Eisenhower supporter did land one of the ten alternate delegate spots as a consolation prize. But he was listed as tenth ranking alternate, making it almost certain he won't cast a vote at the national nominating convention in Chicago, July 7.

Now that the business of picking the 1,206 national convention delegates is done, Taft is assured of 59 of the 60 Illinois votes, since he won all but one of the 50 who were elected in the April 8 primary.

NEW WONDER DRUG

INDIANAPOLIS, June 24 (INS)—The discovery of a new drug which may succeed in combatting disease where other antibiotics have failed, was announced today by research scientists of Eli Lilly and Co.

The drug, known by the name of "Ilotycin" has been given extensive tests with laboratory animals, and more recently has had clinical trial. These trials seem to confirm the belief that here is a compound which can be used without the after-effects of nausea, diarrhea or other unfortunate reaction which have accompanied use of other antibiotics, such as penicillin.

A spokesman for Eli Lilly, Indianapolis pharmaceutical manufacturer, explained that the new compound also appears to be effective against many organisms which have become resistant to penicillin or other antibiotics.

In addition to its potency when used against penicillin-susceptible organisms, Ilotycin has been screened against organisms which cause typhus, undulant fever, Rocky Mountain spotted fever and others.

Ilotycin was discovered after five years of research in the Lilly laboratories during which the company's scientists tested organisms isolated from samples of common soil gathered from all over the world.

The particular spoonfull of soil in which the organism was isolated which is the source of Ilotycin came from the Philippine Islands and had been given the code number 12559. Before the long tests were over, this designation had been shortened to "559"—and it is 559 from which Ilotycin has been developed.

Lilly doctors explained: "Most other broad-spectrum antibiotics destroy the colon bacillus, a natural inhabitant of the intestinal tract. Destruction of this organism sometimes causes diarrhea and may allow overgrowth of certain fungi, which in themselves may cause troublesome symptoms." However, "in more than 100 patients recently treated with Ilotycin, no cases of nausea or diarrhea were reported," and patients known to be allergic to penicillin have also taken Ilotycin without any ill effects.

The doctors opined that Ilotycin enters into the cerebral spinal fluid from the bloodstream, and noted that this is valuable when such diseases as meningitis are being treated.

Most of the patients who have received Ilotycin in these clinical tests were given capsules filled with the antibiotic in powder form, which they swallowed. It has been noted that the peak level of effectiveness comes about an hour after the drug is taken, and that it is detectable in the blood for about eight hours.

Announcement of the discovery of Ilotycin came simultaneously with publication of an article on the subject in the medical journal, "Antibiotics and Chemotherapy."

The drug pharmaceutical concern cautioned, however, "that even though the results of the clinical trial look encouraging, it will be several months before Ilotycin is thoroughly tested and considered ready for the market."
