WATER PLANS FOR IBM PLANT ARE DISCUSSED

TOPIC BEFORE CITY COUNCIL AT MONDAY NIGHT MEETING

All members of the city present at Monday evening session, it was devoted to discussing plans for the water mains and sewer connections to the International Business Company's plant on the land which they purchased.

A claim ordinance totaling $100,000 was passed by a unanimous vote.

The council passed Resolution No. 100 which held up two days and which the Monon board asked be passed. It is the operation of trains through the city at a speed of 25 miles per hour. The old regulation passed in the horse and buggy days called for a speed of 10 miles per hour.

The Monon will also cut the tracks and make it safer for traffic on the streets which their line intersects on the western edge of the city.

Paul Kleiser who engineered the sewer addition, was present and submitted sketches of the proposed connections for water and sewage with the new plant east of the city. A branch water main will connect the eastern edge of the city to go to the east side of Commercial place and will then go north to the Washington street and thence east across the Pennsylvania, where it will connect with IBM property.

The sewer line will probably run west from the plant to Commercial place and then may go south-westwardly because of the location of the land and connect with the city sewer on Wood street between Anderson and Walnut. The details have not been worked out, including the cost. These figures will probably be available at the next meeting.

Hall asked the voters whether "atomic secrets" fell on Russian ears at parties in the capital. His remark provoked a sharp rebuke from Cole on the floor of the House of Representatives.

The Hall-Cole battle, brought about by the reapportionment law, was enlivened also by accusations of "vote-buying" and talk about voters being threatened "at gun point."

"A million dollars has been brought in here to defeat me," Hall told one of his Townsend club meetings. "They are passing out 'century notes' in the 11th Ward."

Cole, a member of the joint congressional committee on atomic energy, based his campaign on a blanket denial of Hall's charges. He also criticized the Truman administration's foreign and domestic policies.

He stuffed the $6,500 in a shoe box, witnesses said, but part of the loot apparently slipped out during his escape.

Another roll of loot, this time $1 bills, was found by 14-year-old Lowell Hadley a block from the bank.

Red Hot Fight In N. Y. Primary

ALBANY, Aug. 19.—(UP)—The red-hot fight between two veteran Republican congressmen for their party's nomination in the new 37th District topped New York's presidential-year primary election today.

While 39 congressional and state legislative designations are being contested, political leaders expected one of the smallest turnouts in many years. The polls are open from noon until 9 p. m. upstate and from 3 p. m. until 10 p. m. in New York City.

The contest between Rep. Edwin A. Hall and Rep. W. Sterling Cole in the 37th District, comprising southern tier counties, was marked by charges that "tipsy" Washington officials may have spilled more than their drinks at cocktail parties.

Hall asked the voters whether "atomic secrets" fell on Russian ears at parties in the capital. His remark provoked a sharp rebuke from Cole on the floor of the House of Representatives.

The Hall-Cole battle, brought about by the reapportionment law, was enlivened also by accusations of "vote-buying" and talk about voters being threatened "at gun point."

"A million dollars has been brought in here to defeat me," Hall told one of his Townsend club meetings. "They are passing out 'century notes' in the 11th Ward."

Cole, a member of the joint congressional committee on atomic energy, based his campaign on a blanket denial of Hall's charges. He also criticized the Truman administration's foreign and domestic policies.

Northern Japan Awaits Typhoon

TOKYO, Aug. 19.—(UP)—A typhoon, which killed 10 persons in Korea and Okinawa and almost halted the Korean war, headed for northern Japan today.

The typhoon was expected to hit Hokkaido Island about midnight (11 a. m. EDT). It appeared to be losing strength.

Police in Pusan, Korea's temporary capital, said seven persons drowned and 100 homes were wrecked in southwest Korea yesterday. Other damage in Korea was minor.

On Saturday, the typhoon killed a woman and two children near Okinawa.

Two inches of rain fell on the far eastern end of the Korean battle front and winds of up to 90 miles an hour were reported. Allied war planes were grounded except for a group of Superforts which skirted the storm to bomb a Communist plant in far north Korea.

FIVE VEHICLES INVOLVED IN TWO ACCIDENTS

SHERIFF CALLED TO COMMERCIAL PLACE EARLY MONDAY EVENING

Sheriff Joe Rollings reported Tuesday morning that he investigated two traffic accidents in Commercial Place Monday evening involving four automobiles, one of them a taxicab, and a wrecker. No one was badly hurt in either mishap.

According to the sheriff, a 1940 Chevrolet driven by Dalton E. Staggs, Greencastle Route 3, was going north in Commercial Place about two blocks south of the Hammond grocery. A 1940 Plymouth driven by Leo H. Reeves, Greencastle Route 3, was going west and hit Dalton's car almost broadside in the intersection. The impact turned the Staggs car over on its side and shoved it into a utility pole. This happened at 6 p. m.

A wrecker from the Putnam Motor Sales was called and started to the scene of the accident being driven by Fisher Austin. The sheriff said that about two blocks from the scene, a taxi driven by Avery T. Anderson rammed into the wrecker. Another car driven by Hameta May Rader then hit the taxi.

Only scratches and bruises were reported by Sheriff Rollings to those involved in the two accidents. Damage, however, was estimated at $300 to Staggs' car; $200 to the Rader car; $150 to the Reeves' car and $100 to the taxicab owned by Paul Reisinger. Damage to the wrecker was negligible.

Hog Survives 88 Days In Well

GOSHEN, Ind., Aug. 19.—(UP)—Operation "Hog-lift" today brought a hog which vanished from the Grayson Ruhl Farm 88 days ago, up from its dry well shaft prison.

The Chester White hog, which Mrs. Ruhl said looks more like a razor back now, dropped from 200 pounds of rooting ham when it was last seen May 23, to a shadowy 75 pounds when it was found.

Mrs. Ruhl said she believed the animal rooted around the shaft, fell in and the wooden cover flipped back into place, leaving no trace of the hog's plunge.

Ruhl was ill in bed when the hog was found Sunday and directed rescuers to leave the animal in the well for a while and feed it a little at a time to keep it from foundering.

"We were afraid it would eat to much," he said.

The family had no idea how the hog survived. Mrs. Ruhl said there was nothing to eat in the shaft. But when neighbors found the animal, it was alive and walking, a bit shakily, around the narrow confines of the six-foot-deep shaft.

Ike Will Move His Headquarters

DENVER, Aug. 19.—(UP)—Associates of Dwight D. Eisenhower said today the Republican presidential nominee will move his campaign headquarters to New York's Commodore hotel, leaving only a rear detachment here.

The spokesmen said, however, Eisenhower's main base of operations, on or after September will be at headquarters on wheels—his campaign train—and that most of his advisers would travel with him.

It was also disclosed that Eisenhower would make a strong pitch for the support of organized labor in an address to the American Federation of Labor convention in New York next Sept. 15.

Since the convention will be called to order at the time Eisenhower had planned to put his train on the road, the general is expected to delay his tour a day or so.

YANK HURT BY STONE IN TEHRAN RIOT

ROCK HURLED BY RED RIOTER HITS U. S. ARMY SERGEANT

TERAN, Iran, Aug. 19.—(UP)—Stone-throwing Communists injured a United States Army Sergeant slightly today during a downtown clash between reds and Pro-government demonstrators and police.

The Sergeant, who was not immediately identified, was driving down Istanbul street in his jeep to the headquarters of the U. S. military Mission, which acts as advisers to the Iranian army.

One rock struck the windshield another hit him in the elbow. Police warned the sergeant his life was in danger and cleared a path so he could drive off.

Four policemen and 10 Communists were injured in the street clash. The demonstration coincided with the announcement that the Soviet government had protested to Iran over an anti-Communist attack last week on the Russian Embassy reading room in Tehran.

The Russian note demanded prosecution of the "culprits". It said some 20 "gangsters, wearing fascist armbands," attacked the reading room last Wednesday and destroyed furniture and windows. The Soviets said a policeman aided the attackers.

Forty Communists were arrested during this morning's clash. The riot began when supporters of Premier Mohammed Mossadegh marched through Tehran streets burning kiosks selling Communist newspapers. The demonstrators shouted: "Down with Tudeh (Communist) party, down with Stalin."

Communist gangs suddenly turned on the pro-government demonstrators and fighting started. When police intervened the Communists also turned on them.

Labor Situation Far From Rosy

More than 32,000 Bethlehem Steel Co. shipyard workers threatened to strike today as three rail Brotherhoods and the new York Central Railroad met in an attempt to avert a rail strike.

The best news of the nation's turbulent labor scene was the settlement of a prolonged strike at an Indiana jet engine factory. John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers opened negotiations for a new contract as coal miners began trimming their budgets for a 10-day "memorial" layoff, starting Aug. 23, called by Lewis.

POST OFFICE AT CHICAGO FACES FEDERAL PROBE

SPECIAL GRAND JURY TO HEAR JOB-SELLING CHARGES AUG. 26

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—(UP)—Federal prosecutors investigating a job-selling scandal in the Chicago post office today studied a list of witnesses they plan to call before a special grand jury.

U. S. Attorney Otto Kerner, Jr., cut short a vacation to return to Chicago to personally direct the investigation. Kerner was expected to arrive today.

The special grand jury will hear charges that employees in the Chicago post office, the second largest in the country, paid bribes to obtain supervisory positions.

Attorney General James P. McGranery announced in Washington yesterday that the evidence concerning the job-selling scandal would be presented to the grand jury beginning Aug. 26.

Some reports have placed the number of employes believed involved at 38. However, McGranery said at a news conference, "It is only a question of how many we are going to indict—there seem to be a flock of them."

Kerner and his first assistant, Edward Ryan, will present the case to the jury themselves.

Ryan refused to name the witnesses he would call or tell how many postal employes would be asked to testify.

"We'll let the evidence speak for itself," he said.

However, it was learned that the U. S. attorney's office did not plan to use subpoenas in most cases. Rather, the witnesses will be "invited" to appear before the grand jury to tell what they know about job-selling.

Because the post office employes are government workers they might face losing their jobs if they ignored such "invitations."

It was understood that some of the witnesses would be employes with a tale to tell—men who are ready to testify that some of their fellow workers paid for their promotions. Others will be men suspected of paying the bribes.

Postmaster John Haderlein has denied any knowledge of the scandal.

Loan Charges Denied By Wyatt

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 19.—(UP)—Wilson Wyatt denied today that he assisted the Reynolds Metal Co. in obtaining loans from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation while he served as regional counsel for the RFC.

Wyatt, Gov. Adlai Stevenson's campaign manager, referred to remarks made by Rep. Daniel A. Reed (R-N. Y.) who criticized Wyatt's law firm for serving as counsel both for the RFC and the Reynolds company, which has received RFC loans.

"Neither I nor my law firm has participated directly or indirectly in any loan negotiated by the Reynolds Metal Company at any time with the RFC," Wyatt said.

"My law firm represents the RFC only on local matters in the Kentucky area," he said.

Agreement was reached Monday night on a compromise proposal offered by Mayor Ralph Tucker.

SIMONSTOWN, South Africa, Aug. 19 (UP)—A band of 200 baboons terrorized this naval town today by descending from the hills to ransack houses for food.

Simonstown residents appealed for an investigation. They cited the case of Mrs. Ruth Roose who went into her kitchen and found a baboon taking her roast and a box of eggs from the icebox. The baboon didn't leave until it had helped itself to apples, too.

DUBOIS, Wyo., Aug. 19 (UP)—A fire in the Shoshone National Forest in northern Wyoming raged out of control early today.

More than 50 men with seven jeeps, power saws, shovels and other special equipment were rushed to the rugged area 2 1/2 miles north of here last night to join those who began fighting the blaze late Sunday night. Sheriff Abe Boland of Dubois said the fire broke out about 9 p. m. Sunday and at latest report had burned over an area two miles square.
The origin of the blaze had not been determined.

LA PORTE, Ind., Aug. 19 (UP)—Damage was estimated at $80,000 today in a three-hour fire which ruined grocery stocks at the Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. store.

Fireman Jack Corowe was slightly injured while fighting the blaze Monday night. Firemen said water and smoke caused most of the damage.

CAMP ATTERBURY, Ind., Aug. 19 (UP)—Maj. Gen. Robert R. Gray, a native of Rockport, Ill., today succeeded Maj. Gen. A. G. Paxton as commanding officer at Camp Atterbury.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Aug. 19 (UP)—A five-way race for the Democratic congressional nomination spotlighted the Wyoming primary election today.

Democratic Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney, seeking re-election to his fourth term, and his Republican opponent, Gov. Frank A. Barrett, both are unopposed in the primary.
However, five candidates seek the Democratic nomination for the single Wyoming seat in the U. S. House of Representatives, now held by Republican William Henry Harrison. Harrison is unopposed in the primary.

It's Blackwood For Bridge

Puzzling Play May Be Suggested
"If only I were twins," said Mr. Champion modestly, "the team of Champion and Champion would be unbeatable."

The bidding:

This remark stemmed from the fact that Mr. Champion had told Mr. Abel, by means of a suit preference signal how to beat the hand. But Mr. Abel had muffed it.
One way to "catch" suit preference signals is to be on the alert for unusual plays by partner; plays that puzzle you, plays which seem downright silly. Of course you have to have a good partner. If Mr. Muzy made such a play it would be silly.

But playing with Mr. Champion, you know that any unusual play he makes is for a specific purpose, probably the purpose of giving you information.

In today's deal Mr. Abel opened the king of spades and Mr. Champion followed suit with the deuce. Mr. Abel wondered momentarily whether that deuce had any deep, special significance. Finally, he properly decided that it showed nothing but a complete lack of interest in the spade suit.

He could see no reason to shift at this point and continued with the ace of spades. On this trick, Mr. Champion played the NINE of spades. This puzzled Mr. Abel.

His partner surely had not started with only two spades and surely did not have the queen of spades. In either case, he would have played high-low to ask for continuation of the suit.

Of course Mr. Champion was giving a suit preference signal. Having got it in the record that he was interested in the spades suit itself by the play of the deuce at trick one he next played the nine, an unnecessarily high card. He was trying to say,

Lead the higher of the other two plain suits.
After puzzling over this for a while Mr. Abel came to the conclusion that he didn't know what the nine of spades meant and he shifted to the eight of clubs.
Mr. Dale won with the ace, cashed three top hearts, then the king and queen of clubs. On the third club lead he ditched his diamond. Mr. Abel then—trick for the defense—

LOOKING... AT LIFE

BY ERICH BRANDEIS

The Chelsea Borough Council of London, England, was debating the question whether or not to issue a permit for a huge electric sign on the Thames waterfront.

Some of the councilors agreed that such a sign would be a step toward progress. Other thought it would ruin the beauty of the Thames.

Margery Thornton, a councilor, spoke up:

"Let us leave a little darkness for the lover and his lass."

Her colleagues agreed. The permit was denied.

We have had altogether too much light in the name of progress.

A little more darkness might be a pretty good thing for humanity in general, not only for the "lover and his lass."

Love will find a way, it is said. Even with all the huge electric signs on Broadway and the many Broadways in the many cities of the world, there will always be dark spots for love to thrive.

Incidentally, I have always wondered why Love, one of the brightest stars in the firmament of life, needs darkness to develop. Why can't Love stand the bright light of the sun?

Why must Love, for its expression, use the same shadows that footpads and burglars use?

However, we are now getting entirely too involved.

I am sure that some scientist will have the answer.

So we will just leave that problem to him.

But back to the advantage of a little more darkness for all of us.

What have we really gained by all the knowledge we have acquired with the centuries?

Was not the smell of a Fragrant flower just as sweet before we knew anything about chlorophyll?

Was not a voyage much more enticing before we had snipped so much off the distance by fast trains and faster airplanes?

Were not the "heathen Chinese" much more romantic and mysterious before we could get to them in a few hours?

Recently a new ship, the United States, was put into service. Did we accentuate her elegance? Did we speak about her beauty? Did we have time to get acquainted with all her comforts and her grace?

No. We had to break records. We had to be able to say that we had produced a FASTER ship than all the ships previously built.

What good does it do us to rush through life at a 1,000 miles an hour?

Where are we going in such a hurry?

Are we living any longer that way? Any better?

It seems to me that our new day Kleig light existence only blinds us to all the beauty on this earth.

It seems to me that by bringing us all on this earth closer together we are constantly growing farther apart.

It seems to me that we should "leave a little darkness not only for the lover and his lass," but for all of us.

ILLINOIS WOMAN, 103,

ENJOYS WHISKEY, GUM

CARBONDALE, Ill., Aug. 19.—(UP)—Mrs. Catherine A. Harrison, who reached the age of 103 yesterday, says a nip of whiskey every day makes her feel young enough to chew bubble gum.

Mrs. Harrison has outlasted the town where she was born, Preston, Ill. A flood swept Preston away some years ago.

"It's good for everybody to have a drink," Mrs. Harrison said. "It makes me feel good enough to enjoy my bubble gum."

She doesn't let her fondness for whiskey overcome her though, because too much is a sin.

RITES TOMORROW

WEST FRANKFORT, Ill., Aug. 19.—(UP)—Funeral services will be held here tomorrow for August Allen, 58, survivor of the New Orient mine disaster, who was killed in a fall after an electric shock.

Allen, who was West Frankfort's street and alley commissioner, was killed Sunday when he fell from a ladder to the street while taking down electrical wiring that was used as street decoration for a women's club function. His pliers apparently bit into a live wire and he lost consciousness and fell to the concrete street.

Allen, a repairman at the New Orient Coal Mine, narrowly escaped death in the explosion at the mine last Dec. 23, which killed 119 men.
