Red Cross Drive Lags In County, Goal Is $6,580

Although present need is grave, to date little more than one third of a $6,500 goal has been turned in as a result of the current Red Cross fund drive, Executive Secretary, Mrs. Gwendolyn Crawley reported today.

Word from the disaster site of Alaska indicates that the American Red Cross is prepared to remain on the job there until all families needing assistance have been helped. On the northwest coast, mainly in Crescent City, California, tidal waves destroyed fifty-four homes and caused major damage to a hundred more. Here, too, ARC national staff members head volunteers in relief operations.

In the meantime, two of the original 53 shelters in the Ohio River Valley flood area still are active and two hundred and fifty Red Cross staff members with hundreds of volunteers remain to help the needy in this five-state area.

This week a report to the local Red Cross office stated that date 40,000 inquiries had been received through ARC communication facilities. In the same communication $2,000,000 was given as a conservative estimate of the amount that the American Red Cross will need to spend in emergency help and rehabilitation efforts for nearly one thousand families in need.

National Red Cross repeatedly suggests that shipping of clothing and supplies to the disaster area be discouraged since, at this time, it is a costly operation. The city of Seward, main port of Alaska, and terminal of the Alaskan railroad, received major damage. However, funds through local chapters are acceptable and solicited.

Local Red Cross chapter chairman, Kenneth L. Keller, received word by telegram yesterday that it is "imperative every chapter achieve full goal to replenish dollars being spent in extending relief to disaster victims."

In commenting on this message, Glenn Skelton, local fund drive chairman stated that he had faith in the generosity of Putnam County citizens, but urged that they not lag in their giving when the need is so great.

THE GOOD OLD DAYS

Taken from the files of the Banner, 1938—

The following bit of information has been passed on to the Daily Banner by Mrs. Elizabeth Hamrick of Hamrick Station. The beautiful weeping willow that stands in the circle drive at the home of Miss Grace Farrow on East Washington street, has a history that is forth recalling.

The spray from which it grew was planted by Mrs. Laura Farrow Chapman soon after her marriage to Nathan Chapman more than fifty years ago. It was taken from a tree grown by Mrs. Elizabeth Lockridge at her home on West Columbia St., now the Putnam County Orphan's Home. Mrs. Lockridge grew the tree from a slip taken from a tree, grown by her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Farrow, wife of Col. A. S. Farrow, pioneer resident of Monroe township.

Tradition has it, that this tree was grown from a slip taken from the grave of Napoleon Bonaparte, who died in exile on the Isle of St. Helena.

Some years ago a fire, that practically destroyed the Chapman home, left the old tree apparently a blackened ruin, but the hand of the pruner reclaimed it and it flourished until a windstorm ravished its branches. Again the pruner's aid was invoked and the sunshine and copious rains with our fine forest soil, have made it a thing of beauty and, we hope, a joy forever.

While it is not so symmetrical as formerly, the waving boughs point to the morning star, the rising and setting sun, and the feathery branches brush the green sward below. It stands a living memorial to a good and noble woman.

Tom Bettis, living in Clinton Falls, reached the age of 64, September 14, 1938 and talked to the reporter of his 37 years as a threshing outfit worker. Nineteen years of that time, he operated the engine—the first 19 years. The remainder of the period, he had various important jobs around the machinery. He declared himself master of the steam engine as a motive power for the threshing machinery but when the gasoline engine, usually in the form of farm tractors, came into use as the outfit, he left the operation of the new engines to others and took up work in the outfit. He gave the old steam engine credit for being the most stable power used in that work.

He spoke of the old wood-burning engines with quite a bit of affection, in fact. But, questioned as to whether they didn't often start fires from the sparks, he admitted they did. The smokestacks had wire screens over their bell-shaped tops to restrain the sparks from flying upward and downward, to fall onto the stubble and shocks of grain.

"But the worst fire we had," he said, "was on the old Lycurgus Stoner farm. A man brought out a box of cigars and (Continued on Page 2)

Diplomat Gives Chapel Address

Besides France's General DeGaulle, the biggest problem facing NATO today is the fact its incentive for existence has lessened.

America's former ambassador to the 15-nation North Atlantic Treaty Organization, W. Randolph Burgess, made this appraisal today in a speech at DePauw University.

An Eisenhower appointee, Burgess, held the key diplomatic post three and one-half years (1957-61).

Though the 'crisis' is not quite as serious as the shouts of the columnists and the politicians would indicate, Burgess believes, "detente and DeGaulle" are creating disturbing headaches for NATO members. Relaxation of tensions (detente), Burgess said, "will test the Western countries to see whether they can work together effectively without the open threat of force (from the Communists)."

Even though the Cold War atmosphere has improved, Burgess assured his convocation audience that "the West is not so foolish" as to believe the threat of Communism is really removed. "The take-over is to be brought about now by subversion, propaganda, competi-

Elks Presented Capitol Flag

Sixth District Congressman Richard L. Roudebush (R-Ind.), of Noblesville, today presented a United States Flag which has flown over the Capitol in Washington to the Greencastle Elks Club during ceremonies held at 11:00 a.m.

Also attending the program at Lodge 1077, B.P.O.E., were city and county officials from Greencastle and Putnam County, high school principals, and leaders of community civic and patriotic organizations.

Following the presentation, Congressman Roudebush addressed the group briefly before a noon buffet at the Club.

In his remarks, Congressman Roudebush emphasized the significance of the flag observance because it coincided with the approximate hour of burial for the late General Douglas MacArthur in Norfolk, Virginia.

Congressman Roudebush also recounted for his audience the memorial ceremonies in the great Rotunda of the U.S. Capitol on Wednesday for MacArthur. The President, Members of Congress, the Cabinet and other officials attended the event, Roudebush recalled.

Plan To Jam Fair Traffic

The Brooklyn Chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality has vowed to push plans for a monumental traffic jam on roads leading to the New York World's Fair on opening day.

National CORE Director James Farmer suspended the chapter Friday for refusing to abandon the proposal calling for at least 2,000 cars to run out of gas on the roads April 22. New York traffic officials said such action would paralyze the nation's largest city.

Bayh Wants To 'Swamp' Wallace

WASHINGTON UPI — Sen. Birch E. Bayh, D-Ind., today awaited word from home on how he can help "swamp the Southern interloper" in his state's presidential preference election, Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama.

"It is imperative for Indiana Democrats to launch a campaign to swamp the Alabama governor," Bayh said. "He is an interloper in Indiana, just there to cause trouble."

"A vote for Wallace is contrary to the principles of the Democratic party."

Indiana Gov. Matthew E. Welsh entered his state's May 5 primary as a favorite-son candidate in the presidential preference election, a stand-in for President Johnson. It was hoped this would discourage Wallace from entering, but the maneuver did not succeed.

Bayh said Welsh unquestionably would win by a sizeable margin, "but I'd like to see him get every vote." He said he would urge the governor to campaign vigorously for Johnson and the President's program.

Bayh said he stands ready to do "anything that the state Democratic committee feels is helpful," but he conceded it will be difficult for him to leave the early-till-late, six-days-a-week Senate debate on the civil rights bill.

Reserved Seats Saved For Those Who Signal

By Alfred Sheinwold

In the original version of the Divine Comedy, Dante wrote that a special region of Hell is reserved for bridge players who signal with the setting trick. Then somebody pointed out that bridge would not be invented for close to seven hundred years, and Dante scratched it out. Somebody's always spoiling a good poem.

My team won a national championship on such bits of nonsense as this hand. West craftily led the six of diamonds, hoping to fool me if the king of diamonds showed up in dummy. It didn't, and I ruffed the diamond return.

It was very obvious that West had the ace of hearts, partly because East was addicted to very light three-bids and partly because West had thought long and lovingly before passing. I was sure he had considered a penalty double but had decided against it.

I expected to win my seven trumps, my ace of clubs, and dummy's king of hearts. The tenth trick had to come from the hearts, and this trick would develop only if the hearts divided 3-3 (very unlikely in view of the bidding) or if West could be persuaded to discard a heart.

DRAWS TRUMPS

I drew three rounds of trumps, discarding a heart from dummy. East discarded two diamonds without feeling any pain. Then, just for luck, I led out a fourth trump. This was too much for West. To show his partner that it wasn't necessary to worry about hearts, West discarded the ten of hearts. This was just what I had been waiting for. I led a heart to the king and returned a heart. West could get only two heart tricks, together with a long lecture from his partner.

Incidentally, always lead out as many trumps as you can afford in such situations. You never can tell when an opponent will decide to make a silly signal.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one spade, and the next player passes. You hold: S-9 6 8 H-A Q 10 9 D-A 8 6 C-Q J 9. What do you say?

Answer: Bid two notrump. This shows 13 to 15 points with balanced distribution and strength in each of the unbid suits.

CHapel Address

The economist-turned-diplomat described DeGaulle as a "persuasive spokesman of character and force and great achievement," but he said "it is this great French leader who has now thrown one road-block after another in the way of the movement towards cooperation and unity among the Atlantic Community countries."

Burgess enumerated a list of seven out-of-cadence steps DeGaulle has taken in NATO. He called DeGaulle's proposal for neutralization of Viet Nam "ridiculous and dangerous" and described France's recognition of Red China as "undermining our policies."

On the other hand, the envoy lauded France for "cooperating fully" in a broad range of economic areas and especially in the area of assistance for less developed countries. France, he pointed out, is actually contributing as large a percentage of its gross national product as any other country.

In dealing both with the Cold War and DeGaulle, Burgess called for patience and "waiting for the breaks," while in the meantime continuing our support and encouragement of economic recovery in the west.

'Old Soldier' Laid To Rest

NORFOLK, Va. UPI — An old hero finds eternal rest today, in a peaceful spot and surrounded by reminders of past tumult and glory.

Douglas MacArthur, the fighting general of three wars and postwar builder of Japan, will be entombed in the place he had selected as "my spiritual home."

After six days of public and private repose, of eulogy and ceremony, the five-star general of the Army will be placed in a crypt in the rotunda of the MacArthur Memorial—a 114-year-old building that was rebuilt into a combination museum and mausoleum for him.

The memorial was closed at 7 a.m. EST to prepare for today's funeral ceremonies. Many thousands of persons of this midwater area had filed past the bier since his gray coffin was placed on a purple catafalque in the memorial shortly after 6 p.m. Thursday. The open coffin had been on public view two nights and a day.

Red Attaches Are Restricted

WASHINGTON UPI — The United States promptly retaliated today against Russia for restricting four U.S. military attaches to the Moscow area.

U. S. officials would say only that "appropriate retaliatory action has been taken." It reported, however, that four Soviet attaches had been restricted to the Washington area.

The four American attaches were restricted to the Moscow area for 90 days as "punishment" for alleged spy activities.

Officials indicated that under the age-old doctrine of reciprocity four Soviet military attaches stationed here would be restricted to the Washington area for a similar period. The State Department said, meanwhile, that the incidents involving the American attach-

Soybeans Price Support $2.25

WASHINGTON UPI — The Agriculture Department today announced that the 1964 federal support price for soybeans will be $2.25 per bushel, unchanged from 1963.

The department said also that price support for 1964 cottonseed will be continued at the 1963 level of $44 per ton.

The department earlier had been considering proposals to raise soybean supports in order to help boost production. But these plans were dropped when reports showed that growers intend to increase acreage to record levels this year.

Another factor in the decision may have been passage of the administration's cotton-wheat bill which may make some cotton acreage available for planting to soybeans.

The department said in a statement that the 1964 soybean support is expected to encourage enough production to supply all demands while maintaining prices and income for growers. Soybean production has been expanding steadily in recent years to meet growing demand for the crop in both domestic and export markets. The support prices announced today are national averages. Local rates will be based on these averages and also will reflect quality premiums and discounts which will be announced later.

Warm Welcome Awaits Nikita

MOSCOW UPI — A rousing welcome awaited Premier Nikita Khrushchev here today on his return from Hungary, where he launched a sharp new propaganda offensive against the Chinese Communists.

The Soviet Foreign Ministry summoned Moscow's diplomatic corps to the Kiev railway station to greet the premier, his wife, Nina, and their party when they step off the train. Hundreds of Soviet citizens were expected to be on hand to cheer the premier. The station was decorated with many Soviet flags.

Drop Reported In Store Sales

CHICAGO UPI — Department store sales fell 11 per cent from a year ago in its district for the week ended April 4, the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago said today.

Chicago stores took the largest dip, down 15 per cent, with State Street off 19 per cent lower with its downtown stores off 8 per cent. Detroit and Milwaukee each lost 7 per cent. Midwest stores outside the bank's Seventh District fell 11 per cent with Grand Rapids down 14 per cent.

Considering that the week ended April 4 followed Easter and the similar week last year preceded Easter, district sales on an adjusted basis dropped only about 5 per cent, the bank said.

For the year to date, midwest sales were 9 per cent above last year.

Winter Wheat Crop Increased

WASHINGTON UPI — The Agriculture Department today predicted that a winter wheat crop of 1,010,679,000 bushels will be harvested this year.

This forecast compares with production of 904,828,000 bushels of winter wheat in 1963.

The predicted 1964 winter wheat crop, added to a possible spring wheat crop of 262,000,000 bushels, would mean a total wheat crop of 1,272,679,000 bushels this year. This compares with total wheat production of 1,137,641,000 bushels in 1963.

The Crop Reporting Board said that indications were that all but 10.3 per cent of the winter wheat crop would be harvested for grain.

The yield per planted acre was forecast at 23.5 bushels compared with 21.5 bushels per acre last year.

Assails Civil Rights Bill

WASHINGTON UPI — Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr. said today

the civil rights bill is "the most monstrous blueprint for governmental tyranny ever presented to Congress."

The North Carolina Democrat made the statement as Senate leaders, embarrassed a week ago when not enough senators showed up, again scheduled a Saturday session on the House-passed rights bill. This time they were confident they could muster the necessary quorum of 51 lawmakers for the 12th day of debate.

April 7th. The meeting was opened by singing the club song of the month. The club prayer was repeated in union. Then the flag salute. Thirteen members answered roll call, "A Spring Tonic."

The lesson on "Program Planning" for next year was given by Mrs. Ruth Fry. The secretary, treasurer, health, Outlook and Citizenship reports were made.

Summer Conference Week at Purdue was discussed and several members are planning to attend. The Mother's Day Banquet will be held May 7th at Hunt's.

The Maple Heights Club will furnish the dinner for the election board. During the social hour an auction sale was held and secret pal gifts were given out. Mrs. Louise McKamey received the door prize.

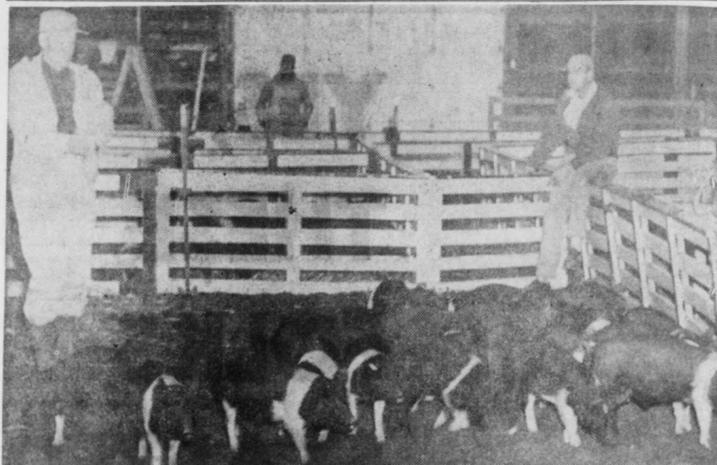

The members were reminded of the rummage sale that is to be held in September.

The business meeting was closed with the club prayer and the hostesses were Mrs. Mary Peterson and Mrs. Bess Earley.

Tasty refreshments were served.

SUNDAY In The Churches

I Believe

"Except ye become as a little child —." Oh, for the faith of that child; your child, my child. FAITH that sees beyond the faults and foibles of men; FAITH that rises above the animosities and hatreds of nations; FAITH that overcomes the cruelties of tyrants and sufferings of war. Oh, ye of little FAITH, know ye not that there's a child in the midst? A child praying for daddy, and mommy and her church. A child believing that the whole round world is bound by chains about the feet of God. This child BELIEVES.

She goes to CHURCH, WON'T YOU?

Campers To Pay Park Electricity

INDIANAPOLIS UPI — Campers in Indiana State parks will pay an extra 25-cents a day if they want the comforts of home provided by electricity.

The Indiana Conservation Commission today adopted the new rule doubling the present 25-cents-a-day charge for an electric outlet at a campsite. It meant that after June 1, a camper pulling into a trailer or tent site equipped with electricity will pay 50-cents a day in addition to the regular $1 camping fee.

The commission decided not to increase the camp site fee and not charge for firewood which is provided for free in the camping site.

Judge Paul Ewan, Lafayette, a commission member, pointed out that persons camping out and not wanting to give up "the comforts of home" would not mind paying the cost of electricity.

Conservation Director Donald Foltz reported the state was losing money at 25-cents a day in providing electricity.

Some trailers in state parks have electric stoves and other equipment and some campers bring along an electric frying pan and shaver even though they sleep in cars or tents.

senators and civil rights leaders to stop predicting violence and bloodshed.

Racial Barriers Are Denounced

GATLINBURG, Tenn. UPI — Methodist leaders from 48 countries Friday denounced racial segregation in the United States and called for abolishment of the church's central jurisdiction, an all-Negro administrative body.

The stand was made in a statement adopted at the close of a world-wide missions conference. Copies of the statement will be sent to the Methodist General Conference, the Council of Bishops and other national Methodist groups.

The General Conference, the denomination's top law-making body, is scheduled to open its quadrennial meeting April 25 in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Expansions By Agencies Advised

WASHINGTON UPI — The House Appropriations Committee today advised government agencies to plan expansions in other parts of the country than here.

The recommendation was given in a report accompanying the $6.2 billion appropriation bill to support the Department of Health, Education and Welfare during the fiscal year starting July 1.

The committee disallowed $1,650,000 sought to plan two buildings at suburban Beltsville, Md., and added $12.5 million to begin building a public health service laboratory in Michigan.

"The committee has serious doubts concerning the advisability of continuing the rate of expansion of federal facilities in the Washington area," the committee wrote.

Rep. Melvin R. Ladd, R-Wis., a member of the committee, said the report gives comfort to Midwesterners who contend the administration is trying to make "an economic wasteland" of their area.

QUESTIONS VALUE

WASHINGTON UPI — Rep. Ben Reifel, R-S. D., today questioned the value to his state of the proposed Midwestern bloc in Congress.

The Midwestern Governors Conference recently recommended that representatives and senators from the 12 states agree to vote as a bloc on key issues for that area. The proposal was a move in the midwesterners' fight for a bigger share of the federal grants and purchase orders which now mostly are awarded to coastal states.

TO SEEK SUPPORT

Gary, Ind. UPI — A rally featuring Negro comedian Dick Gregory and the Rev. Fred Shuttlesworth, founder of the Alabama Christian Movement for Human Rights will be held here Tuesday to drum up support for a proposed school boycott.

The boycott was planned to protest alleged de facto segregation in the Gary public school system and is scheduled for Friday.

Fatal Mistake

CHADDESSEN Eng. UPI — One word misread by a father caused the death of his month old baby son.

A coroner's inquest was told Friday that Dennis Taylor was advised by a child welfare clinic to buy sodium citrate tablets to settle the baby's stomach.

But at a drugstore Taylor misread the name and asked for "sodium chlorate" tablets instead and the baby died.

The coroner ruled the death accidental.

Morse Warns Of Race Violence

WASHINGTON UPI — Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., yesterday warned again of massive violence by Negroes unless the Senate approves the civil rights bill.

Rep. Melvin R. Ladd, R-Wis., a member of the committee, said the report gives comfort to Midwesterners who contend the administration is trying to make "an economic wasteland" of their area.

As the Senate entered its 11th day of full-dress discussion of the bill, Morse said "You are going to pay a terrific cost... unless you stop dodging and weaving and pass this bill."

Termining civil rights the most serious domestic crisis since the Civil War, Morse said that "tens of thousands of Negroes are ready to die for their rights."

The Oregon senator delivered his warning after Sen. Jack Miller, R-Iowa, cautioned the
