LONE STAR CO. TO BUILD NEW PLANT

Dr. John Kadlec Speaks Dec. 2 To PU Ag. Alumni

The Putnam County Agriculture Alumni is planning a Ham and Bean Dinner, Wednesday, December 2nd, at the Fairground Community Building. All Purdue Ags are certainly welcome to attend this get-together.

The main program will feature Purdue Ag. School Professor, John Kadlec, Prof. John E. Kadlec is known on the Purdue campus as a man who moves methodically about the business of farm management. A specialist in farm management and production economics, he is one of the popular teachers in the Department of Agricultural Economics.

THE GOOD OLD DAYS

Taken from the files of 1894

A housewife of this city tells a good story about a pair of wrens. The birds decided to build a nest near her kitchen door, and the male bird did the building. He constructed what was apparently a nice, cozy home, but the female sailed in and tore it to pieces. He built again, and she demolished it again. He repeated the operation five times, and then getting out of patience at the failure of the fifth attempt to please his somewhat particular spouse, turned in and gave her a good thrashing. The pair then pulled up stakes and left the place. This story is vouched for by a lady who was in interested spectator of the domestic comedy.

A Greencastle editor recently announced that in the next issue of his next paper he would begin the publication of a serial story entitled, "The Prettiest Girl in Town." Over one hundred girls wrote notes to the editor warning him to refrain from using their names or suffer the consequences.

"What Congress has Done" is the title of an interesting little pamphlet which is going the rounds of the mails. One was handed the Banner Times man Tuesday and as he was in a hurry, he asked to keep the same for a few days to read its contents carefully as he was greatly interested along with other people in the doings of this great congress. He was informed that it wouldn't take long to read it and was requested to look inside. He did so and found a lot of blank pages. The book is a joke but it tells more truth than that amount of blank or printed pages ever did before. Congress has done nothing.

Moses Payne was in the city from Roachdale today. He said the burnt district of his town would be rebuilt immediately with brick, and what the News office would be in operation in a few days. ### U. S. Officials Study Criticism

WASHINGTON UPI — U. S. officials today considered how to deal with increasing criticism by African nations of the Belgium-U. S. airborne rescue of white hostages in rebel-held areas of the Congo.

In the first public protest of this week's rescue operation, Algeria Friday night accused the United States and Belgium of "military aggression" in the Congo and of trying "to reintroduce colonialism to Africa."

Algerian Charge d'Affaires Mohamed Aberkane, in a "verbal note" delivered at the State Department, predicted there would be "serious consequences" in U.S.-African relations because of the mission.

LIMEDALE PLANT TO BE REPLACED

Johnson Meets With Newsmen

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. UPI—President Johnson faced questioning by the press today on a host of troublesome subjects, headed by the deteriorating situation in Viet Nam and U. S. participation in Congo paratroop drops.

Johnson called reporters to the LBJ Ranch for a press conference this morning at 11:30 a.m., EST, his first since winning a landslide election victory.

Johnson is ending a Thanksgiving week holiday at his Texas ranch and will return to Washington soon—perhaps Sunday.

His last formal news conference was held in Washington Oct. 3—eight weeks ago—although he answered some questions posed by newsmen following a briefing for congressional leaders Oct. 19.

Since then however: —Maxwell Taylor, U. S. ambassador to South Viet Nam, headed home for a conference Tuesday;

—American transport planes dropped Belgian paratroopers in a Congo rescue operation that set off protests from Africa;

—Soviet Premier Khrushchev has been toppled from power; —And the DeGaulle government of France has threatened to bolt NATO because of the American-backed plan for a NATO nuclear fleet.

On the domestic front, the Pentagon announced plans to close 95 military installations, including several naval shipyards.

And FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover stirred a controversy by saying Negro leader Martin Luther King Jr. was the "most notorious liar in the country" for claiming FBI agents in Albany, Ga., would take no action on civil rights complaints because they are southerners.

Roachdale Man Hurt In Wreck

Leon E. Williams, 40, Roachdale, was injured in a one-car accident at the intersection of Ind. 43 and Ind. 236, north of Greencastle, at 7:30 Friday evening, the Putnamville State Police Post reported this morning.

According to police, Williams was traveling west on 236 and skidded across Ind. 43, going over an embankment into a plowed field.

He suffered a deep laceration of the nose and left eye. Police said he was treated at a doctor's office and then released. State Trooper Jack Hanlon investigated the accident.

Mars Rocket Ship Is Poised

CAPE KENNEDY UPI — Mariner-4, the picture-taking space-rocket that came within 60 minutes of being rocketed toward Mars, was poised today for another launch attempt.

The ship is scheduled to be sent on its 7½-month, 325 million mile voyage during a 3 hour and 10 minute period starting at 9:22 a. m. EST.

The probe is expected to pass within 10,000 miles of the red planet July 15 with its camera snapping the first closeup pictures of Mars and its instruments making readings that will be valuable for future flights.

Restoring Home

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. UPI—The First Lady and her older daughter spent an hour Friday working on restoration of President Johnson's old boyhood residence—a project that has become a favorite occupation with Lady Bird whenever she's at the ranch.

4-Million Barrel Plant To Be At Limedale

Lone Star Cement Corporation announced today it will build a new 4-million barrel cement plant to replace the present facilities in Greencastle.

The first phase of this plant rebuilding program, according to the announcement by J. H. Mathis, President, includes a new crushing plant and raw material grinding plant, both to be located in the quarry close to the present working space. Engineering studies for this phase have been completed and the necessary funds authorized by the company's Board of Directors.

The final phase of the program will include the installation of new kilns and a new finished material grinding mill. The structures involved will be located adjacent to and directly north of the old plant, and closer to the quarry.

Crash of Navy Plane Kills 12

ANCHORAGE, Alaska UPI—Twelve men were killed Friday when a Navy patrol plane crashed into a hill four miles north of Cape Nevenham in western Alaska while on a routine ice reconnaissance mission.

The bodies of 11 of the men were recovered Friday night by Air Force radar station personnel, the Navy announced. The plane had taken off from the Kodiak Naval Air Station.

The plane, a P2V Neptune bomber, was based with Squadron VP2 at the Whidbey Island, Wash. It was stationed on rotating assignment at Kodiak.

A Navy spokesman said the plane reported no trouble on its last radio transmission.

Traffic Mishap

A traffic mishap, on North Jackson Street, was investigated at 1 p. m. Friday by City Officer Russ Coleman.

Autos involved were a 1963 Chevrolet being driven by Zella F. Leonard, Bainbridge, and a 1960 Ford being driven by Josephine Vanlandingham, Greencastle, Route 1.

Damage was estimated at $125 to the Ford and $40 to the Chevrolet.

Russell Agrees

WASHINGTON UPI—Senate Armed Services Committee Chairman Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., is in general agreement with Defense Department plans to close 95 military installations.

He ruled out any political motive to the closures and said McNamara was simply "effecting economies." His committee, Russell said, will not investigate the plans.

Moscow Rioters Hit U. S., Belgian Embassies Today

MOSCOW UPI — Howling, rock-throwing Russians and Africans stormed the American, British and Belgian embassies today and broke into the Congo Embassy.

Russian mounted police charges dispersed the mobs.

The screaming rioters—protesting this week's U. S.-Belgian Congo rescue operation—smashed windows and stormed the gates of the American and Belgian embassies, broke briefly into the Congo Embassy and then stormed toward the British Embassy across the Moscow River from the Kremlin.

"Yankees go to hell" and "death to the imperialists" screamed the demonstrators driven off from the U. S. and Belgian embassies by Moscow mounted police.

There were no reports of any western injuries, but dozens of demonstrators were tumbled onto the icy and snowy streets by mounted and foot policemen.

The demonstrators—most of them university students—hurled red, green, black, blue and purple ink at the embassies and plastered them with signs bearing such slogans as "Death To Imperialists!"

A mob estimated unofficially to number 500 to 2,000 persons tried to smash through the U. S. Embassy gates but were blocked when Marine guards backed trucks up against the gates.

The mob burned the one American car on the street—owned by the New York Times.

Another mob gathered outside the Belgian Embassy nearby. The demonstrators chanted "assassin . . . assassin . . . assassin . . ." and set up photographs of slain Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba on the Belgian Embassy fence.

Kadlec has his Bachelors, Master's, and Doctor's degrees in Agricultural Economics from Purdue University. Before taking his present position with Purdue, he gained valuable experience as a professional farm manager.

Professor Kadlec has published several articles concerned with farm management and organization, swine production efficiency, and linear programming as it applies to a farm operation.

Kadlec will present a topic, "Farm Management Enters the Computer Age," which certainly will be a revealing of some most interesting ideas in the new era of farming.

The Ham and Bean dinner will begin at 6:30 p. m.

Arrested by FBI

WASHINGTON UPI — The FBI announced the arrest early today of Raymond Lawrence Wyngaard, one of the agency's 16 most wanted men and an escapee wanted in connection with the shooting of a police officer.

A spokesman said Wyngaard, 27, was captured without resistance early today in Madison, Wis., while riding in a taxicab. The spokesman said Wyngaard had been hiding out in a small apartment in Madison for several days under the name of Fred Rogers.

Make Your Compromise In Playing The Trumps
By Alfred Sheinwold

When you learn the best way to play a suit from the textbooks you may take it for granted that you can lead from the dummy as often as you like. In real life this is seldom true. You must do your best with the entries that you happen to have.

The defenders took two spades and shifted to clubs. South, a bookish player, won with the ace of clubs, entered dummy with a diamond, and returned a low trump for a finesse with the queen of hearts.

The idea was to guard against a singleton king of hearts in the East hand. Leading the jack would cost a trick if East could cover with the singleton king, for West would then have 9-x-x of trumps and would win a trick with the nine.

After winning the first trump finesse, South led a second diamond to dummy and returned the jack of hearts. It was too late, for East covered with the king to force out the ace.

South needed a third trump finesse to pick up East's nine, but when South led a third diamond to dummy East ruffed. This doomed the contract.

Needed Third Entry
South's line of play would have been good if he had held at least one high club in the dummy. With the actual hand he should have led the jack of hearts from dummy for the very first trump finesse.

This could lose if East had the singleton king, but this danger was somewhat remote. There was just as much danger that East had K-x-x of trumps and only one diamond. There was also the danger that East had four trumps.

With the actual hand, East would cover dummy's jack with the king to force out the ace. South would discover the bad trump break on leading the queen of hearts next. He would then get to dummy with a second diamond to finesse through the nine of hearts.

Mental Power Test Needs Concentration

By United Press International

One day a Duke University student who usually scored well in tests for extra-sensory powers began floundering and flunking. A few questions brought forth the information that a certain girl had arrived in Durham, N. C., thereby diverting the student's mind from extra-sensory matters to sensory ones.

If you wish to test yourself for unusual mental powers, absolute concentration is the first order of business. Without it you are bound to fail. Coleman Cooper consistently showed promise in experiments in Dr. J. B. Rhine's laboratory at Duke. But one day he was called to the telephone and received disturbing news. When he returned to the laboratory and attempted to identify each card in a pack, his average promptly fell to three out of 25. The laws of chance are that you can average five out of 25 without any extra-sensory powers at all.

It appears you must go into training if you are going to have success, both physically and mentally. George Zirkle was coming up with an average of 14 correct predictions out of 25 cards at Duke when he caught influenza. He continued the experiments in the hospital and his average fell to eight. When he recovered, he was back at 14 again.

Rhine says age is not a factor. He has found extra-sensory powers in persons ranging in age from 4 to 60. Nor is intelligence any help because students getting high grades at Duke did no better on the average than those receiving mediocre ones. A group of 20 children at varying stages of retardation were tested. The most retarded did just as well as the least.

There is no difference between the performance level of men and women. Extroverts of either sex do a little better than introverts. The one priceless ingredient that seems to characterize a person with unusual extra-sensory powers is a feeling of complete confidence. No doubt must ever cross his mind that he is going to perform well above the average. Confidence, in turn, is helped by a relaxed environment and congenial persons who are putting the subject to the test.

Mrs. Shannon had the program, a contest on "Presidential Riddles." Mrs. Donelson won the prize.

The meeting adjourned after delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. Next meeting will be with Mrs. Van Cleave Dec. 18th.

Probers Examine Witness List

WASHINGTON UPI — Senate staff investigators in the Bobby Baker case examined a list of 20 witnesses today in preparation for hearings next week into charges that the former Senate aide was involved in a $25,000 political kickback.

Insurance salesman Don B. Reynolds was quizzed for 2½ hours Friday by Senate Rules Committee staff members to preview testimony to be aired at public hearings starting Tuesday.

The hearings will look into an alleged "kickback" of $25,000 on the construction contract for the District of Columbia Stadium. Sen. John F. Williams, R-Del., has charged that Baker, former Senate Democratic secretary, acted as a middle-man in funneling the money to the 1960 Kennedy-Johnson campaign fund.

McClendon said Reynolds would be among the first witnesses called for the start of hearings Tuesday.

Prepares Bills To Repeal Sales Tax, Up Income Tax

INDIANAPOLIS UPI—State Sen.-elect Nelson Grills, D-Indianapolis, has prepared bills for the 1965 Indiana Legislature to repeal the sales tax law and increase the adjusted gross income tax rate from 2 to 3½ per cent.

Grills wrote Gov.-elect Roger D. Branigin of his plans to replace the two per cent sales tax enacted by the 1963 Legislature with an upward revised rate on the adjusted gross income tax which would mean reductions in the state tax load for families of limited income.

Grills said that under his proposal, the tax on the income of retired couple over 65 years of age with $3,000 income would be reduced by $36.50 a year and on families with two children and $5,000 income by $22.50 a year.

The tax on families with two children earning $10,000 a year would increase $2.50 a year and that on families with two children earning $20,000 a year would increase $71.50.

Grills said his proposal was aimed at using greater income from the adjusted gross income tax to replace the revenue expected from the sales tax, in line with what he said was a mandate in the Democratic Party's state platform last summer.

The plank says "The Democratic Party recommends that the adjusted gross income tax, which is based upon ability to pay, be used as a source for the revenue now obtained from the Republican-sponsored general sales tax."

Grills said the plank points out that the party "has always insisted that taxation should be based on the principle of ability to pay."

He said his proposal would reduce individual contributions to the tax program from $5 million to $498 million, or from 65 to 60 per cent of the revenue, and increase corporation contributions from $283 million to $327 million, or from 35 to 40 per cent of the revenue.

Farmer's Share Of Consumer $ Has Decreased

WASHINGTON UPI — The Agriculture Department predicts the farmer's share of the consumer food dollar in 1965 will be 36 cents — 1 cent less than the average for 1964.

The department said a slight decrease appears likely in the farm value of foods in 1965. This, combined with a small increase in marketing charges, likely will drop the farmer's 1965 share of the consumer's food dollar a penny below the 1964 share.

The agency said increased supplies of some vegetables and fruits in 1965 are expected to result in prices below the relatively high prices of 1964, if weather conditions are favorable. Prices of eggs and turkeys also may be down from 1964, the department said. The farm value of bakery and cereal products is expected to be about the same in 1965 as in 1964.

The Agriculture Department also calculates that the U. S. farm export market in fiscal 1964-65 took the output of 80 million harvested acres. This was about one acre out of every four harvested. On a value basis, U. S. agricultural exports were equivalent to 16 per cent of total cash receipts from farm marketings.

States with the largest share of agricultural commodity exports in 1963-64 were: Illinois, $504.2 million; Texas, $493.8 million; California, $420.5 million; Kansas, $336.8 million; Iowa $330.7 million; and North Carolina, $321.4 million.

Taylor To Meet With President

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. UPI — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, U. S. ambassador to South Viet Nam, will review the political-military crisis in war-torn Viet Nam with President Johnson at the White House Tuesday morning.

Government officials described the meeting as one in a series of conferences and said no "horrendous decision" would result from it.

White House sources tried to discourage speculation that the President faced a critical decision on whether to order bombing of Communist bases in North Viet Nam or Laos to increase chances of victory over the Red-led forces.

The President's meeting with Taylor was scheduled for 11 a. m. EST Tuesday in the White House. No date has been set for Johnson's return to Washington but he is expected to remain at the ranch through Sunday.

Young America Bakes— Christmas Stollen

Home-baked Stollen, attractively wrapped in cellophane or plastic and appropriately decorated is the nicest way to say "Merry Christmas!" to friends and neighbors. Include an inexpensive bread basket for a useful extra.

German Holiday Breads Make Handsome Gifts

Christollen or Christmas Stollen are the traditional German holiday breads. They are made with sweet, fruit-filled yeast dough shaped and folded over in much the same way as an omelet. The baked loaves are usually frosted or dusted with confectioners' sugar, and may be decorated with nuts and candied cherries if desired.

gift than a delicious home-baked Stollen attractively wrapped in cellophane or plastic and decorated with Christmas bows. For a useful "extra," include an inexpensive straw bread basket or cutting board in the package.

CHRISTMAS STOLLEN

- Makes 1 Stollen
- 1/4 cup milk
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 cup (1/2 stick) Fleischmann's Margarine
- 1/4 cup warm water (105°-115°F.)
- 1 package or cake Fleischmann's Yeast, active dry or compressed
- 2 3/4 cups unsifted flour
- 1/4 teaspoon ground cardamom
- 1/2 cup seedless raisins
- 1/2 cup chopped citron
- 1/2 cup chopped pecans
- 1 tablespoon Fleischmann's Margarine, melted
- Confectioners' sugar frosting

Scald milk, stir in sugar, salt and Fleischmann's Margarine; cool to lukewarm. Measure warm water into large bowl. Sprinkle or crumble in Fleischmann's Yeast; stir until dissolved. Add lukewarm milk mixture, 2 cups flour and ground cardamom; beat until smooth. Stir in remaining flour, raisins, citron and 1/2 cup pecans. Turn out onto lightly floured board and knead until smooth and elastic, about 5 minutes. Place in greased bowl, turning to grease top. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour.

Roll dough into an oblong shape about 1/2 inch thick. Brush with 1 tablespoon melted Fleischmann's Margarine. Fold in half lengthwise. Place on greased baking sheet. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 45 minutes. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) about 40 minutes. Ice with confectioners' sugar frosting.

Suit Is Dropped At Crown Point

CROWN POINT, UPI — A suit against the Lake County Registration board was withdrawn in Lake Circuit Court Friday.

The suit specifically accused Robert Rooda, Gary, a Republican member of the board, of improperly challenging registrants for the Nov. 3 elections for not living at locations from which they signed up.

The suit was filed before the election but the plaintiffs decided to drop it after the Democrats carried Lake County by 70,000 votes.

Broken China Easy To Mend

If junior breaks your favorite tea cup or china figurine, don't despair. Now you can fix it yourself so it's both serviceable and decorative again. Epoxy glues, which have been on the market for several years, bond together the most fragile china and crystal, and do it so strongly that even hot dish water won't dissolve the bond. In fact, epoxies will work equally well on metal, tiles, wood, masonry, and most plastics too.

Elmer's Epoxy Glue comes in a handy, two-tube kit—one tube filled with resin, the other with a hardener. It's easy and safe to use; just follow the simple directions on the package for mixing the contents of the two tubes. Be sure to combine the resin and hardener on a disposable surface.

Only a bit of glue is needed for most small repairs. For extra fine work with tiny chips or broken glass pieces, simplify the chore by having these aids available: tweezers for picking up the smallest pieces, and toothpicks which make good applicators. With this epoxy glue, applicators are built right into the tops of both tubes—a handy, time-saving plus value.

Giants Open Player Draft

NEW YORK UPI — The New York Giants opened the National Football League's player draft Tuesday night in the first round.

The Giants, defending Eastern Division champions, earned the right to choose first in the draft because of their last place standing in the league at present.

Browns Hope For Title

The Cleveland Browns, undiminished of the painful consequences, hope to clinch the Eastern Division title of the National Football League Sunday when they host the Philadelphia Eagles and St. Louis plays at Pittsburgh.

Cleveland holds a one and one-half game edge over the runnerup Cardinals and needs only a combination of two victories or two St. Louis losses to wrap up its first title since 1957.

Bobby Marshman Critically Hurt In Flaming Lotus - Ford Crash

PHOENIX, Ariz. UPI—Indianapolis veteran Bobby Marshman, 28, was in critical condition today with burns suffered Friday in a flaming crash during a test run at the Phoenix International Raceway track.

Officials at Good Samaritan Hospital said Marshman suffered second and third degree burns over 85-90 per cent of his body.

Marshman's rear-engine Lotus-Ford caught fire and skidded into a wall as he came out of the No. 2 turn during an engine test. The vehicle was engulfed in flames but Marshman was able to get out without assistance. His clothing was on fire as he got out of the car. The blaze was quickly extinguished but not before Marshman was severely burned.

The Pottstown, Pa., resident finished 25th in this year's Indianapolis after stopping because of mechanical trouble. He was second in qualifying at Indianapolis has set unofficial speedway records of better than 160 miles per hour on the 2½ miles oval.

OFF-SEASON JOB

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Brady Keys, the Pittsburgh Steelers' defensive back, spends the off-season in California working for the Atkinson Construction Co., a firm owned and operated by Guy Atkins, father of Steeler tackle Frank Atkinson.

Former Football Player Has New Position

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — James H. (Monk) Moserip is a former all-American football player who freely admits he "used to spill more liquor than most people drink."

Today he runs a private hospital that treats alcoholics with a treatment they dubbed "riding the tiger."

Moserip was a member of Stanford University's famed "Vow Boys" team. He was the field goal-kicking end on the sophomore team that vowed in 1933 it would never lose to mighty Southern California — and never did in three years.

After graduation, Moserip, as a football hero, was subjected more than most people to post-game cocktail parties and other alcoholic celebrations. The pace continued during World War II when he served as a Navy officer in the Pacific.

"I was one of those who shouldn't drink," he said. "Up to 11 o'clock I was O. K.; then I wanted to whip the bartender and my best friend. But I wouldn't admit I was an alcoholic until 1946 when I started blacking out."

"I tried to quit, but couldn't. Then I stumbled across this place in the phone book. "I took treatment for the disease in 1954, backslid once, retook the cure and in 1959 I came back a third time — an executive director."

Moserip's hospital, Woodside Acres in suburban Redwood City, was founded in 1954 by an anonymous philanthropist who Moserip said is interested not in making money but in curing some of the nation's estimated five million alcoholics. It is a member of the American Hospital Association.

The 50-year-old, raw-boned six-footer claims no miracles for the hospital. It has treated about 900 persons (one-third of them women). About one in three of those who have taken the treatment have managed to stay on the wagon.

Some experts in the field consider the treatment almost punitive. Pioneered by the Shadel Sanitarium in Seattle, Wash., the treatment is called conditioned Response Therapy (C. R. T.). It is patterned after the response of Pavlov's dogs who drooled at the sound of a bell after they were taught to link the sound with feeding time and food.

A C. R. T. patient undergoes five treatments of 20 minutes each over a week under the direction of a physician. Treatments take place in a sound-proof room which patients have come to call "Chessman's Chamber," after kidnap-artist Carly Chessman who was executed in the San Quentin gas chamber.

The patient sits in a comfortable slatted chair. To his left is a basin. In front of him is a replica of the back of a saloon bar stocked with bottles of beer, whiskey, wine, vodka, gin and rum.

Moserip described the treatment:

"The patient gets an injection of emetine, a drug that causes nausea. A nurse who is well-briefed on his physical condition pours as many as 32 shoots of liquor. He throws them down as fast as he can, which of course makes him vomit."

"During the year the patient comes back for five or six 'booster' treatments. He develops a horrible distaste for liquor. Where Pavlov's dog associated the bell with the food, the patient associates liquor with vomiting and becomes 'conditioned' to alcohol.

"You get a chance to do a lot of thinking during that first week. You feel pretty miserable and it makes you wonder what you're doing here. You start to realize you're doing something constructive instead of destructive and it gives you a lift. "The year-long course of treatment costs a minimum of $670 for a three-bed room — "about as much as some men spend on one good binge," Moserip said.

"Sure, a lot of people backslide. But we've saved others who were going to hell in a hand-basket. And seeing the gratitude of some of these people and their families gives me a bigger lift than any 3-pointer I ever kicked."

Indians Sell TV Rights

The Indianapolis Indians announced that television rights for the Sunday home games during the 1965 season had been granted to WFBS-TV, Channel 6.

WFBS-TV submitted a bid of $1,452 per game for the telecasting privilege of the 10 or 11 Sunday games which will be played in Victory Field next season.

In commenting on the successful bid by Channel 6, Eldon Vampbell, Vice-president and General Manager of WFBS-TV, stated, "We are delighted at the outcome of this year's bidding. Our bidding underscores our belief that Indianapolis is a major league city."

Max Schumacher, Indians' General Manager, in announcing that the bid submitted by WFBS-TV was the highest ever received by the Club for the Sunday home games, asserted, "we are very pleased to be associated with WFBS-TV in the television coverage of Indianapolis Indians games during the 1965 season. The solid bid by Channel 6 is both an indication of their sincere interest in community affairs and the continued popularity of Indianapolis Indians games during the 1965 season. The solid bid by Channel 6 is both an indication of their sincere interest in community affairs and the continued popularity of Indianapolis Indians baseball."

The 1965 Pacific Coast League season gets underway on Saturday, April 17, and closes on Monday, September 6.

Oilers To Pick 'Bama Players

NEW YORK UPI — The Houston Oilers, who got the first two picks in the American Football League draft today, were expected to try and spice up their offense by choosing Alabama quarterback Joe Namath and Baylor end Larry Elkint.

The AFL, enriched by a lucrative contract with the National Broadcasting Company and shrugging off reports that it staged an illegal early draft, began early this morning of the nation's leading collegiate players.

Mexico Open Is Underway

MEXICO CITY UPI — Three Americans, including former Masters champion Art Wall, shared the lead with Roberto De Vicenzo of Argentina today at the start of the third round of the Mexican Open golf tournament.

Wall, who won the Masters in 1959, shot a four-under-par 68 Friday to draw even with De Vicenzo, Jim Ferree and Al Besselink at 139. Wall also recorded the most spectacular shot of the round when he chipped in a 70-footer on the 15th hole.

Boat Tips

For a good many pleasure boaters, winter lay-up time is just around the corner.

Anyone who faces that sad situation might well remember that a good many chores performed now when a boat is hauled from the water will mean a faster return to the pleasures of boating next spring.

No. 1 task when a boat is hauled is to see that all surfaces are washed down. This is especially true of the bottom, which should be scrubbed or scraped to remove any accumulation of barnacles, scum, grass or other marine growth.

It also will make a good sanding and at least one coat of anti-fouling paint. Metal keels and bottoms should always be given one coat of paint for protection against rust.

Check the hull for cuts and gouges. A good plan is to fill these in now with compound and sand them down next spring before painting.

Check the propeller. And don't just look for obvious surface damage such as nicks and curls. Look also for evidence of galvanic corrosion, which appears as a reddish discoloration resembling rust. This means the zinc has been "plated" out by electrolytic action usually caused by proximity to other dissimilar metals on the hull and ruder.

In storing the boat, avoid extremes of dryness or humidity. And if a craft is stored outdoors, it should have a canvas cover which should be propped up to permit air circulation through the inside.

A storage cradle is preferable, but if none is available blocks can be used, making sure the boat is at least a foot off the ground to permit circulation under the hull.

For an outboard boat especially, a three-point suspension is the best to block up the hull. Rest the keel as near the bow as possible on a block and then at the transom place two blocks on the outer edges of the bottom directly under the transom billet.

Some experts recommended that a small block be placed about halfway along the keel. However, it should carry no load pressure, otherwise the boat might develop a "hook" which would affect its performance.

Don't store an outboard motor on a boat, if it must be done, block it up so that most of the weight is off the transom.

U. S. Coast Guard experts discovered again this summer—as they did a year ago—that the most frequent violation of legal boating requirements involves the numbering law.

These violations mostly include failure ever to have applied for a number, improper display of number and failure to carry aboard either a temporary or permanent certificate of number.

Most violators are guilty of improper display. Here is the law on that:

The number assigned must be painted or attached to both bows of the boat. Numbers must read from left to right, be of block character, of contrasting color to the background, and not less than three inches in height. Don't run letter and numbers together. Separate them, such as: CT 4122 C.

WEEKEND HANDYMAN

CIGAR HUMIDOR

Ever since 1492, when two of Columbus' sailors saw San Salvador natives smoking lighted rolls of tobacco leaves, cigars have brought pleasure to countless millions of men — and women.

Cigars are delicate and need some loving care if they're to remain at their aromatic, palatable best. They are completely dependent upon just the right amount of humidity and should be kept in humidors (air-tight, moisturized containers) that keep them fresh.

You can make a handsome humidor for your desk or den quite simply. Instructions, complete with drawings, are in the December issue of Popular Mechanics. Or, for a free reprint, write to the Cigar Institute of America, 1270 Avenue of Americas, New York, N. Y. 10020. The materials will cost you next to nothing, and the added smoking pleasure you'll enjoy will prove its worth.

MADAME NOBEL-OLEINIKOFF, niece of Alfred Nobel and the oldest living member of the Nobel family reminisces with Alistair Cooke, host-narrator for "The 1964 Nobel Prize Awards" special, to be presented on ABC-TV December 12, 7:30 EST. In her interview with Cooke, Madame Nobel-Oleinikoff recounted her early childhood impressions of her uncle, such as the Christmas when he sent her a toy, mechanical ape that could smoke cigarettes. For this historic American TV first, presented by Zenith Radio Corporation, Madame Nobel-Oleinikoff also related her impressions of the first Nobel Prize ceremony in 1901 and of W. C. Röntgen, discoverer of the X-ray who received the prize in physics.

Cookies Sparkle with Holiday Theme

Spell out the magic of Christmas with nutmeg - flavored, gaily decorated cookie treats. They're indispensible as gifts, snacks, lunch time desserts or as a source of special joy.

HOLIDAY HOSPITALITY

Christmas week is traditionally a time for hospitality—whether it be a tree-trimming party or just a get-together for the pure joy of the season. Whatever the occasion, hospitality should be homey—and nothing is more so than coffee and pie. A little cordial, a liqueur, or some other spirit will, of course, add greatly to that holiday elegance.

Luxury is the taste in the following recipe for pecan pie—richness of the season enhanced by a whisper of Bourbon or Rum. The pecans may be left whole, if desired, but using them sliced makes neater serving later. The pie is a good freezer—and make it early and store it away before the season's activities and excitement take too much time. Happy Holidays!

SPECIAL PECAN PIE

3 tablespoons Bourbon or Rum
1 cup sugar
1 1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons melted butter
2 cups thinly sliced pecans, (two 3-oz. cans)

1 unbaked pastry shell, 9 inches
3 eggs
3/4 cup heavy cream
1/2 cup dark corn syrup
1 teaspoon vanilla

Line 9-inch pie plate with pastry, flute edge and set aside. Beat eggs well. Stir in remaining ingredients. Pour mixture into unbaked pie shell. Bake in hot oven (400°) for 35 minutes, or until crust is browned and filling is slightly puffy. Cool, on rack, to room temperature before serving. (Filling will flatten a bit and become firm on cooling. If prepared long in advance, wrap in foil and freeze after cooling. When needed, bring out of freezer and let thaw to room temperature before serving.) Yield—8 servings.

TOPPING

(optional, but oh so good!)
1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped
Sugar to taste
1/2 teaspoon aromatic bitters (about 4 good dashes)
Blend whipped cream, sugar and bitters together. Give a good dollop to each wedge of pie. Enuf said.

Taxi Driver Shot To Death

INDIANAPOLIS UPI — A cabbie was found shot to death Friday night in his parked vehicle.

Authorities said Louis E. Briggs, 37, died early today in Marion County General Hospital without regaining consciousness.

Briggs, a driver for Red Cab, Inc., was found by a passer-by, about an hour after he was shot, at least twice in the head, police said.

Authorities theorized robbery may have been the motive, although $7 was found on Briggs. They said the killer may have fled in panic.

Another taxi driver told investigators he saw Briggs, a bridegroom of three months, with two male passengers Friday night.

Form good habits that will hold you firmly in constructive toil.

This Chain

... surely it is capable of drawing a heavy load. Another chain might hold a tiny cross or a precious gem in place. Still another might bind my arms in helplessness. But the old adage is true. "No chain is stronger than its weakest link." One link, the weakest link, governs the strength. For one weak link the heavy load breaks loose, or something precious is lost, or the manacled arms are free again. There, too, are chains of character, good habits, religious morals that make us strong and dependable in difficult hours. These attributes are as links of the chain. For life is of a piece and every day is part of the chain that counts toward everlasting. Then anchor the picture of the chain in the gallery of your meditation. Then form good habits that hold us firmly in constructive toil. Attend church regularly and support God's cause with your means. Put goodness, integrity and truthfulness into your personal character chain. Let God's church and His faithful help you forge a chain of strength and usefulness.

You In The Church
The Church In You
— form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.

This message is dedicated to the building of a more spiritual and a greater church going community under the auspices of the Greencastle Ministerial Association and is being sponsored by the following individuals and business firms who want, as their only return, to see more people attending church. The church needs your support. The community needs the church.
