Judge Hamilton Sentences Three In Circuit Court

James R. Craig, 28, James M. Land, 17, and Raymond Whitlow, 19, were sentenced by Judge Francis N. Hamilton in the Putnam County Circuit for theft Friday afternoon.

The three Indianapolis men were arrested on an affidavit charging them with stealing a 1959 Chevrolet wagon from the King-Morrison Foster Agency in Greencastle, December 24. According to the authorities the three had previously stolen an automobile in Indianapolis and used it to burglarize a tavern in Carbon. They were also involved in the hit-and-run of a parked automobile belonging to Elva Akins in this city.

Craig was sentenced to 1-10 years in the Indiana Reformatory. Whitlow and Land were sentenced to the Indiana State Farm for respective terms of nine months and 1 year.

In his pre-sentence investigation, Whitlow was recommended to be sent back to the military authorities at Fort Riley, Kansas, and face charges of AWOL. He also faces a federal charge of transporting a stolen vehicle across the state lines.

Top Price Paid For JFK Letters

NEW YORK UPI—Two letters written by the late President John F. Kennedy fetched higher prices at an auction Thursday night than a rare diplomatic letter signed by former Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

The Kennedy letters brought $2,700 and $2,500 respectively, the highest yet paid for a manuscript in the late President's own hand.

The Khrushchev letter to Bolivian President Victor Paz Estenssoro, which Bolivia claims was misappropriated from its archives, was knocked down to the Carnegie Bookshop for $1,675. The buyer said he had been prepared to go to $8,000.

THE GOOD OLD DAYS

Everyone who remembers the Good Old Days remembers the winter butchering. The calf or hog that had been fattened up would finally furnish meat for the long cold winter months ahead.

The farmers would make a community effort out of it and sometimes several families would participate. At that time each farmer had a complete set of meat knives that would do today's meat market justice.

Someone was designated to do the killing, usually it was either the strongest man or the best shot depending on how the animal was to be slaughtered.

Hardly a bit of the animal was wasted. The blood was saved to make "blood pudding", a delicacy of the times, and the hide was stretched and cured for leather. The head was saved to make head cheese and the brains were usually served in a meal that night.

The carcass of the animal was hung from a singletree, to allow the men to have better control over the cleaning. As the body was cut open, the entrails were caught in a large washtub and taken to the women for their part in the butchering.

Perhaps at this point an explanation is needed on the difference in the skinning of a hog and a calf. The hog, after it had been killed, would be placed in a large cauldron of boiling water and scraped with knives until the hair was removed. The calf was skinned in the normal manner and a slit was made behind the tendons on the back legs. The hooks of the singletrees were inserted in the slits and the calf was hung from a tree or low beam.

Different cuts of meat were separated into a pile and taken to the house where the women prepared them. The women cleaned the entrails if the butchered animal were a hog, and ground up that part of the meat from which sausage comes. As the rest of the afternoon progressed the ladies stuffed the sausage into the entrail and hung them in the smoke house where a hickory fire has been built.

The cauldron was cleaned, and large chunks of fat were rendered down into the lard which was stored in the cellar in large crock containers. From this rendering came the "cracklin's" which a good many children of today have never tasted. Cracklin's were the best part of butchering to the Good Old Days children and who hasn't burned his or her tongue in their haste.

The meat was hung with that already in the smokehouse and someone was assigned the task to keep the smoky fire burning. The remainder of the day was spent in cleaning up and talking about their Good Old Days.

The women by this time had prepared a meal fit for the Gods of Olympus.

Good Old Days? Well the meat from the butchering didn't cost you anything but time, which you had plenty of, and a meal, compared with the dollar-a-pound you pay for some meats today.

SNOW REMOVED FROM BANNER SIDEWALK

Larry Harris, an employee of The Daily Banner, seems to be enjoying his "ride" as he cleaned the snow from the sidewalk in front of the newspaper office yesterday. A machine like the one he is shown using "sure beats the old manual labor with a shovel," Larry commented.

Strangles Brother

FORT WORTH UPI—Kenneth Nixon, 13, told police Friday night he strangled his 11-year-old brother because "he tore up my Bible."

The victim, Billy Dean, was found Friday wrapped in an old blanket and hidden under a pile of lumber between two garages. The strangling occurred Tuesday when the boys were leaving for school.

Mr. Arnold died suddenly at his home, 1560 Bloomington Street, during the noon hour Friday.

He was born in Putnam County on April 24, 1896, the son of Alonzo and Nannie Herod Arnold.

The deceased served as Putnam County Sanitarian for several years.

He was a veteran of World War I and was a member of American Legion Post 58, the Elks Lodge, the Fillmore Masonic Lodge and the Scottish Rite.

He is survived by the wife, Gail; three brothers, Earl of Winchester, Carl of Greencastle, Lois of Danville, and nieces and nephews.

Elks Notice

Members of the Elks Lodge Lodge will meet at the club home at 7:30 this evening and then go to the Rector Funeral Home to pay last respects to Aaron Arnold.

Roads Blocked By Snow Drifts

The Putnamville State Police Post reported at 5:30 this morning that a number of roads in this vicinity were closed by drifts as result of Friday's snowstorm.

The police said several automobiles and trucks were marooned but that no serious accidents had occurred during the night in Putnam County.

Local residents also found themselves blocked in early this morning by the drifting snow. Unofficially, Friday's winter storm left an eight-inch blanket of white.

The Putnamville Post said road conditions north of Greencastle were even worse than those in Putnam County.

State and county highway crews and the city street department employees were all called out in an effort to alleviate the situation.

Burundi Leader Is Assassinated

BUJUMBURA, Burundi UPI—Pierre Ngendandumwe, non-Communist premier in this center of Red Chinese intrigue in Africa, was assassinated Friday night on the steps of a hospital here.

Burundi, which is bounded on the east by Lake Tanganyika and on the west by the Congo, is a portion of the former Belgian trust territory of Rusananda-Urundi. It has a population of about 2.5 million and is situated about 350 miles southeast of the Congo city of Stanleyville. Its neighbor to the south, Rwanda, is the other portion of the trust territory.

Ngendandumwe's death marked the second assassination of a Burundi premier in little more than three years.

LBJ Concerned

Although some of the increased outflow of dollars is regarded as temporary, the President probably will send Congress a special message on the subject, sources said today.

Meeting Held By Phone Directors

The Directors and families of the Clay County Rural Telephone Cooperative held their annual dinner meeting at Old Trail Inn, Thursday night, Jan. 14.

After a delicious meal and contests, a short business meeting of the directors was held.

The Clay County R.T.C. is providing dial telephone and other communication services in the areas of Poland, Patrickburg, Coal City, Bowling Green, Reelsville, Lena, Mt. Meridian, Belle Union, Eminence and Cloverdale. The system is providing service in five counties and is owned by the subscribers it serves.

The directors of the system have engaged Burns Engineering Company to prepare a new area coverage designs of the systems. The new design is to determine the construction and equipment necessary to reduce the number of subscribers on lines and to provide the necessary facilities to meet the increased needs of the subscribers.

The annual meeting of the subscribers will be held on Saturday night, February 6, at the Cloverdale school building. Other details of the meeting will be announced later.

Ruby's Appeal Set For March

AUSTIN, Tex. UPI—Jack Ruby's date in the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals has been set for March 10.

The one-time night club operator's lawyers, Joe Tonahill and Phil Guleson, will get 40 minutes to persuade the three judges to throw out the death sentence Ruby received for the murder of presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald.

Dallas Dist. Atty. Henry Wade will get 40 minutes to answer Ruby's appeal, then the defense will get a 15-minute rebuttal.

It could be as much as a year before the court rules. If Ruby loses, his attorneys are expected to turn to federal courts, including possibly the U. S. Supreme Court.

Poetry Is Memorial To Edward Walls

The Greencastle-Putnam County Library has recently received several volumes of poetry by James Whitcomb Riley, given to the library by Miss Lela Walls, in memory of her father, Edward Walls.

Mr. Walls was a member of the Library Board who helped plan and build the present building of the Greencastle Public Library.

Since James Whitcomb Riley's poetry is loved by all and is especially in demand by the school children, these added volumes of poetry will be used and appreciated by a great many readers.

Local agricultural leaders of Putnam County, including the ASC Office, SCS and Extension Service have been notified that the cropland Conversion Program under test in the county will be closed as of February 12.

Under this program farm owners and operators are offered the opportunity to retire cropland acres on their farms from feed-grain use to pasture or recreational use and will be paid from $38.00 to $81.00 per acre at the time of signing a contract, depending on productivity. The contracts are for five years and the payments for the 5-year period or can be received annually. Land diverted can be pastured or used for recreation.

Another incentive in the program offers signers an additional $26.00 per acre, for each acre diverted, in cost sharing on a 50-50 basis for most regular ACP practices such as pasture seeding, renovation, stock water facilities, ponds, cross fences, tree planting, etc.

Putnam County has been one of seven counties in the United States given the opportunity to test this type of program. The Agricultural Stabilization Office, (ASC), Extension Service and Soil Conservation Service personnel have made every effort to publicize and explain the program to groups and individuals in order that the farm operator could intelligently study the alternatives offered and make his own decision as to whether or not he wished to participate.

Participation has been moderate and some farm owners and tenants have visited the ASC offices in the Court House to study this proposal on their individual farm. Any farmer in Putnam County who has not been aware of this cropland Conversion Program and has not studied the provisions offered as they apply to his own farm is urged to contact the ASC Office (Fourth Floor Court House) immediately. It is hoped that near 100% of Putnam County farmers are aware of this test program and study it in relations to their farms. Results of Putnam County thinking and reactions may well have a real impact on future Government programs for the nation.

Asked if Churchill could survive, Moran told newsmen: "I don't think I am going to answer that."

The bulletin also was signed by Lord Brain, one of the world's foremost neurosurgeons.

Wants Assessors To Set Value Of Household Goods

INDIANAPOLIS UPI—Sen. Nelson Grills, D-Indianapolis, proposes that local assessors determine the value of household goods partly on the basis of the taxpayer's own estimate of "the true cash value" of his belongings.

Grills' bill was one of 20 introduced in the Indiana Senate in a brief session Friday. The author said it was aimed at correcting "the variation in assessment" which he called "the evil of the household goods tax."

The assessor would arbitrarily determine whether to use the taxpayer's own estimate of his goods' worth, or an amount based on five per cent of the assessed valuation of the house in which the goods is located.

The bill, Grills said, was aimed at skirting a situation which came up in the 1950's when the Indiana Supreme Court ruled unconstitutional a law enacted which set an arbitrary value on household goods by tying it to the value of the real estate improvements.

Grills said the bill is part of a package which is an effort to meet the Democratic platform pledges on household goods taxation. He said he is "confident you can't exempt household goods from taxation without a constitutional amendment."

Economy In Government

We believe that President Johnson really does want to economize and we're for that one hundred per cent. In his foreign aid message he sent to Congress, he asked $3.38 billion in overseas assistance. This is the lowest request in the 18-year history of the aid program. We only hope that Mr. Johnson will continue reductions of expenditures in every department of the Federal government. We are certain there are many millions of weary taxpayers who feel the same as we do in regards to this matter. Perhaps, the turning off the lights at the White House was a step in the right direction after all.

Truly, Time Marches On

Saigon, Peking, Laos, Malaysia, Borneo—these names may sound strange to some and considered far, far away. But, in this age of space orbiting and aircraft that travel three or four times faster than the speed of sound, distance is only a word. Even the old reliable "iron horse" has been replaced by high speed diesel locomotives and crack streamliners have greatly reduced time for passenger train travel. What a difference in today's giant jet planes and that of the Wright Brothers and those flimsy crates that were used in World War I. We remember the first time that we saw an airplane close up. It was flown here years ago by the late Maurice Sharp, brother of Mrs. Clara Jones. "Sharpie" and his plane really created some excitement among the townsfolk as well as those over Putnam County. Then came World War II and the Superfortresses and eventually the atom bomb. Truly, time marches on, and we are thankful that our nation has progressed with the passing of time.

Not Too Many Friends

From our desk, it does not appear that the United States has too many friends, especially in Asia and even in Central and South America. Apparently, most of the countries we have in mind have forgotten the financial backing, food, weapons and other forms of aid that the United States has been sending them ever since the end of World War II and during those war years. We Americans must be very gullible to think that this aid will eventually clear up differences on an international scale. We say this after reading of the rebuffs being handed us in South Viet Nam. American boys are being killed or wounded almost every day in this Communist-inspired conflict. Even the South Viet Nam officials seem to be lukewarm to the help the United States is giving them. Just what is the best thing to do is a big problem—a major headache—for those in the highest government circles. Let's hope they reach a decision soon. We feel that it will either be an all-out move in preference to a pullout move unless the situation should improve which is far from likely.

Top Rated TV Show Dropping

HOLLYWOOD UPI—Klunk! That noise you hear is the crash of "The Beverly Hillbillies." The No. 1 rated show for its first two seasons on the air has plummeted out of the top ten, and apparently is headed for new depths in its third year. Buddy Ebsen, who stars as Jed Clampett, examined the wreckage with the same equanimity with which he regarded the show's runaway success. He wasn't impressed then; he's not panicked now. In his dressing room at General Service studios he listened to a press agent explain: "For two years we were number one every week except four—and that even includes the summer re-runs. There's no explaining our drop in the ratings unless it's our switch in time slot." Ebsen shook his head. Like Jed, he weighs his words carefully. He's not a man of excuses or alibis.

"There's not much to say," the tall, angular Ebsen grinned. "I never got inflated ideas of how the show was doing from the ratings. It was flattering but I leaned over backward not to let it influence my evaluation of the series. Other people are more worried about the ratings than I am. I think the show is better than ever. And I'm still glad to be working." Ebsen's series was shifted by CBS from its old time slot at 9 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. Wednesdays. It is now opposite the last 30 minutes of "The Virginian" and "Shindig", neither of which are swamping the Hillbillies in the ratings, but they've cut in just enough to bounce the series from the top of the heap down to 30th spot.

A Line O' Type

After being pampered by the warm weather earlier in the month, the cold spell seems like a torture conceived by the demons. However, we were warned by the persimmon seed and the wooly worm, so what excuses can we give for complaining?

Ninety-nine percent of the Christmas decorations have been taken down. However, if you know where to look you can still see a wreath hanging from a window or catch a glimpse of a Christmas tree as you drive past a residence. Taking down a tree isn't nearly as much fun as putting it up.

One man we know has a deal with his wife. He'll put up the tree if she'll take it down. We don't know how popular the contract is but he'll probably end up taking it down anyway.

The city council brought up a suggestion that police and other officials look into the possibilities of additional and improved street lighting in sections of Greencastle. This, we feel, is an excellent suggestion and bears some merit on the part of the person who suggested it.

The Courthouse is getting a new face lifting on the inside. Painters have been at work painting portions of the ceiling and various trim. The paint job looks very nice and is quite a change from the "old" look.

Someone was arguing about the private automobiles that park in the alleys and block passage of vehicles that are legally allowed to travel them. A great many times a person will park in an alley intending to come right back after a short errand. However, more often than not the errand turns into an all-day affair and the car is left where it sits. The trucks that service merchants by the rear loading doors can not get through. This could possibly be one of the reasons that streets are blocked by large vans and semi-trailers.

It has been believed that Chivalry is dead. The Age of Chivalry may be long past but the acts remain, even in this hustle and bustle area. Men and some older boys still hold doors open for the ladies and still, on occasion, pick up dropped handkerchiefs. Elderly gentlemen are treated with the respect due them and ladies are still being helped across the streets by people other than Boy Scouts on a good deed. There are still a few instances where people of the ultra-hypersociety (now there's a word that defies definition) refuse to recognize the old traditions of respect and courtesy. Lets hope that social laws are not re-written to change the esteem of our fellow man.

Something similar might have happened in this hand if West had opened the deuce of diamonds. (A club lead would have given South his ninth trick without a struggle.) How could West lead a diamond without appearing to have a real interest in the suit? When the hand was played in an exhibition match in France last year, Samuel Stayman led the six of diamonds instead of the deuce. This kind of "top of nothing" lead can usually be read by an alert partner.

READING THE LEAD
The six of diamonds could be a fourth-best only if West's suit were headed by Q-J-9. But then Stayman would have led the queen rather than the six. Hence Mitchell read the lead for what it was. It was clear that declarer could take four hearts and two diamonds. If he got a spade trick also, he would rattle off the first nine tricks. Mitchell therefore rose with the ace of spades and switched to clubs, the only suit in which his partner could have a real interest. Since it was vital to grab four club tricks at once, Mitchell had to lead the jack of clubs.

South would have played the eight of clubs if Mitchell had led a low club, and then the contract would have been safe. The lead of the jack of clubs developed four fast club tricks and defeated the contract.

Answer: Bid one diamond. The hand is clearly worth an opening bid, and the only question is whether to bid diamonds or spades. Avoid an opening bid in a very weak four-card major suit when some other bid is available.

We think it's the greatest pep pill since weekends—and that goes for the other Chevelle V8's too. The 195-hp. And the 250- and 300-hp jobs we can order for you.

And of course if power doesn't sell you right off, maybe Chevelle's short turning radius and overall handling ease will. Or its Full Coil suspension ride. Or its Super Sport all-vinyl interior with wall-to-wall carpeting. Or even its huge 27-cubic-foot trunk.

Whatever it is that you think might make a Chevelle loyalist out of you, you'll never really know until you get into one—and then try to get out again.

Vada Pinson Signs With Reds

By United Press International
Vada Pinson, one of the fastest men in major league baseball, is almost as swift with a pen as he is with his feet.

The 26-year-old Pinson, one of the premier centerfielders in the National League, wasted no time affixing his signature to a Cincinnati Red contract this year despite the fact that the pact called for a "substantial" cut in pay.

Although the salary was lower this time around, Pinson actually signed faster than he did last year when he received a raise which boosted him into the vicinity of $35,000. Pinson was one of six Reds to return signed contracts Thursday. It was not until Jan. 23 that Pinson agreed to terms in 1964.

In other major developments, second baseman Bobby Richardson received a modest increase from the New York Yankees and the Philadelphia Phillies added catcher Gus Triandos to the fold for 1965. Other Reds who joined Pinson in signing contracts were pitchers Bill Henry and Gary Lindholtz, outfielders Tommy Harper and Johnnie Fenderson and catcher Tom Tischinski.

Game Canceled

Due to the snowstorm, the basketball game scheduled in the Greencastle gym last night between the Tiger Cubs and Terre Haute Schulte was cancelled by agreement of officials of both schools.

Reds Hottest Club

By United Press International
All the teams in the American Hockey League that have been tacking the Providence Reds for granted had better re-visit their thinking right now, because the Reds are about the hottest club on skates at the moment.

Takes 47 Years

NEW YORK UPI — It took almost 47 years, but Brooklyn Dodger outfielder Zack Wheat is finally being saluted for his attainments in 1918 when he won the National League batting title with a .335 mark.

Wheat will receive the retroactive award from the New York chapter of the Baseball Writer's Association at the chapter's 42nd annual dinner and show at the American Hotel on Jan. 31. The award was established to recognize past performances of stars who went unsung in their day.

Coach Resigns

LOS ANGELES UPI — The Los Angeles Rams, who made one quick coaching switch that caught observers by surprise, today were reported looking for another assistant to head Coach Harland Svare.

Offensive line Coach Ray Wietecha resigned Friday and was immediately replaced by Bill Austen who quit the Green Bay Packers a few days ago after having been Vince Lombardi's line coach for six seasons.

Third Party Asked

CHICAGO UPI — The National Collegiate Athletic Association NCAA and Amateur Athletic Union AAU not on speaking terms, a third party will be asked to present an NCAA proposal which the AAU already has spurned.

In a rather formal chain of events, NCAA delegates to the U. S. Track and Field Federation will be asked to ask federation members to ask the AAU to meet with the NCAA.

UFL Considering

NEW YORK UPI — The United Football League will consider two courses when it meets today—expansion or a merger with the Atlantic Coast League.

Directors of the seven-team minor pro football league are split on a proposal merger that would call for four or five of the strongest UFL entries to blend with the best ACL clubs to form a new league.

Hour of Decision

NEW YORK UPI —The hour of decision arrived for Andy Robustelli, but it took many minutes to mull over the fact that he finally had enough of professional football.

The Giants were granted a wish last fall when Robustelli renounced an intention to retire and bolstered the New York defense during the 1964 season. But Friday the 38-year-old defensive reached a conclusion.

On Probation

SAN DIEGO, Calif. UPI — Al Besselink, a veteran of the pro golfing tour, today was on a year's probation for allegedly making wagers in violation of PGA rules.

The penalty was announced by the PGA subcommittee on appeals which said it was imposed for "statements detrimental to PGA tournament players."

Gurney Breaks Track Record

RIVERSIDE, Calif. UPI — The big rush was on today at Riverside raceway with 29 qualifying positions open for Sunday's $65,000 NASCAR Gran National 500 mile stock car race, first major event of the 1965 season.

With 15 places filled in qualifying runs Thursday and Friday, the bulk of the 44-car field was scheduled to be set in daylong trials today. Sunday's race for the purse money gets underway at 11 a. m. The nation's top drivers had as a mark to shoot at the track record posted Friday by Dan Gurney of Costa Mesa, Calif., who turned the 2.7-mile track in 103.957 miles an hour.

He broke the mark set 24 hours earlier by Junior Johnson of Ronda, N. C., who averaged 102.846 miles an hour to shatter the record posted last year by Fred Lorenzen of Elmhurst, Ill., of 102.531 miles an hour.

Gurney drove a 1965 Ford in his record trial run.

ASTRONAUT TO RACE IN BOAT—Planning to enter two boats in the 100-mile Channel Derby, astronaut Gordon Cooper takes a practice spin at Houston, Tex. ## AFL Teams Voted To Hold Special Meeting

HOUSTON UPI—The American Football League may give in to growing pains this summer, but owners are not ready to be specific about when and where—just yet.

Owners of AFL teams voted Thursday to hold a special meeting, probably next summer, to consider expanding.

Lamar Hunt, chairman of the league's expansion committee, said he expected the special session to "be after our summer meeting—usually in May or June—or around that time."

He said that people are driving him to distraction with calls to suggest their city for an AFL club.

"I put in hours each day talking to people and groups around the country who want to invest—even millions—in professional football," Foss said.

"The other day I opened my mail and a check fell out. It was for a million bucks—just about as casually as if somebody had said, 'Hi Joe.' It was earnest money, like many people are offering to get a team in their city."

UCLA Wins 12 Straight

By United Press International

UCLA has beaten taller teams smaller teams, faster teams, defensive-minded teams and now a slower-than-slow team.

California, playing even slower than its usual ball-control style, was routed by the Bruins Friday night 76-54 for UCLA's 12th straight win and 42nd of its last 43 over a two-year span.

The game was close at the half, with UCLA out in front 35-29, but the top ranked Bruins exploded after intermission with nine consecutive points for a comfortable 44-29 lead. It was the patented UCLA zone press that did the damage along with Gail Goodrich's lay-up resulting from pilfered Golden Bear passes. Goodrich led all scorers with 23 points.

New Record Set Down Under

SYDNEY, Australia UPI — Australian middle distance runner Ron Clarke set a world record in the 5,000 meter run today when he sped to victory in 13 minutes, 34.6 seconds at an interclub athletic meeting.

Clarke, who already holds world records in the 10,000 meters, three-mile run and six-mile event, broke the old record of 13:35.0 set by Russia's Vladimir Kuts in Rome on Oct. 13, 1957.

Boston Wins 13th

By United Press International
Mighty Boston had its 13th consecutive National Basketball Association victory today, while the new-look San Francisco Warriors had their 12th straight loss.

Both streaks nearly ended Friday night, but mighty Boston finally overcame a 15-point deficit to edge Philadelphia, 104-95. And the Warriors played without Wilt Chamberlain and dropped an 89-87 toughie to New York in the closing seconds. In other action, Cincinnati made it six straight wins with a 124-106 romp over Los Angeles, who played without the injured Jerry West.

Winning Combinations

To horse players these days, striking the twin-double jackpot is the dream they live by. At New York's Yonkers Raceway last October the bank was broken two nights in a row. Ernest Dahlgren Jr., a 21-year-old Long Island delicatessen clerk, and his partners, held the winning combination. They picked up $171,084 on their first winning ticket and $5,397 on their second.

Bronx barkeep Charles Corona's winning combination was his recipe for a Bronx cocktail: One jigger lemon juice, one jigger orange juice, one jigger Old Grand-Dad Bourbon; shake with cracked ice; strain into chilled cocktail glass. Mr. Corona's drink is now the first official Bronx Cocktail in history. It was first made in the mixed drink competition to mark Bronx County's 50th anniversary.

LEAK IN THE ROOF?—No, what appears to be a rainstorm in the new domed stadium in Houston, Tex., actually is a test conducted by engineers (lower left) to check direction and force of air from the air conditioning system. A smoke bomb was set off in an air shaft so the engineers could watch how the air flows. The stadium seats 45,000 for baseball, football.

CENTENNIAL SCRAPBOOK: Year of Epochal Decision: 1865

Water-color of the interior of Fort Fisher during the decisive bombardment. By the noted British artist, Frank Vizetelly, who reported the war for Illustrated London News.

3-A To ease Sherman's logistical problems and provide an alternate base if Sherman should encounter serious resistance in his advance from Savannah up through the Carolinas, Grant ordered a new expedition against Fort Fisher and Wilmington. With these taken, Union forces would then advance from Wilmington and New Bern to Goldsboro, giving Sherman access to a shorter supply line when he reached the latter.

Ben Butler's December foray against the fort which controlled the mouth of Cape Fear River and the last major Confederate blockade-runner haven, had been a botch (one reason for his removal from command of the Army of the James on Jan. 7). A. H. Terry was sent off from the James Jan. 7 with 8,000 men, escorted from the Cape by D. D. Porter's 60 ships of the North Atlantic Blockading Squadron. The infantry included Negro troops who had conducted themselves well in the earlier attack.

Bad weather delayed the armada's arrival off the peninsula until the 12th. Warned of the enemy's approach, the Confederate district commander re-enforced the Fisher garrison, giving it a total of 1,800 men with 47 heavy guns. They withstood for two days the battering bombardment by Porter's ships that began at midnight the 12th, as a cover for landing of the army's men on the outer shore. They made desperate counter-attacks on the invaders. But Sunday, Jan. 15, they had to give up.

Wilmington itself held out until Jan. 22. The Confederates' most vital supply line was cut forever.

Efforts Called 'Abject Failure'

MIAMI UPI — An American anti-Castro organization called U. S. efforts to strangle Cuba economically an "abject failure" and forecast a huge increase in the Communist island's sugar production this year.

The Citizen's Committee For a Free Cuba, a non-partisan and non-profit group which claims wide intelligence contracts on the island, took issue with predictions that Premier Fidel Castro is likely to collapse or be overthrown because of economic stress.

Paul Bethel, the committee's executive secretary, commented on recent statements by Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., and other administration figures suggesting the Castro regime will crumble, perhaps this year, from economic chaos.

"The committee's judgement is exactly the opposite," Bethel said, "unless there is some presently unenforced plan besides our current Cuba policy."

Castro, in a Havana New Year's speech, said Cuba expects to produce 5 1/2 million tons of sugar this year. This would be about two million tons more than was reported produced in 1964.

Halleck Moves To New Office

WASHINGTON UPI — Rep. Charles A. Halleck, R-Ind., became the first House Member today to move into the new $86 million Rayburn Office Building.

The 64-year-old Halleck, replaced as House GOP leader by Rep. Gerald R. Ford, R-Mich., on opening day of the 89th Congress, gives up to Ford the ornate, high-ceilinged leader's suite—with its unparalleled view of the mall—in the Capitol Building.

However, Halleck got his choice of a number of plush three-room layouts in the Rayburn Building. He picked one looking out across Independence Ave. and the Capitol grounds to the Capitol itself.

Halleck wisely took the day off today and left the moving problems to members of his staff. They found the building still under construction in many minor aspects.

Peace is a matter of Spirit and of Sacrificial Behavior.

Williams Newspaper Features
P. O. Box 231, Ft. Worth, Tex.

WORLD PEACE

WORLD PEACE! That cry comes straight from every heart today. We must not lose heart, we must continue to believe in God and His good will for His world. War is wrong! War is contrary to all the teachings of Jesus. God is no more satisfied than we are with our war-torn earth. Our Lord is the Prince of Peace; His ways are the ways of truth and love. He is calling us to work with Him more faithfully and more intelligently. We have been war-making instead of peace-making.

HAVE we trusted that somebody else would make Peace? Have we trusted that Kings would bring about peace? Their very position makes them war-makers. Our demand that they bring prosperity to the people at the expense of another is a war demand. Have we trusted armies to make Peace? Again we have erred. Their very business is war-making; they must subdue other armies. Have we expected that economic treaties would make Peace? Again, the business of the world is highly competitive; investors demand profits from their money and their toil...profits that come from economic victory. INTERNATIONAL CONFLICT CAN BE SOLVED; WORLD PEACE MUST COME. How?

CHRIST is our answer, and we must answer to Christ. RELIGION IS OUR HOPE; RELIGIOUS PEOPLE WHO FOLLOW THE GREAT TEACHER AND FRIEND AND SAVIOR WILL MAKE PEACE. The Cross is the symbol of Peace. SWORDS MUST GIVE WAY TO PLOUGHSHARES, AND SPEARS MUST BE REFASHIONED INTO PRUNING-HOOKS. What is that word you spoke yesterday? Did it make for Peace or for strife? When you finished the business transaction, did you leave a friend on the other side of the bargain? THE PRINCE OF PEACE IS NOT A RULER OF MEN, BUT A FRIEND AND A SUFFERING SERVANT. Are you and I willing to suffer in the cause of Peace? We have suffered enough for war. Our boys want to live, and to live abundantly; to construct, not destroy; to love, not hate. Peace will cost us much; kind words, generous dealings, goodwill, helpfulness and patience and self-control. Do we pray first for our own success, or for Peace? God is the Peace-maker; Peace-makers are the children of God. Grace and Peace belong together; graciousness of spirit will go ahead of abiding Peace. Are you and I gracious toward every other person? PEACE IS A MATTER OF SPIRIT AND OF SACRIFICIAL BEHAVIOR. We are being watched. Shall we make sacrifice for Peace? Shall we forget the Crown and the Thorn? Shall we carry a cross?

This message is dedicated to the building of a more spiritual and a greater church going community under the auspices of the Greencastle Ministerial Association and is being sponsored by the following individuals and business firms who want, as their only return, to see more people attending church. The church needs your support. The community needs the church.
