Less than two months out of a Soviet prison camp, 24-year-old Peter Landerman will recount his experiences at DePauw University Tuesday night.

Speaking publicly for the first time since his release last month after 16 months of imprisonment, Landerman is scheduled to talk at 7 p. m. in the Memorial Student Union building.

His topic is "Soviet Prison, an American Student and a Guitar." It is being sponsored by the University's Student Senate.

Landerman, whose plight was subject of a Saturday Evening Post story February 13, was arrested in Russia in August, 1963, in connection with the accidental death of a Soviet citizen.

Touring with a group of 13 American graduate students, Landerman, late at night, struck a Soviet pedestrian near Minsk. Soviet officials at first assured him he would be free to continue his European trip, but when the victim died five days later, Landerman was detained and the rest of the group ordered to leave the country.

A Soviet court subsequently found the California native guilty of negligence in the traffic death and sentenced him to three years in prison.

Despite great diplomatic pressure being exerted, beginning with the local justice in Minsk and stretching ultimately to Premier Khrushchev, Landerman was not released. Then, suddenly, and less than a month after Post presented his case, he was released and returned to his home in Riverside, Calif.

A multi-linguist who speaks fluent Russian, Landerman will devote a portion of his program Tuesday to a repertoire of Russian folk songs acquired from his fellow Russian inmates.

A follow-up story on Landerman is planned by Post magazine.

He said there was no doubt that exile Dominican President Juan Bosch and the rebel leaders were not Communists but that Reds joined the rebellion "because there is no doubt Communists should be fighting imperialists."

The Mail That Didn't Go Through

(From The Brazil Times)

Although officials of the Post Office tried to defend the practice of confiscating the mail of tax delinquents as a means of obtaining income, Harvey Hannah, deputy general counsel of the P.O., admitted, "we've been doing it wrong."

Postmaster John Gronouski is in favor of legislation to outlaw the practice, which is mockery of Constitutional Government and is as flagrant a wrong as any indulged in by tax cheats. There is something sacred about a sealed envelope and it's reassuring to learn that some of our lawmakers think so too.

The issue was brought up by Rep. Durward Hall (R-Mo.) and a Senate Judiciary subcommittee has promised that action will be forthcoming to stop the unreasonable seizure of mail as a method of acquiring unpaid taxes, and which the IRS has been reluctant to discontinue.

Due to inequities and favoritism, public confidence in our tax system is nearing rock-bottom. Seizing the mail is a glaring injustice and one more example that government "for the people" has been on the wane. If the Administration would concentrate some attention on a "war for good government," there's no doubt that misuse of authority could be corrected and faith in the "American way" restored.

One-Eyed Jack Refrigerator

Spurred by today's trend to home entertainment in family recreation rooms, a national appliance manufacturer has introduced a line of smaller refrigerators that are colorfully decorated in "Original" designs.

If Kelvinator has its way, the "second refrigerator" will bear such designs as a Phone Booth, a One-Eyed Jack playing card, (shown above) or a "Westward Ho" covered wagon. These are among the nearly three dozen motifs offered. Others include such themes as Alma Mater, centering a school emblem on its exterior, and Draw One, showing a typical Thurbesque character holding a golden glass that serves as a handle.

The company has broken the tradition of stereotyped enamel refrigerator fronts, offering such materials as real and simulated fur, leather, wood, laminated plastic and vinyl.

The custom "Originals" are also available in the company's full size refrigerator lines ranging up to the Foodarama, a 22-cubic foot refrigerator-freezer. Seven of the designs are available in matching range and dishwasher.

Kelvinator, which pioneered the electric refrigerator 50 years ago, believes today's homemakers are ready and willing to try something different.

"My partner is a coward," the average declarer thinks as he stares at the dummy. "He should jump to four notrump instead of bidding three clubs. We'd get to seven notrump instead of just six. Will I tell him off!"

While declarer is planning what to say when the hand is over, the hand is over. Declarer wins the first trick in dummy with the ace of spades and leads the deuce of diamonds, and that is the end. South is down one.

South has to switch speeches. Instead of saying that the odds were 7 to 1 in favor of a grand slam, the must complain about the horrible breaks in both of the key suits.

SAFETY PLAY
An expert would not waste his time planning a denunciation of his partner. "What can go wrong?" the expert wonders, as he plans the play. "Can I make sure of five diamond tricks even against the worst possible break?"

"If all five diamonds are at my left, I'm all right if I begin the diamonds by leading a low card toward dummy. If West takes his jack, dummy gets the ten later. If West plays low, the ten wins a trick immediately.

"If all five diamonds are at my right, dummy's ten loses to the jack. But later I can lead the other diamond from dummy and take a finesse with the eight."

So the expert wins the first trick with the king of spades and leads a low diamond at the second trick. Maybe the secret is that the expert thinks about the hand instead of what he will say to his partner.

DAILY QUESTION
Partner opens with one club, you respond one diamond and he bids one spade. It is again up to you, holding: Spade Q J 10 7 Heart Q 10 4 Diamond J 9 7 6 5 Club 6.

Answer: Bid two spades. Game is unlikely, but possible. In any case, you can afford this mild raise. Partner should not seek game unless he has a very good hand.

WUS Carnival Set For Friday

The World University Service will present its annual carnival on Friday, May 7, starting at 7 p.m. on the East College lawn of DePauw's campus. If it rains, the carnival will be held in the Junior High gymnasium. The festivities will include games for everyone, a frog race, and an auction. Booths will be provided by each of the university's living units, and a trophy will be awarded for the best booth. There will also be clowns with free balloons for the children. The activities will be concluded with a dance beginning at 10 p.m. on the Union Building terrace.

The W.U.S. global program of action coordinates the contribution of innumerable students and educators of all continents in a united effort toward the material and intellectual advancement of the world university community. The funds raised from this year's carnival will go toward providing a hospital for the impoverished area of Hong Kong. In its 60 square miles of usable land, more than 3,500,000 persons are crowded, including over 1,000,000 recent refugees from mainland China. Everyone is welcome to attend this worthwhile project.

Voting Rights Bill Debated

WASHINGTON UPI — The Senate, badly divided over a ban on state and local poll taxes, planned to resume debate today on a bill to guarantee Negro voting rights.

Democrats and Republican leaders sought support for a compromise substitute bill which would eliminate the anti-poll tax provisions, written into the bill by their liberal colleagues who wanted a strong bill.

However, the chances for an early showdown in the voting rights battle depended also on southern senators who want no bill at all. These senators would naturally support opposition to the bill in its present form.

Instead of banning poll taxes, the substitute proposal would direct the Justice Department to seek an immediate test of the constitutionality of state and local voting assessments.

Foreign News Commentary

By Joseph W. Grigg

PARIS UPI — An unusual little news item from Tass in Moscow, later confirmed by the French Foreign Office, announced that France and Outer Mongolia have decided to establish relations.

This might appear to be just a diplomatic curiosity if it were not for the fact that President Charles de Gaulle of France never makes such moves without a specific purpose and without careful thought beforehand.

It's doubtful if one Frenchman in 10,000 could stand up and say with confidence where Outer Mongolia is — let alone why France should have diplomatic relations with her.

If he checked the reference works, he would find that its official name is the Mongolian People's Republic, that it has a population estimated of a little over a million and that its capital is Ulan Bator.

What the reference works probably would not mention is that Outer Mongolia is one of Moscow's proteges and a major pawn in the power struggle in the Communist world between Russia and Red China.

Therefore, the fact that De Gaulle has decided to establish diplomatic relations could be interpreted — and probably correctly — as a friendly gesture towards Moscow.

The timing is significant too. The announcement was made while Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko is in Paris for talks designed to warm up previously rather chilly relations between France and the Soviets and to sound out possibilities of future diplomatic cooperation.

In fact, it was announced just a few hours before Gromyko was meeting with De Gaulle. That is why this cannot be written off simply as a piece of diplomatic tidying up by the French Foreign Office.

Negotiations for establishment of diplomatic relations have been going on for about three months. That would coincide almost exactly with the period during which Paris and Moscow were beginning to realize that in the diplomatic field their interests coincide to a remarkable extent.

So De Gaulle's decision, apparently out of the blue, to set up diplomatic relations with Ulan Bator would seem to be another friendly gesture towards Moscow, timed for the best possible effect.

Boat Capsizes, Seven Drowned

WOODSTOCK, Ga. UPI — Seven members of three related families drowned Sunday when a small overboarded boat nosed under at the start of a pleasure ride on Lake Allatoona.

One of the victims was a father who watched the boat sink from shore and drowned trying to swim to the scene and save his son.

A nearby boatsman rescued one of the four children aboard the flooded boat and also picked up another would-be rescuer who became exhausted before reaching the floundering victims.

The dead were identified by a funeral home as Alton Andrew Elgie Giddeons, 28; his son, Bobby, 5, and his brother, Jack C. Giddeons, 35; Danny Huffman 18, his sister, Margaret, 11; and two sisters, Peggy, 10 and Diane Clayton, 8, all of near Woodstock.

Jack Giddeons, his wife, Ann, 26, and Elgie Giddeons' pregnant wife, Nell, 20, watched the tragedy from the shore, about 150 yards away. Jack immediately dived into the lake and struck out for the capsized boat.

A Popular Treat

Lunchtime Fare Is Found In Cans

Lunch, often considered the "little meal" of the day, must be nourishing and quick to prepare. Whether it be for the children scampering home from school or hubby home for a fast bite to eat, the time is often hectic.

Brand name convenience foods are most efficient in times like these. All set to go, right from their containers, the busy homemaker needs only to heat and serve or add an extra touch if she likes.

High in popularity as lunchtime fare is soup... canned condensed soup. Served piping hot and accompanied by a sandwich, it's a welcome and nutritious treat for everyone.

Try this tasty soup combination with a corned beef sandwich.

Tomato Sour Cream Soup
2 1/2 cup finely shredded cabbage
1/4 cup chopped onion
1 small clove garlic, minced
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 can (10 3/4 ounces) condensed tomato soup
1/2 cup sour cream
1 cup water
Generous dash celery seed

In saucepan, cook cabbage, onion, and garlic in butter until onion is tender. Add soup. Gradually blend in sour cream and water; add celery seed. Heat, stirring now and then. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

These Are Your Questions

WHAT is the real meaning of colic in infants?

Colic is one of the vague terms that pass from generation to generation of mothers without any specific identification with a real medical condition.

Technically, "colic" means a painful abdominal spasm. Yet, in infants the term is loosely used to refer to any variations from normal habits of eating, sleeping, playing or crying.

Colic is not as much a disease as it is a problem situation for new parents, especially of the first born child.

What are the causes of spots before the eyes?

This complaint frequently occurs after middle age. Almost always they are produced by changes in the vitreous fluid in one of the chambers of the eyeball.

In most instances these spots are annoying but not dangerous to sight.

However, it is imperative that a complete examination by an eye specialist is made to rule out the possibility of any underlying, more serious, cause for these spots.

These spots produce a great deal of anxiety because they persist for a long time. Reassurance by the eye doctor can bring welcome comfort despite their persistence.

Is tetanus the same as tetanus?

No. They are completely unrelated.

Tetanus is a disorder of the chemistry of the blood, particularly involving the balance of calcium and potassium. Disease of the parathyroid glands and rickets are two of the most common causes of tetanus.

Tetanus, or lockjaw, is caused by the germ Clostridium tetani. This once dangerous disease can now be considered almost eradicated because of the successful immunization against it by early and repeated vaccinations.

Is warm climate beneficial for rheumatism or arthritis?

Patients with these conditions very often say that they feel better and are more comfortable and definitely less distressed by warm temperature and dry climate.

There is, however, no real scientific explanation for this feeling of well-being.

People should never uproot their homes and business to move to any climate for these or any other medical condition without a long trial period in a new climate.

It can be very distressing psychologically, and exceedingly expensive, to come to the disappointing realization that climate alone is not the total answer to a medical problem.

While Dr. Coleman cannot undertake to answer individual letters, he will use readers' questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Coleman in care of this newspaper.

GHS TOOK FIRST IN DISTRICT JUDGING

Putnam County 4-H and FFA members once again took first and second place honors in the 4-H and FFA District Dairy Judging Contest on Saturday, April 24. The top placing team, as shown, was composed of Art Perkins, Stanley Hurst, Louis See and Jonathan Sinclair, representing Greencastle High School and coached by Gene Akers, vocational agriculture teacher. Their team score was 689 points.

BAINBRIDGE TAKES SECOND IN DISTRICT JUDGING

The second placing team was from Bainbridge High School, composed of Philip Clodfelter, Gary Judy, Edgar Steele and Gary Leonard. Gerry Proctor also participated as an individual. Their team score was 678 points and they were coached by Norman Evens, vocational agriculture teacher. This is the second year in succession that Putnam County Dairy teams earned both first and second place in district judging. This is indicative of the effort put forth by both boys and coaches, for this is difficult to accomplish. Individual scoring in the district contest for dairy were: Edgar Steele, third individual with 251 points. Louis See, 4th individual with 249 points. Art Perkins, 6th individual with 235 points. Gerry Proctor, 7th individual with 234 points. Gary Leonard, 9th individual with 224 points. These were out of a possible 300 points. Both of these teams will represent Putnam County during the State Fair in the State 4-H and FFA Dairy Judging Contest.

15 More Killed In State Traffic

By United Press International
Two collisions killing three persons each ballooned Indiana's weekend traffic death toll to at least 15 and increased the 1965 count to 429 compared to 352 a year ago. A head-on collision of two cars on a hill two miles north of Freedom in Owen County Sunday night killed three members of a South Bend family and injured nine others, two critically. State police said Mrs. Peggy Ann Clark, 28; her daughter June, 10, and a son Brian, 2, were killed when she drove into the path of another car on a hill on Indiana 67 while attempting to pass a big truck. Mrs. Clark's husband, Bobby Joe, 30, was hospitalized in Bloomington in serious condition. In fair condition were two of their children, Phyllis, 6, and Bobby Jr., 7. The other car was driven by Edward J. Ferguson, 36, Evansville. He and three children were also in fair condition while his wife, Arleen, 36, and daughter Joan, 2, were in critical condition. The other three - fatality wreck occurred Saturday night in Vigo County when a pickup truck rammed a truck hauling logs on U. S. 150. Killed were Louis Kosko, 41, Terre Haute, and sons Ronald, 12, and Gary, 15. Eight persons were killed Sunday, including Jack Hergenrother, 36, an Indianapolis auto sales executive. He was killed on Indiana 234 about two miles west of its junction with Indiana 13 in Hancock County when his motorcycle crashed. Another motorcycle accident killed Gordon Williams, 22, Bloomington. He missed a curve on Indiana 54 about seven miles east of Bloomfield. William E. Smith, 20, Indianapolis, died Sunday in a capital city hospital of injuries he suffered when his car rammed a Baltimore & Ohio Railroad underpass on the city's west side.

LBJ In Report To Congress

WASHINGTON UPI—President Johnson told Congress today U. S. foreign economic and military aid is helping other nations "to greater economic prosperity and social stability." Johnson made a report to Congress on America's $3.5 billion foreign assistance program for fiscal year 1964. Of this figure, $1.2 billion was for military aid. The goals of the U. S. aid program, Johnson said, were to "alleviate poverty, starvation and disease."

Ball Outlines Stand By U.S.

LONDON UPI—U. S. Under Secretary of State George W. Ball said today the United States would "fight on" in Viet Nam rather than sign a "meaningless agreement" with the Communists.

Ball addressed the opening meeting of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) ministerial council called to shore up allied defenses against Communist aggression in Viet Nam and other trouble spots in the SEATO theater. He came here as a last-minute substitute for Secretary of State Dean Rusk, who had to remain in Washington because of the crisis in the Dominican Republic.

"Let there be no doubt about the threat in Viet Nam and the nature of the struggle now being waged," Ball told foreign ministers of the eight-nation alliance. "The evidence establishes beyond the shadow of a doubt that South Viet Nam is the victim of deliberate aggression—a Communist war of national liberation."

Ball said the Communist attempt to explain the fighting as a civil war was "a hollow disguise." He said the United States did not enjoy bombing North Viet Nam and added that the U. S. didn't like keeping thousands of its citizens under arms either.

George Meany Backs Johnson

WASHINGTON UPI—AFL-CIO President George Meany today backed President Johnson's policy on the Dominican Republic and Viet Nam. He urged all of organized labor to do the same. Meany told the opening session of the legislative conference of the AFL-CIO's Building and Construction Trade Department that both fights represent "the struggle of tyranny versus freedom."

WASHINGTON "MAYOR" SLIGHTLY EMBARRASSED
OFFICIAL FROM MOSCOW EXTOLS HIS DEMOCRACY

By HENRY CATHCART
Central Press Washington Writer

WASHINGTON—The "mayor" of Washington, D.C., had an "uncomfortable time of it recently. He had to sit and "take it" as one of his counterparts, a deputy mayor of Moscow, U. S. S. R., explained how democracy works in the Russian city elections.

The Moscow official was in the nation's capital on a visit and of course paid a call on Walter Tobriner, one of three D.C. commissioners who run the city of Washington by appointment of the president and with the ever-present assistance of the Congress.

Washington residents, unlike those of every other city and village in the U. S., are not permitted to elect their own local officials. But the Russian was helpful.

He explained how elections were conducted, the benefits that derived to the citizens by virtue of their right to select their own representatives, and the fact that unworthy officials could be voted out of office, as well as voted in.

Obviously, the Russian was getting quite a kick out of explaining democratic processes to the top official of the capital of the greatest democracy on the face of the earth. Just as obvious was Tobriner's discomfort as he had to sit through the verbal attack on the Washington system.

The principal difficulty was that the Russian's words contained enough truth, particularly about the failure to extend the vote to Washingtonians, to force Tobriner to maintain silence.

Certainly, Washington and the nation have progressed sufficiently to trust residents of the city to make reasonable choices of its officials. What is needed is a change in the federal law that will permit at least as much political freedom as is enjoyed by Muscovites.

BEAUTY, BEAUTY—As record numbers of new cars pour out of Detroit, record numbers of old cars are going on the junk heaps throughout America. And junkmen are becoming sensitive about charges that their car-stripping activities are defacing the American scenery.

It's gotten so that they're worried about being socially acceptable in their communities and wondering what they can do to become worthy of membership in local Chambers of Commerce.

An outfit once known as the Auto Wreckers Association has changed its name to the Auto Dismantlers Association. Two of its neatly dressed representatives came to Washington recently to explain what can be done to hide those unsightly, rusting auto shells from beauty-hungry motorists.

Their principal answer was concealment—putting the junk yards behind high but decorative fences, or shrubs or thickly planted trees. They openly admit it's hard to love a fellow who spends all his waking hours detracting from the attractiveness of the approaches to the city or town where he lives.

the sentry was on advanced post patrol duty. The paratroop push across the Duarte Bridge, linking Santo Domingo to the San Isidro Airbase, expanded to a corridor of U. S. forces through the rebel-infested old city. It sealed off armed leftwing civilians in a small corner of old Santo Domingo. The move was made without casualties.

While the Army troops moved into the American Embassy zone, a Marine company in armored troop carriers moved three blocks away from the embassy to a point on Avenida Mexico, where most of the other 21 foreign embassies are located.

Start Probe Of Gasoline Sales

WASHINGTON UPI—The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) opens an investigation today into gasoline marketing, which it describes as "a matter of direct and immediate concern to every American who owns a car."

Representatives of the nation's major oil companies, independent producers, service station operators and the motoring public were summoned to testify at the public hearings, expected to run at least two weeks.

Witnesses called for today's hearing included officials of the National Oil Jobbers Council, Michigan Petroleum Association, Tidewater Oil Co., Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association, Rock Island Refining Corp. and Sunland Refining Corp.

The hearings were to cover a wide range of subjects—price wars, gasoline grades, competition between name-brand and "unbranded" gasolines, and the "market structure and competitive behavior of the various segments and levels" of the industry.

Marine Killed By Sniper's Shot

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic UPI—An American Marine was killed by sniper fire early today in the simmering Dominican civil war.

U. S. Army paratroopers drove three blocks across the heart of the city to bolster Marine forces trying to enforce a cease-fire.

It was the fifth confirmed death of an American serviceman in the civil strife which has engulfed the Dominican Republic in the past nine days. One other death has been reported but not confirmed. At least 43 others have been wounded in combat action.

The renewed sniping followed the shaky cease-fire ordered in Santo Domingo Saturday night. The action occurred less than two blocks from the beleaguered American Embassy where

Tigers Win Dual Event From Aces

Coasting to 9-1 and 4-0 wins against Evansville here Saturday, DePauw's baseball Tigers pushed themselves into a tie for second place in the Indiana Collegiate Conference.

The Meyer-men jumped their overall slate to 9-5 and the ICC reading to 4-2. This Saturday in a pair of critical tilts, they go to Valparaiso for a twinbill with the Crusaders who fell back to 4-2 after dropping 5-4 and 12-0 games to Ball State this weekend.

DePauw broke up a close battle in the first game after taking a meagre 2-1 lead into the bottom of the sixth.

Bill Evans, Tiger second sacker, got on to open the sixth when the Aces committed the second of their seven errors in the nine-inning game. A wild pitch pushed him to second, then John Vidal unloaded a double for a run. Wayne Huffman followed with a playable grounder to the first baseman, but the ball bounced through, however, Vidal scoring from second.

Huffman banged down to second—one of his three stolen bases in the game, then Tom Boswell, hero of the IU victory, smacked a double that scored Huffman for a 5-1 margin.

Three more Evansville errors set up four runs in the eighth. Huffman worked his way to third on a walk, wild pitch and stolen base and finally scored when an attempted pickoff at third miscued.

Boswell got on an error, pitcher Joe Johnson grounded out, then Bill Bennett and Ferris Winterberg drew walks to fill the bases. Obliging, Ace leftfielder John Lidy dropped John Harpham's fly ball and three runs scored.

Evansville, which got eight walks off Johnson in eight innings but had 13 men strike out, picked up its sole run in the fifth. Rick Kingston singled, was shoved to second when Mike Oliver walked, and scored on Lidy's single. Evansville left 14 men on base.

Johnson, relieved by Don Lovelace in the ninth with none out and three runners on, gave up eight hits. Two Evansville throwers, starter John Carr and Bob Gray, yielded eight blows to the Tigers, two going to Skip Collins, DePauw catcher.

DePauw moved ahead early in the seven-inning second battle that drew nearly 300 Mothers' Day spectators.

Playing rightfield, Lovelace started the bottom of the first with a single. He stole second and when Paul Smith hit Tom Cooper and Collins moved on to third. Smith forced Lovelace home by walking Bennett and Cooper scored on the third baseman's error on Bill Evans' grounder. DePauw led, 2-0.

Evans was walked as the fourth started and scored from first when the throw on Tom Boswell's routine grounder got away from the first baseman. Boswell went on to second, made it to third when Bruce Mackey grounded out and slipped home on Lovelace's perfect sacrifice bunt past the mound. Only two Evansville runners were left on in the second game and only one got as far as second base. DePauw isolated seven.

Mackey went all the way in cranking out his second ICC win in three games and pushing his unearned run streak to 28 innings. The Rockville, Md., senior gave up three hits, walked none and struck out five. He also collected a double, one of the Tigers' three hits.

Indianapolis Indians Hold First Place

INDIANAPOLIS UPI—The Indianapolis Indians held first place in the Eastern Division of the Pacific Coast League today, as a result of a doubleheader baseball sweep Sunday over Salt Lake City.

The Tribe came up with a two-run second inning in the seven-inning second game of the twin bill to take a lead they never relinquished. The runs came in when Buddy Bradford doubled, following singles by Bill Heath and Lee Elia.

Tribe pitcher Pat House gave up only five hits and struck out six for his first win of the season.

A three-run outburst in the ninth inning gave the Indians a 6-5 win in the first game. Again it was Elia coming in with the winning run when Dick Kenworthy drove a single off the rightfield wall with two out and the bases loaded.

Elia had knotted the score at 5-5 with a two-run single as Warren Hacker got the win, with reliever Don Elston taking his second loss without a victory.

Five of the Tribe's runs were unearned, the result of four Salt Lake City errors.

First Mishap Occurs At Speedway '500' Track

INDIANAPOLIS — UPI — Rookies Mickey Rupp and Bill Foster were scheduled to complete the final 145 mile-per-hour segment of their driving tests today in the third day of practice runs at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

Rupp ended the 140 mile-per-hour segment of the test Sunday, shortly before he became involved in the first accident in tun-ups for the 500 mile race.

Rupp, Mansfield, Ohio, lost control in the No. 4 turn, hit some sand and dirt on the track and went into a skid.

His roadster skidded about 400 feet along the track and into the infield, where it continued on for about 350 feet. Rupp was unofficially timed at 144.7 miles per hour just before the spin-out occurred.

The 150-mile-per hour speed limit imposed on the drivers during the beginning of the practice runs continued in effect today, chief steward Harlan Fengler said. He added he wanted the drivers to blow more of the loose dirt and sand off the track before turning them loose to run at higher speeds.

The first two practice sessions saw only light activity on the track, with a slight pickup expected today as Roger Ward and Scotland's Jummy Clark planned to take their machines out.

Len Sulton also was on hand Sunday, after beating out Chuck Stevenson for the honor of being the first driver to hit the track Saturday.

Defending champion A. J. Foyt of Houston, Tex., Saturday was on hand for opening ceremonies at the Speedway, presenting Governor Branigan with an honorary "Rookie of the Year" award since it was the governor's first trip to the track.

Ball State Shades Old Gold In Track

A 10-yard victory in the mile relay race lifted Ball State to a 73-72 triumph over DePauw Saturday in a dual track meet in Blackstock Stadium.

By winning the last event, the Cardinals picked up five more points, enabling them to overcome DePauw's 72-68 margin.

For a moment it looked as if the Tigers could preserve the edge. Steve Norris made up a tremendous 25-yard deficiency on the third leg of the race and gave Rick Jordan a six-yard lead heading into the anchor lap. Jordan maintained it until the final turn when Cardinal sprinter Ken Sparks, who already had two blue ribbons in his pocket, passed him in the home stretch for the meet-deciding finish.

DePauw managed seven blue ribbons of its own in the clash, including one by sophomore jumping jack Mike Martin who wrote another new school record.

The Lisle, Ill., leaper sailed 6-6 to break his previous mark of 65½ in the high jump.

Dashman Ron Blauser was the hosts' only double winner. Blauser scored first in the 100 and 220 dashes, recording wind-restrained times of :10.5 and :23.2.

Bob Kleemeier was a surprise winner for DePauw in the 120 high hurdles in a time of :15.4 and Dave Clutter turned in a winning performance in the 330 intermediate hurdles, clipping them in :40.8.

Dick St. Clair claimed the broad jump in 20-7½ and took second in the triple jump, one of 11 red ribbons for the Tigers. Regaining his form that dropped to a 163-5 output last week-end, Arnold Berny whistled the javelin 185-9 to capture his specialty. DePauw's Phil Brookins took second in the event, one of three accounted for by the Jackson, Miss., junior.

Other firsts were Rybolt, (BS), mile, 4:34.6; Eichorst (BS), shot put, 51-8½; Heckleman (BS), pole vault, 11-6; Sparks (BS) 440 and 880, :51.3 and 2:02; Eichorst (BS), discus, 150-5½; Ashby (BS), triple jump, 42-5; Rybolt (BS), 2-mile, 10:15.6.

State also won the 440 relay in :44.7. Its time in the mile relay was 3:28.6.

RICE'S DEBONAIR WINS ROSES—Chicago owners Mr. and Mrs. Dan Rice cheerfully hold onto their young 3-year-old Lucky Debonair in the winner's circle at Churchill Downs, Ky., after jockey Willie Shoemaker had scored his third Derby victory triumph aboard Lucky Debonair over a blazing-fast track in 2:01 1-5. Lucky Debonair in winning by a nick over Dapper Dan and two lengths over third place Tom Rolfe earned his owners $112,000 of the gross purse of $154,000.

Two Named As Alternates On State's All-Star Team

INDIANAPOLIS UPI—Muncie South's Terry York and Washington's 6-5 center Jerry Flake have been named as alternates on the Indiana high school All-Star basketball team which will meet Kentucky's finest June 10 and 26.

Proceeds from the annual prep games will go to benefit the blind of both states, with the first encounter scheduled for Butler Fieldhouse and a rematch a week later at Louisville's Freedom Hall.

York, at 5-9, broke every scoring record in Muncie South history in leading his team to the Indianapolis semi-state this year. He averaged 21 points per game during the past season.

A lanky 150-pound center,

Flake averaged 21.5 points per game for the highly touted Washington Redskins and scored a three-year career total of 1,230 points.

The alternates are named to the squad in the event any of the previously named 10 players is unable to play because of illness or injury.

Previously named to the team were Bill Keller of Indianapolis, Washington, Dave Moser of Ft. Wayne North, Ralph Taylor of Indianapolis, Washington. Don Curran of Tipton, Harold Curdy of Marion, Adolphus Pulliam of Gary, Roosevelt, Larry Kidwell of Princeton, Howard Humes of Madison, Dave Harvey of Indianapolis Tech and Earl Schneider of Evansville Rex Mundi.

Norman Nelson Wins Yankee '300' Event

INDIANAPOLIS UPI—Veteran stock car driver Norm Nelson of Racine, Wis., was nearly $6,000 richer today by virtue of his triumph in the Yankee 300 at Indianapolis Raceway Park.

Nelson, who began his 25th year of racing Sunday, fought a two-car race with Parnelli Jones over the first 108 laps of the 120-lap event. Then Jones dropped out when his Mercury blew its engine. The car is the same one Jones drove to the USAC stock car driving championship last season.

USAC officials watched Nelson's Plymouth closely over the final 20 laps when he broke a sway bar. "I eased up a bit toward the end," he said, adding that when it appeared everything was all right he again caught up with the pace.

Paul Goldsmith, who won the pole in qualifications, finished second in another Plymouth. The victory was worth $5,965 to Nelson, who averaged 78.024 miles per hour over the twisting 2½-mile course.

Pinpointing the Problem

We don't know whether pre-historic mommas diapered their babies. If they did, they were forced to make do with thorns, sharp bones or splinters of flint. Not until the Bronze Age did man-made metal pins first appear. Either way, mother and child both had problems.

Some authorities credit the ancient Egyptians with inventing the first safety pin, but it was just a little over 100 years ago that the modern version developed. This not only solved a basic baby problem, but countless others as well.

Today, one of the most widespread uses for safety pins is in drycleaning for fastening tags and hanging clothing. In fact, the British raised such a clamor about stapling tags to garments that the practice has virtually disappeared. In America, too, the use of safety pins has become one symbol of the quality dry-cleaner—a sign that your clothing is being handled with care.

GLAMOUR IN AN OMELET

Frozen artichoke hearts lend elegance and fine flavor to a puffy omelet—an excellent choice for a meatless meal that is easy to prepare and satisfying.

Puffy Omelet with Artichoke Hearts
1 package (9 oz.) frozen artichoke hearts
1½ tablespoons lemon juice
½ to 1 teaspoon garlic salt
2 tablespoons butter, melted
4-egg puffy omelet
Creamy Sauce

Cook artichokes as directed on package, adding lemon juice and substituting garlic salt for salt before simmering. Drain. Coarsely chop about ½ of the artichokes; reserve remaining artichokes for garnish. Add 2 tablespoons butter to chopped artichokes; stir until melted. Keep all artichokes warm.

Prepare omelet as directed in your favorite recipe. When omelet is well puffed and delicately browned on the bottom, place pan in a 375° oven for about 4 minutes, or until top of omelet is firm. Spoon chopped artichokes over half of omelet. Fold omelet in half and slide onto warmed serving platter. Garnish with reserved artichokes. Serve with Creamy Mushroom Sauce.

Creamy Sauce: Dilute 1 can (10½ oz.) condensed cream of mushroom or cream of chicken soup with about ½ cup milk. Heat and serve over omelet.

SAFETY HELMETS for motorists, shaped like snappy, narrow-brimmed fedoras for men and stylish bonnets for ladies are now on the market. That's what we call millinery with a smart motive.

On reading the above, Zadok Dumkoff says he'll be right back in style if he can find the Al Smith brown derby he sported back in 1928.

A Duluth, Minn., pet beagle, wounded in a battle with a porcupine, walked off by itself to an animal hospital for aid. It must have happened before.

The Wimborne St. Giles, England, village soccer team lost its 60th consecutive game by the narrow margin of 3-2. That's coming awfully close to almost ruining their record.

Statistics show women do 65 per cent of the do-it-yourself chores around the house. Then, why don't they call 'em do-it-herself jobs?

Some octopuses have a tentacle spread of 110 feet—nature item. What a magnificent bearding house reach going to waste!

On checking the office atlas, the man at the next desk says he noticed there are 12 towns named Hamburg but only four Frankforts or Frankfurts in the U. S. Don't tell us that the king of quick snacks is slipping!

50; vealers about steady; choice 26.00-29.00; good 20.00-25.00.

Sheep 75; not enough of any class to test market; good and choice woolled lambs 23.00-25.00; one lot sold to low choice 25.00.

OK'S Progrma

WASHINGTON UPI—President Johnson today approved a new anti-poverty program to provide summer jobs for 70,000 youths who need the money so they can return to school in the fall.

Johnson said $40 million in a statement he has asked Wirtz to get this program started by May 15 to provide jobs for students starting vacations early in June. They will work in the country on conservation projects and also do work in city programs.

Protests Ruling

WASHINGTON UPI — Rep. Richard L. Roudsbush, R-Ind., today added his voice to the chorus of Indiana protests against Civil Aeronautics Board ruling on suspending service for Terre Haute, Ind.
